NAMES MISREAD

In last week's paper was published an article about Sheriff Collins having located in Mississippi Oscar Mims, son of Zed Mims, who was wanted here charged with stealing some tools and a hog. Some readers, probably, through careless reading or probably not knowing the men's names, have construed this to mean the son of Circuit Clerk Zeb Mims at Clanton, which is not the case at all. Oscar Mims is the son of "Zed" Mims, as was stated in last week's Union-Banner.

Famous Old Time Sing At Court House Sunday

Mr. A. A. Jackson of Lomax was in the Banner office early Monday morning and gave us some good news for the old time singers of the county. He had just returned from Birmingham where he had attended last Sunday an old time singing at the Jefferson County court house. While there he got the promise of a number of noted singers of the state to be at the court house in Clanton at the old time singing next Sunday. Among those promising to attend are Prof. John M. Dye, composer and singer of modern sacred music, who is also a mighty good singer of the old music. Prof. Dye is said to be able to play this old time music on the instrument, which modern musicians claim to be mighty difficult.

The public has a cordial invitation to attend this singing at the court house in Clanton all day next Sunday. If the weather is permissible, you will hear some singing really worth while.

V. J. ELMORE TO OPEN STORE IN JASPER ABOUT MAY FIRST

Mr. Virgil J. Elmore, prominent business man and merchant of Clanton, speaks very enthusiastically about the opening of his new store in Jasper, which will be about the first of May. The new store will be of the same type as the 5c, 10c, and $1 store which Mr. Elmore opened in Clanton over a year ago, and which has been one of the outstanding successes of Clanton's merchandising ventures.

Concerning the new proposition, Mr. Elmore says: "For some years I have had my eyes on Jasper, and have been waiting for the opportunity to get in there with a store of this kind. The opportunity has at last opened to me, and I am mighty glad to be able to make definite announcement of my plans. Jasper is one of the best of Alabama's small cities. Our new store there will be in one of the best locations in the city, and I confidently expect it to prove a very successful venture."

Mr. Ocie Webb, who has for several months past been managing the Elmore's 5c, 10c, and $1 Store in Clanton, has gone to Jasper to take charge of the preliminary work necessary to be done before the opening. Mr. Webb will remain in Jasper as manager of the store.

The Union-Banner extends congratulations to Mr. Elmore upon his success. Since coming to Clanton a few years ago, he has made a place for himself in the business activity of this community, which attests the sterling character of the man, and the fair, honest, and courteous manner which he has employed in his dealings with the public.

ARRESTED FOR SUNDAY GAMING

Last Saturday night just after midnight, Night Policeman, Tom Wyatt, entered the rear of the Clanton Cafe and placed under arrest three men, charging them with Sunday gaming. The men were D. D. Easterling, Paul C. Mims and Varnie Wyatt.

The three men made bond and will appear before Mayor Atkinson for trial some time in the near future.

GET OUT THE VOTE FOR ROADS APRIL 12

Reports from every county in Alabama indicate that the people favoring the good roads bond issue which will be voted on next Tuesday, April 12, are vastly in the majority. There is opposition in certain quarters, and some effort has been made to effect an opposing organization throughout the state. This reactionary movement has met little encouragement.

Members of the State Highway Commission which is composed of Col. Woolsey Finnel, Chairman and Chief Engineer, Henry J. Law, and John S. Truner, have visited many sections of Alabama, and their plans as placed before the public have been endorsed at numerous public meetings; also by Chambers of Commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis, and other civic clubs, and by those of the farmers. The commissioners have prepared maps setting forth their purposes in a general way, and have taken the public into their confidence as to what they propose to do with the $25,000,000 of bond issue money, and the approximately $6,000,000 that will come from Federal resources within the next four years. By their frankness, they have gained the confidence of the people.

Chairman Sidney J. Reaves, of the Alabama Good Roads Campaign Committee, has sent out an urgent call to district, county, and beat good roads committees requesting that they take nothing for granted, but work to get out the vote just as tho there was open opposition to the amendment, instead of only a "whispering campaign" against it. Our only danger lies in over-confidence and consequent indifference, says Chairman Reaves in his appeal to good roads advocates.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend thanks to each and every one who rendered their service toward saving our home and furniture in Sunday's fire.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. A. JONES.

MRS. DAY DEAD

Mrs. Mary C. Day, widow of the late Volney Day and mother of Mrs. George Trotter, died Friday morning at the home of Mr. Trotter at Cherokee Bluffs. The body was brought to Clanton by Martin and prepared for burial. Martin carried the remains to Birmingham and had it shipped from there to Knoxville, Tenn., where burial took place Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. George R. Trotter and Mrs. John C. Benziger accompanied the body to Knoxville.

It will be remembered that Mr. Day died here at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Trotter, last August. His body was shipped to Knoxville. Mrs. Day was buried beside her husband.

Surviving Mrs. Day are three daughters: Mrs. W. H. Crawford, San Bernardino, Calif.; Mrs. John C. Benziger, of Houston, Texas, and Mrs. George R. Trotter, of Cherokee Bluffs, Ala.; also three sons, John N. Day, Pensacola, Fla.; George A. Day, Portsmouth, Ohio; Walter W. Day, Knoxville, and a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren. Mrs. Day lived in Knoxville 35 years, going there from Zanesville, Ohio, where she was born.

County Chairman Asks Voters to Mark it 'Yes'

To the Voters of Chilton County:

We are approaching the election April 12, when you will be asked to express yourselves on the question of an additional bond issue for highways in Alabama. I consider it the most important election ever held in Alabama, and in particular is it important from a local standpoint in Chilton County.

First, the bond issue, if adopted, will not increase our taxes. We are paying two cents tax on gasoline now, and we will continue to pay it if the bond issue is defeated. If we vote the bond issue in, then it goes into the Constitution of our State that every county must receive $250,000 worth of road construction out of the bond issue.

But if the bond issue is defeated, then the Highway Commission will have only the gasoline tax money paid in each year to build roads with, and they will spend it as they consider best and most appropriate. And since our county has received over a million dollars worth of roads already, and some of the counties have received only a very little, could we expect to receive any more money from the State in a long time? If there is no bond issue authorized now there would be such a small amount of money from the State Highway Commission to spend each year in proportion to the demands upon them, this county could not expect to receive very much aid.

As I see the situation, it means to this county $250,000 to build roads with if the bond issue is carried, and that without increasing our taxes. If the bond issue is defeated we will pay the same tax, and it will be a long time before we get any more help.

I hope each and every voter in this county will think well over this question before casting a vote. Look carefully to the interests of our county and State. This is a question in which there is no politics. Everybody wants a good road to their house and the desire will not down nor be satisfied until everyone has a good road.

The Commissioners Court is crowded every month by citizens who are asking that their roads be widened and improved. Will you help this county get $250,000 for our roads by your vote next Tuesday; or will you say by your vote that you do not want any more help on our roads. I hope there will not be a single vote against the bond issue in this county.

See your neighbors and appeal to them to go to the election next Tuesday, April 12, and vote for good roads. Let us see if the voters of this county for one time can all vote and work together for a common cause that is of vital concern to everyone of us.

There is but one issue in this campaign for the voters of this county to settle; that is: Do you want $250,000 to help you have good roads in Chilton County; or do you want to pay the same taxes and not receive any more help for our county from the State? There is no other issue to be decided. It is plain. Voters, it is up to you. Will you turn out to the election and do your duty? I sincerely hope you will.—L. H. Reynolds, Chairman Road Bond Amendment Campaign in Chilton County.

GOVERNOR'S WISH COMES TRUE WHEN TRAIN IS DELAYED

Columbia, S. C., April 5.—That misfortune to a railroad schedule may be good fortune to the scruples of a governor regarding the proper observance of Sunday was made known to Columbia today when Seaboard Air Line officials revealed that train No 3, Florida bound, which is due to leave Columbia a few minutes before midnight, left Sunday night —early Monday morning—15 minutes late and bearing Rekah Richards, one of the governor's nine dughters, who went to Tampa as one of the sponsors on a military staff in a Confederate reunion there.

Governor Richards does not travel on Sunday except to church and in cases of emergency. Therefore, when the train bearing Miss Richards was delayed in starting until Monday morning had come, it was heard at the railroad offices that the executive had requested that the train be held a few minutes.

The governor denied this, but said that when he made the arrangements for his daughter's trip, he merely had expressed the wish that something might happen to cause the train to be late. So his daughter would not begin her journey on the Sabbath. And late it was.

CHILTON COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AT CLANTON NEXT SUNDAY

The Chilton County Sunday School Convention will be held at the Baptist Church in Clanton on the afternoon of April 10, under the auspices of the Alabama Council of Christian Education. All Sunday School workers of all protestant churches of the county are invited to have a part in the convention.

The session will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon with an address by Rev. W. M. Cox, pastor of the Clanton Methodist church.

"The Educational Task of the Churches," will be discussed at 2:30 by Dr. S. J. Ezell, pastor of Clanton Baptist Church.

"Reorganizing our Alabama Sunday School Work," will be discussed at three o'clock by Judge Joseph Carthel, General Secretary of the Alabama Conference of Christian Education.

Judge Carthel was here Tuesday arranging details for the convention. Discussing the plans for the future of the Sunday School work in Chilton County, he said:

"We invite all people in the county who are interested in the study of the Bible and in Sunday School work to attend this convention and use their efforts in behalf of the cause. The Alabama Council of Christian Education is the Alabama branch of the International Sunday School work, which supplies the uniform graded lessons that are used in all protestant churches.

"Prior to the World War, Alabama was the best organized state in the South. Every county and every district was organized and held conventions regularly. Chilton County was then a banner county. It is the purpose of this convention to reorganize Chilton County and set our Christian people again toward the goal of better Sunday Schools and advanced Christian education."

Judge Smoot Likes To Fish in Chilton Paradise

The Apostle Peter together with the sons of Zebedee and two or three other good fellows were busily engaged in preaching and teaching in Gallilee. Old Peter happened to think of what a fine day it was to fish and what a beautiful place the nearby sea of Tiberius was, so he laid down his Bible and told the boys, "I go fishing." They replied, "We also go with thee." And you can easily guess at the rest of what happened.

Judge George F. Smoot of Wetumpka has been in Clanton for the past ten days holding circuit court, and while here he has heard numbers of rumors about Chilton County's fishing possibilities; so, the Judge, being a natural born sportsman, stood the strain as long as he could, and when court was over Mondy afternoon, he got together with Percy Pitts, Tom Rockett, Rev. W. W. Robinson and John Robinson, they all making straightway for Crumpton's camp on Walnut creek.

The report comes forth that these five had a wonderful time. Most of our readers know about what per cent of a fish tale to believe, so you may treat this as no exception, although it was given as "The true facts in the case." They returned from the creek with seven or eight pounds of trout and crappies. The report has it that the Judge's partners caught one fish each and he caught the rest. But to say the least of the affair, the crowd returned refreshed from the sport and the abundance of fresh air, and Judge Smoot felt much more able to cope with his arduous duties as administrator of justice in the court over which he so ably presides.

Judge Smoot was so enticed with the fine sport of fishing in Chilton's waters that when we went to press Wednesday, he and Mr. Pitts were planning to go back to Walnut creek Wednesday afternoon. We feel sure that since Mr. Smoot has once tasted of Chilton County fish and the sport of catching them, he will henceforth and forever hereafter be a consistent booster of Chilton County as "The Heart of Alabama" not only commercially and geographically but from a sporting standpoint as well.

CHEVROLET RETAIL DELIVERIES HEAVIER

A tremendous increase in retail deliveries of new Chevrolet automobiles throughout the country during the first two months of 1927 as compared with the same period of 1926 is shown in the following report compiled by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The magnitude of this increase is indicated in reports from thirty-two of the most important trading areas in the United States and shows an average increase of 97 per cent in these centers for the first two months of 1927 as compared with 1926.

The increase is striking evidence of the country-wide and constantly mounting demand for the Chevrolet car—a demand which caused the Chevrolet Motor Company to reach a new high peak of production during February of this year of 85,821 cars—and still further marking the company's pre-eminence as the world's largest manufacturers of gear shift automobiles.

Picture Actress Flays Modern Habits of Girls

Gloria Swanson Says Girls Make Big Mistake by Aping Masculinity.

"Women are making a great mistake aping masculine fashions.

"I detest standardization.

"My advice to the young girls of America is this:

"Don't wear knee length skirts.

"Don't wear mannish clothes.

"Don't roll your hose.

"To be really in the mode, to display genuine taste in dress, return to skirts of reasonable length, feminine draperies, long hair, and dark colored stockings."

(By J. S. Phillips)

Hollywood, Calif., April 1.—Gloria Swanson, returning to the Pacific coast after a lengthy visit to New York, threw a bomb shell into the ranks of the generation, when out of a clear sky she delivered the opinion that the habits, clothes, and manners of which the flapper age is so defiantly proud, are wrong. All wrong.

Moreover the handsome and distinguished Marquise de la Falaise seemed very much in earnest about it when I talked to her just after she stepped from the train which brought her from New York.

With her tall, good-looking husband by her side, she spoke vigorously for several minutes, and the burden of her conversation was the error of modern clothes and customs.

"The bob is wrong," said this at one time leading exponent of the bob; "short dresses are wrong, standardization is wrong, and especially wrong is the recent tendency on the part of women to wear clothes which imitate the masculine mode."

No Bob on Gloria

Gloria no longer bobs her hair. She has permitted it to grow for several months. Now it reaches her shoulders. She wears it gathered in knots on the nape of her neck, much after the fashion of around 1914.

"I got so tired of bobbed hair," Miss Swanson said. "For the morning it was all right, but I didn't like it at night. I am satisfied that long hair is more suitable for women, in every way. Possession of luxurious hair bestows upon women the attributes of grace and dignity. I think these are two traits which modern women especially need to cultivate.

"We are losing our individuality, turning to complete standardization. Frankly, I'm sick of it. Everybody is bobbed. Everybody wears knee length dresses or less, which hang straight from the shoulders. Modern women are beginning to look like something turned out from a particularly efficient factory, so many an hour."

But especially, it appeared, is Miss Swanson opposed to the imitation in women's modes of styles of clothes, hitherto regarded as exclusively masculine.

"I detest masculine things," she advised. "I detest masculine styles and I think women are making a great mistake in following them.

"As to wearing trousers, I think that is utter nonsense, and I don't believe they ever will do it."

On Mrs. Catt's Side

Miss Swanson, it appeared, had been brought to the idea of expressing her thoughts about modern modes and clothes by a statement made by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt in Chicago, recently, in which the famous feminist leader pleaded for a return to conservatism in the matter of women's dress.

"I absolutely agree with Mrs. Catt about short skirts," said Miss Swanson. "The truth is few women's knees can stand pitiless publicity.

"One of the saddest sights common today to my mind is the spectacle of a little girl wearing a knee length skirt attempting to seat herself in a street car without showing more of her legs than she knows she should, in the interest of ordinary modesty.

"I think it would be better for some of them if they sat on their feet, at least for some of the time."

The beautiful screen star paused and smiled. This was a slow smile, with a whimsical twist at the corners.

"Honest, you know," she continued. "There are some pretty terrible looking legs on exhibition these days. If every woman was blessed with slim ankles and well rounded lower limbs it wouldn't be so bad; but those fortunate ones are few, very few. Artistically, four more inches on the skirt would, I believe, be an excellent thing for the world."

AGRICULTURAL PROGRAM BETTER BALANCED THIS YEAR

The 1927 agricultural program as indicated by reports from farmers appears to be in fairly good balance as among crops and livestock, altho weather conditions will be a decisive factor, says the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture, in its April 1 report on the agricultural situation.

The production season is reported as fully two weeks, with frost out of the ground and spring work coming into full swing over most of the country. Storms in the North have kept land from drying out in some localities but a good share of early grain is sown and fields are being fitted for later crops.

Early crops and general field work in the South are reported as "markedly, the Southwest, especially, presenting a very promising picture as to grains and forage crops. Fruit is unusually advanced almost everywhere, although there is still a considerable frost hazard this month for fruit and tender truck crops."

Reports from farmers show an intention to shift acreage of crops rather than to make any substantial change in total production. Readjustment in the Cotton Belt, for example, is indicated by a planned increase of about 6,000,000 acres in feed and food crops. The North and West are planning about a 3,000,000 acre increase in their principal crops, which would little more than replace acreage lost by drought in the Great Plains last year.

"If conservation is to be recommended on any part of this intended program," says the bureau, "it should probably apply at least to the cash crops, especially potatoes. The intended potato acreage, with average yields, would produce some 410,000,000 bushels, or near a record crop, which would be a sharp increase over the crops of the last two years.

"The country is going into the new season without carrying burdensome stocks. March reports showed only about 14,000,000 bushels more potatoes stored than a year ago. There are around 3,80,000,000 bushels less of feed grains on hand than last year. Even the carryover of cotton will be much less than was thought probable a few months ago."

The tendency to expand potato acreage is reported to be particularly marked in the Cotton Belt, in Michigan and Minnesota, and in the Western States. Increases in Virginia and in the Cotton States except Florida and Texas seem to be mostly outside the commercial areas. There is a marked tendency to increase acreage in both the commercial and noncommercial areas of the Western States, and it is in these States, says the report, that the marketing problem is most likely to be serious next fall, if present intentions are carried out and average yields are obtained.

NEW PLATING MATERIAL USED ON OLDSMOBILE CARS

Cadmium plating is being used by Oldsmobile on all external bolts, nuts, washers, and screws, to prevent rust spots forming. This latest improvement, which has just been placed in production, is another form of those features Oldsmobile engineers have perfected to improve the appearance and add to the life of Oldsmobiles.

The cadmium used for the plating is a white, malleable, ductile metal found in the comparatively rare mineral, greenockite. One of its principal uses heretofore has been the manufacture of amalgam for teeth filling. It is rust and corrosion proof, and, being comparatively soft, it does not crack, as would a hard plating when the bolts and screws are tightened by hard and sharp tools such as screw drivers and wrenches.

In the past it has been the general practice in the industry to enamel or nickle the screws, bolts, washers, and nuts used to fasten the fenders, dust aprons, and tire carriers to the body of the car. Under this former method there was a tendency for the enamel or nickle to crack and chip off, leaving a space of bare metal on which rust quickly formed.

Just a year ago Oldsmobile engineers, in co-operation with General Motors Corporation experts, perfected chromium plating for radiatior shells and bumpers.

There was an appreciative audience, composed largely of parents of the pupils.

TWO HOUSES BURNED IN CLANTON LAST SUNDAY

The home of Mr. Frank Foshee burned last Sunday about noon, while the family was at church. A vacant house next to Mr. Foshee's home also burned, catching from the Foshee house. The home of Mr. Andrew Jones was saved only by some timely fighting done by a volunteer bucket brigade, which spread soaked quilts on the roof of the Jones home, and dashed water on the smoking and blistering side of the building.

It is reported that the Foshee home was a mass of flames inside when the fire was discovered, and a piano was all that was saved. The second house could have been saved easily, it is said, had the fire hose been long enough to extend to the building. The hose lacked some bit of reaching the burning buildings, however, and the city's overflowing tank of water was useless.

It is not known what the origin of the fire was, but it is thought to have started in the kitchen of the Foshee home.

WHAT DOES THE COMMUNITY GET OUT OF PEDDLERS?

What does it profit a man or woman in Chilton County to spend money buying goods from peddlers and transient salesmen? Answer: It profiteth nothing.

All you got out of the peddler is the goods he sells which many times may not be up to the standard of quality, out of date merchandise, and otherwise short perhaps, of the high-class goods. And when the peddler leaves you the goods he is gone, you know not where, taking your money with him.

What does it profit a man or woman to spend money in buying goods from local merchants? Answer: It is a bread cast upon the waters, which returns to you in the manifold community benefits that come to us for having progressive and successful merchants.

The home merchant sells you goods of recognized standard of quality. He must sell you good merchandise, because he knows he has got to back that merchandise up if it fails to give you the proper service.

He takes your money and delivers you the goods; and in turn he places the money in local banks and uses it to pay taxes licenses, and other things. That money is kept here at home and is turned over and over in many ways for the stimulation of local business conditions.

Who helps the poor and needy around here? Is it the peddlers, or is it the local merchants? When a man gets his house burned, or his mule dies, or his wife has to go to the hospital, who is it that puts his name on a petition and forks over a dollar to help out the family? Is it the peddler that you bought the silk hose from, or is it the local merchant?

When you get in a tight and money gets short, who is it that sells you goods on a credit until you can have time to sell a few chickens or cotton or strawberries? Is it the peddler or is it the local merchant?

Perhaps this will be read by somebody who has recently bought some kind of goods from the peddlers, and we hope you will study the question carefully and see if you don't think that hereafter it will be best to tell the transient salesman that you prefer to buy your socks and clothes from your home merchants.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

A Service to the Whole Land

In the early summer of 1918 three of us made a long trip by automobile to pay a visit to a colored regiment at the front in France. The results more than repaid us for the time and trouble. One of the main compensations was First Class Private Cooksey, who, because he had been an elevator attendant in a Harlem apartment house, gave his occupation in his enlistment blank as "indoor chauffeur." It was to First Class Private Cooksey that the colonel of the regiment, seeing the expression on the others' faces when a minenwerfer from a German mortar fell near by on the day the command moved up to the front, and made a hole in the earth deep enough and wide enough and long enough to hide the average smoke house in—it was, I repeat, to First Class Private Cooksey that the colonel put this question:

"Cooksey, if one of those things drops right here alongside of us and goes off, are you going to stay by me?"

"Kurnel," stated Cooksey with sincerity, "I ain't almin' to tell you no lie. Ef one of them things busts clost to me, I'll jest natchelly be obliged to go away frum here. But please, suh, don't you set me down as no deserter. Jest put it in de book as 'Absent without leave,' 'cause I'll be back jest ez soon ez I kin git my brakes to work."

"But what if the enemy suddenly appears in force without any preliminary bombardment?" pressed the colonel. "What do you think you and the rest of the boys will do then?"

"Kurnel," said Cooksey, earnestly, "we may not stick by you, but we'll shore render one service, anyway; we'll spread the news all over France 'at th' Germans is comin'!"

"Would This Work?"

LET US JUST "SUPPOSE"

Suppose Chilton County votes a majority against the bond issue on April 12, and enough of the other counties of the State vote in favor of it to put it over.

Then when the twenty-five million dollars is ready to spend, and Chilton County sends down to Montgomery to get the Highway Commission to build the highway across our county east and west, what do you suppose would be the attitude of the Highway authorities toward us?

We imagine it would be about like this: "Well, you fellows up there in Chilton County are totally ungrateful. We spent a million dollars to build you a cement highway through your county north and south, and when we asked you to vote for another bond issue so we could build you a highway across your county east and west, you voted against it. Looks to us like you don't appreciate the million dollars we have already given you, and don't want any more highways."

And about there the interview would end, with perhaps something like that famous interview of the past which terminated a certain highway matter very abruptly with the words from John Rogers: "Perry County next."

Let us not be placed in this foolish predicament by voting against the bond issue next Tuesday. Chilton County would indeed be very ungrateful if we voted against this bond issue. The future of good roads in Alabama depends on the favorable expression of the voters of the State on this bond issue. Let us in Chilton County say by our votes that we appreciate what has been done by the State heretofore in our county, and that we are willing to have them spend another quarter of a million dollars here to give us another highway east and west across our county.

SIT STEADY

This is a good time not to take too much for granted one way or the other in the Chinee situation. All sorts of stories are coming out of the Orient. Every Chinese faction has a propaganda bureau all its own, and the European powers interested in China of course have a way of censoring the news which comes from their corrospondents. There can be little doubt that the situation in China is bad. Just how bad it is only time can tell. It might be that the Cantonese will sweep on to Peking during the present year, and then again it is possible that the so-called nationalists will get set back again.

It is therefore not a good time to enter into any rash undertakings and it is consoling to know that the administration at Washington is not one which is apt to go off on a tangent on this or any other proposition. The government is of course taking such steps as are necessary to protect American lives and American property in China. In so doing the government is only performing its duty. But it will not embark on any definite and sweeping policy in China until it is sure of all the facts.

It is significant to note that with all the trouble in China and the world wide concern it has caused, there has been as yet no effort to call the League of Nations in to iron out the trouble. The league, as has been suspected, can only act when Great Britain and France want it to act, and in the Chinese situation these two powers prefer to work things out without any league interference.

The Canton commander in chief says that he will be in Peking by Christmas, which recalls to mind an ancient assertion of the Kaiser that he would be in Paris on that date.

Mrs. Ernest L. Hartley has returned to her home in Montgomery, after a pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs. J. Mell Martin, in Clanton during the past week.

THE SOUTH'S EYES ON ALABAMA!

Alabama will vote April 12 on the issuance of an additional $25,000,000 of road bonds.

Continuation of Alabama's present progressive road construction program will be possible only under another bond issue. It is felt that it is imperatively necessary that this program not only be sustained, but that the scope of the good work be enlarged, and so public sentiment in Alabama is strongly behind the proposed bond issue.

It will not be a new thing for Alabama. Just a few years ago that state voted $25,000,000 of bonds for road construction. It was a brave step for that day, and placed Alabama in the forefront as one of the Southern pioneers in road building. Since then the sentiment for road building has intensified, and is now so overwhelming that the extension of the highway system of the state is regarded as a prime necessity, and as a matter of course.

The Industrial Index is officially advised that there seems no doubt that the Alabama road bond issue will go over. The outcome of the election is regarded with confidence. For that very reason we would strongly urge redoubled vigilance, and unceasing activity until the ballots are actually in the boxes. Elections have been lost through sheer over-confidence. Alabama simply could not afford it.

Every Southern state expects Alabama to do its duty April 12. The state has the hearty well-wishes of all its neighbors, who hope and expect to be in position to send cordial and grateful congratulations on the morning after the election.

The actual voting April 12 will, of course, be confined to Alabama. But all the rest of the South will be balloting, in spirit, with that state!

If all goes well, there will be no break in the Alabama road schedule. The last of the money provided by the first bond issue is now being expended. Funds from the new bond issue will be available about June.

In the meantime the cause of good roads marches triumphantly on. The state of Georgia will stage in April the largest letting in its history. Other states of the South will have large and growing highway programs.

Let the good work go on—and on!

Pimples, Boils, Skin Eruptions

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S. You owe it to yourself to try S. S. S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S. S. S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S. S. S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S. S. S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Grand Jury Adjourns And Makes Report

Thirty-five Cases Probed; Sixty-seven Witnesses Examined; Twenty-seven True Bills Returned.

State of Alabama, Chilton County.
To Hon. George F. Smoot, as Judge of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama:

The Grand Jury empanelled for the January term of the Circuit Court immediatelly after your Honor had explained to us our duties which your Honor did in a most able and thorough manner upon our investigation and herewith submit the following as a result of our labors:

In making investigations we have considered thirty-five cases and have examined sixty-seven witnesses and are returning herewith twenty-seven true bills.

With reference to offense outlined in your Honors special charge we desire to state that in so far as we had witnesses before we have made such investigations in accordance with instructions given us to the best of our ability.

The Grand Jury as a body made a personal inspection of the county jail and believe it to be sufficiently safe for the keeping of the prisoners and we find that the prisoners confined therein of being well fed and cared for with reasonable comfort. We find on the second floor of the jail in the compartment set aside for white prisoners a radiator that is leaking water which causes a portion of the cement floor to be wet. This in our opinion can be easly remedied and we respectifully suggest that those in authority look after this matter. We further find that in the house occupied by the sheriff as a residence that the hydrants furnish a very small stream of water; this condition may be due to low pressure of water or to the pipes being to small; however as it is there is practically no running water furnished in the above mentioned house set aside as a dwelling for the sheriff and we respectfully suggest to the commissioners court that they investigate this condition and see if it cannot be remedied.

We have examined the bonds of the county officials required to be bonded and find them fully sufficient for the protection of the public so far as we were able to determine. In our investigation of the sheriff's office we examined his feed book in which he keeps an account with the state for feeding prisoners and find it kept in accordance with law. We made an examination of the fee book in the office of the Probate Judge and find it neatly and correctly kept. The Judge of Probate furnished us with a list of those persons drawing pensions and we were unable to find anyone on said list who was not entitled to a pension.

We examined the treasurer's office and find that she has various funds in her possession as treasurer of Chilton County which we herewith set out:

General fund $75,873.04
Land redemption fund $479.47
Special gas tax fund $3,052.09
Road fund $26,774.06

With reference to Miss Collins, the treasurer of Chilton County, the Grand Jury wishes to express their thanks to her for so willingly giving up her office to us during the week thus affording us most comfortable quarters for our investigations.

We have examined the books and papers of Prof. Lawrence, the County superintendent of education, and find that they are kept neatly and correctly. The concensus of opinion of the Grand Jury is to the effect that Prof. Lawrence is lending his best efforts for the improvement of all the schools throught the county and is having great success. We appreciate such efforts on his part and wish to commend him for his work.

In our inspection of the alms house we find sixteen inmates all of which are white and all of them being well cared for and that quarters furnished them are very clean and well kept.

The Grand Jury, in their inspection of the court house find that the pipes leading to the sanitary connections are to small to afford proper flushing of the toilets and we respectfully suggest to the county court of commissioners that they take steps and make such appropriation as is needed to put the sanitary connections in the court house in proper working order.

Our observation and general report over the county is to the effect that the roads are constantly being made better, this being so noticeable that we should give to our road authorities a word of praise for their diligence and effiency in performing their duties.

During our entire attendance as Grand Jurors we were by our sheriff Mr. J. D. Collins, and the attaches of his office provided with all neccessary comfort and conveniencies for which we extend our sincere appreciation and to all the county officials with whom we had business during the week we wish to thank them for their courtesies extended us.

We having applied to the best of our ability with your Honor's charge we respectfully ask that we now be dismissed until such time as your Honor may see fit and think proper to have us to again convene.

We wish to express our thanks to our Honorable Solictor for his able instructions to the Grand Jury during our deliberations.—W. Y. Keel, Foreman of the Grand Jury for the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, January Term 1927.

Supt. Lawrence Boosts Isabella And Scientific Farming Methods

Survey of Several Farms Reveals That People of County Know How To Farm Advantageously.

On last Friday afternoon I was invited to meet with the Isabella P. T. A. The patrons of this school are the most interested in the building and development of the community of any community in the county. Now, you may think I am exaggerating, but just follow me and see.

On Tuesday night, March 29, Mr. R. E. Ledbetter, from the Department of Education, spoke to them at the schoolhouse. After the speech, Mr. J. D. Griffin, principal of the school, made a short talk. Mr. Griffin had put down on a piece of paper the names of the men in the community and opposite their names the amounts he thought would be proportionate for each man to donate toward a new school building. This ranged from $1,000 per man on down to $100. Then a vote was taken to know whether this allotment would be accepted or not. Not a single man voted no.

This community is having to raise about $15,000 in this way. Where is another community of equal size and wealth willing to do this?

But this is not what I wish to say in this article; I just related this to show you I was right in saying the people of Isabella were the most interested in building an adequate school for their children of any other community in the county.

After the P. T. A. meeting on Friday afternoon, I asked Mr. Thomas, the vocational teacher, if he had any projects in the community interesting to see. He told me he had a few, so we set out to see them.

The first thing I located was a pen of white leghorn chicks just feathered out good. This brood of 311 is owned by Mr. Bob Veazey. His wife was sitting in the porch as happy as a lark, sewing and watching these birds grow.

Then we drove on. After a bit I saw a man get down from a riding cultivator and go from the field he had just finished "bedding" to another. As he drove across I asked Mr. Thomas how many of these cultivators they had in the community. He counted 11. Think of it—11 riding cultivators in Isabella community! You think, with me, that here is a community beginning to farm in a first class way, but wait a bit.

We went to Mr. O. O. Calfee's. He had 494 of these white chicks. They were so happy and beautiful they made everything about them feel the same way.

But Mr. Calfee is evidently thinking of eating some of these chicks a little later on, and perhaps fried eggs as well, for he has 7 Jersey pigs about 5 month old, and, although he does not gamble, he bets they will weigh around 100 pound each. Ham, bacon, eggs, or chicken! This is great, but more still. He took us out to the lot and showed us a five-gallon cow. A real farmer, with ham, bacon, eggs, milk, and butter. Wouldn't you like to board with him?

But right at this point one of his boys came out of the house and announced that Auburn was beating Tulane in a baseball game to the tune of 9 to 1. We went into the house and enjoyed a radio program. Making country life attractive—we must do this if we expect to hold the boys and girls on the farm.

After this we went down into a 5 acre vetch patch. It was beautiful, too. This is the 5 acres of poor land Mr. Calfee gave his boy to cultivate under the supervision of the vocational teacher. The boy keeps a record of all costs in cultivating and harvesting the crop. The first year, after charging himself rent, for fertilizer, use of tools, horse, and himself at $1.50 a day for labor, and every possible charge, netted $334.00 on this 5 acres. How many adult farmers have done better than that? Last year, when most people lost money farming, this boy, after the same bookkeeping, had a net gain of $160 on the same land.

I am told that recently Mr. Martin, who lives in the same community, sold over $300.00 worth of hogs. We can do great things in this county if we but go about it right.

On last Saturday Mr. J. P. Montgomery brought about 25 men from Pleasant Grove community to see Mr. Dennis' farm. For a few weeks, Mr. Montgomery has been teaching a night school in the community, and the farmers are awake as never before. Mr. Dennis is, no doubt, the best farmer in the county. He is always glad to do what he can for other farmers and has demonstrated that scientific farming pays.

While on Mr. Dennis' farm he told us of a vetch patch that Mr. Fate Popwell had that was better than anything he had. We went to this patch, and I believe it is the best vetch I have ever seen.

From here we went to Mr. Ed (Boss) Miller's. Here we found a first class dairy. In sanitation and equipment it ranks with the best in the country. No one should be afraid to use milk from this dairy. Mr. Montgomery was highly pleased with the way in which he handles his milk. Not only is his milk well handled, but he has a herd of beautiful milk cows thats how they have been well fed.

We have a number of men like those mentioned in this article who are doing great things in Chilton County. More of us need to get awake to the possibilities about us, and make a county equal to the best in the State. Let us boost and not kick; work and not talk. If conditions are not what they should be, suppose we make them what they ought to be. We have good people in the county. Again I say, "Let's boost it!" If we cannot boost it, we ought to go to one we could. We have 22 trains and busses that stop to take people on and off in Chilton County every day; if we wish, we may ride them. If we can't boost our county—we ought to ride!

Telephone Service improves-while Calls increase

THE adding of thousands of new subscribers to the Bell telephone system in Alabama last year has greatly increased the value and scope of the service.

This growth is reflected in the increasing number of calls handled daily by the operators, who are responding cheerfully to your needs and maintaining quick and courteous service.

In Alabama, alone, it is estimated that the operating forces handled more than 251,742,485 originating local calls and 3,036,979 long distance messages last year. This was an average of 762,000 local calls and 9,100 toll calls per day; an increase of more than eight percent over the previous year.

That such an enormous volume of calls is handled, day in and day out, so efficiently as to win general public commendation, is due to the loyal efforts of 1,335 highly trained operating room employes who serve you.

Your considerate co-operation encourages the telephone workers in their determination to continue the high grade service to which you are accustomed.

BLEED THROUGH

What Shall Our Answer Be?

The State Highway Department has spent over one million dollars for Roads in our County during the last five years. They want to know if we will let them give us 1-4 million more in the next 4 years.

Let Us Have Good Roads Now!

Chilton has been the most fortunate county in Alabama in the building of State Highways. Our county has received more permanent highway construction from the State Highway Program than any other county in the State. The paved highway that has been built through Chilton County cost the State over a million dollars.

Under the proposed additional 25 million dollar bond issue our county will receive another quarter of a million dollars in permanent highway construction. The next highway that will be built here by the State will cross our county from east to west. That part of this road from Clanton to Plantersville, by way of Maplesville, has already been adopted and mapped by the State Highway Department.

We may be safely assured that we shall get this road built if the bond issue is adopted on April 12. If the bond issue fails, we are sure not to get it.

Chilton County would be ungrateful to the State for what it has already done for us if we fail to roll up a big majority for the bond issue on April 12. And besides that, we would be casting a shadow against the best interests of our county for future road development.

Chilton County CAN NOT afford to vote against the bond issue on April 12.

The group of business and professional men of Chilton County, at whose request this appeal to the voters of the county is published, are in favor of the adoption of the bond issue. ..They earnestly hope that Chilton County will turn in a big vote in favor of the bond issue.

The adoption of the bond issue is not going to cost the people any more in taxes than they are already paying. The gas tax which we are now paying will finance the bond issue, pay the interest on the bonds, and also create a fund that will pay off the bonds as they mature.

If we have the bond issue the State can go on with its program of building of highways; and Chilton County will get a quarter of a million dollars worth of these roads. If the bond issue is defeated, the State cannot go on with its program of building roads, and Chilton County will not have any more permanent State highways built.

The State is asking us if we will permit the Highway Commission to invest a quarter of a million dollars in more highways in our county during the next four years.

Shall our answer be "Yes" on April 12th. We urge our voters to think seriously of what this question means, and be sure to go to the polls and vote "Yes" on next Tuesday.

Message From Chairman Reaves

Alabama can't get along without roads. We can't go far in any direction without first improving and extending our highways.

There are many ways by which good roads MIGHT be obtained. Every progressive state works out its own problems in its own way.

But there is only one means by which the people of Alabama now living can get the roads they need the most, and that is by voting on April 12th, for the good roads amendment.

The Legislature has voted an additional tax of two cents per gallon on gasoline. This will raise enough money to take care of the twenty-five million dollar bond issue. It will pay both principal and interest and enough besides to provide a maintenance fund. (

You have got to pay the gasoline tax if you run a motor vehicle, for the tax is pleaed upon gasoline and all substitutes for gasoline.

The voters of Alabama have this choice in the matter. They can vote for the amendment and get the roads while they are alive to enjoy them, or they can vote down the bond issue and let some future generation get the roads. Maybe and perhaps. They will get a completed system for the use of your grandchildren if the bond issue amendment fails. Either way, you pay the gas tax.

But the good roads amendment will not fail. The first bond issue gave Alabama half a system and the second issue will be voted to complete the system, connecting county seats and joining up the roads across the State,——north and south, east and west. Alabamians will not stop and turn back with their work half done.

The proposed bond issue with the Federal aid money now in sight will give the Alabama Highway Commission about $31,000,000 to spend during a four year period, and we have the promise of the commission that all of this money will go for the construction of roads and bridges.

We have their pledge that not a dollar of the bond issue money will go to take convicts from leased employment or for the maintenance of roads. Convicts and maintenance of roads are items provided for from other sources and not with money derived from the sale of bonds.

Alabama can build the highways, promised with the money in sight—that is, when you, the voters, approve the $25,000,000 road bond amendment.

The roads are for your use, people of Alabama. The tourist crop is important but it is merely a by-product. It is purely incidental. Tourists riding through the state will have to buy gas and therefore will help pay for the bonds and the maintenance of roads.

But remember this. The highways are yours. They are built and maintained primarily for your use.

Vote and get your neighbor to vote.

The following merchants, business and professional men endorse the road bond amendment, and urge the people of Chilton County to cast your votes for it on next Tuesday:

A Message to Alabama Farmers

This is a good roads message to the farmers of Alabama broadcasted from WAPI, Auburn, Alabama, by R. J. Goode, chairman of the legislative recess committee of agriculture:

No man in Alabama has more at stake in this good roads question than has the farmer. His transportation problem begins at his barn yard door and ends at the door of the ultimate consumer of the things the farmer produces.

For all that, I don't mind saying, if the money for the building of the main highways throughout the state was to come from taxation of farm property, I, for one, would be against it.

Under the law passed and the amendment proposed by the Legislatture of which I am a member, the gasoline tax pays for the new roads and for the maintenance, and all of the bond issue money goes for the building or paving of new highways and the costruction of bridges.

The farmer pays only for the roads in proportion as he buys gasoline with which to use them. Every time he hauls a load of his products to town over a good road built by the state he saves enough in time, gas and wear on his truck to pay this extra gas tax.

The highway commission is telling the people of the state what is proposed to do with the bond issue money and where it is to be expended. The farmer likes to be told. He wants to know what he is getting for his money, even if it is not exactly the thing he most desires.

Well, the highway commission is telling you, and the commission is composed of men you can trust. I know them, personally, and I give them this personal endorsement. I believe they can be depended upon to carry out their promises, as nearly as is humanly possible.

Vote for the amendment on April 12, and you will never have cause to regret it.

This is not the campaign of any man or any faction or any party. It is your campaign and mine. It is Alabama's campaign. We win when it wins, and we stand to lose when it loses.

The only way the people of Alabama can win in this fight is to vote for the $25,000,000 bond issue amendment and put through the program pledged by the State Highway Commission to connect and improve the highways.

You get a piece of your gas money back every time you drive your car over an improved state-federal bridge or road.

Vote for the bond issue amendment next Tuesday, and get your neighbor to vote.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies." Her Father's Specialty

In a public school in New York city, attended almost exclusively by foreign-born children, a teacher of one of the lower grades was endeavoring to compile facts pertaining to the family histories of her young charges for the official records.

To each child she gave a blank to be filled in with the proper answers. One ragged little girl gave lengthy consideration to this sentence:

"State your father's business."

Then in the space provided she wrote the one word:

"Outa."

The teacher, collecting the forms, struck this particular word and puzzled long to make out its meaning.

"Rachel," she asked at length, "what does 'outa' mean?"

"It means my papa is outa business," explained the child, "so I writes it down 'Outa.'"

"But doesn't he ever work?" inquired the teacher.

"No, ma'am," said the child sadly; "he don't never work—he strikes!"

Big Convention To Meet Here in April

The Western District, Baptist Young People's Union, composed of 11 counties, will meet with the Clanton Baptist Church April 28-29. Last May, when it became known that the convention would like to meet in our town, the request was received with misgivings as to whether we could entertain so large a gathering. However, after conferring with Dr. Wilkerson of the Methodist Church, and the Baptist churches of Verbena and Thorsby, and having their assurance of co-operation in entertaining the delegates, the Clanton Baptist Church invited the convention to our town.

It is expected that we will have 250 to 300 delegates attending the great host of young Christian men and women come to our town. To see them, and to hear of their great convention. Some of the outstanding Baptist leaders of Alabama and other states will be here.

It is a great privilege to have this work should increase our faith and be an inspiration to all of our splendid young folks of Clanton.

It is hoped that with the co-operation of Verbena and Thorsby we can put the convention over in a great way. But to do so worthy of our town we must all co-operate gladly and heartily. This, we believe, you will do.

The Committee on Homes is as follows: Mrs. J. Watts Moore, Mrs. J. P. Hayes, Mrs. L. F. Gerald, Mrs. Claude Jones, Mrs. W. W. Fox, Mrs. Wm. Billingsley of Thorsby, Mrs. Will Strock of Verbena. Please let one of the Committee know as soon as possible how many you can furnish beds for.—S. J. Ezell, General Chairman.

THE ESSEX SUPER-SIX SPEEDABOUT

Bennie Osterbaan, the University of Michigan football star, at the wheel of a new Essex Speedabout Collegians are order the car painted especially in their college colors.

Something new in motor cars is announced by the Hudson Motor Car Co., in the introduction of the Essex Super-Six speedabout, a two passenger car of the roadstor type which Hudson heralds as "the fastest six cylinder car in the world per dollar of cost."

To assist in high speed performance, the car is built along sweeping and rakish lines. The rear deck is streamlined like a speedboat, the lines curving smartly to a point in the rear. The regulation colors of the cars first manufactured is a bright and attractive geen. Special color combination are being asked for, however, and in a number of college communities students are ordering speedabouts done out in the varsity colors.

One of the first men interested in the speedabout was Bennie Oosterbaan, the University of Michigan all-American football star and captain. Oosterbaan paused in his practice of passing footballs to pass along to the Hudson-Essex organization the idea that the cars be trimmed in college colors. Other nationally known football stars have ordered cars especially trimmed.

The speedabout is a car designed especially for youth. Built for outstanding performance, its low center of gravity and perfect balance assure a high degree of roadability and safety. Unlike some roadsters, it was built without rumble seats, because it was desired to achieve streamlines which would be impossible if the rear deck were broadened out. Hudson-Essex states that this car has a performing ability not matched by many cars costing five times as much. The car is unique on the American market.

"OMEGA" AND "WHITE RING" COOKING DEMONSTRATIONS DURING THE NEXT WEEK

Announcement is made by the Downs Grocery Company of this city that a series of cooking demonstrations of the famous "Omega" and "White Ring" flour will be held at various places in nearby towns during next week. Following is a list of the places where demonstrations will be held from 2 to 5 p. m., on the afternoons mentioned:

Langston Cash Store, Jemison, Monday, April 11; Hill Foshee's Store, Maplesville, Tuesday, April 12; J. H. Denham's Store, Calera, Wednesday, April 13; Clanton, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 14, 15, and 16.

Most everyone is more or les acquainted with this famous line of flour, but these demonstrations are intended to further acquaint the public with what can be done by using this flour in really scientific cooking processes. It will be fine lessons for housewives to avail themselves of these demonstrations, because they will have the advantage of learning valuable recipes and seeing them actually put into use by people who know how to cook.

Keep the above dates and places in mind and make it a point to attend at least one of these demonstrations.

THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and relatives of White City and Refuge community for their help in the celebration of our mother's 36th birthday. She was particularly pleased with the gift of two nice cakes—a candle birthday cake, and a guess cake; many guessed at the cake, the winner guessing (as to what article the cake contained) "Nothing." She was very thankful for all the other gifts also.

May this occasion cause us to love mother more, and think more about her and her influence on our lives. Sometimes mothers are not honored enough, and the greater part of those who have not the proper respect for their mother, go astray and are led to do things that close touch with mother would have kept them from.—Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Connell.

McGEE-RATLIFF

An event that came as a surprise to their many friends, was the marriage of Mr. Cleveland McGee and Miss Anthel Ratliff, on April 2.

Mr. McGee is one of Maplesville's most promising young men, one of Dallas County High School's graduating class of '26. Miss Ratliff was one of the most popular of the younger set of Sardis community; she will be missed both in Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. work.

Mr. and Mrs. McGee will make their home in Maplesville, where Mr. McGee is employed by the Southern Railroad Co.

Their many friends wish them a long and happy life together.

SINGING AT WALNUT CREEK

There will be singing at Walnut Creek church next Sunday afternoon, April 10th, beginning at 2 o'clock. Prof. W. M. Devaughn and Prof. L. T. Grant have promised to be with us, and the public has a cordial invitation to be present, and let's all sing praises to God.—J. J. Johnson.

Helping the Farmer to Help Himself

Many a good farmer from the North, the East, and the Northwest has been brought into the Southland by the industrial and immigration departments of this and other great railroad systems. Good northern farmers are not necessarily good southern farmers unless they are given co-operation and advice as to what crops to plant, when to plant them and how to market them. For many years it has been one of the duties of this Railroad to assist in the up-building of every community it serves by inducing good citizens from other sections to locate in the Southland. L. & N. field agents are trained by years of experience and are authorities on the particular branch of agricultural activities on which they give advice.

Within the past three years, as the result of national farm paper and magazine advertising, more than 20,000 farmers have written to this Railroad asking for, and receiving from us, intelligent and authentic information about the South.

A Word With the Old Folks

Elderly People Are Learning Importance of Good Elimination.

IN the later years of life there is apt to be a slowing up of the bodily functions. Good elimination, however, is just as essential to the old as to the young. Many old folks have learned the value of Doan's Pills when a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys is required. Scanty or burning passages of kidney secretions are often signs of improper kidney function. In most every community are scores of users and endorsers who acclaim the merit of *Doan's. CALERA PEOPLE WANT "SPEED TRAP" STOPPED

Of the 185 registered voters of Calera, 119 have petitioned state officials to pass an act abolishing the "speed trap" operated there — and the Alabama legislature will grant the request in June.

"Being a democratic body, the legislature naturally is inclined to follow the recommendaaions of the majority," Representative Sam W. Hawkins said Saturday. He added that a bill to abolish all other "speed traps" in the state will be introduced as soon as the summer session opens. In the opinion of Mr. Hawkins and many of his colleagues, there is no doubt of the passage of the measure.

Charging that mayors of several Alabama towns, in assessing fines against motorists and pocketing part of the money as fees, are violating the constitution of the United States, Hawkins said a bill will be pressed to require the institution of suits against such municipalities for all money collected in this way.

"I have talked to most of the members of the house and senate," he continued, "and I know their attitude. The plan under way is to get back this illegally collected money and place it in a trust fund for some worthy state enterprise.

"A bill to be introduced by me will not only seek the abolition of speed traps, but will call for a uniform speed law to be enforced only by officers under the state highway commission. No enforcement officer would get fees.

"These speed traps are doing Alabama harm. Recently I was in Colorado. I saw a big sign, warning tourists to give Alabama a wide berth on account of its roads and speed traps."

The ways and means committee of the legislature during this week will call on the officials of Calera, Jemison, Lipscomb, Loachopoka, and other Alabama towns, to submit their court records, showing the amounts collected from tourists. In all cases where the mayor who assessed the fines shared in the proceeds, steps will be taken to file suits for recovery of the money.

SINGING AT SAMARIA LAST SUNDAY

Dear Editor:

Please give me pace in your valuable columns to say that the singing at Samaria Sunday afternoon was a real success in every respect.

We had a real good class of singers who were eager to sing and a house full of folks eager to hear. The service began promptly at 2 o'clock by the class and congregation singing the song in the Showalter book entitled, "Let's Sing," and prayer by brother J. P. Parrish.

The following directors directed three songs each: J. W. Lowery, Harrison Hays, A. D. Huett, and S. M. Yates after which it was seen that with the great number of directors present we would not be able to get around with three songs each so the following directors directed two songs each: Kermit Lowery, J. R. Robinson, J. Z. Mims, J. W. Cagle, Houston Melton, Eugene Wyatt, and D. T. Melton, after which the class and congregation sang together the song entitled, "How Wonderful Heaven Must Be" and the congregation was dismissed with prayer by brother G. F. Harris.

I feel assured that every person who was there for good was greatly benefitted and as it were, their souls fed afresh with the melody of the many beautiful songs rendered by the class.

The writer was greatly impressed with the goodly number of young men, or mere boys, and the girls from the Liberty Hill community engaged in the song service. Several of the boys getting before the class and directing the music. If we could just have more of the young boys and girls so engaged on Sunday afternoons in our county there would not be so many accidents upon our highways, neither would there be so many homes in our fair county and state wrecked. There would not be so many of our gray headed fathers and mothers brought to shame in their declining years but instead their souls rejoice and they could be really proud of their young men.

We hope to have another singing in the very near future and every one who was there Sunday is requested to come back and bring as many as possible with you. Again on the behalf of the church and community thanking the visiting singers and listeners for their help and cooperation, I am, yours truly—J. Z. Mims.

The first strawberries of the season for the country surrounding Clanton were brought in by J. N. Dennis.

Several farmers around Clanton are marketing strawberries every day now, while many have patches set out this year, which are not yet bearing. Next spring will see a big strawberry crop in this vicinity.

We are informed that the Thorsby strawberry grader has said that the berries coming from around here this year are some of the best he has ever seen.

STONE MOUNTAIN CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL

Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial daily growing into shape and figure depicting the likenesses of Jefferson Davis, General Robert E. Lee and General Stonewall Jackson, it stands, even in its incompleteness, as an honor bestowed upon the armies of the South, who served in the years 1861-'65, and to us of the South in the year 1927, who are making possible the building and finishing of the world's greatest monument.

We are proving our love and devotion to about 40,000 living veterans of the Armies of the Confederacy, by making every effort to complete this monument while they live, so they may know that a memorial to the valor of their comrades, who have passed on, is being carved in stone, to be as lasting as time. These living veterans are being honored by having their names and each veteran a name of a descendant or the name of someone who loves them enrolled in a special "Gold Book of Memory" to be placed in Memorial Hall of the monument. A beautiful token, a badge of honor, is being given these living veterans. It is a triple plated gold coin designed by Augustus Lukeman, the sculptor, and a son of a Confederate General. The coin is engraved "Living Veteran 1927." This will indicate to their descendants in the future that the Veteran was alive in this year. Many veterans have been so honored, and will wear this badge of honor, and know that their name is preserved for future generations by being enrolled in this Book of Memory. They will also know that the one who so honored them in contributing $5.00 to the building of this magnificent misument to so glorious a cause.

Many veterans attending the Tampa Reunion will be proud wearer of this medal. The plan is to continue to enroll all living veterans before Confederate Memorial Day, April 26.

There are over 2,400 living veterans in Alabama. About one-fifth of them have been enrolled. Many counties have plans under way that will insure every veteran in their county being enrolled before Memorial Day. It is hoped that some committee in every county will honor these veterans in this way thereby perpetuating their names to all generations of the future.

The person who enrolls a living veteran will have his or her name enrolled in the Book of Memory and will receive a bronze medal as a token of honor. Five dollars will enroll one veteran and help build the monument. Enrollments can be made through the County Chairman, or Vice President of U. D. C., of Clanton of Mrs. Virgiia Rangley, State Chairman, Exchange Hotel, Montgomery, Alabama. If one prefers they can enroll through this paper. Lets honor our veteran and finish the world's greatest monument.

OLDSMOBILE SALES SHOW BIG INCREASE

A steady and consistent increase in retail sales of Oldsmobiles, indicating a banner spring business, is reported by officials of the Olds Motor Works. The deliveries to consumers for the first three months of 1927 have shown substantial gains over the same period of the two previous years, both of which were record breaking years.

The record of retail sales of Oldsmobiles during the three 10-day periods of March, 1927, clearly shows that the trend of spring buying is well under way. The second 10-day period registered 45% more retail deliveries than did the first 10-day period, while the third 10 days of the month showed a gain of 16% over the second period.

Additional evidence of the increasing demand for Oldsmobiles was contained in a telegram received at the factory from D. S. Eddins, Vice President and general sales manager of Olds Motor Works, who is on the Pacific Coast. His wire urged factory officials to speed California shipments and to increase production of roadsters and coupes, which are in special demand at this season on the Pacific Coast.

Oldsmobile with its nearly 30 years of continuous production, has in recent years been breaking all past sales records. In face of the largest sales in its existence in 1925, and again in 1926, the retail sales for the first quarter of this year are 6% greater than for the same period of last year and 71% more than the first quarter of 1925.

AMERICAN FOREST COMMITTEE STUDIES ALABAMA

Washington, D. C., Apr. 12.—Alabama, where private forestry projects have been in effective operation for many years, will take a special interest in American Forest Week, April 24 to 30, the national committee here believes.

Set aside by President Coolidge, American Forest Week is the annual call for all citizens to help in bringing about better forest conditions. Residents of Alabama interested in forestry are urged by the national committee, of which Frank O. Lowden of Illinois is Chairman, to get in touch with John Kaul of the Kaul Lumber Co., Birmingham, state chairman, and offer co-operation in the local observance of the week.

While private interests in Alabama have been engaged in forest practices for many years, state forestry did not begin in Alabama until 1923, when a state forestry commission was established. The commission began work in 1924.

REPUBLICANS DRY

An open debate in Washington last week between the two outstanding Republican national leaders—Senator Borah of Idaho, and Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, settled the standing of the Republican party on the Eighteenth Amendment. Senator Borah spoke in favor of the prohibition law, and Mr. Butler took the negative.

A group of nine judges sat on the debate, and the verdict came out seven to two in Borah's favor. This debate determines the standing of the Republican party on the prohibition question.

It is not known yet how the Democrats will assert themselves on the question, but they stand a mighty good chance to be wet—very wet. If they center on Al Smith as their standard bearer for president, which looks very probable now, or even if Al exerts much influence on the Democratic national convention, the Democratic party nationally will be as wet as the Atlantic Ocean.

We believe that if the Democrats nominate Al Smith for president there will be lots of Republican votes cast in the "Solid South" in 1928.

LUVERNE EDITOR LIKES CLANTON

Hon. J. C. McLendon, editor and publisher of The Luverne Journal, passed through Clanton last Sunday morning on his way with his wife, daughter, and his daughter's husband to Birmingham, where they were going to attend a fraternal gathering.

In conversation with T. E. Wyatt of The Union-Banner, Mr. McLendon issued high praise to Clanton for its growth, its neat appearance, and especially the road signs on either edge of town which read "Welcome to Clanton; Stop and See Our Town."

Mr. McLendon said that Clanton was gaining friends everywhere among the traveling people for the hospitable treatment which is accorded them here. He said that it is much nicer to welcome people to our town than to set a trap for them and make them pay a fine before they get away.

We were indeed glad to have this good old south Alabama editor in our town, and wish that he and his folks might have spent some time with us. Probably on their return trip they will stop and stay with us a while.

The Truth About Fertilizers

We are not able to spend the money writing hot air letters to a million farmers. We spend our money in making quality fertilizers. The last spring bulletin of the Alabama department from their sampling and analysis, shows RED DIAMOND fertilizers to carry a higher commercial value than all other brands. We beat them all. RED DIAMOND quality fertilizers are always dependable, and have been used by progressive farmers for more than 50 years. We make special formulas for all crops. Make your dealer furnish you with RED DIAMOND quality fertilizers.

TREMENDOUS Success of SILVERTOWN Balloon Tread

shown by 2 years on owners' cars!

When the balloon tire idea still was young, Goodrich recognized that low-pressure must be just the opposite of high pressure.

On the high pressure tire, the tread is rounded, and the tire rides on the center of the tread.

But on the Silvertown Balloon the tread is flattened—the tire rides on the broad, powerful shoulders. CENTER-FLEXIBILITY is the secret of balloon design!

Millions of motorists know by experience the success of this new principle of design—first built in Goodrich Silvertown Balloons two years ago, and tested by millions of miles of use.

THE REASONS FOR SILVERTOWN SUCCESS

Note how the center is triple-grooved for flexibility, and freed from heavy tread design. This eliminates uneven tread-wear and cupping, and permits the load to be carried by the massive shoulders which are three times the area of the center section.

Trade In your old Tires! We buy the unused mileage from you — and give you credit on the purchase of new tires.

JEMISON NEWS

Mrs. W. C. Erwin, Correspondent

A very sad incident happened at the home of a Mr. Mills about 7 miles above here Friday afternoon late. A son of Mr. Mills and Houston Ray were hurrying to the Mills home before a rain. They were in a truck with Houston Ray driving. When they got to the garage the Mills boy jumped off to open the garage door, when a sudden flash of lightning came, killing Houston Ray suddenly, and shocking the Mills boy to a great extent; the Mills boy revived in something like an hour. Mr. Ray is survived by his mother, father, and several brothers and sisters to whom we extend our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

The Sunbeam Band met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Will Duke. After a very interesting little program the following officers were elected: Lois Erwin, President; Thelma Duke, Vice President; Francis Glass, Secretary-Treasurer; and Lola Erwin, Pianist. They unanimously re-elected Miss Irene Atkinson as the leader. A few minutes' outdoor dames, and delicious refreshments closed the afternoon of pleasure and service. The Band meets every Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All little folks under 12 are invited.

Jemison is on the strawberry list this season. Great big ripe red berries are tempting the appetites of all who see them. It has been estimated that about 50 acres of berries are out now in and around here. We hope by next season car load shipments will be sent from here. This would be a great benefit and convenience to our people.

TEN CHILTON GIRLS ENROLL IN SUMMER SCHOOL AT MONTEVALLO

Bulletins for the summer school at Alabama College have just been mailed out, according to an announcement by Dean T. H. Napier, who will direct the summer school this summer.

A wide variety of courses in Education, college credit, and high school are listed in the bulletin. In addition to these special courses, there will be master classes in piano and violin, and special work in public school music, and physical education.

A large number of teachers from all sections of the state have already enrolled for the summer course. All who desire information should communicate with Dean T. H. Napier, of Alabama College.

The 1926-27 session has been the largest in the history of the institution, a total of 742 students having enrolled. The reports for the winter quarter have just been completed and mailed out to the students.

The officers for the 1927-28 session in Student Government, Y. W. C. A., and in other phases of college activities have been elected. Every county in Alabama is represented in the student body at the college, except one. This year there are 10 students enrolled from Chilton County. Following is a list of those students: Verbena—Bertha Barrett, Nolan Meroney, Sara Maud Pattillo, Virginia Scott; Maplesville — Frances Brown, Elizabeth Parnell; Jemison—Fraulein Cobb, Nell Wells; Clanton—Lurlean Minor; Stanton—Alma Schurter. Sara Maud Pattillo made first honor roll. We are delighted to have Virginia Scott back in school. She was away practically the entire winter quarter on account of illness.

SHORT COURSE FOR CLUB GIRLS COMING

The annual state short course for home demonstration club girls will be held at Auburn from May 28 to June 3. Announcement of this was made by Miss Agnes Ellen Harris, state home demonstration agent, and dean of women at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. It will be held during the intermission between the close of the regular session of college and the opening of summer school so that the dormitories and other college facilities may be used. It will be known as the "inter-session short course for girls."

Each county may send as many as four girls, but only two will be allowed to enter the state contests during the short course. Contests in clothing, foods, and home improvement will be conducted.

Meantime, the county home agents and leaders are busy selecting the girls who will make the trip to Auburn. County elimination contests have been or will be held so that each county may send the leading club girls.

In addition to these contests and entertainment features, the two girls who will represent Alabama at the national club congress in Washington, D. C., June, 1928, will be selected. A year ago the Alabama representatives for 1927 were selected, and this plan of determining the winners a year in advance is to be continued.

A general announcement of plans indicates that it will be a busy, instructive, and delightful week for these prize winning girls from thruout the state during their week's stay at Auburn. The state short course at Auburn each year is the big annual event for Alabama club girls.

INCREASE PEANUT YIELD BY CLOSER PLANTING

That increased yields of peanuts and peanut hay may sometimes be obtained through closer planting than is now commercially practiced has been demonstrated by experiments conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the South Carolina Experiment Station. The experimental work was carried on under as nearly uniform soil and cultural conditions as could be obtained, and was continued for three seasons.

The tests were conducted in South Carolina on one-half acre of soil, classified as Orangeburg sandy loam, with a yellow clay subsoil. The land was prepared in accordance with standard practices and given an application of 500 pounds of ground limestone; 800 pounds per acre of a mixed fertilizer containing 2% nitrogen, 8% phosphoric acid, and 3% potash was then applied and worked into the soil. Improved Spanish peanuts were used for seeding.

Some modifications in practice were made in the experiments for the third season, chiefly in the amount of fertilizer used per acre and in the use of unshelled in place of shelled seed.

The best results were obtained with 3-inch spacing in rows 2 1-2 feet apart, the average yields per acre of peanuts and peanut hay under this method of planting for the three seasons being as follows: 848 pounds of peanuts and 2,444 pounds of hay in 1917; 800 pounds of peanuts and 1,608 pounds of hay in 1918; 345 pounds of peanuts and 1,314 pounds of hay in 1919. The large decrease in production for 1919 was caused by unfavorable weather conditions.

Detailed information concerning the tests has been published in Department Bulletin 1478-D, "Effect of Planting Distances and Time of Shelling Seed on Peanut Yields," which also discusses the results of experiments made to determine the effect of time of shelling seed on germination and yield. A copy of the bulletin may be obtained free, as long as the supply lasts, upon application to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

CHEVROLET BREAKS MORE PRODUCTION RECORDS

The Chevrolet Motor Company in March smashed all previous monthly production records in its history by manufacturing 107,900 automobiles, an average daily production of 4,316 cars. A new daily record for production was also established on March 31, when 5,075 Chevrolets were run off the assembly lines.

The Chevrolet production last month exceeded the March, 1926 output by 42,783 cars, a gain of 65.6% and outstripped March, 1925, production by 64, 404 cars, an increase of 148.1%.

A constantly increasing demand for the Chevrolet car, nation-wide in its insistence, has made it necessary for the Chevrolet motor manufacturing plants to work night and day to keep pace with the enormous volume of sales registered since the advent of the "Most Beautiful Chevrolet in Chevrolet History." Raw material by the thousands of car loads is movinto the plants daily where extensions and equipment were recently enlarged to a capacity of 1,000,000 cars yearly by a $10,000,000 expansion program.

In the first three months of 1927, the 267,393 Chevrolets produced exceeded production during the same period last year by 104,486 cars, or 64.1%, and increased by 197.5% over the same three months of 1925. Figures for this period for 3 years follow:

February	85,817	51,303	28,081
March	107,900	65,167	43,495
Totals	267,393	162,907	89,868

The number of employees in the Chevrolet Motor Company's plants, totaling 32,142 on March 27, 1927, showed an increase of 48.3% over the 21,678 employees as of March 27, last year.

THORSBY SECTION

(A. E. NORTON, Manager).

The farmers of Thorsby and surrounding country are now in the midst of the biggest harvest of strawberries that ever came to them, and it has come with a rush. On Monday, April 4, one crate (24 quarts) was shipped to Birmingham; on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday other local shipments were made; Friday a car load went out; Saturday 2 car loads and more local shipments. A car load means ordinarily 357 crates, but sometimes more or less according to circumstances. On Monday, April 11, seven car loads were shipped, besides some local shipments, which, altogether, will make about 11 car loads shipped within the first 8 days of the season. There have been preparations made and a conservative estimate anticipates not less than 100 car loads from this section this season. The fields are in good condition, the acreage has been greatly augmented, there has been no killing frost since the blooming was fairly started, and there is reason to expect a bumper crop, although there have been no returns at this time to report what they sell for, because the season opened so early and quickly that buyers had not arrived in Thorsby, these first shipments were sent out on consignment, but from now on the most of the crop will probably be sold before it leaves Thorsby, as in past seasons. A visit to Thorsby loading track from 5 p. m., till after dark almost any day now will give one an idea of what this industry means to Thorsby and the tremendous amount of work it provides for men, women, and children to produce, harvest, and prepare the crop for shipment. But ordinarily it is one of the best paying crops that can be grown in this section, and best of all it brings a lot of money into the community in spring to help pay expenses of preparing for other crops later in the season.

In the midst of the rush of work it is hoped that as many as possible will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend as many as possible of the special meetings at the Congregational church which are being held all this week at 10 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. These meetings were arranged for months ago, and without anticipating such an early berry season, but since both are here neither should be neglected. Rev. H. H. Jones of Barnesville, Ga., is an unusual leader and preacher. His messages are forceful and gripping without excitement or scare epithets. He explains and interprets the Scriptures in a manner that is pleasing and helpful to saints and sinners. Don't fail to come at the first opportunity; you will wish you had started sooner.

A matter of a good deal of interest to Thorsby people during last week end was the closing days of the public school. The music recital by Mrs. Leary's music pupils was reported in last week's issue. Following this, on Thursday evening, April 7, was the undergraduates' play, "The Deacon's Second Wife," which was given to a full house. This play was staged by Miss Ruth Martin, a member of the faculty, and her ability as a trainer of children was clearly shown. Friday evening, April 8, the senior class exercises were on. Dr. W. M. Cox of Clanton gave an excellent educational address. The following pupils were awarded diplomas: Erastus Cleckler, Rosa Lee Collins, Edith Johnson, Doris Johnson, Luther Kendrick, Jessie Martin, and Jewel Williams. At this time there was awarded to each of the following pupils a prize of $1 for having made the highest record in their respective rooms: Erastus Cleckler, Mary Ruth Nix, Frank Lessley, Letha Mae Martin, and J. T. Driskill. On Saturday evening, April 9, the senior class gave a play entitled "The Little Clodhopper." The cast of characters included Jewel Williams, Luther Kendrick, Jessie Martin, Doris Johnson, Edith Johnson, Erchel Martin, and Lester Pate. The large audience was kept in an uproar of laughter from the beginning to the end of the play. Commencement exercises were held in the public school auditorium at 11 a. m., Sunday, April 10, Rev. Herman L. Turner, Superintendent of Presbyterian churches in Alabama and Mississippi, preached the commencement sermon. It was a masterly discourse on "Getting something for nothing," and set out the difficulty and futility of trying to do such a thing. It was a timely address which will be long remembered by all who heard it. All the churches in Thorsby were closed at that hour and many of their adherents were to be seen in the audience that completely filled the spacious hall. A mixed choir sang several selections, and Mr. Leonard Lowery gave as a solo, "Face to Face;" his singing was full of expression and highly appreciated. The teachers selected for the next year, by our local board, subject to approval by the County Board of Education, are W. T. Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would heal, but now this has disappeared, and I am sure that it was S. S. S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

ANNUAL SINGING AT POPLAR

The annual singing on Easter Sunday at this place is alwaays looked forward to with more or less anticipation because of the fact that its many years of existence has attracted music lovers from all parts of the county. We have had some mighty good singing in the past but we feel that there would be no exaggeration in the statement; "The one last Sunday eclipsed all past records."

The weather was ideal and the directors and classes seemed to be just in the right attitude for some real music and they did not dissappoint us in the least.

An enjoyable feature of the program was the quartetts rendered by Prof. L. T. Grant and children, Prof. W. M. Devaughn and children, and the Thorsby quartet.

SINGING AND PREACHING AT FRIENDSHIP NEXT SUNDAY

Another month has rolled around and next Sunday is the Fourth again. This will be regular preaching day at Friendship and there will be singing in the afternoon. The Glasscock brothers and others from Oak Hill are expected, and it is hoped that their quartet will be on hand. All good singers and lovers of music are invited, as well as listeners. We had a fine singing last Fourth Sunday afternoon, and we hope the next one will be just as good.

Rev. W. P. Lowery, the pastor. will preach at 11 o'clock and 7:30. It is hoped that as many as can will come out and hear him. There will be Sunday School at 10 o'clock.

BAPTISTS OF WEST ALABAMA TO GATHER AT CLANTON

The counties in this District are: Lamar, Fayette, Walker, Pickens, Tuscaloosa, Jefferson, Bibb, Chilton, Hale Green and Sumter. The convention opens at 2:00 P. M. April 28, and closes at 9:00 P. M. April 29. Unions are asked to send names of delegates to Mrs. Arthus Willis, Clanton. Entertainment is free in the homes.

Dr. W. R. Rigell of Gadsden, and Mrs Carter Wright, President of the Alabama W. M. U. will speak at the convention. Mr. R. Elton Johnson, B. Y. P. U. Many Baptist pastors and young people throughout this section of the state will appear on the program which consists of addresses, conferences, demonstrations and plays.

The task assumed by the Baptist Young People's Union is that of training its members in the duties, responsibilities and privileges of church memberhip. "His Will Mine" is to be the keynote for this year's convention.

Baptist pastors are urged to attend for a conference on the subject "How a Pastor May Utilize His Young People in a Program of Soul Winning."

Elaborate plans are being made for the entertainment of the large number of young people who are expected to attend. There will be a reception on the first day of the convention.

MOORE'S NOW READY WITH NEW FIXTURES & EV'THING

Moore's Store in Clanton is now open for business, after having installed brand new fixtures throughout. This store now presents a very impressive appearance. The equipment and fixtures are the last word in neatness and convenience, and it may be truthfully said that no store in Clanton can offer a better looking interior than Moore's.

Mr. Moore extends an invitation to his friends to visit his place. He will be busy for the next few days getting the final details arranged. When everything is completed and the new stock has been assembled, there will be a formal opening which will have an interesting appeal to every person in this section of Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM-MONTGOMERY HIGHWAY PAVING WORK WILL BE FINISHED SOON

It has been announced from Montgomery that Givernor Graves has approved a recommendation of the State Highway Commission for the expenditure of $87,500 to be used in completing gaps in the pavement of the highway from Birmingham to the south line of Chilton County. These gaps were left on fills when the pavement was originally laid in order that the fills might have time to settle. Such gaps exist in Chilton and Jefferson Counties. None were left in the asphalt road through Shelby County.

J. M. Curlee Killed By Train on Saturday Night

James M. Curlee, age 65, chief of police of Clanton, died about 8:00 o'clock last Saturday night from injuries sustained when he was struck by a freight train at the crossing of Second Avenue in Clanton. Death was almost instantaneous with the injuries.

It is said that Mr. Curlee observed a package fall from a passing truck and went across the railroad track to pick it up. When he had started back he seemed to have his first realization that a fast freight train was approaching the crossing. By this time it was so close upon him that he was unable to get out of the way.

Several feet from where he was struck by the train the body was picked up and carried to the Central Alabama Hospital, but there was no possibility of restoring life.

None of the members of his family were at home when the accident happened. His wife was visiting her aged mother at Titus, and his son, Udah, had gone to Maplesville.

Mr. Curlee is survived by his wife; seven sons—Lewis, Curtis, George, Tom and L. G., of Birmingham; Herbert of Richmond, Va.; Udah of Clanton; and one daughter, Mrs. R. S. Gilbert of Atlanta, Ga. The children were promptly notified of the sad accident and came here as soon as possible. A car was sent to Titus for Mrs. Curlee, and she arrived back home about 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

"Uncle Jimmie," as he was popularly known, was loved and admired by many hundreds of close friends. He had been engaged in the capacity of an officer of the law for some 23 years, and throughout his whole career, he maintained an honorable record for uprightness and faithful performance of duty. He served as deputy sheriff of Chilton County under Sheriffs Morgan, Catts, Jones and Gore. For recent years he has been chief of police in Clanton.

He was a member of the Baptist church and a Mason. The funeral was conducted by Rev. S. J. Ezell at the Clanton Baptist church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, after which the body was carried by Martin to Chestnut Creek at Coopers and buried with Masonic rites.

BODY OF MRS. PERCY PAYTON BROUGHT HERE FROM B'HAM

The body of Mrs. Percy Payton, age 16, who sustained a broken neck late Saturday night when she fell from an automobile while riding on the Shades Valley road near Birmingham, was brought to Clanton on Monday for burial. It was said that the automobile was driven by Newton Smith of New Market, Ala., and was occupied by Mrs. Payton and her husband and a man by the name of George Jones.

Coroner Russum of Jefferson County returned a verdict of accidental death, after conducting a formal inquest.

Parties who came to Clanton with the body related the story of how death happened to the young woman. They stated that as the party was driving along the road in the auto, the lady's hat was blown off As the car was slowed down to about fifteen miles an hour, she stepped out to recover her hat and fell, striking her head against the ground and breaking her neck.

Mrs. Payton was before her marriage a Miss Blackwell of Mt. Pisgah. She was married to Mr. Payton about three months ago in this county; later they removed to Birmingham.

After settling a dispute between members of the family and the husband of the dead woman, as to whether she should be buried at Samaria or Pleasant Grove, the body was buried at Pleasant Grove Tuesday afternoon.

ULYS GARNER RETURNED TO JAIL AFTER TWO YEARS

About two years ago a bunch of automobile thieves who were confined in the Chilton County jail, dug a hole in the cement roof and were preparin to escape. Sheriff Littlejohn found out their plans and stopped them. But a little negro, Ulys Garner, who was in jail at the time, took advantage of the opportunity and got out through the hole. He got back to the jail last week, and will answer his original charge of tresspassing, as well as the additional charge of breaking jail.

Garner's people live at Montevallo. He has been in the Birmingham mining district since his escape. When he paid a visit to his folks at Montevallo recently the officers locked him up and notified the Sheriff's office in Clanton.

MAN DIED SUDDENLY

Obie Kelley, age 55 years, died at his home Tuesday night at the old Mose Robinson place near old Salem church. It is reported that Mr. Kelley was found dead on his bed, having died suddenly from heart failure. The remains were buried Wednesday afternoon at Providence.

Chilton Voters Made No Mistake in Voting Bonds

It is already self evident that the people of Chilton County made no mistake in voting practically unanimously for the state bond issue for roads on April 12. Evidences that have developed since the election go to show that Chilton County will reap immediate benefits from the expenditure of the bond money.

Already there has been a recommendation from the highway commission and approved by Governor Bibb Graves for the completion of the Birmingham & Montgomery highway thorugh Chilton County by the paving of those gaps that were left for the fills to settle when the road was originally surfaced with concrete. This one project alone will involve the expenditure of several thousands of dollars in our county, and will make complete the paved road thru our county north and south.

Then another development of interest is the movement concerning a state road through our county from Plantersville to Clanton. The State Highway Commission has indicated that they will take up this project at once and begin work on it probably not later than July 1st. A letter to Judge Reynolds from the chairman of the Highway Commission, requests that the commissioners court of Chilton county come to Montgomery to confer with the commission about this road. The Commissioners, with a delegation of other citizens went to Montgomery Wednesday of this week to go before the Highway Commission.

A representative from the State Highway Department was in Chilton county a few days ago looking for a feasible route for a highway from Clanton east to the river and also from the river on to Rockford. Four routes were investigated from Clanton—one out by Mims Ferry near Lock 12, one by the old Higgins upper ferry, one by the old Higgins lower ferry, and another by Knights Ferry below Mitchell Dam. It is not yet known which route proved the most satisfactory, but this investigation is only preliminary to survey which will be made later.

Everything considered, it is already evident that the people of Chilton County made no mistake in voting for the bond issue. We were told that it meant more roads for our county right soon, and it looks like the promise is going to be made good.

SEBE RATLIFF SHOT TO DEATH BY HIS SON LAST SUNDAY P.M.

Sebe Ratliff, widely known citizen of Sardis community, was shot and instantly killed in his home last Sunday by his son, Dolphus Ratliff, age 32 years. The weapon used was a single barrel shot gun.

Sheriff Collins was called to the scene immediately after the shooting, which occurred about one o'clock in the afternoon. Dolphus was in the house when the sheriff arrived. After the shooting the boy had gone in the house to await the coming of the officers. The body of the dead man had not been removed from where he fell in death, the Sheriff stated.

According to reports given the Sheriff, the elder Ratliff was desperately drunk and was in a terrible rage of abuse upon his family, as was said to be one of his frequent customs. When he had succeeded in running everybody off the place except his wife and the elder son, he was said to be proceeding toward Mrs. Ratliff with dangerous threats, when Dolphus intercepted him with a load of shot that took off the top of his head and scattered his brains all over the house.

After completing his investigations of the tragedy Sheriff Collins brought Dolphus to Clanton and placed him in jail where he will await the actions of the courts of the county.

BANNER'S MISSING WORD CONTESTS GETS ADVS. READ

People do read the advertisements in the Union - Banner. One man handed us a missing word page the other day and said: "I am not expecting or hoping to get a prize, but I just want you folks to know that I read your advertisements."

This is only a sample of the replies we get almost daily from our missing word page and we are pleased to say that it is in that way that the desired end of the contest is accomplished. The prizes are not all the object. The main thing is to create interest among our readers in seeing what our advertisers have open to the public.

We have as good merchants in Clanton and the other towns of the county as can be found anywhere and they are continually telling you through the paper what they have to offer. It will be a help to you to read their advs. They most always have something special for you and have special prices. If you don't know about these things you will lose out, but if you read the advs. in The Banner you will be "The Early Bird," and get the worm.

Lay aside your mail order catalog and beware of the fly-by-night peddlers and give your business to the merchants who invite you through their advertisements in The Union-Banner.

HOME COMING DAY AT VERBENA METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY A BIG SUCCESS

Home Coming Day at the Verbena Methodist church Sunday, April 10, turned out to be the most pleasant and most successful event that has happened in this section in many years.

Old timers from all over the south who had their early training both in church and school returned to Verbena and mingled with old friends and worshipped in the church building of their childhood days. Trains and automobiles brought the Homecomers in by the hundreds and they were greeted by old residents who make Verbena their home.

The occasion was prompted by the fact that the Methodist Chuch building here has been entirely renovated from foundation to roof and according to those who knew it as old, it is one of the most beautiful and most dignified houses of worship in this section of the country.

The entire renewing of the building was in charge of the ladies Missionary Society or rather a committee of this society composed of Mrs. Charlie Strock, Mrs. Phil Mitchell, Mrs. Barnett Deramus and Mrs. Joel Gulledge. S. L. Gibson looked after the work for these ladies and the entire Membership of the church came to their aid in splendid financial gifts.

After the eleven o'clock sermon which was preached by Dr. Agnew of the Montgomery Woman's College, a basket dinner, the like of which can only be prepared by Verbena housewives, was served to the assembly near the old school building where quite a number of Alabama's prominent citizens received their first lessons and learned to spell b-a-k-e-r—baker.

Verbena, which was settled about fifty years ago by the most prominent men and women of Montgomery and the black belt has never had a business failure nor a crime committed in its confines and the little town has ever been noted for its refinemet, honesty and high standard of citizenship.

Many prominent men and women of the state were present and took part in the Home Coming program which lasted all day Sunday, and all expressed their joy in being able to come back to the old nest which is being kept in such good shape by the sons and daughters of Verbena pioneers.

It was decided to make the Homecoming event an annual institution.

MORE COTTON ON LESS ACRES

More cotton on fewer acres does not signify increased total production and the flooding of an already glutted market, but it does mean increased profits to the grower under average conditions. The one remedy for the present situation in the older cotton growing sections of the south is greater efficiency in production with reduced per unit costs, in which larger yields per acre play an important part.

Cost of production data from the Dallas News "More cotton on fewer acres" contest for the past three years shows that it required about 400 pounds of lint cotton per acre to show a profit when the cotton sells at around 12 cents per pound; which results are closely paralleled by U. S. Department of Agriculture figures.. The first ten contestants in this 1926 contest made lint cotton at an average net cost of 6 cents per pond.

Records made by 83 Georgia farmers in the State Cotton Growing Contest for 1926 show that they produced on 415 acres an average yield of 536 pounds lint cotton per acre at a net per acre profit of $30.74. The first ten contestants produced lint cotton at an average cost of 5.3 cents per poud. Forty four of these Master farmers side dressed their cotton with soluble nitrogenous fertilzers, of which 42 used nitrate of soda at the rate of 150 to 200 pounds per acre.

RESULT OF STUDY ON ALABAMA TREES TO BE PUBLISHED

The studies and researches made by Dr. Roland M. Harper on the forest trees of Alabama are to be published by the State Commission of Forestry. Dr. Harper's work in the state has extended over a period of 22 years, and his observations when published will constitute a most important addition to present knowledge of Alabama trees. Dr. Harper has taken up his headquarters at Montgomery and is busy rounding his notes and records into shape for the printer. The publication will be issued as a bulletin of the Commission of Forestry under the authorship of Dr. Harper as a collaborator of the Commission. It is expected that the bulletin will be issued during the coming summer.

There are believed to be about 180 different species of native forest trees in Alabama. However, it is difficult to secure complete concurrenie among all botanists dendrologists and foresters in this lonnection, since there exists considerable difference of opinion as to what constitutes a tree, the distinction between species and variety and the correct common and scientific names. The latest information and conclusions on these and other points will be published in Dr. Harper's book.

UHRIG OPTICAL COMPANY ADDS LENS GRINDER TO ITS FACILITIES

Placing a new modern surfacing machine for grinding lenses, a machine with more than 500 new tools for surfacing complicated lenses, the Uhrig Optical Company, located at 1923 First Avenue, telephone 3-4955, has added very materially to its facilities.

The slogan of the Uhrig Company is "Be pleased with your glasses; we never fail; just try us," and the service rendered, with optometrists of ability in charge, men operating the machines making the lenses being of experience, brings about a wonderful trade.

The new machine just installed will surface any lens within a couple of hours, work that has taken from one to two days in the past to accomplish. Broken lenses can be replaced quickly, while prescriptions of all kinds, the most difficult among them, can be filled with an accuracy that is most remarkable.

The Uhrig Optical Company is officered by men who are graduate optometrists, know the business and have the confidence of the people of the community and trading district. In their employ are men capable of operating new, modern machinery used in the line, and the result is that general satisfaction is given to the clientele. Service and splendid work are offered the public, two very important essentials in fitting and making eye glasses.

Co-operative Association Will Help To Entertain B.Y.P.U. Delegates and Visitors

The commercial committee of the Chilton County Co-operative Association has appointed a special committee to work with the convention officials on the District Convention of the Baptist Young Peoples Union, which is to be in session here on April 28th and 29th.

The association's committee met at the secretary's office last Monday and formulated some plans which were discussed with Dr. S. J. Ezell, convention chairman and pastor of the Clanton Baptist church which is to be host to the convention. Dr. Ezell heartily endorsed the association's plans and expressed the thanks of the entire committee for this progressive step by the business men represented in the association.

Frank P. James of the James Sign Shop is chairman of the association committee and is assisted by W. T. Baker, H. M. Bates, B. Lawrence, W. M. Wyatt, T. L. Williams, A. H. Strong, J. N. Dennis and C. E. Marcus.

After a conference with Dr. Ezell, the committee assumed responsibility for the decoration of the streets from the L. & N. depot to the Baptist church and will carry out the B. Y. P. U. colors of green and white in the decorations. A large banner is now being made and will stretch across the street near the court house welcoming the B. Y. P. U. delegates and visitors. "Welcome" window cards are being printed and will be distributed to the merchants and business places early next week. The committee has purchased sufficient copies of the Chilton County edition of the "Alabama Sportsman" to present each delegate with a copy as they register on the opening day of the convention. In addition to this they will be responsible to the committee for automobiles to convey the delegates to Lock 12 on the closing afternoon of the convention for an inspection of the huge power development plant and partake of a lunch to be served on the banks of Coosa river by the ladies of the various Baptist churches in the county who are co-operating with the Clanton congregation in entertaining the convention.

The transportation committee sincerely requests anyone having an automobile who will drive it to Lock 12 on Friday afternoon, April 29th to take the delegates and visitors out there to call C. E. Marcus, association secretry, Bell phone 149, and register their car for this purpose. The paty will leave the Baptist chuch at 3:00 p.m. on that day and will return to Clanton about 7:00 p.m.

Reynolds Thanks Voters

Editor Union-Banner:

I want to thank the voters of this county for the splendid vote for the bond issue. It shows that the people of the county want good roads; it speaks well for us, that we are willing to lay down politics and vote for what we think is the best interest of our people. This victory belongs to all, and not to any special few. I have just had a letter from Judge Woolsey Finnell, Alabama Director of Highways, informing me that they will start as soon as they can to survey the highway from Selma to here, not later than July 1. This road will mean a great deal to this county, while it can not go by everybody's house. It will relieve the county of the expense of keeping this road up, and then the county can take its money and build the county roads.

I wish I had the time to write the Good Roads Committee a personal letter, but I have had so much extra work in my office that I will be compelled to give my time there.

I hope each committeeman will consider this a personal acknowledgement of their efforts in getting the voters out, and looking after the campaign generally.

Now, can't we dismiss politics for a while and work roads and look after the school interests of the county? There is important legislation proposed for the public school system which will materially affect this county, and it will pay us to leave out politics and look to the welfare of our children.

We who have charge of your road work are doing all we can for the roads with the least money; we are widening roads as fast as we can, but not as fast as the people want them widened.

We would be glad to have any suggestion from any citizen of the county on road work, with the view of helping the work and saving money. Of course we have just a few in the county who are only looking for trouble, and for something to criticize; not to help, but to try to obstruct.

I again beg all to leave off politics, help on the roads, and study the public school system and its needs.—L. H. Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and baby and Misses Hixie Mae and Liler Belle Golden motored to Troy Saturday to spend the week end with Rev. and Mrs. Golden.

Mr. Will Duke of Jemison was here on business Tuesday.

Mrs. Guy Roberts has gone to join Mr. Roberts in Birmingham, where they will reside.

THE ALABAMA SPORTSMAN

The Special Chilton County edition of the Alabama Sportsman came out last week and has been the subject of much favorable comment. It is a 48-page magazine, well edited and neatly printed with many beautiful photographs showing scenes of interest in Chilton County.

The cover design is in colors with a photograph of Falls Creek near Mitchell Dam, inscribed "Chilton County, the Heart of Alabama."

Two special articles on Chilton County occupy several pages of the magazine in which the different aspects of the county's advantages are discussed. A dozen or more pictures of Chilton County scenes are used to illustrate these articles

Chilton County should greatly appreciate the efforts of the Sportsman in publishing this edition.

It was designed to carry the story of Chilton County to the outside world, and in this sense we regard it as a very creditable accomplishment.

Every person in Chilton County has a friend somewhere that would be interested in reading the things that are told about our county in this magazine, and in every such case there ought to be a copy sent to such a friend.

The Union-Banner has a supply of the magazines, and we shall be glad to furnish them to anyone at 25 cents a copy.

The Alabama Farm Bureau Association is planning a distribution of more than $600,000 to its members late in April or early in May. This represents another payment on cotton handled by the association and will bring all members up to 10 cents per pound, basis middling white cotton, for their 1926 crop.

OUR TARIFF AND EUROPE

Some of our free trade newspapers have been calling attention to the fact that European newspapers seeking to make a drive on our protective tariff system center their fire on our tariff against manufactured goods and not on agricultural products. The reason is not, however, as the free traders would have us believe, that the agricultural tariff does not protect and is therefore unimportant. The real reason is that Europe has no agricultural products to send us, only manufactured ones. Our agricultural competitors are not in Europe but in South America, Canada, and in Australia, and Europe is therefore naturally interested principally in our tariff against manufactured goods.

It is difficult to see just why any change of our duties on manufactured articles would help the American farmer, as our free traders seek to make out. In the first place, everything used exclusively by the farmer is now on the free list, and curiously enough, the prices of some of these commodities are higher than ever, because of European control of the markets.

Secondly, if we permitted a flood of cheaply made European goods to come into our market the first result would be to throw hundreds of high priced American workers out of employment, in the vain hope of increasing our market in Europe. Now as the American citizen who depends on American prosperity for his job, consumes nearly all that our farmers raise, we would be destroying for the farmer the market in which he sells four-fifths of his products to try and help him in a free trade market in which at best he is only able to sell a small fraction of what he produces.

The American farmers know this and the free trader will have a hard time winning him over to international economics.

The owner of said car may have same by paying costs of storage and advertising. Unless the owner makes proper claim within fifteen days from the date of this notice, I will sell the said car in front of the Courthouse door of Chilton County, to the highest bidder for cash, between the hours of 11 a. m., and 1 p. m., on Saturday, April 30, 1927.

This, the 14th day of April, 1927.

A prominent sociologist says that men ought to grow whiskers to assert their authority. It is our personal opinion that the growing of whiskers by a married man would only give his wife another hold on him.

The Tennessee legislature adjourned the other day to go out and see Babe Ruth play baseball. Maybe it would be a good idea to keep the Babe constantly visiting the towns in which the legislatures are in session.

CARD OF THANKS

The people have been so kind-hearted and generous until we can hardly muster words with which to express our gratefulness and thanks, but deep in our hearts we do thank you most heartily. Of course we felt our loss greatly, as would anyone, but it has been much easier to become reconciled by the sympathy of our many friends. We have the greater part of our loss replaced already and are still being made to feel thankful that we live in so great-hearted a community. Again thanking you, we pray that God's richest blessings may rest on each and every one always.—W. R. Taylor and Family.

ABOUT ECONOMY

We have heard a great deal recently pro and con about our governmental economy at Washington. Some of the opponents of the present administration have attacked the record but it is pretty generally accepted by the American people that the record of economy and efficiency established by the national administration is a deserved one.

It is interesting therefore to note what a prominent government official himself has to say in reply to the critics of the economy program. Here are some concrete facts offertd in a recent address on the subject of economy by Ogden Mills, first assistant to Secretary Mellon:

"There is one figure which tells the tale and that is the figure embracing all expenditures other than public debt retirements, but including interest on the public debt. That total is a veritable barometer. In 1923 it was $3,294,000,000; in 1924—$3,048,000,000; in 1925—$3,063,000,000; in 1926—$3,097,000,000; in 1927, estimated $3,077,000,000.

"When you realize that during this period there were all manner of new burdens to be shouldered, including one item of $200,000,000 a year for veterans of the World War; another adding $37,000,000 to Civil War and Spanish War pensions; another of $15,000,000 increase for construction, and this by no means exhausts the list— and that total expenditures still hover near the $3,000,000,000 mark and will probably reach it next year, you will understand that economy in Washington is no fiction.

"Take the year 1926 for example. These additional burdens amounted to $265,000,000. Yet actual expenditures increased but $34,000,000. The feat of absorbing by administrative efficiency almost all of these unexpected and large increases is significant."

In view of the figures above quoted it is difficult to see how the record of national economy and efficiency can successfully be attacked.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

President Coolidge has wisely vetoed the bill passed by the Phillipine legislature providing for a referendum in the islands to ascertain whether or not the people are in favor of immediate independence from the United States. The referendum, if held, would have served no useful purpose. The United States does not intend to grant the Filipinos immediate independence; indeed, there is serious doubt whether such action could be taken under the Constitution of the United States. A referendum at this time, therefore, would only serve to increase an agitation which is already doing injury to the business fabric of the islands.

The President's message accompanying the veto is a clear, logical summary of the advantages to the Filipinos of American sovereignty. In the beginning the President points out that before any such referendum could be properly held the Filipinos themselves should be acquainted with just what independence would mean for them. Otherwise they could not properly pass judgment on the question. And as the President says:

"This phase of the question has not received careful consideration in the islands because of the misapprehension which seems to be quite general there that America, even though she granted full autonomy to the islands, would still assume the heavy responsibility of guaranteeing the security, sovereignty and idependence of the islands. In my opinion this is wholly erroneous. Responsibility without authority would be unthinkable. American defense is a corollate of American sovereignty, not of foreign sovereignty. Where there is no sovereignty there is no obligation of protection. The best security to the Phillipine Islands is the protection of and by the United States."

Continuing, the President points out some of the material advantages the Filipinos enjoy because of their political association with the United States. Chief among these are the tariff advantages. In the year 1926 70% of the foreign trade of the Phillipines was carried on with the United States. If these tariff advantages were relinquished, as they would be with independence, few of these exports could enter the United States paying full duty. In fact, the Filipinos could not at all compete with the neighboring Asiatics who can produce more cheaply because of their lower standards of living. About 80% of the Phillipine cigars come to the United States, and as the President points out, no Phillipine cigars could enter America and pay the tariff now levied on foreign cigars. Independence, therefore, might well mean ruin to the Phillipine sugar, tobacco and other industries.

The advantage of this political association with our Eastern possessions is not mutual, as the President points out, for while 70% of Phillipine exports come to us, only 2% of ours go to the Philipines.

There are other material advantages to the Filipinos in their association with us, as the President points out, among them the fact that the islands are able to borrow money much cheaper in America than they could from a foreign power, and in addition are the public improvements which Americans have put on the islands.

In conclusion the President frankly says that he does not believe that the inhabitants of the islands have as yet attained the capability of full self government, and this ability, he predicts, will come through co-operation and not through agitation and opposition.

When a MAN— or a COTTON PLANT Needs FOOD

AT the end of a hard morning's work, your whole body seems to ache for food. It sure feels fine to put your feet under the table and enjoy your dinner.

Your noonday meal gives you the strength to keep going until nightfall.

Things are not much different with a cotton plant. You put fertilizer under it—and that's a kind of breakfast. It carries the plant along to chopping time.

Then is when every plant standing in your fields ought to be side-dressed with 150-200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda.

They will all repay you for that good "dinner" of plant food by cherking right up and making cotton for you to the end of the season.

Not what we say. But what clear-headed, practical cotton growers all around you do. They make dollars-and-cents profits feeding their cotton at chopping time with this one food that carries it on to a high yield maturity.

And Nitrate of Soda gives the same money-making results when side-dressed on corn.

Just cut out this advertisement and write your name and address in the margin. Then mail it to us. We will send you, without one penny of cost our little book "Side-Dressing Cotton and Corn." Our manager is a practical cotton grower and knows just what conditions call for here in "Bama," the Cotton State. A. 58

Hartsville, S. C.
"For best results it is necessary to apply in addition from 200 to 250 lbs. of mineral ammoniates as side applications during the growing season. Nitrate of Soda being immediately available to the plant as soon as it is dissolved in the soil water, is a most excellent form of ammoniate for those side applications and we use it very largely for this purpose. Where a series of heavy rains occur during May, June or July, cotton will in a few days turn pale and shed much of its immature fruit. The immediate application of 75 to 100 lbs. of Nitrate will prevent this change of color and shedding and is often responsible for the production of several hundred pounds of seed cotton per acre by holding on the plant the crop of squares and blooms that would otherwise shed off. Our usual practice is to apply about 100 lbs. of Nitrate of Soda about the time the squares are beginning to form and 100 lbs. more about one month later."

PLEASANT GROVE

Please announce that the Pleasant Grove singing class will meet next Sunday afternoon and each second and fourth Sunday afternoon thereafter. We invite all singers to come and be with us any time.—Philip Franklin.

WILL COTTON BE PIOFITABLE THIS YEAI?

What are the prospects facing the producer of the South's most important staple crop? With the return of another planting season this question is the uppermost in the cotton growers mind. The answer depends more on the grower and his methods of production than on any other factor. How many farmers have learned a lesson from the experience of 1926? How many will efficiently reduce their acgeage, not leaving that to the other fellow, producing a total of a smaller crop by raising it on fewer acres with substantially increased yield per acre and thus with a lower cost of production per pound of lint? Upon the correct solution of the problem will in all probability depend the profit or loss of the individual grower in 1927.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Pearson of Birmingham spent Sunday with relatives near Clanton.

FARMERS REDUCING COTTON ACREAGE AND FERTILIZER

That Alabama farmers are reducing acreage of cotton and have only bought 27½% of the fertilizer sold at this time last year, was given out by Commissioner S. M. Dunwoody, at the State Department of Agriculture and Industries, who quoted the following figures:

Up to April 9 last year, 566,400 tons of fertilizer had been sold; for 1927, only 410,450 tons had been disposed of up to this date. This is a decrease of 155,950 tons, or exactly 27½%.

Present estimates seem to indicate a reduction of 15% to 20% in the amount of fertilizer, although these figures are subject to revision and are only general.

The reduction in acreage is a move in the right direction for it seems impossible for cotton to advance very greatly in price until the present surplus is used by spinners.

Mr. Dunwoody was of the opinion that using half the usual amount of fertilizer was much like going half way to town—it would never get the cotton grower anywhere.

"Less acres but the usual amount of fertilizer" was the practice advocated by many successful farmers.

"My experience in cotton growing for 30 years has been that it is a loss of money to half fertilize the cotton crop. A light application of fertilizer on two acres of land is almost certain to make a poor, unprofitable crop. If this amount of fertilizer were put on one acre, it is apt to insure a profitable crop, and it does not pay to skimp on fertilizer. Fewer acres but with the usual amount of fertilizer should be the rule."

Alabama farmers are faced with the necessity of making a cheap crop, but as the State enforces 16 units of fertilizer, this is a fairly good grade, although some will use still higher grade goods.

While no one can foresee the size of this next crop, those farmers will come out best who do the intelligent thing and live at home.

SALE OF TIMBER

Until noon, Saturday, May 7, 1927, sealed proposals will be received for the purchase of all pine timber twleve inches and up, breast high, and all hardwood timber fourteen inches, sixteen feet up, on the following school land:

NE¼ of the SE¼, Section 16, Township 24, Range 13 East, Chilton County.

Time in which timber will be removed must be specified, maximum limit, six years; terms, cash. Certified check of 10 per cent must accompany each bid. Address R. E. Tidwell, State Superintendent of Education, Montgomery, Alabama.

PROVIDENCE—BEAT 13

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space to say a few words from old Providence community in regard to our memorial service. It was a great service. We had a large attendance, good behavior and plenty of good dinner. We thank the people in general for their co-operation in this service.

The afternoon was spent in song service, and some good singing was enjoyed. Directors were E. H. Foshee, Will Northcutt, L. R. Cobb, Bill Cofer, Prof. Scott of Mars Hill, and Burl Martin. We were very glad to have Mr. Martin with us again. He is very much interested in singing yet. We were glad to have Mr. W. H. Shaw from Birmingham with us. Mr. Shaw gave us a fine talk in regard to the memorial service.

MARTIN-KILLINGSWORTH

A wedding of interest was solemnized recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Martin, when their son, Ellis, was happily married to Miss Annice Killingsworth.

The bride wore a blue crepe dress, with accessories to match.

EGG HUNT AT CHESTNUT CREEK

The Junior and Card classes of the Chestnut Creek Sunday School were entertained at an egg hunt on last Saturday afternoon by their parents and the teachers of the two classes, Mrs. Pearlie Hughes of the Junior Class, and Mrs. J. E. Connell of the Card Class.

The hunting of the eggs began about 2 o'clock. While the eggs were being hidden in the grove just south of the church, the children were entertained in the house with singing, etc. The eggs were hidden by the teachers and parents of the little ones.

There were present in all 61 students of both classes, and a very fine time was had by the little ones. This entertainment was given by the teachers and parents in recognition of the splendid Sunday School work done by these two classes during the past year.

LIKES THE UNION-BANNER

The Union-Banner has just received a letter from a former Chilton County man, Mr. C. J. Patterson, of Detroit, which says, in part: "I am enclosing $1.50 for The Banner for another year. I have taken the paper for the past four years, ever since I left old Chilton, and it would be very hard to do without it."

They all feel that way—the further from home they are, the better they like the old home town paper.

"GIFT OF THE GODS"

The sweet potato rather than Amorosia is the modern gift of the Gods, declares Dr. Andrew M. Soule, President of the Georgia State College of Agriculture.

The man who expressed such a fondness for ambrosia manifestly had never partaken of candied yams, sweet potato souffle, sweet potato pie, or sweet potato custard, the educator recently told a radio audience from an Atlanta station.

Only a Black Mammy of the old school can prepare these dishes in their perfect state, he said, and in further praise of these Southern cooks cited the testimony of Miss Rosa Lewis, famous English cook, who said their art equals that of celebrated French chefs.

The sweet potato, according to Dr. Soule, is one of the most desirable vegetables for supplying starch and sugar. The South is awakening to the commercial possibilities of the sweet potato and Dr. Soule estimates the acreage devoted to it in Georgia will be increased 30% this year while the South Atlantic States as a whole will increase their acreage 20%.

Legislature May Have Two More Sessions

Two more legislative sessions will be held during the Graves administration, it was learned on reliable authority Saturday.

In January and February the state law makers used 18 of their allotted 50 legislative days. At the session opening June 7 they will grind out 20 more legislative days, and save the remaining 12 days until January, 1929.

To Handle Revenues

This plan, it became known, has been widely discussed by assembly leaders and virtually agreed on. The session this summer will be devoted largely to the passage of revenue measures.

The recess ways and means committee, most important of all legislative committees, will set itself this week to the task of framing the bills under which the state must raise its money during the next four years. For weeks the committee has been holding hearings at the capitol in an effort to sound out sentiment and agree on a tax program.

Leaders of the legislature said Saturday they knew nothing of reports that the date for the summer session would be moved up to May 17, "in order to push the sale of the $25,000,000 good roads bonds authorized in the election of April 12." While the need for getting the highway improvements under way immediately is recognized, veteran solons say the ways and means committee can not possibly finish its work before June 1.

Governor Graves probably will confer with the ways and means committee on Thursday, to outline his plans for raising money. It is by no means certain that the governor's views will meet the approval of a majority of the committee, but it is altogether likely that, by a "give and take" method of procedure, all differences will be quickly adjusted and a revenue bill drawn that will find easy sailing when the legislature meets.

A Word With the Old Folks

Elderly People Are Learning Importance of Good Elimination.

IN the later years of life there is apt to be a slowing up of the bodily functions. Good elimination, however, is just as essential to the old as to the young. Many old folks have learned the value of Doan's Pills when a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys is required. Scanty or burning passages of kidney secretions are often signs of improper kidney function. In most every community are scores of users and endorsers who acclaim the merit of Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

LIBERTY HILL

Several from this place attended the singing at Poplar Springs Easter Sunday, and our Sunday school attendance was not as good as usual. The school is going fine.

Miss Lottie Scarbrough was hostess to the members of the Junior Sunday School class, of which she is an efficient teacher, entertaining them with an Easter egg hunt Sunday afternoon.

As voted by the members at the last session, the Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove Singing Society will meet at Liberty Hill on the second Sunday in each month, and at Cedar Grove the fourth Sunday. This is done so that the class may be able to attend singings at other places more. We invite singing classes to meet with us on these dates; we are always glad to have your co-operation.

Miss Etta Foshee attended the A. E. A. at Birmingham last week.

Misses Maggie and Florida Bates of Selma have returned home, after a visit of a few days, being accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Duke, who spent the week end at Selma.

Several from here attended the play, "Topsy Turvy," at Maplesville Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ward visited the latter's sister, Mrs. Reece Blackmon, at Central Alabama Hospital Sunday afternoon. Mrs. B. H. Vickers also visited friends at the hospital.

Mrs. Joe Grooms of Clanton has been visiting her father, Mr. John Jackson, for the past few days.—Esther V. Duke.

A SPIRIT OF HARMONY YET AMONG THE PEOPLE OF CHILTON COUNTY

In spite of the more or less widespread notion abroad sometimes as to the discord that exists in politics among the people of Chilton County, there is yet a hopeful sign visible now and then when we are permitted to see deeply into the consciences of men and women as they think and act and vote upon measures that concern the common weal.

The action of our citizenship in the recent campaign for the bond issue may be taken as one of the evidences of a deep and conscientious attitude that is safe for our county when it comes to the test. There was no local dissension manifest in the campaign for the bond issue, and indeed the vote against the bonds was negligible. The best interests of our county for the future was contained in our espousal of the bond issue proposition. Our people looked straight into the subject, saw the right course and followed that course with praiseworthy determination.

Let us hope that this same attitude will be held by our people in dealing with another matter of vital concern which must be considered and properly solved within the next year. We refer to the great and all-important question of our public schools.

If Chilton County shall march forward in its duty to the boys and girls who are growing up, we shall have to provide money for expanding and improving our school system. This will have to be done in the not far distant future. To do it will necessitate the levying of an additional tax. We implore the leaders of thought and the moulders of public opinion to go straight with the people into this question, and when the time comes, we hope our voters will have found the right attitude and become willing to save our schools by their unflinching expressions at the ballot box.

Clanton Has Pure City Water Supply Test Says

Between the 16th and 22nd of every third month in the year the public health laws of Alabama provide that the water used for public consumption in all the municipalities of the state be examined by the State Board of Health Laboratories.

Once every three months samples of the water supplied by the Town of Clanton is sent to the laboratory. These samples must be secured from at least three places in the city. It is interesting to note the care and regulations under which this important phase of our health laws is carried out. The samples are collected in sterile bottles, packed in ice, and are transported under seal to the laboratory. The samples are marked to show the place they are taken from and the hour that they were taken.

When these samples are received at the laboratory, the time of their arrival is noted on the report blank and the water is examined by experts to see if it contains any bacteria, gas in lactose broth, or colon bacillus.

The Alabama State Board of Health has adopted the United States Public Health Service bacteriological standards for safe water, which is as follows: not more than 100 bacteria per cubic centimeter; gas producing bacillus in not more than one of five samples tested. In other words, water is considered safe if the impurities named above do not exceed that amount.

The thing that the officials and citizens of this city should be thankful for and proud of is the fact that the last water report shows absolutely no bacteria, gas forming germs, or colon bacillus present in Clanton water taken from the reservoir, and less than 5 gas producing germs or other bacteria in the samples taken from two other places in the city.

One significant fact should be taken into consideration by our citizens and that is that our city water is pure, and should be used at least for drinking purposes by everybody. Some of our citizens are still using well water and are unquestionably placing their health as well as that of their families in jeopardy when they do it.

This article is given to the press for the purpose of acquainting our citizens with the fact that our city water is almost absolutely pure and to point out the dangers of the continued use of well water, especially in a town where its growth is as rapid as Clanton.—T. J. Marcus, M. D., City Health Officer.

Cotton and Corn Yields Increased By Top Dressing

Nature is a tolerant mistress. She stands a lot of abuse and is quick to respond to kind treatment. The farmer who year after year takes nourishment from the soil without doing anything to replace it can farm after a fashion. Nature will do her best to bring the crop to a healthy maturity, but every effort leaves her a little more exhausted.

Plant food administered at the proper time and in proper amounts is an important step towards profitable farming.

In former years fertilizer was applied to cotton almost exclusively before or at planting time. Tests conducted by a number of Experiment Stations, however, show that two of our major crops, cotton and corn thrive better if a major portion of one element—nitrogen—is reserved for a side or top dressing.

According to the "Auburn Method," developed by the Experiment Station at Auburn, Alabama, all acid phosphate and potash used on cotton should be applied at planting time, but only one-fourth of the nitrate used should go under the crop. The remaining three-fourths should be applied at chopping time. The experience of many farmers indicates that the yield of seed cotton can be increased 400 or 500 pounds per acre by the use of 200 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre in the above way. At chopping time cotton plants have developed a root system able to take up readily available nitrogen within a few days. Delay in application of the side dressing means diminished yield.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS CONCERNING OUR WEST HIGHWAY

The delegation from Chilton County who went before the State Highway Commission on Wednesday relative to the state highway from Plantersville to Clanton, came back with encouraging reports.

It was stated by those in the delegation that the state highway department assured them that a survey of the road would be started by state engineers in a very short time.

The county commissioners of Chilton County were in the delegation that went to Montgomery. They told the state highway commission that if it would help to expedite matters any Chilton County would lend the state the money to make the survey of this road.

There are three routes which hope to get the location of the road from Clanton to Plantersville. One is a direct route between the two towns. Both the other routes would come from Plantersville; and in coming from Maplesville to Clanton one route would come through Jonestown and the other route would follow the route of the present Clanton and Maplesville Highway. The location of the route for the highway will be a question for the engineers to determine.

MINERAL SPRINGS

We have organized a Sunday school at this place.

There will be preaching here next Saturday night, and Sunday at 11:00 o'clock, by Rev. Wiley Davis, and everybody is invited.

Our school is progressing nicely under the management of our principal, Mr. Grady Jones.

People around here are so busy gathering strawberries until you can't hear much news, except cattle dipping. Our vat was blown out Sunday morning about 8:00 o'clock. We are sorry of this, for warrants and making bonds was the biggest talk of the day. Sheriff Collins visited this district Friday, and several had to make bonds for failure to dip cattle.

All interested in preaching are invited to come out Saturday night and Sunday.

NEW SALEM

The New Salem Sunday school put on an Easter program Sunday, which was rendered very nicely, and enjoyed by all. Some good talks were made as to why we have Easter Sunday. At 12 o'clock a bountiful lunch was served. This will be a day long remembered. After lunch 166 eggs were hidden in the woods for the children. They were busily engaged for about an hour hunting and scrambling for the eggs. A regular social good time was enjoyed the rest of the day.

We have a good Sunday school. Everybody come and be with us every Sunday.

Memorial services will be held at this place the first Sunday in May. In the afternoon the singing society meets. We invite everybody to sing with us.—Mrs. E. C. Cox.

It is estimated that if man applies what he knows about preventive medicine and better living, within ten or fifteen years he could add five or six years to the average age.

BLEED THROUGH

THORSBY SECTION

(E. K. NORTON, Manager).

A quiet home wedding occurred at 8:30 p. m., last Saturday when Mr. Sidney J. Davenport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davenport, and Miss Essie Belle Willis were united in marriage by Rev. J. H. Roberts, pastor of Thorsby Baptist church, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Willis, on Washington Street. Members of the two families and a few close friends attended the ceremony. The bride wore a beautiful blue georgette crepe gown and carried a large bunch of white roses. The young couple, with her parents, were entertained at the Davenport home Easter Sunday. They will make their home for the present with the bride's parents.

Easter Sunday at Thorsby Congregational church made a full day of good things that were enjoyed by large audiences. Beginning at 9:45 a. m., the Sunday school had a pleasing and varied program, consisting of special music and exercises by the various classes. At 11 o'clock Rev. H. H. Jones preached an appropriate sermon and a large choir, under direction of Miss Giula Williams gave some excellent Easter singing. This was followed by a communion service with reception of members. Since the Congregational church recognizes all forms of baptism as valid, it is customary to conduct this rite as an applicant for membership may prefer. Among those received one was sprinkled, and one was immersed at Charlotte in the afternoon in the presence of a number of interested people. Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor Society was led by Miss Margaret Williams. The subject was "The Cross." There was special music by two quartets, and interesting reports of the Christian Endeavor Convention in Birmingham were given by Misses Clara Grigsby and Isabel Gilbert. The day closed with a strong sermon on "Personal Influence" by Rev. H. H. Jones, which closed the special meetings.

Thorsby Institute board of trustees held their regular quarterly meeting Thursday morning of last week. Frank E. Jenkins, President of the board, and Rev. Neil Mc-Quarrie were out of town members present. Reports of faculty and officers show the school to be in a prosperous condition. Five trustees whose terms of office expire in July were reelected, as were the officers and standing committees of the board. All members of the faculty who have not declined to be candidates, Miss Hawkes and Miss Murray, will seek positions nearer their respective homes, were reelected for the ensuing school year, and one was simply deferred to give opportunity to comply with a technicality required by the state, which will be done. A matter of far reaching importance in the affairs of the Institute, which has long been contemplated was brought definitely nearer by the election of a special committee, consisting of President Jenkins, Principal Miss Jenkins, and Treasurer Butler to consider and present to the board arrangements to add two years of college work to the curriculum of Thorsby Institute, making it a junior college. It is hoped that this can be accomplished in time to open in the fall of 1928.

B.Y.P.U. Convention To Be Here Next Week

The annual convention of the Western District Baptist Young Peoples Union will bring many visitors to Clanton when the sessions begin at the Baptist church next Thursday. The district is composed of eleven counties, from which the delegates and visitors will be gathered.

Local committees on entertainment have been busy making arrangements to take care of the visitors, and the announcement is made that everything is shaping up fine for showing them a good time while in Clanton.

This will be a fine opportunity for Clanton to make a good impression on the strangers who will be within our gates, and it is hoped that every citizen will feel a personal interest in making this impression as favorable and lasting as possible on those who come here.

In addition to the entertaiments that will be provided by the local churches, there is a plan under way for the Chilton County Co-operative Association to have a part in showing the visitors some of the many points of interest throughout Chilton County. This will be accomplished by a fleet of automobiles which will carry the visiting delegates to different parts of the county.

Gives Advice to Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Used daily, externally, it soothes the nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally it makes childbirth a joy!

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 34, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

Enough Cabbage For A Whole Irish Regiment

LOOK HERE—you amateur gardeners—here's a record for you to shott at. A single head of cabbage, 42 inches in diameter!

There's nothing "faked" about the photograph at all. This mate to the Irishman's familiar corned beef was actually grown in a Riverside, Calif., garden. An ordinary cabbage crate, with a capacity of the usual 30 heads, could not hold it. So a special box had to be built to get it to market.

The youngster pictured with the phenominal vegetable is little Jack King, in whose garden it was raised.

American Business Is Looking Upward Now

Los Angeles, Calif., April 23.—Marked evidence of further prosperity that seems to be in store for the country generally throughout the current year was pointed out by R. H. Grant, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, who has just completed a series of 21 nation-wide sales meetings that brought him into close touch with business conditions from coast to coast. During the course of the meetings, which consumed three months, Mr. Grant addressed more than 15,000 people and enjoyed an excellent opportunity to survey trade conditions at first hand.

"Business conditions over the United States, as we saw them in the first three months of the year, more than justified the optimistic forecasts made last December," Mr. Grant declared. "Trade activity and soundness in the early months have demonstrated the accuracy of the opinion that the year should be an excellent one for American business.

"Every factor that should contribute to good business is at hand. Everywhere we found optimism and fidence amid unusual activity for the time of the year. Everywhere was reflected the financial stability of the country.

"The aggregate and individual wealth is the greatest ever; savings deposits and business done through checking accounts are constantly reaching new levels and a more even distribution of wealth is contributing to further economic soundness.

"Excellent reasons for the belief that prosperity will attend trade throughout the year are found in every section of the country. Crop diversification has helped the South. Plenty of rain and snow in the Pacific Coast Region, the last part of the country to be visited, assures good irrigation for crops in that territory. Increased employment in the industrial sections of the middle west is giving those regions greatly increased buying power. Strides in the direction of further diversification in the Northwest should make the grain country a bigger factor in the buying market. The corn belt too is preparing for its biggest season. Gains being made in our own business in New York and New England are surprising."

Commenting on the activity in the automobile business, Mr. Grant declared that the year holds unusual promise for the motor trade.

"Chevrolet should enjoy the greatest year in its history," he said. "The popularity of the car is being reflected in the sensational public reception being accorded it in all sections of the country, with registrations showing a tremendous increase over the record of the corresponding period a year ago.

"In response to the greatest demand in the history of the Chevrolet Motor Company, our factories, in March, produced 107,900 units, shattering all previous monthly production records and surpassing the best previous month by more than 22,000 units."

KILLS LARGE RATTLESNAKE

Mr. Monroe Parrish of Beat 16 reports to the Banner that one day last week at the old Uncle Bud Wyatt place he killed a real old-time rattlesnake, which was five feet long. Mr. Parrish weighed the reptile and said he only weighed 5½ pounds, which goes to show that the snake had left his winter quarters only a short time before Mr. Parrish found him. There were only ten rattles on the snake's tail, but it looked as though part of his rattles had been cut off some way.

Mrs. W. C. Erwin, Correspondent

Our little town and community was again bent with sorrow last Friday on hearing of the death of Mr. J. L. Thomas, following an operation in Birmingham. Mr. Thomas had been in poor health for several months, suffering with what he thought to be rheumatism. A few days before his death he and Mrs. Thomas went to Birmingham for him to take treatment. It was decided to amputate one of his legs. He underwent the operation Wednesday morning, and death came Friday morning at 8:00 o'clock. His remains were brought home Friday night; burial Saturday afternoon in Pine Hill cemetery. Mr. Thomas has been a mail carrier here for several years. He will be greatly missed on his route by his friends, as he will elsewhere. His wife, two daughters, Jewel and Gene Thomas, two stepsons, Elvin and Marvin Dawson, survive him, to whom we extend our deepest sympathy in their sad bereavement.

The many friends of Udah Curlee here were very sorry to learn of the death of his father at Clanton Saturday night, being hit by a train. Udah taught in our school two years ago; he made friends by the score, who all extend to him, his mother, sister, and brothers our deepest sympathy. Such a shock must be hardest to bear, though "God giveth and taketh—His way shall be done."

The many friends of Mrs. H. V. Shaw, Carrie Dorminey, will be glad to know that she has recovered from a recent operation and is now visiting her sisters, Mrs. S. P. Shaw, and Mrs. A. A. Conway, here.

Euell Durbin and sister, Agnes, spent the week end in Birmingham.

Miss Margaret Williams is visiting her aunt here, Mrs. Jim Patton.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright of Tarrant City spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Reynolds.

Mrs. Raymond Hubbard and little son, Raymond, Jr., of Birmingham, are spending several days here with Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Attoway.

Dr. McNeil is improving from a recent illness.

Mr. Burnett, who has been running a cafe on the highway here, has sold out to a Mr. Roberts, from Siluria. We understand he is to move here and take charge at once. We wish for success for them in our little town.

A very nice little program was given at the school auditorium Monday night by the pupils of Miss Heflin and Miss Clements. All the little fellows carried their parts well, and much credit is due the two teachers. A nice little sum was taken in for the athletic association.

Mrs. Hugh Rogers and children spent the week end in Birmingham with friends and relatives.

Little Herbert Wright is visiting his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Reynolds, here this week.

Albert Sims spent Sunday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sims.

Cupid Up To Date At Marbury High School

"Cupid Up-To-Date" is the name of the musical comedy being presented at the Marbury High School April 26, under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association. "Cupid Up-to-date is a new and clever comedy that has been received with great enthusiasm to the all over the southeast. The plot is unique. The dancing and music add very grealy to the novelty of the show.

Miss Ethel Bell Smith of Kansas City, Mo., is directing the play; Miss Swint carries 250 costumes, which add greatly to the novelty and beauty of the show. The 15 choruses appear as chickens, clocks, moons, monkeys, stars, cats, bedtime stories, and old fashioned sweethearts.

The plot deals with the unrest of modern times, and through the aid of Cupid, love is restored to its proper place, and peace once more reigns in the modern home.

This promises to be one of the most interesting events of the season in this community, and the P. T. A. are anticipating a record crowd on Tuesday night. Admission will be: reserved seats, 75c; general admission, 50c; children, 35c.

IS THERE NO RELIEF FROM SKIN TORTURE?

Must I Continue to Suffer the Unbearable Itching?

Are you one of those unfortunates who are going through life suffering with a skin disease, making you uncomfortable, making you less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in many forms of skin disease. Thousands of letters of gratitude prove its worth.

"I feel so happy for what S. S. S. has done for me that I want others to know about it. I suffered twenty long years from eczema. At times the itching was unbearable. During that time, I used all kinds of salves without receiving any real benefit. After taking six bottles of S. S. S., I was cured of this dreadful disease. I recommend S. S. S. to anyone suffering from eczema, because I cannot praise it enough for what it has done for me." Cleophas Forte, Soldiers and Sailors Home, Quincy, Ill.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

AN APPROPRIATE TEXT

Rev. E. W. Butler, Treasurer of Thorsby Institute, was in our office last Friday and told us a story which we asked him to let us have for the Banner. Mr. Butler says he is not sure whom the joke is on. We refer that question to the preachers of Chilton County.

This is the story—

Mr. Butler is the Treasurer of the Thorsby Congregational Church as well as of the Institute. The pastor the church is Rev. Joseph E. Each, who is well known in Clanton. Mr. Butler tries to keep the minister's salary paid up promptly at the close of the church is Rev. Joseph E. Each, himself, and knows that a minister needs his salary on time. But at the beginning of last month the funds in the church treasury were a little short and the salary had not been paid for the preceding month when the first Sunday came.

And this was the text which the preacher announced for his Sunday morning sermon:

Genesis 40:23—"Yet did not the chief butler remember Joseph, but forgot him."

Mr. Each has the reputation of being able to see the point of a joke without a lengthy explanation. But he insists that he did not see the peculiar appropriateness of that text to the exact situation until after his attention was called to it.

FARMERS AT PLEASANT GROVE BUY PURE BRED BULL

Fifteen farmers of the evening school at Pleasant Grove bought a registered Jersey Bull. The bull was purchased from Mr. Johnny Mims of Thorsby. Before purchasing, prices and descriptions of bulls were obtained from several good breeders in Alabama and Mississippi. However, on a visit to Mr. Mims' farm they found one with splendid breeding and almost perfect conformation, and after looking at the young calves sired by him, the farmers agreed that this was the one they wanted. The Pleasant Grove farmers planted carpet grass in March, and now have purchased this Jersey bull. They mean to milk from 3 to 10 cows per farm and are geting ready for it in the right way. They mean to have good pasture first, and to gradually grow into shipping sour cream.

B.Y.P.U. Delegates and Visitors Welcome Here

Clanton is all diked up this week for extending an impressive welcome to the visitors and delegates who are here for the B. Y. P. U. Convention. Many of those who are here have never seen our little city before and we hope when they go back home they will have reason to carry with them a good word for the hospitality of Clanton.

Welcome, B. Y. P. U. delegates and visitors, to Chilton County, the Heart of Alabama. We are glad you are here and we hope you may have a most enjoyable time, and that you may be stimulated to press forward with greater zeal in the cause which you represent.

Baptist young people from seventeen counties in western Alabama will gather at Clanton April 28 and 29 for their annual convention. From three to five hundred out of town delegates are expected. The counties in this District are: Lamar, Fayette, Walker, Pickens, Tuscaloosa, Jefferson, Bibb, Chilton, Hale Green and Sumter. The convention opens at 2:00 P. M. April 28, and closes at 9:00 P. M. April 29. Unions are asked to send names of delegates to Mrs. Arthus Willis, Clanton. Entertainment is free in the homes.

Dr. W. R. Rigell of Gadsden, and Mrs Carter Wright, President of the Alabama W. M. U. will speak at the convention. Mr. R. Elton Johnson, B. Y. P. U. Secretary of Alabama, Miss Georgie Coley, State Junior-Intermediate B. Y. P. U. Leader, and Miss Elizabeth Perry, State Rural B. Y. P. U. Field Worker, all of Montgomery, are also on the program. Mr. J. B. Alderman, State B. Y. P. U. Chorister, will direct the music. Mr. Garnett Lacey of Birmingham, District Vice President, will preside over the sessions. Many Baptist pastors and young people throughout this section of the state will appear on the program which consists of addresses, conferences, demonstrations and plays.

The task assumed by the Baptist Young People's Union is that of training its members in the duties, responsibilities and privileges of church memberhip. "His Will Mine" is to be the keynote for this year's convention.

Baptist pastors are urged to attend for a conference on the subject "How a Pastor May Utilize His Young People in a Program of Soul Winning."

Elaborate plans are being made for the entertainment of the large number of young people who are expected to attend. There will be a reception on the first day of the convention.

HE WAS BUT HE AIN'T ANY MORE

Prof. Lawrence sent out blanks to teachers on which they were to apply to him for teaching. At the bottom of these blanks the applicants were asked to give as references the names of some educators who were acquainted with their school work. One colored teacher sent in one of these applications and had the reference blank filled in "Booker T. Washington, deceased."

DOUBLE WEDDING OF INTEREST

Calera, Ala., April 25.—One of the most beautiful and unusual social affairs of the week was the double marriage of Miss Elizabeth Eason and Miss Lillian Martin of Calera to Leonard Ward Marshall and George Milton Warner, respectively, of Chattanooga, Tenn., which was solemnized at the home of T. C. McKibbon of Calera on April 19 at 10 a. m., in the presence of a small number of relatives and friends. The home was tastefully decorated with smilax and sweet peas and white narcissi were used in profusion. Potted ferns and sweet peas formed a bower of artistic beauty at the base of the improvised altar. Tall burning white tapers lent a soft light to the lovely floral scene. Suspended from the arch was a basket of greenery and Easter lilies. An appropriate program of nuptial music was given.

JOHNSON HOSPITAL NOTES

Miss Alma Allen, who has had several months training as a nurse, being at South Hghlands Infirmary the last seven months, is now employed at Dr. Arthur Johnson's hospital on Second Avenue.

During the week Callie Williams of Verbena had her tonsils removed; also the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Yeargin.

Misses Monnie and Minnie Porter underwent operations Thursday, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pierce was operated on during the week.

All patients are improving rapidly.

SHILOH SCHOOL

There will be an entertainment at this place next Friday night, April 29. Doors will be open at 7:15; program starts at 7:45. Admission, 10c and 15c. Everyone invited. — Maggie Traywick.

Chilton Hi Takes Pair From Autauga Combine

Before the largest crowd of the season so far, the Chilton "Tigers" took both ends of a twin bill from the Autauga High aggregation last Friday afternoon. In the first game the locals faced Collum, touted as one of the best high school pitchers in the State, rapping safely 10 times for 9 runs. In the second encounter, Deramus allowed Chilton only 6 bingles which were good for 7 counters.

R. Connatser, Gore, and Sanders featured with the willow for Chilton, while Deramus and Langford showed best for the visitors.

Both teams gave an exhibition of plain and fancy wildness in the first game, but settled down to business in the second. Foshee and Broadhead received fair support and were seldom in trouble, while loose playing kept Autauga's flingers in hot water nearly all the way. Broadhead gave the local fans quite a surprise in the second game; the lad showed lots of steam, and promises to get going in several games this season.

The following directors took the floor for two songs each: Miss Ethel Powell, Miss Susie Griffin, and Miss Lillie Mae Weldon, E. L. Glasscock, J. E. Miner, S. V. Miller, Jesse Baker, R. M. Robinson, C. H. Robinson, Prof. O. L. Devaughn, Jasper Oaks, Lorenzo Sanders, Amie Boswell, Marion Thompson, and Leroy Mims.

WHAT ABOUT HELPING FLOOD SUFFERERS IN MISS. VALLEY

The following letter has been received by The Union-Banner from Hon. F. A. Gulledge of Verbena, relative to raising money to help relieve sufferers from floods along the Mississippi River:

Editor Union-Banner: I went out for just a little while this morning in the interest of the Mississippi valley flood sufferers. I got up $64 yet I did not see many people. I am sure Verbena will reach the $100 mark. When all is in I will render you a list of those who help.

What about Clanton, Thorsby, Jemison, and other towns of Chilton County? All should help freely and liberally. All should read the daily reports of death, loss of property, and all those people possess.—F. A. Gulledge.

We are glad to pass on to our readers the question of Mr. Gulledge: "What about Clanton, Thorsby, Jemison, and other town of Chilton County?" The relief of the suffering of the people in the valley is indeed a worthy object at this time. It would be a good thing for every town and community in the State to subscribe a fund for this purpose.

Mr. Gulledge has taken the lead in Verbena. Who will do likewise in the other towns?

HOME OF EDDIE GRANT BURNED LAST SUNDAY

The home of Eddie Grant, near the Soldiers Home at Mountain Creek was destroyed by fire about 9 o'clock last Sunday morning. Practically all the contents of the home were lost. The house belonged to Dr. J. D. Eiland, of Verbena, and was known as the old Stealy Jones place.

The blaze started from a defective chimney, and first caught between the weatherboard and ceiling up about the overhead. As there was no place to get up in the overhead, the flames were uncontrollable.

Mr. Grant had no insurance, and the disaster has left him and his family in grave circumstances.

CONCORD

There will be services at this place May 1. Sunday school at 10 o'clock, preaching at 11 and 7:30, communion service after preaching in the morning, singing at 2 p. m. Everybody invited to attend our services. You are welcome. Come and worship with us.

Prof. O. L. Devaughn, Prof. L. T. Grant and other good singers have promised to be with us Sunday afternoon. Everybody come and help us.

Rev. G. B. Golden and family of Pike County are expected to be with us for the week end.

Mr. Harley Miller of the U. S. Navy is visiting his brother, S. V. Miller, this week.

IT'S A GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Wyatt are happy to announce the birth of a fine baby girl which the stork brought to them at the home of grandpa and grandma—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cagle—at Mitchell Dam early last Friday morning. The youngster is hardy, healthy and red headed. She weighs 7¾ pounds and they will call her Eugenia Inez.

Teachers Banquet at Hotel Friday Night

Sixty-four teachers of Chilton County gathered at the Wilson Hotel in Clanton last Friday night and enjoyed a sumptuous banquet dinner, as well as more than an hour of very very cordial social contact. It was a new idea being tried out on the teachers, and to say that it proved a success is only expressing it mildly. Everybody had the best kind of a time, and the value will last with them for many seasons.

In addition to the teachers there were present also the county superintendent of education, Rev. Buford Lawrence, and two members of the county board of education, Wm. J. Billingsley and S. J. M. Webb, with a number of other invited guests. Supt. Lawrence acted as chairman, and introduced the speakers.

When all were assembled around the banquet tables, and the good things to eat were coming along by courses, Supt. Lawrence called a halt for a few minutes, and introduced Hon. J. B. Atkinson, Mayor of Clanton, who welcomed the teachers to Clanton on behalf of the citizenship of the city. He stressed the advantages and recent improvements of Clanton, and gave assurance to the teachers that they would always find a hearty welcome within our gates. Mayor Atkinson gave assurance of his hearty sympathy and support for the educational advancement of our rounty.

The next speaker introduced was Probate Judge L. H. Reynolds. The speech of Judge Reynolds was made from the county viewpoint and dealt with the subjects of roads and schools. He advocated for our county the taking of every possible step in the near future for bringing our rural public schools up to the highest standards in the state. This expression coming from the speaker was received with hearty applause by his hearers.

Dr. O. C. Carmichael, president of Alabama College, at Montevallo, was introduced to speak as he wished with no restrictions as to time or subject. His address was a masterful treatise upon "The Business of Education." Every word from his lips proved a powerful force that made a deep impress upon those who heard him.

As we listened to this distinguished scholar we were impressed that he is a man who will pretty soon, if indeed he does not now, be recognized as the leading educator of the State of Alabama. He is one of the most delightful speakers we ever listened to. His voice is as beautiful as fine music; his countenance is as honest and sincere as truth; his mind is sparkling with power; he is a dynamo that will soon electrify every contact that is susceptible to educational awakening.

The value of the thoughts expressed by Dr. Carmichael on this occasion will be of far-reaching effect. It will stimulate our teachers toward higher ideals and a fuller appreciation of their high calling in life.

Former Chilton County Man Writes of Chinese Disturbance

Rev. J. Toy Williams Sends Firsthand News of Conditions in War-Stricken Shanghai.

The Union-Banner has received an interesting communication from Rev. J. Toy Williams, Baptist missionary at Shanghai, China. A note to the editor reads as follows:

"Dear Editor:

Herewith is a copy of a letter I have sent to my mother and some others of the family. Perhaps a number of your readers will be interested in reading it.—J. T. W."

The letter is as follows:

"Shanghai, March 24, 1927.

Dear Home Folks:

No doubt you are thinking of us and wondering in what danger we are and whether or not we are safe. We are taking it for granted that you will take no news as good news and that you will presume that we are safe. Furthermore, cable news to the papers at home reveal the fact that all foreigners in Shanghai have been safe so far We are very thankful that we have been kept safe and that things have been no worse than they were.

"Perhaps you would like to know a little of the situation we are in. Shanghai is a peculiar city. One part of it is a French Concession; one part is the International Settlement—this is the largest business section—and all around are large sections that we speak of as Chinese territory. These foreign concessions are places that the Chinese government set apart years ago as places where foreigners might live and do business. These foreign governed sections have become the real business center of China. There is a very marked contrast between the streets, buildings, and general appearance of the foreign and Chinese territories. Millions upon millions of dollars are invested here and it is easy to see why foreign nations do not care to lose what they have here. These concessions must some time be given back to China, but the foreign nations propose that it shall be done in an orderly way and not be taken over by mob violence like it was done in Hankow.

"But what does this have to do with what we have to meet? Our home is not in the Settlement, but is out in the country beyond the Chinese section of the city. It is four miles from the center of town, and we have a very poor road on which to go to town, and have to go about two miles through narrow, crowded Chinese streets. There is no protection out there by foreign marines.

"On Monday, March 21, the Southern or Nationalist forces made their attack on the Northern forces which had Shanghai. James and Dan were at the American school in town and I was at my office in town; Laurie and Dorothy were at home. We felt that we must get home or they would be frantic about what might have happened to us. I got the boys in the car and started for home. As we were going up the street we saw a crowd of people come tearing down the street from around the curve. I drove to the side and stopped. A number of cars came to where we were and turned and went back. We waited a few minutes and found that there was firing across the street, but felt that we must get home. We waited a little until things were quiet and then went on up the street. When we got to the boundary between the International Settlement and the Chinese territory we found the barb wire entanglements and the gates closed, and the men on guard said they had orders to let no one through. Then I went back to the police station to see if I could get a pass to get through. They told me there was another gate farther on that I could get through. Then we went on and finally got home all right.

"When we got home we could hear the fighting still going on. It kept up all that night, all the next day, and until about midnight the next night. We were out of the ordinary range of the guns used, and were in no danger out where we lived. But we were cut off from town and we did not know what might happen. One of our neighbors, Mr. Cheek, left his 12-year old daughter in town and went to take some things to her, but he had such a rough experience getting through going out home that he would not dare take his wife back with him. Then, when he got over there he could not get back, and all the next day he could not get back. We have no telephone connection with the city, so his wife could not imagine what might have happened to him. Then the next afternoon I heard my name called on the radio—I have a little crystal set—and the voice said that he was safe, and would we try to get a message through to them in town? But it was dark and a battle was raging between me and town, and I could not send any word.

"On instructions from the American consul we decided to get out the next day after things were a little more quiet. We loaded the family with what baggage we could on a Ford car we have the use of, and started out for the Settlement. We got about half a mile from home and were held up by a motly looking bunch of people, several of whom had guns which they drew on us. After looking us over they let us go on and we made it all right until we found the street blocked by the passing of an army of several hundred of the Southern soldiers. After a wait of three-quarters of an hour we got by and went on to the border of the settlement and found the barbed wire entanglements closed, with no one with authority to open them. Finally Mr. Cheek, who was with the party with another car, got through a hole in a park fence and went around to headquarters and got permission to have the gate opened for us to pass. My, what a sigh of relief I heaved when we got through that entanglement and to where there was protection by foreign forces.

"By that time it was nearly 12 o'clock and we took the boys by the school where they could get dinner and attend school in the afternoon. Then I took Laurie and the baby on to the home of a friend and left them. I beat it back to our home either to get some more things or to help get the girl away from the school. It turned out that I did not get the things, but made six trips into town to get the Chinese school girls to a place of safety—or perhaps it would be better to say where they could get back home. Then I went back for two to the school for two of our young ladies who were leaving after they got the girls away. By the time the day was over and I went on to where my family was I was pretty well all in, for it was an experience that one does not care to have every day.

"The authorities here fear an attack from an armed mob. Everyone is hoping it will not come. If it should come, or if the Chinese soldiers should attack the foreign soldiers, there will be trouble and plenty of it. But we are hoping things will soon quiet down so that everything can be settled in a peaceable way. We are all well and keeping up as well as we could expect. We can not tell what the near future may bring forth, but we are hoping for the best. If anything should happen to us, we shall let you know about it.

"We wonder what effect all this business will have on our mission work in China. Large numbers of the missionaries have had to leave their homes and come to Shanghai or some city on the coast, and their work for the present has stopped. They left things in the hands of their Chinese assistants and hope things will be carried on well while they are away. It is not time for the stopping of mission work in China, for there is lots to be done yet. It will be very hard for the next two or three years, but I look for the time when there will be the greatest move forward that has ever been seen in mission work in China.

"Shanghai certainly is one armed camp now. The day we got into the settlement there certainly was a nervous stir. Soldiers with fixed bayonets patrolling the streets, motor cycles with machine guns mounted on side cars running here and there and every corner with sand bag breast works bristling with machine guns. It is more war than I like to see. Things are quieter today, and there is a possibility of not having to use all the force that is in readiness.

"As you read these lines, will you pray, not so much for us, but for the Lord's work in China? Pray that He will bring order out of chaos, and that His kingdom may prosper in the land. As ever,—J. Toy Williams."

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

WEST CHILTON

The cold snap of last week came down on us with a chilling blast, leaving a few items on the vegetable list draped in mourning.

Last Saturday afternoon Mr. Joseph E. Thrasher of southern Illinois was buried at Pleasant Grove, near Jemison. He was the husband of Miss Nellie Waldrop of West Chilton. He was an intelligent man. The floral offerings were beautiful. Rogan, of Wilton, was in charge.

John W. Mahan of Birmingham was expected at his farm here Sunday.

The Post Office at Randolph is now located in the Cox old store, and Mr. W. J. Jackson has located his store in the old Post Office building, erected by our old friend, O. E. Latham, of Clanton, in 1881.

John S. Waldrop has a lady visitor, Mrs. Ellison of Monroeville, taking treatment for cancer.

We regret to note in the Banner the late passing of old friends—M. T. Cox, a good man, whose life was beautiful and consistent. We never can forget his eloquent prayers in bygone days. He spent his life near Cox, on the Southern Railroad. He was of the Methodist persuasion, his wife being Miss Emily Elam of Wilcox County, who came to West Chilton about 1867. There was Esquire Alfred Childress, another good man. Then J. L. Thomas of Jemison, the beloved mail carrier on Route 1; his friends were legion. The uoral offerings at his burial were equal to, if not the greatest we ever saw.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Price of Leeds, Ala., came down to visit their parents, and attend the burial of their uncle, Mr. Thomas.

Mr. Isaac Waldrop of Southern Illinois and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Posey of Maben, Ala., attended Mr. Thrasher's burial at Pleasant Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard and daughter, Mr. L. M. McCary of Randolph, Ross Waldrop, Mrs. Redden, and Mrs. Crumpton all motored to Spigener Sunday.

Elzie Brazwell is quite sick at this writing.

C. L. Hayse of Free Springs came down to Mr. Thrasher's burial.

Clarence Smitherman of Sardis was a visitor here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Oaks, formerly of Clanton, will make their future home at Tarrant City.

CHECKED YOUR CAR—?

Now that spring is here and the highways and byways are calling, is your car ready to give 100% service during the coming touring season?

A check of the following questions prepared by T. H. Stambaugh, service promotion manager of Olds Motor Works, and being sent every owner of an Oldsmobile in the country, will give the answer.

Has the anti-freeze solution been removed from your radiator and the radiator flushed?

Have you had the battery checked for proper charge and water level?

Is the generator charging properly?

Has the oil in the crank case been changed to summer grade?

Have the transmission and differential lubricants been changed to the summer grades?

Have the distributor points been checked for proper contact and gap?

Have body and other bolts been checked to offset disagreeable rattles and squeaks?

Has the chassis been thoroughly lubricated?

Have the front wheels been checked to prevent unnecessary wear on tires? (Parking at curbs and striking objects sometime change the position of wheels.)

These preventative maintenance items require but nominal tme and expense, yet in having them performed you assure yourself of greatly added enjoyment of spring and summer driving.

REPORT OF PHYSICAL EXAMINATION IN CLANTON SCHOOLS

By courtesy of Mr. W. E. Martin, we have for publication a summary of the report of physical examisations of students in the schools of Clanton, made by Dr. Robert D. Hill, assisted by Miss McElderry and Mrs. Hill, on December 22 and 23, 1926. The following introductory remarks precede the report:

We arrived at Clanton about 11 a. m., December 21. After meeting Dr. Gragg, we went to the Grammar School and met Mr. Martin, the principal, and other teachers. We then began preparations for our work, by picking a suitable place for the examinations. Our equipment consisted of scales, yard stick, tape measure, stethoscope, flash light, tongue blades, tin boxes for hookworm specimens, and a Snellen vision chart.

A general inspection of the school building was made. The school is old, poorly lighted, and not well ventilated. It is a 2-story building, heated by the stove in each room. The children are very crowded in some of the rooms. One class room is located in the basement with a poor stairway leading down to it. The school consists of nine rooms which accomodate six grades, on account of the size of several grades that had to be divided. The drinking fountain is not very sanitary due to the fact that the flow of water is weak, and the children place their mouths on the pipe if not watched.

Mr. Martin informed me that they are to have a new Grammar School in the near future. After the Grammar School was inspected, we went over to the High School, which is at the opposite end of town. We found the High School building to be a modern, 2-story brick building, steam heated and having a sanitarly drinkinp fountain. Natural lighting and ventilation are excellent. For this school there is one visiting teacher. She also teaches a few classes. The results of my examinations will include both grammar and high school. A large number of the children were absent, due to the fact that Christmas was so near, and so many were working; 257 pupils were examined in the Grammar School, and 131 students in High School.

Method of Examining

The children were taken by grades, boys and girls separately. Beginning with the first grade, the shoes, coats or sweaters were removed, then the children were sent to the examining room to Miss McElderry, the nurse, and Mrs. Hill, a teacher, who weighed and measured them. Their eyes and ears were also tested. The children were then sent into another examining room to Dr. Hill, where chest examinations were made, following removal of clothing from chests. All necessary clothing was removed from the larger girls for a thorough examination. The children were examined by Dr. Hill for lice or nits, of which none were found. The rest of the physical examanation was done by him, which consisted of checking of vaccination scars, examination of teeth, tonsils, defective speech, or nasal breathing, enlarged glands, disease of chest or heart, skin or any other apnormalities. After the examinations were completed, defect cards were filled out for those found defective and given out regarding the importance of having the defects corrected. Each child was also given a tin and told how to return a specimen to pe examined for hookworm. They were told of the importance of having treatment, in the positive cases.

Summary

388 children, 185 males and 203 females, were examined, with a total of 804 defects found, not including intestinal parasites; 455 were from 10% to 20% under weight; 8 were 20% or more under weight; 176 were unvaccinated for smallpox; 165 had defective teeth; 88 had defective tonsils in 2 plus class; 76 had defective tonsils in 4 plus class; 102 cases of defective nasal breathing; 4 had defective speech; 25 had diseased eyes; 11 had defective vision.

Under Skin Diseases

11 had simple dermititis; 1 had impetigo; 11 had herpes; 1 had organic heart disease; 1 had functional heart disease; 3 had defective hearing; 76 had enlarged cervical glands; 5 were orthopedic cases; 1 pulmonary case—doubtful tuberculosis.

CEDAR GROVE

The Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove singing society met at this place Sunday afternoon and did some real good singing. We were glad to have visitors from other places, especially Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Robinson of Verbena. The directors were J. W. Lowery, J. R. Robinson, J. R. Helms, Kermit Lowery, Dave Melton, Glover Smith, and Estelle Price. Several quartets were rendered by the home quartet. We invite all singers and lovers of musc to visit our society. There will be no singing at Liberty Hill next second Sunday, as the class has promised to go to Walnut Creek on that day. We will meet at Cedar Grove on next fourth Sunday afternoon. Everybody come and hear a real good singing.

Mr. John Oaks of Tarrant City spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Oaks.

THE UNION-BANNER IS A "HORN OF PLENTY" IN NEWS

The following letter was received recently from Mr. F. B. Williams, of Siluria, Ala.:

"Editor Union-Banner:

Reading The Union-Banner each week brings back many sweet memories of the past to me. I see the names of many old school mates and friends of Collins Chapel, where I attended school for 9 months, the teacher being Prof. R. A. Rasco, in 1900. From there I followed him to Thorsby, where I attended his school another 9 months. So, I enjoy reading the Thorsby Section, for here I read the names of more of my old school mates and friends.

Then I went to Union Grove to teach my first school, and I find by reading The Union-Banner that some of my first pupils are now filling some of the leading positions. In all, I taught school 13 years in Chilton County, and am proud to say that I once taught at Isabella. When I read Supt. Lawrence's piece boosting Isabella's school and farming interests, I could not help saying, Hurrah for Isabella! It takes grit and greenback to do what those people are doing, but they seem to have both, so no use to worry about Isabella.

Another thing I have found out by taking The Union-Banner is that several Shelby County people are talking of moving to Chilton County. They say they like the way you Chilton folks rabbit hunt, fish, and have a good time. They talk of the strawberry crops. poultry yards, and your interest in farming generally. But the best of all I hear is that your schools are better than ever before.—F. B. Williams, Siluria, Ala.

CLANTON DRAMATIC CLUB ACTIVITIES

At a meeting of the Clanton Dramatic Club April 26 it was decided to place on time deposit funds in treasure until a time when the new auditorium planned for the high school is to be built, such funds to go toward the arrangement and decoration of the new stage. By motion the Club left instructions that this fund is to be applied to help in the arrangement, setting, decoration, lighting effects, etc. of the new stage so that Clanton may have a modernly constructed stage in up-to-date theater style. This fund is to be increased from proceeds from the Club from time to time until it is sufficient to help authorize considerably in the constructing and furnishig of the stage for the new auditorium.

The next meeting of the Club will be the last meeting for the present season and all members are requested to be present.

Birthday Party—

On last Thursday afternoon John Thomas Marler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Marler, entertained a number of friends at the home of his parents, on Fifth Street, in celebration of his 10th birthday anniversary. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations of the home. The punch table was beautifully decorated with Dorothy Perkins roses, and was presided over by the sister of the host, Miss Mary Sue Marler. Outdoor games and contests were enjoyed. Late in the afternoon the guests were invited into the dining room. The table was centered with a large white cake, bearing ten lighted candles. A contest, "blowing out the candles," furished much amusement. Among the girls, Evelyn Maddox blew out the largest number of candles and was presented a box of dainty handkerchiefs. Alex Hayes was the lucky boy. He was given a set of tops, and the booby prize, a novelty fish, fell to John White Plyler.

A delicious ice course and pop corn was served. Those enjoying this delightful affair were Evelyn Maddox, Sidney Lewis Reynolds, Ted Reynolds, John White Plyler, Dixie Johnson, Pauline Plyler, Grace Plyler, Margaret Johnston, Mary Edith Jones, Lawrence Gerald, Jr., Hal Broadhead, Alex Hayes, John Ezell, Louise Marcus, Mary Frances Rasberry, Norene Thomas, Elizabeth McSwain, Elizabeth Eubanks, and others.

E. C. Powell, wife and children of Decatur visited relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Webb of Jemison visited their daughter, Mrs. Luther Foshee, this week.

Mrs. A. P. Turner and daughter, Irene, Mrs. D. R. McMillan, Miss Helen McMillan, and Mr. Neil Jones of Birmingham were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Wade Sunday.

Governor Al Smith of New York, the Roman Catholic whom the Democrats are going to nominate for president of the United States, says that it would be all right for a Roman Catholic to be president. Yes, it is perfectly natural that old Alcohol would say that, but the question is, will a majority of the American people agree with him?

New York and some of the other large cities—probably most of them—will vote for Al, but the country folks, who still love America, liberty, protestantism and United States ideals and customs will scratch his name slam off the ballot and put him into oblivion where he belongs.

A Mr. Hayden of Athens, is expected to be here on that date, who is an expert on fruits and vegetables, and will no doubt have something interesting for all who will come to hear him. Let's talk and boost this question to our neighbors and think what it would mean to our little town and surrounding communities to have a shipping point here. Don't forget the date; however look for more news and further announcement.

BROADUS CONNATSER WRITES OF MISSISSIPPI FLOOD

The following is a letter written by Broadus Connatser to his mother, regarding the dangers of the flooded region bordering the Mississippi, as it is just at present, overflowing its banks and spreading ruin and death in its path:

"Vicksburg, Miss., Apr. 23, '27.
Dear Mother:

For fear the headlines in the papers excite you about my well being, I must write a word. All papers of today leave an impression that Vicksburg is in the path of rushing waters through the broken levees of the Mississippi River. But I am in no danger. My room is 200 feet above the river—Vicksburg is on a bluff and only some warehouses along the levees are in danger.

"Only an hour ago I saw a steamship land here, pushing ahead of it five barges laden with a mass of suffering humanity from all castes, ranks, and classes of life. Thousands of people with drawn faces, taut muscles and eager eyes lined the docks here to search the face of every landing refugee, hoping they would find among the rescued a father, mother, sister, brother, friends or relatives. An occasional outburst of joy proclaimed to the throng the reunion of loved ones. Cars, trucks, and ambulances raced hither and yon in their noble efforts to relieve the suffering and to provide for the needy. A tent city has been erected in the national park here over night to house the homeless. Oh, the generosity of the American people when humanity is suffering!

"This is just a brief of a few things. It is poorly described as a calamity or catastrophe—it is pitiful. I shed tears of the heart and eyes when I witnessed these things. It is touching, and has only begun, according to official reports—the highest water in history, along this river.

"I am feeling good, and will be safe from danger. If you care to, send this to Uncle Will and Aunt Mattie (Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fox)—I haven't time to write another.

"I send my love to all, and am thankful none of us are so unfortunate as to be in the flooded regions. Your Loving Son,—Broadus."

Renew Your Health by Purification

After the "Flu" is over —you need a Tonic

Help Is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy.

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victims so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

S.S.S. is unequalled for restoring strength and vitality.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable. S.S.S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

A COTTON PLANT is Like an AUTO

A CAR can go just about so far on a tankful of gas—and, if it goes any further, it can only do so by coasting down hill.

Same way with a cotton plant. It starts out with a full "tank" of growing power. That's the fertilizer you put under it.

But along about chopping time, you need to "fill her up" again by side-dressing 150 to 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda per acre.

The "Auburn Method" calls for 200 lbs. of Nitrate of Soda per acre—50 lbs. at planting, 400 lbs. acid phosphate and 50 to 100 lbs. potash; 150 lbs. as side-dressing after chopping. By this method, 1071 Alabama Club Boys on 1071 acres made 1071 bales.

Then your cotton plants don't have to "coast". Instead they pick right up and carry along to maturity under full growing power supplied by that side-dressing of Nitrate of Soda.

Thousands of cotton growers have tried it and proved it for you. They own good places, wear good clothes and drive good automobiles today because they can turn out bale-to-the-acre cotton. And that pays them no matter what price cotton goes to.

Alabama Joe Abbott, winning Boys' Club member, Easonville, made 2345 lbs. of seed cotton on his acre by the help of Nitrate of Soda and says, "It will make cotton. "Dad made a bale of cotton to the acre on one hundred acres with it."

They know side-dressing pays with corn, too.

How about you? Are you willing to profit from the experience of others—or to try it for yourself?

Just cut out this advertisement and write your name and address in the margin. Then mail it to us. We will send you, without one penny of cost, our little book "Side-Dressing Cotton and Corn." Our manager is a practical cotton grower and knows just what conditions call for here in "Bama," the Cotton State. A. 61

BIG WEEK AT MAPLESVILLE

On Thursday night the grammar grades of Maplesville Junior High School will start the fun in the closing exercises, presenting "Cinderella in Flowerland." Friday night is a great treat for all; no charges; Prof. P. W. Hodges of the State Department of Education at Montgomery will deliver the closing speech. This means a treat indeed. Those who have heard Mr. Hodges know him to be one of the best speakers along educational lines in the state. Let's give him a rousing reception by being on time at the school house at 8 o'clock. It is expected that Judge L. H. Reynolds and Supt. B. Lawrence, who, as you know, has already started things to happening in Chilton County, educationally, will be with us at this time, and each will have something to say to the people which is most important.

Saturday night brings "Mammy's Li'l' Wild Rose," a very splendid play given by the Junior and Senior pupils of the school. There will be plenty of music and fun for all. If you miss this you will be sorry. This is the big gun of the gear in entertainment. Admission 20c and 35c.

FOREST TOWER ERECTED IN BIBB COUNTY

A steel lookout tower, the third to be erected by the State, has been completed in Bibb County, the energy of whose citizens in protecting and developing the forest resources of the community has earned increased recognition by the State and Federal Governments.

The degree of active co-operation on the part of local residents among themselves and with the State and Federal forestry agencies is the prime consideration in the location of observation towers and other public measures in furtherance of the forestry interests of the various communities. Co-operation among all concerned is essential to progress in forestry, since unless the owners of woodlands actively exert themselves in their protection and management there is little that can be done by the State and Federal Governments.

For the past three years the citizens of Bibb County have been taking aggressive action toward the prevention and suppression of forest fires and have also taken the lead in forest planting. In view of these facts, the State Commission of Forestry felt that this county was entitled to precedence in the erection of the first lookout tower to be built in 1927.

The site chosen is in the southeastern part of the county about 7 miles west of Randolph. The tract was found to belong to the Kaul Land and Lumber Co., which, when advised of the project, promptly donated the site to the state.

Appearance

Only in cars much higher in price will you find such smartness of line, such beauty of design and such elegance of appointment as in the new Chevrolet! Compare its appearance with that of any car at anywhere near Chevrolet's low prices—and then you will know why it has everywhere been acclaimed as the Most Beautiful in Chevrolet history!

Performance

The performance of the new Chevrolet is literally amazing. Incredible smoothness at every speed—flashing acceleration that is a delight—effortless shifting of gears—finger-tip steering—remarkable ease of parking. One ride at the wheel, and you will understand why the new Chevrolet has been the greatest sensation of America's greatest industry!

Valve-in-head motor; Three-point Motor Suspension; Strong and sturdier frame; Single-plate disc-clutch; Long, semi-elliptic springs; Full size 17-inch steering wheel; Balloon tires; Deeply upholstered cushions; Semi-reversible steering gear; AC Air Cleaner; AC Oil Filter.

Price

Comparison of delivered prices reveals Chevrolet's value supremacy. Delivered prices are f.o.b. prices plus charges for handling financing, etc. The financing charges of General Motors Acceptance Corporation are the lowest available. Handling charges are in proportion. Thus, Chevrolet delivered prices are even more amazing than the f.o.b. prices.

Poetical Sympathy

A son at college wrote to his father:

"No mon, no fun, your son."

The father answered:

"How sad, too bad, your dad."—American Boy.

Sarcasm

Steno—"I had an awful fright at the theatre last night."

Boy Friend—"Yep. I know it. I saw him with you."—Powergrams.

Off and On

"You give your clerks two weeks' vacation, don't you?" asked a friend.

"A month," grunted the eminent hardware dealer.

"A month?"

"Yes. The two weeks when I go on my vacation and the two weeks when they go on theirs."—Powergrams.

Had Harmony, Anyhow

Mother to Bobby)—"Surely you did something else but eat at the school treat?"

Bobby—"Yes, mummie. After tea we sang a hymn called, 'We can sing, though full we be'."

Mother learned later that the hymn selected had been, "Weak and sinful though we be."—Dublin Sunday Independent.

Simple Since You Think Of It

Cicero—"Do you know why old Bridgeman is bald?"

Dunman—"No, why?"

"Well, I only heard this; he didn't tell me himself, but I am sure it's true. They do say his hair came out."

Concentration, My Boy!

He—"I would like to buy my wife a Christmas present."

Saleslady—"Would you be interested in something in silk stockings?"

THORSBY SECTION
(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Strawberries will hold the center of the stage at Thorsby. Up to and including Monday night of this week the total shipments for this season were in excess of 20,750 crates of 24 quarts each, or approxmately 500,000 quarts, for which the pickers' price of 2c per basket amounts to a round $10,000, while a net return of an average of $3.00 per crate for the growers amounts to more than $62,000, and the end is not yet. Only the cotton crop of this section produces a larger income for the farmers.

Don't forget the United Singing Society meets for singing at Thorsby Baptist Church next Sunday afternoon.

Next Sunday night, after Christian Endeavor meeting at the Congregational church, Rev. J. E. Each will give another of his stereoptican lecture. The subject will be "English Shrines."

Mrs. A. E. Reagan entertained the Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association at her home on Tuesday afternoon of this week.

The Ladies Guild of Thorsby will meet Thursday afternoon this week at the home of Mrs. Chas. S. Howard.

The electric range demonstration by the Alabama Power Company to be sponsored by the Ladies Guild of Thorsby will be held Monday, May 2, in Mrs. Foshee's building. The demonstration will begin promptly at 3 p. m., after which electrically cooked lunches will be served to all who desire at 35c per plate. All money paid for these plates of lunch goes to the Ladies Guild.

Mrs. Frank Mulky and daughter, Inez, of near Montevallo, spent Monday with Mesdames J. C. Primm and W. H. Raybon.

Mrs. Carrie Brown and Mrs. Starr, of Montevallo, were also visitors in Thorsby last Monday.

Mr. Hugh Primm and wife of Siluria spent the week end with his parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Primm and Mrs. W. H. Raybon.

Misses Helen C. Jenkins and Lois Leech will spend Thursday in Birmingham on business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goddard, Mrs. J. E. Each, Mrs. Earl Diefenderfer, and Mrs. W. H. Wilson went to Clanton Sunday afternoon to see Miss Eva Diefenderfer, who is critically ill at Central Alabama Hospital.

Mr. Herbert W. Peterson of Birmingham was a Sunday visitor with his parents and friends in Thorsby.

The long distance telephone has been moved to Mrs. Bice's restaurant next door to the hardware store. This will probably be a convenience to the public as the place is open more hours of the 24 than at the old place.

Some people may not yet know it but Thorsby has a Western Union Telegraph office in the depot, with Nels Petersen as operator.

Miss Jennie Robinson and her sister, Mrs. Arthur Villadsen, went to Birmingham Sunday for a short visit with friends, returning Tuesday nght.

The Helen Keller Literary Society will give a joint program next Saturday night, April 30. This is the last open meeting of the society, attendance being the only point contested. Two interesting numbers, aside from music will be presented, "School Days" and "Father Time's Art Gallery." This will be one of the best programs yet given. Everyone is invited to attend. The usual admission fee of 10c will be charged.

A union meeting of the B. Y. P. U. and the Christian Endeavor Society was held Sunday night at the Baptist church. John Van Derveer was leader. It was a missionary service at which various counties were presented, and different ones told what country he or she would like to go to as a missionary, and the reasons. A duet was sung by Misses Ruth Gerald and Isabella Gilbert.

The name of Miss Clara D. Eddy was omitted last week as one who was voted upon by the trustees of Thorsby Institute to be a semi-volunteer worker and teacher next year. Miss Eddy is a teacher of many years experience, and has specialized in English. It is expected she will return to teach Freshman and Sophomore English.

Miss Mary Ella Gerald, a graduate of Thorsby Institute and Piedmont College, will be teacher of Latin and Expression next year at the Institute. Miss Gerald is teaching this year in the Andalusia high school and was reelected there for another year. She is well trained in both Latin and Expression. Private lessons will be given in Expression with the same considerations as in music, and those wishing to take should see Miss Jenkins or Mr. Maddox.

Subjects aside from Expression to be added to the Institute curriculum another year are sewing, which will be taught by Miss McGee, a trained Home Economics teacher, Solid Geometry, and a course in Modern European History, to follow Early European History.

The students of Thorsby Institute were entertained at a Measuring Party by members of the Alumni Association on last Friday afternoon from 2:40 to 3:45. Each student was measured at the entrance to the auditorium and paid as many pennies as he or she was inches around the waist before being admitted to the fun that followed. Several new fun provoking games were played and highly enjoyed by the students whose minds were tired from the term tests. After the games, refreshments were served. Misses Arthur and Gerald, and Mr. Maddox, teachers in the Institute were assisted by Miss Jennie Robinson in entertaining the student body. The money taken in will be used as a part of the seating fund for the auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Villadsen were week end visitors at the home of their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Morgan and children of Wylam spent Sunday with Mrs. Morgan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Soberg.

Mrs. Vera Anderson returned to her home in Birmingham Sunday after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Petersen.

Mrs. Carl Anderling and little grand daughter, Marilyn, who has been spending several weeks at the home of C. C. Peterson, returned to her home in Chicago last Friday.

Rev. Wilhelm Petterson of Minneapolis, Minn., former pastor of the Lutheran church here, arrived last Saturday evening and occupied the pulpit in the Lutheran church both morning and evening. He will leave for New Orleans Tuesday, expecting to return to Thorsby the latter part of the week, and will preach in the Scandinavian language in the morning and English in the evening.

Mrs. Mendenhall and daughter, and Miss Sadie Shannon of Prattville visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Petersen last Sunday.

One of the pleasant social events of the season was a party given in honor of the Senior Class by the Junior Class of Thorsby Institute on Saturday evening at the home of Miss Gertrude Steiner. The rooms were decorated with orange and green and were made beautiful with flowers. The evening was spent in a variety of new and amusing games. Ice cream and delicious cake were served for refreshments. Miss Lois Hawkes and Mr. H. R. Maddox, class teachers, were chaperones.

JUVENILE CASE TRIED BY JUDGE REYNOLDS MONDAY

Hysom Cobb, 15 years old, charged with assault with a knife, was tried by Judge Reynolds in juvenile court last Monday morning. The boy was declared by Judge Reynolds a ward of the State and placed in the charge of his uncle, George Cobb, who lives near Montgomery. The boy has been living near Jemison. The case commanded much interest to be a juvenile case, there being present at the trial some fifteen or twenty witnesses.

Hysom Cobb is the orphaned son of the late Earl Cobb, who was killed by Bonnie Morris some ten years ago. The guardian of the boy will report monthly to Judge Reynolds the conduct of the boy, and if his conduct is good he will remain in the home of his uncle; otherwise, he will be sent to the reform school.

NEW SCHOOL TO BE BUILT FOUR MILES SOUTH OF CLANTON

Plans are under way for the erection of a new consolidated junior high school on the highway four miles south of Clanton, near the residence of Mr. Bill Powell. The school will take the pleace of the three old districts of Poplar Springs, Maple Springs, and Bethel.

The five acres of land upon which the building will be erected was donated to the school by Mr. Will Thomas, and the name of the school will be the Thomas Junior High School. The building will be a duplicate of the Collins Chapel School, to cost in the neighborhood of $7,500.

Prof. J. L. Wilson, who has been instrumental in working out details for the new building, informs us that the site will be deeded to the State of Alabama this week, and that everything will be ready for work to commence in a short time.

The building will be modernly equipped with electric lights and every convenience for having an up-to-date junior high school. The location of the buildng is such as to make it easy for installing sanitary sewerage systems.

The people of these three districts are fortunate in securing this new building. They can and will have one of the best schools in the county, and they deserve it.

GOOD CITIZENS SHOULD HELP ENFORCE LAWS

Discussing the matter of enforcement of laws in our county Sheriff Dudley Collins said Tuesday: "It looks like in most places in our county lawlessness receives so little attention from the citizens that the matter of law enforcement is almost nullified unless the Sheriff or a deputy happens to be on the ground when violations occur. I wonder how any reasonable person can figure that violations of the law in all the different communities of the county can be prevented and prought to a check, if all the good citizens are going to sit still until the Sheriff can be there and see the violators in their acts. How can it be figured that the officers can be at all plases in the county at all times, I would like to say to the people of Chilton County that you have a duty, as well as I have as your Sheriff, to demand respect for the laws from those who would be disposed to commit infractions contrary to the peace and dignity of the State. When a duly constituted officer of the law is present, he will of course give his personal attention to violators. But we can not possibly have Sheriffs and deputies at every place in the county. And when there is not an officer present, it is the duty of law-abiding citizens to see that the laws are respected and observed. And if someone breaks the law, it is your duty to bring such testimony into the courts as to convict such violators."

We heartly commend these words of Sheriff Collins to our readers. The Sheriff is, of course, doing all he can to bring violators of the law to answer for their wickedness. But he can not be at all places in the county. We have heard good men speak of seeing law violations occur and wonder why in the world there was not an officer present to take the matter in hand. It is not necessary that an officer be present in order that law violators may be brought to justice. Any man or woman of good reputation whose testimony will be accepted by a jury as sound and truthful, can cause criminals to be dealt with by the courts if they will only have backbone enough to come to the courts and tell the truth.

The greatest drawback to better conditions in our country is the fact that the good people of the county who believe in and practice respect and observance of the laws are sitting still and not exercising their rights and privileges, and we will say duties, as citizens in bringing the bad people to answer for their meanness.

If every man and woman in Chilton County would do his or her duty in reporting law violations to the proper officers, there would be much less crime committed.

The Sheriff cites an instance of last Sunday night where a community did its duty in a way seldom done in this county. Up at Providence in Beat 13, it was reported that a B. Y. P. U. meeting was in progress. Two young men, Madison Hayes, Jr., and Birdie Killingsworth, raised a disturbance which interfered with the religious worship.

The next morning some people from that community who had observed the misbehavior of the young men at the church came to Clanton and swore out warrants and had them put under bond. If the people of every community would do like they did at Providence in this instance, times would get better in a hurry.

COOKE PLAYERS BACK IN CHILTON COUNTY

Mr. Cooke, owner and manager of The Cooke Players, one of the cleanest and most popular road shows visiting our county, was in Clanton on Tuesday, with Mrs. Cooke, making arrangements to open his show in Thorsby to run all next week.

Mr. Cooke is a likable fellow and he knows the traveling show business. He presents only high class plays and his troupe always consists of the very nicest of people.

EAST VIEW

Last Saturday and Sunday were our regular preaching days. Revs. E. A. Trice and Nelson rendered two masterful sermons. We were glad to have so many visitors from other places, especially those who are interested in our Sunday school. We thank all who attended for their attention and good behavior.

We are planning for a Mothers Day program at this place the third Sunday in May. This is to show the young folks what Mothers Day really means. We will have our regular singing in the afternoon. We invite all singers and lovers of music to attend. Please don't forget to bring all the 1927 song books you can find. If someone wishes to come and render a quartet, we will be glad to have you. Don't forget the date.

CHILTON HIGH LOST TWIN BILL TO HOWARD BULLPUPS FRIDAY

In a weary and long drawn out affair in the name of a double header baseball game last Friday afternoon with the Howard Rats, the Chilton County High School team met with defeat in both games; the first by a score of 9 to 4 tnd the second 11 to 4.

The pitchers and catchers for Clanton in both games did splendid work, and with the proper support, the score should have been much closer, and the Chilton High boys booted, muffed, threw wild, made nisques and in fact were off form in general and seemed nothing like the ball team the local fans have been seeing in action here during the past few weeks.

ELLISON & BOLTON ARRESTED WHILE OPERATING STILL

The forces of Sheriff Collins were centralized Tuesday in a raid near the old B. Igo place in Stumps Hills, where Fate Ellison, Jr., and George Bolton were arrested while engaged in the operation of a wildcat still.

The officers report that these men were operating a very crude affair, composed of three large zinc tanks holding 600 to 700 gallons of beer.

The men were brought to jail and given preliminary trial Wednesday morning before Justice J. L. Wilson.

TICK BUSINESS DISCUSSED WITH THE COMMISSIONERS COURT LAST MONDAY

The commissioners court of Chilton County was in special session Monday of this week and heard complaints and discussions from the citizens of Beats 1, 11, and 12, which are reported to be tick infested and have been required to dip their cattle. About 150 people from these Beats were in the commissioners court room for this hearing and each one who wished to was given a chance to express his views on the matter. No unpleasant feeling was manifest in the meeting but everything went off nicely and everyone seemed very well pleased with the outcome of the meeting.

There have been over fifty warrants issued for people in these three Beats, charging them with failure to dip cattle. The people were not tried for these offenses, but the commissioners simply took up the matter with the people to devise some means whereby the matter of dipping might be carried on to completion in these tick infested districts.

Friendly discussion of the matter by both the people and the commissioners brought the question to a peaceable and harmonious agreement.

The main trouble seemed to be in the fact that the people generally were displeased with the inspectors in these Beats. So the commissioners court suggested that the people select new inspectors to suit themselves, which was done. The following were selected as inspectors unanimously: For Beats 1 and 11, Ellis Ellison; for Beat 12, Martin Gore. The people expressed themselves as being well pleased with the new inspectors and pledged their cooperation in the matter of ridding their Beats of ticks.

The people seemed to have the impression that only cattle that individually had ticks on them should be dipped. But Judge Reynolds cited the law to them from Section 19, page 510, Acts 1925, which says in substance that all cattle in an infested district must be dipped; and people are required to drive their cattle to the nearest vat—no particular distance being mentioned.

Section 25 was also read, which says that the commissioners must provide means for cattle to be dipped, and a failure to do so places a misdemeanor upon the commissioners, subject to a fine of $500 and 6 months imprisonment.

The commissioners court agreed to build three vats—one in Beat 11, and two in Beat 12.

The meeting went off nicely, and present indications are that the people of these three Beats will soon be free from ticks and that the quarantine will be lifted from them.

Musical Tea—

On the afternoon of May 4, the music students gave a musical tea in honor of their mothers, as Sunday, May 8, is Mothers Day. The music studio was decorated with baskets of roses and sweet peas.

The program was a regular class lesson in Theory and Music Appreciation. The lives of Bach, Beethoven, Wagner, and Verdi, were discussed. The symphony orchestra and opera were also explained. Miss Donnelly played major and minor scales and chords, and the class demonstrated their ear training by naming the modes.

Strawberry sherbet and wafers were served at the conclusion of the program by the hostess, Lorene Murphy, and her assistants, Gladys Williams, Eugie Baker, and Gertie Fiquette.

Announcement was made that the Voice, Piano, and Expression pupils will appear in recital on May 16, at 8 o'clock.

The senior music students' recital will be combined with senior class night on Monday, May 23. Seniors taking part will be Eugie Baker, Lorene Murphy, and Ruth Sessions.

Special Chapel—

On Friday morning, May 6, at 10 o'clock the Music Appreciation Class will give a special program at Chilton County High School. The first week in May is National Music Week, and special programs are being given in every city in the United States. All who are interested are cordially invited to come and hear the program.

"The Toreador"—

Spanish light opera in two acts, given by Girls Glee Club and Boys Chorus of Chilton County High School, under direction of Miss Donnelly. The solo parts are sung by the following:

Senor Dictorio, Lewis Williams.

Benita and Juanita, his twin daughters, Loren Murphy and Sunset Polk.

Juan and Pablo, admirers of the twins, Luther Culpepper and Roy Connatser.

Senor S. Wates and Senor Whackeo, beggars, Alton Connatser and Dewey Smith.

Dolores and Maria, the twins' best friends, Mildred Danforth and Pauline Pyron.

The scene of the opera, "The Toreador," is laid in Senor Dictorio's Spanish garden, and the occasion for the haliday festivities prove to be the twins' birthday. The father, Senor Dictorio, is a confirmed matchmaker, and has invited Senor Swateo and Senor Whackeo, Spain's bravest bull fighters, to the birthday fiesta to meet his daughters. The twins' admirers plot for the downfall of their rivals, and the outcome of their efforts will be seen at Chilton County High School, May 13, at 8 o'clock.

Plants Need Extra Rations to Attain Best Development

Men get hungry regularly; so do plants. A man does not expect his breakfast to carry him through the day, week or month. He eats dinner and supper to satisfy his craving for food. Crops are no different. A little ordinary fertilizer at planting time—perhaps it was only cottonseed meal—isn't going to satisfy them for the entire growing season. They must receive additional food so they can keep growing and gather strength to fight weevils, fleas, disease and draught, and in the end produce a money-making yield. That is why side-dressings of quick-acting nitrogen are usually so profitable.

Probably no fertilizer is so well and favorably known in this connection as nitrate of soda and experience has shown that 150 to 200 pounds applied about chopping out time ordinarily pays very well. It should be put on four to six inches from the plant on one side of each row and cultivated into the soil. It can be applied by hand or with a distributor or planter. With moisture in the soil, nitrate of soda is taken up by the plant without any delay whatever.

Regardless of whether the price of cotton is high or low next Fall, the farmer who has used good seed, employed the best cultural methods and fertilized properly will make more money or lose less than the farmer who "lets nature take its course."

(S. L. NORTON, Manager).

In The Name of God and Humanity

We the undersigned hereby call upon the people of Thorsby and vicinity to respond to the great need of the thousands who are suffering from the floods along the Mississippi River. The distress is great!. The need cannot be magnified. Any of the undersigned will be glad to receive contributions from you and see that they are properly forwarded to the Red Cross for distribution. Do not delay.—C. C. Driskill, Cashier Bank of Thorsby, T. M. Baake, J. H. Roberts, Joseph E. Each, Helen C. Jenkins, C. R. Foss, G. F. Harper.

Calvin Coolidge is not only President of the United States, he is also President of the National Red Cross Society. About a week ago he sent as his personal representative, Herbert Hoover, in company with a committee whom he had selected to visit the area which is being devastated by floods along the Mississippi River and it's tributaries. Producing the greatest calamity of its kind in the history of this country, causing hundreds of thousands to seek safety in flight from their homes, many deaths and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed. On Monday of this week Mr. Hoover returned to Washington and after a conference with President Coolidge and his flood committe, the President issued a call to the people of the whole nation for another Five Million Dollars to be placed at the disposal of the Red Cross Society.

No other organization in the country is so well equipped with trained experts to handle emergency funds for relief in disasters. They are organized for this purpose and for upwards of forty years have been recognized as capable and efficient relief workers. They will spend money and effectively to give relief where it is needed.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank each and every one of the Thorsby people who contributed to me the sum of $53.75 to go to the Baptist convetion at Louisville Ky. I especially thank Mrs. S. C. Wood and Mrs. Relius Franklin for their good spirit in solicting this amount. I also wish to thank the people of Jemison for the amount of $30 contributed to me. I feel that both churches have the right spirit and I pray that God may bless every one of you.—Rev. J. H. Roberts.

Last Sunday night Thorsby Congregational church was filled to capacity to see and hear Rev. Each and his pictures. The lecture was entitled "English Shrines" and was in many respects one of the best yet given of these delightful stereopticon lectures. The pictures were unuasually fine and the discourse showed how the Christian religion was introduced into England.

The electric demonstration of domestic equipment for cooking and refrigerating given by the Alabama Power Company last Monday afternoon under auspices of the Ladies Guild of Thorsby was a pronounced success. The people in charge of the demonstration were well versed in the good qualities of their mechanism and had a pleasant and effective way of telling it. Sixty-two people were served with the lunches at 35c per plate, which went to the Ladies Guild Treasury.

The last program of the Helen Keller Literary Society of Thorsby Institute was held Saturday in Helen Jenkins Hall. The two divisions of the society, the Trolls and the Tritons united to make the last program the best. The attendance was the only point t be contested. The Trolls were one point ahead of the Tritons from the last meeting. The first number on the program was a well rendered piano duo by Misses Catherine Thom and Dorothy Butler. A humorous play "School Days" by the society created much merriment in the audience. Talbeaux in which "Father time presented the twelve months of the year with much artistic merit, and a concluding number "Happy songs" by a chorous of girls was a pleasing finale to an interesting entertainment. The critics report was given by Miss Fairbank and the Trolls were declared winners for the year by one point.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howard and baby daughter of Fairfield were week end visitors at the home of Mr. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Howard. Mrs. Howard and baby will spend the week in Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Driskill, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Franklin and Mrs. Spivey motored to Calera Sunday.

There will be a senior B. Y. P. U. study class taught by Miss Perry of Montgomery, a field worker. This class will begin May 16, at the Baptist church where it will be held each evening for a week from 6:30 to 7:30. We invite New Salem and Collins Chapel young folks to attend this course.

Mrs. M. L. Leary was a visitor in Birmingham Monday.

Misses Bertha Littleton and Ruth Peterson both of Birmingham spent the week end at their respective homes.

ALL DAY SINGINGS AGAIN

All day singings are not as numerous as they were some years ago, but they are not entirely out of date as yet. There are all day singings near Clanton every Sunday during the remainder of this month. Next Sunday, the second, is the annual singing at Walnut Creek. The third Sunday is an annual singing at Corinth church near Mitchell Dam; the fourth Sunday comes off the annual singing at Providence which takes the place of the old Salem singing. And on the fifth Sunday in this month we understand that there will be one at Verbena.

There is aslo anounced an all day singing at Collins Chapel and one at Pleasant Grove west of Jemison for the third Sunday, which is the same day of the one at Corinth.

Sunday afternoon singings have become more popular here of late than the all day affairs, which is probably a good idea. By this means Sunday school and other church services are not interfered with, and sufficient time is given for good singing too.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

In his address in New York the other evening President Coolidge outlined in a cool and lucid way the foreign policies of the United States. No one, however,, prejuced on the subject, after reading the President's address can maintain with any force that our country has launched or is about to launch on any program of imperialism either in the western or eastern hemispheres. The President made it plain that American intervention is only contemplated whenever and wherever American lives and American property are endangered. The object of our government now as it has always been is a frendly understanding with all nations.

The President wisely pointed out that malicious and partisan attacks on the conduct of our foreign relations endanger friendly relations with other governments. Such attacks unfortunately give to the other countries the impression that Americans are seriously divided on foreign policies, and in creating such impressions these attacks make real understandings between nations difficult.

The President pointed out further that the person and property of a citizen are a part of the domain of the nation even when he is abroad. The admission of our citizens into foreign lands is a voluntary act of the foreign government and a tacit invitation to come there. Touching more particulary on Mexican affairs the President declared that the present Mexican government was recognized by the United States in 1923 because of the understanding that our property rights would be respected. The chief excutive emphasized the point that we want no trouble with Mexico, and expressed the conviction that there would be no trouble.

Most political observers will agree with President Coolidge that we are not going to have trouble with Mexico. And the reason we are not lies in the fact that our government has steadfastly stood for the protection of American rights in Mexico. It has been this firm policy and not the outpourings of our so-called "liberals" that have clarified the situation.

What is true of our relations with Mexico is true with respect to Nicaragua. Our marines are not in Nicaragua to attach that country to the territory of the United States, but to protect the lives and property of our citizens and of European citizens, and as the President, we are lending any encouragemnt we can to the restoration of peace. It would seem that peace would soon come to Nicarauga. And this peace will be the result of our governmental policy and not of any effect which the "liberals" have had either on our government or on public opinion.

Americans will agree with the President too, in his statement that we do not wish to pursue any course of agression against the Chinese and are there solely to prevent aggression against our people by any disorderly Chinese elements. Here again the same policy is being pursued as in Mexico and Nicaraugua. America has no territory and no special privileges to maintain in China. Every American hopes that China, out of the present chaos, will get a responsible government. When that government emerges it will have the friendly support of the United States. In the meantime we seek only to protect the lives of our citizens in China, and not to assist any other nation or combination of nations in any effort to perpetuate a foothold in China.

Who remembers the good old days when it meant something to own a rubber tired rig with red running gear.

Everybody seems to be interested in the Chinese situation except the League of Nations.

One of the worst combinations we know of is a high powered car with a low powered brain above the sterrig wheel.

Killing harmless husbands seems to be quite the vogue now in Hollywood and New York. Again demonstrating the fallancy of the remark that "East is East and West is West."

JUST TWENTY YEARS AGO

Not over twenty years ago there was a certain deacon in a good old Baptist church not far from Clanton, who held the esteem and respect of a big congregation of Christian people. This good old man would have taken the hide off his boys if he had caught them playing marbles, fishing or bird hunting on Sunday. But today this same man is running a store and he keeps it open and sells goods on Sunday.

If he had been told twenty years ago that he would some day sell goods or transact any kind of trade on Sunday he would have considered it an insult. But a change has come about some way. It did not come all at once; but time works wonders—even in the interest of the devil.

BIRDS AND THE FARMERS

When an Essex farmer complained that the phesants were eating his corn the game department killed two of the birds and examined their crops and found 200 cutworms and no corn. Almost without exception when the scientists investigate such cases they find the very same results. The farmer owes his crop to these feathered police that keep down the bugs, insects and worms. With continuing slaughter of every form of bird life, the insects loss will be heavier and farm labor harder. The nation could train an army of riflemen in a comparatively short time, but it could not in a century restore the bird armies that are the farmer's allies in raisisg food to feed the country.—Alliston (Ont.) Renew Your Health by Purification

Any physician will tell you that "Perfect Purification of the System is Nature's Foundation of Perfect Health." Why not rid yourself of chronic ailments that are undermining your vitality? Purify your entire system by taking a thorough course of Calotabs,—once or twice a week for several weeks—and see how Nature rewards you with health.

Calotabs are the greatest of all system purifiers. Get a family package, containing full directions. On 35 cts. At any drug store. (Adv.)

You Can Easily Avoid the Depressing Effects of the Changing Season.

In the Spring, many people find themselves losing appetite, are overcome by a lack of energy, and a run-down feeling takes possession of their whole body.

Spring is a great renovating season, when Nature throws off the accumulated impurities and prepares the system for the change it must undergo before merging into the coming Summer.

At this time, the energies relax, and an unspeakable languor pervades the entire system, giving that worn-out, good-for-nothing feeling, so commonly called "spring fever."

The important thing, therefore, is to put your system in tip-top condition, so as to be able to resist the common ailments so prevalent in Summer. You must build up the tissue and repair the wear that the system has undergone.

Now is the time to take S.S.S. It is unequalled for restoring strength, vitality and a keen appetite.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles: it improves the processes by which the body is nourished, and it is time-tried and reliable. S.S.S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

Get your S.S.S. at any good drug store. It is sold in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

FEED Makes SIDE-MEAT— and COTTON, too

A LITTLE extra corn brings Mr. Shoat a running. He'll even lay off scratching when he hears the rattle of the ears and you know it pays because this extra feed turns into more pig.

Same way about your cotton crop. A little extra feed when it is needed turns into more cotton.

The "Auburn Method" calls for 200 lbs. of Nitrate of Soda per acre—50 lbs. at planting, 400 lbs. acid phosphate and 50 to 100 lbs. potash, and 150 lbs. as side-dressing after chopping. By this method, 1071 Alabama Club Boys on 1071 acres made 1071 bales of cotton.

Thousands of thinking cotton growers have proved the case for themselves. They have proved it for you, too, and you can profit by their experience.

They find that side-dressing cotton, 150 to 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda at chopping time, actually feeds the cotton plant like corn feeds a hog.

They find they get an extra yield off their side-dressed fields as against those fields not side-dressed.

When bad weather holds the cotton back, this side-dressing pushes it ahead to early fruiting. And Nitrate of Soda side-dressing, they say, gives the cotton power and strength to carry through dry weather.

Alabama Milton Lewis, Sweetwater, Marengo County Boys' Club winner, says: "I used the Auburn Maximum home mixed fertilizer. I used Cook 307-6 cotton seed. The yield was 2345 pounds seed cotton on my acre."

Side-dressing works the same way with corn.

Just cut out this advertisement and write your name and address in the margin. Then mail it to us. We will send you, without one penny of cost, our little book "Side-Dressing Cotton and Corn." Our manager is a practical cotton grower and knows just what conditions call for here in "Bama," the Cotton State. A.60

4,157 FARM BOYS TO DO CLUB WORK

Auburn, Ala., May 4.—Based upon reports received by J. C. Lowery and T. A. Sims, State boys' club leaders, more than 4,157 Alabama farm boys will take part in agricultural club work this year. The reports cover the season up to late April, and it was explained that others may enroll for some projects as late as May, although early enrollment is preferred. A few county reports are not in.

The average enrollment per county reporting is 106, as compared with 88.5 per county in 1926. The average per county in north Alabama is 121. The average per county in south Alabama is 88.

Among the counties, Jefferson is leading with 307; other high counties are:, Covington 221 Etowah 207, Chambers 205, Marengo 195, Talladega 183, Morgan 176, DeKalb 172, Elmore 158, Shelby 150, Coosa 139, Tallapoosa 135, Pike 131, St. Clair 122, Jackson 119, Conecuh 112, Tuscaloosa 111, Blount 110, and Lawrence 110.

The biggest single club in the state is the McAdory club in Jefferson County, with 50 members. The Eva Club in Morgan is second with 47 members. Winterboro in Talladega, and Clarence in Blount each has 37. Other big clubs are Estaboga and Pineview in Talladega, and Stuckie and Ridge Grove in Chambers.

The club officials say that several of the county agents are still pushing enrollment work. Cotton is the leading project, although it is not as popular as it was a year ago. Corn, pigs, and poultry each show an increase, with pigs leading. The combination project of corn with peas, interplanted with cotton and vetch the second year shows a big gain in several of the north Alabama counties.

JAMES LAFAYETTE HAYES

On April 23, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hayes and took away the spirit of Mr. Hayes. He was born February 28, 1856, and died April 23, 1927. He was married to Miss Lucie Ellis September 13, 1876. His widow and 10 of their 13 children survive him, together with 38 grand children and 5 great grand children.

In early life Mr. Hayes united himself to the Missionary Baptist church at Mt. Carmel, but later transferred his letter to the Missionary Baptist church at Sardis. Mr. Hayes was a Christian gentleman of the highest type. He was loved by everyone who knew him. He did everything possible to make the community better in which he lived. He raised a large family, setting good examples before his children. He erected a family altar in his home some years ago and kept it until his death.

He was in ill health about 6 months but bore his suffering with patience. He left testimony that he was ready to die. The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Sardis on April 24, Rev. A. L. Foshee officiating.

Weep not, dear friends and relatives; our loss is Heaven's gain. So let's all strive to meet Bro. Hayes in Heaven, where parting comes no more.—A Friend.

Clanton Royal Host To B. Y. P. U. Meet

The value of community organization was amply demonstrated in Clanton and Chilton County last week in the entertaining of the district convention of the Baptist Young People's Union.

A spirit of co-operation never before equalled was manifest by the entire city and county, and every delegate and visitor to the convention returned to their homes last Friday night and Saturday morning praising the hospitality of Chilton County, "The Heart of Alabama."

While nothing elaborate was used, the downtown section of the city was fittingly decorated with green and white bunting, the official colors of the B. Y. P. U., and here and there, these were interspersed with the National Flag; appropriate banners were swung across the highway, welcoming the delegates; attractive welcome cards greeted the visitors from every place of business in the city, and many of the merchants and business men caught the holiday spirit and decorated both the exterior and interior of their places of business.

Through the tireless efforts of the Transportation Committee, and the generosity of many of the county's citizens, sufficient automobiles were put at the disposal of the convention committee to convey the delegates and visitors to Lock 12, where they were elaborately entertained by the officials of the Alabama Power Co., and the ladies of the various Baptist organizations of the county. Not one single thing was overlooked in providing for the comfort and pleasure of the more than 250 visitors who made the trip to the huge generating plant on the Coosa. Thru the courtesy of Mr. J. C. Bowen, the manager of the Clanton Motor Car Co., a service car with two men and all necessary emergency supplies for tire repairing, changing, and towing, followed closely behind the motor caravan and rendered valuable service to the party. This service was absolutely free of charge, and was highly appreciated.

As mentioned in the beginning, a large part of the success of these phases of the convention can be attributed to but one thing, and that is the fact that Clanton and Chilton County has an organization, though admittedly small, through which it is possible to bring about co-ordinated effort in solving community problems and putting over community projects. That organization is the Chilton County Co-operative Association, and it deserves the unstinted support of every man, woman, and child in Chilton County.

The Commercial Committee of that organization, which was composed of Frank P. James, chairman, W. T. Baker, H. M. Bates, W. M. Wyatt, T. L. Williams, A. H. Stang, B. Lawrence, J. N. Dennis, C. C. Marcus, and C. E. Marcus, are entitled to and should receive the thanks of the entire community for their valuable service in helping to make the B. Y. P. U. convention one of the biggest successes Clanton and Chilton County has enjoyed in many years.

In conclusion, those who contributed toward expense involved should receive special thanks for their support. Those who contributed are as follows: Central Alabama Development Co., Bates Motor Co., W. T. Baker Dry Goods Co., The James Sign Shop, A. H. Stong, The Union-Banner, Chilton County News, B. Lawrence, J. N. Dennis, J. S. Weldon, Wingard Bros., Chicago Sales Co., Mullins & Moore, Dixie Cafe, Parrish's, Elmore's, W. A. Kemp, Tom Kemp, Alabama Harness & Shoe Shop, Moatts Bros., B. L. Jones, F. M. Foshee, I. D. Armstrong, Moore's, J. R. Broadhead & Sons, Upchurch Drug Co., V. J. Elmore's 5c, 10c & $1.00 Store, Alred Drug Co., M. Lande, Sanitary Barber Shop, Jesse Baker, Clanton Cash Store, J. Lee Smith, New Cafe, and Downs Grocery Co.

The "Real Problem" of American Railroads is how they may earn sufficient funds for necessary improvements in the face of ever-increasing costs of operation and added taxation.

With no increase, and in fact with a general tendency downward, in freight and passenger rates, this and other railroad systems are forced to take care of increasing payrolls; to provide funds for ever-increasing taxes—state, local and federal (now amounting to more than $1,000,000 per day)—and various other increased expenditures made necessary by rising costs of materials, supplies, etc., and the higher standards of modern railroad operation.

The funds to defray wages, taxes, rentals, and other operating expenses must be earned by the railroad before they can be paid; and the margin between gross profits and net profits should be sufficient, not only to provide for these expenditures, but also to pay the shareholders a fair return on the money they have invested.

That this margin is small is indicated by the fact that for the year 1926 the rate of return on the property investment was as follows:

United States	5.13%
Eastern District	5.68%
Southern District	5.48%
Western District	4.45%

The average for the past five years was 4.06%, which certainly cannot be regarded as excessive compensation to railroad owners for the record-breaking and satisfactory service which the railroads have supplied.

America enjoys the finest transportation system and the most efficient service in all the world—operated at less cost to the shipper and tourist. Continued fair play toward the carriers will insure a continuation of this service.

Side Dressings of Nitrate Aid Fight On Cotton Pests

One of our worst enemies is the Boll Weevil, and to overcome this pest, squares must be set early. This prevents the weevil from destroying the squares while they are in the formative stage. Nitrogen is the most important element in hastening the formation of the squares. A side dressing of nitrate of soda on cotton assures an earlier and healthier crop.

Interesting experiments are being conducted in a number of Southern States on the methods of growing corn. Directors of Experiment Stations have found that here, too, nitrogen plays an extremely important role. As a top dressing, the nitrate should be applied when the plants are from knee to waist high or at the second or third plowing. The usual rate of application is 150 to 200 pounds per acre. If applied just before or after a rain, nitrate of soda goes into solution immediately. These tests have shown that we can reasonably expect to increase the yield of corn from ten to fifteen bushels per acre by top dressing in the manner suggested.

Surely this is bringing efficiency to the farm and increasing the farmer's profits.

Don't think you can draw on the soil forever any more than you can draw checks on a bank without making deposits in your account.

Mr. Marvin Mims is reported very ill at his home three miles southeast of Clanton. Last year Mr. Mims went to the west for his health, but returned after a short time, and was relieved to some extent. For the past everal months his condition has steadily grown worse.

MRS. EMMETT E. MARLER WRITES CONCERNING HER DAUGHTER, LOST MARCH 7

Editor Union-Banner:

Will you please give me space in your paper to tell the people that I have not heard anything yet of my dear little girl, Vena Iris Marler, 13 years old, who left home March 7. I wish to correct the false report that we beat and mistreated her, and would not buy her anything to wear. Anyone who claims to know this to be true tells a wilfull lie, and I don't care who it is. We have always took pride in dressing her the best we could afford. Of course she wanted to wear silk and finer things than we could afford and dress the other 4 children decently, and above all, we were trying to give the girl an education. She was in Junior I of the Jemison High School. I believe she was persuaded to do what she did through someone who was an enemy of the family and wanted to bring trouble and disgrace on us, or if it was a stranger, it was done by an enemy of civilization and Christianity.

I never will believe the girl intended to go to any bad place, or that she is with any bad people unless she was decoyed away with the promise of a job where she could work and make money to buy fine clothes and have a good time, and if she is in any bad place, that is the reason, because she said many times at home that she was going to the Boaz school next term or die trying. That she was going to get a job and work to get the money to pay her way through. That was her aim, when she left, and there is no telling what has become of the poor child out in this big sinful world alone without any protection. She never would have undertaken such a thing if someone had not been at the head of it.

And, besides having to bear the trouble of it all, I have to listen to the falsehood and gossip of foul mouthed liars. I never knew the girl to be anything but a perfect lady, and the man who took her to Birmingham came to see us; he said he believed she was a perfect little lady. He left her at the terminal station in Birmingham.

I am writing this letter to let the people know that all of this talk is false about us being mean to her, because we only tried to do our duty in making her obey, and trying to keep her out of bad company. Everybody I have heard speak of her since she left says that they never knew a wrong thing of her. She was loved and respected by everybody as far as we know. But there is somebody who didn't love her or she would not have been deceived or decoyed away into danger. And such reports as are being circulated to hurt her character! Somebody may have to prove some of these statements yet, if it keeps going. I may never see her sweet face again, but if I don't, I never will believe she meant to do anything wrong. She was too young to realize the dangers that lie in the way.

I am asking all praying people to pray for her and for us, for it gets harder to bear instead of easier. She is missed so much, especially at home and church.—Her mother, Mrs. Emmett E. Marler.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. T. C. McSwain, Mrs. Grady Broadhead and Hal Broadhead attended the meeting of the literature societies at Thorsby Institute Saturday evening.

Mrs. Carter Wright, President of the Alabama Woman's Missionary Union was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Willis Thursday and Friday.

South Needs More Good Dairy Cattle

The South needs more dairy cattle. Dairy farmers are always prosperous. The dairy community is a prosperous community. What the dairy cow produces today is sold tomorrow. The range of prices on which dairy products are produced is the same as the price on which they are sold.

The South needs more dairy cattle. This is a matter in which we are all vitally interested.

Through the efforts of the Chilton County Co-operative Association and with the co-operation of the International Harvester Co., Mr. H. S. Mobley, a speaker of national reputation has been secured for a series of lectures on dairying and diversified farming which will be held in this county about the first of June.

Mr. Mobley was chairman at Washington, D. C., of the Farmers' Organization's Legislative Committee during the discussion and adoption of such laws as the Farm Loan Bank, Parcel Post, Smith-Lever bill, etc. He is a practical Southern farmer of many years experience who sees all things from the farmer's viewpoint, a leader among community builders; he is not a theorist, but advocates only those things he has tried himself and found profitable. He is a practical Southern dairy farmer. He knows from actual experience how to produce dairy products on a Southern farm at a good profit. He knows how to ship them from the Southern farm to a profitable market. He is coming at the invitation of the Chilton County Co-operative Association, to help us solve our dairy problems.

These meetings promise to be one of the real events of the season, and the definite dates will be announced in next week's issue of the county press. Admission to these meetings is to be absolutely free, and everyone is welcome.

BANKERS HELPING

Three banks in South Carolina have inaugurated a plan to provide free of rent for two years a centrally located place to be used by the farmers of Greenville and neighboring counties for the purpose of establishing a creamery, a canning factory and a farm woman's club. The idea is to get the farmers to raise livestock, to raise their own food and feed and to have something extra to sell. The canning factory is intended to utilize the surplus garden and fruit products, and the club rooms for getting the support and co-operation of the farm women.

Georgia bankers have made great strides in furthering a diversified farming program the past year. They induced farmers to sow fifty-five carloads of vetch seed, furnished local prizes in eighty counties for the corn contest, the state prize of $1,000 being furnished by a bank in Atlanta. A banker-farmer alfalfa demonstration was held at the college and attended by 250 bankers and farmers. Alfalfa acreage has increased from 1,800 to 5,000, the demonstration being credited with 50 per cent of this increase. This year the state has produced 12,000,000 more bushels of corn than last year, has sold 50 cars of truck, $2,000,000 worth of pecans, and has produced 150,000,000 pounds of meat and enough corn and hay for its own use.

AS LABOR SEES BANKS

Vast sums of money are lost each year by wage-earners through investments hastily entered into. With the confidence of the wage-earners, banks will be enabled to more accurately advise such investors and thus save money which might otherwise be lost by unwise speculation. — William Green, President American Federation of Labor.

A Good Used Car

Before you buy a horse you look in his mouth.

Before buying a second hand car look inside, behind, and beneath the rear seat cushion. Should you find a couple of dainty handkerchiefs and a pair of dice, or a lipstick and half a package of cigarets, or several assorted buttons and a vanity case, or a cheap bracelet and an empty bottle, or perhaps a feminine garter—by all means, buy the car.

Regardless of what the dealer says, you have sufficient proof that the car has been run but little.

He Didn't Believe in Signs

A fireman on duty behind the scenes of one of the big New York theaters and charged with the responsibility of seeing to it that the regulations were strictly obeyed back-stage, suffered a profound shock as he came around from behind a stack of scenery, just before the evening performance. Standing in the opposite wings was a salesman for an East side cloak and suit concern, who had procured entrance via the stage door for the purpose of soliciting orders for his wares among the young ladies of the chorus. This person was vehemently puffing on a large, long, black, malignant-looking cigar.

In three jumps the scandalized fireman had the violator by the arm.

"Say," he demanded, "what the h—l do you mean, comin' in here with that torch burnin' in your face? Don't you see that sign right up over your head?"

The trespasser's eyes turned where the fireman's finger pointed.

"Sure, mister," he said, "I see it."

"Well, can't you read?" demanded the fireman.

"Sure I can read," admitted the other calmly.

"Then read what it says there. Don't you see what it says in big letters? It says—'No Smoking.'"

"Yes," agreed the East Sider with a winning smile, "but it don't say 'Positively.'"

SALVATION ARMY LECTURES

Envoy Campbell, known as the "Little Chautauqua Man," of the Dixie Division of the Salvation Army, will be heard by the people of this district next Sunday evening, when he gives his sacred lecture—concert at the Methodist church at 7:30.

Grammar and high students are talking about this little man who makes folks happy, and from the interest shown in his visit to Clanton, it is expected that an extra large attendance will be present to hear him Sunday evening.

Mr. Campbell is not an old man in years, yet he has had about 14 years experience as a lecturer and composer of both piano and vocal music, and is now devoting his time to the work of the Salvation Army, of which organization he is a special representative for this division.

"Out of the Trash Heaps, or Pieces of Silver Still," will be the lecture he will give Sunday evening, and it is said that interspersed throughout this lecture will be piano and vocal music of his own composition. Mr. Campbell will be accompanied by Capt. William Preston, who is in charge of the work in Montgomery, and its district, and an offering will be taken for the relief work of the Army at the close of the lecture.

ALL DAY SINGING AT PROVIDENCE ON THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN MAY

The regular annual singing will be held at Providence church, seven miles east of Clanton on Sunday, May 22nd. All singers and lovers of sacred music are invited to come to Providence on this day and enjoy singing praises to God with us. Bring your dinner, and 1927 song books.—R. Robinson, Chairman; J. W. Cleckler, Secretary.

COLLINS CHAPEL

There will be an all day singing at Collins Chapel next Sunday, May 15, under the direction of the United Singing Society, subject to its rules and regulations. All of our friends who sing and love good music are invited to be with us and take part, and help to make it a great day of praise to our Lord and Master. Come whether you sing or not; your presence will be appreciated. Bring your families, friends, and sweethearts, song books, and plenty of something good to eat, for we are expecting a large crowd, and one of the best singings in the history of the Society.

PAY YOUR SUBSCRIPTION NOW & GET A GOOD SAFETY RAZOR

As announced last week, The Union-Banner has a number of safety razors on hand which we are going to give to our subscribers absolutely free. Everyone who subscribes, whether you be old or new subscriber, is entitled to one of these Auto-Strop safety razors.

If such subscriber happens to be a lady who does not shave her neck or perchance her superflous mustache, then in all probability, she has a friend somewhere who would appreciate a razor as a gift. In such case, it will pay you to subscribe.

As stated in our advertisement, this razor is not a toy but is a real razor, and the only safety razor that is a self-sharpener. There is a nice little strop which we give with each razor—in fact, the outfit is complete within itself. And the most attractive thing about it is that it costs nothing. But the fact that the Banner gives them away does not mean that they are not worth anything. These razors are not given to us, but we have to pay the full wholesale price for them, but we are making them a present to our subscribers for the purpose of boosting our subscription list.

If you are not taking the paper or know of a friend who ought to take it, or if there is a neighbor who borrows your paper and reads it every week, kindly show them this razor proposition and ask them to take advantage of it. Or if your time is out any time within the next few months it will pay you to renew now while you can get a razor free.

If you want Razor mailed to you send in six cents in stamp to pay return postage.

Important Questions To Be Voted On Tuesday, June 14

One-Mill County School Tax and County Farm Demonstrator Will Be Submitted For Approval of the People

Two great questions of very vital importance are to be submitted to the people of Chilton County for their approval or rejection on Tuesday, June 14—the question of levying a countywide one-mill tax for support of the rural public schools; and the question of whether or not our county commissioners shall appropriate the necessary money for the employment of a county farm demonstrator.

These are the biggest and most important issues that have confronted the people of this county in many years. We always take much interest in politics of who shall serve us in a county office; but there is no office in our county that means as much as either of these questions.

To adopt the countywide one-mill school tax on June 14 means that our rural public schools will be enabled to push forward with the progress that is needed to make them able to cope with the needs of our school children. To reject the levying of this tax means that our schools shall not be able to expand and take care of the needs of the children of the county.

What is more important than the school children of Chilton County? What issue is more vital than that issue which shall decide whether these children shall be properly schooled and educated; or whether on the other hand they shall be restricted in their educational advantages and denied the privilege of schools equal to the best in Alabama?

We say there is no issue that can possibly come before our people that is of more importance than this question. And Chilton County cannot afford to refuse to levy this tax. During the next month there will be a vigorous campaign waged which will fully inform our people about the details of how this question affects our schools.

We urge each and every voter to come down to brass tacks now on this proposition, and lay aside politics and everything else, and look straight and clearly into what concerns our school children of the future. We can't afford to have this proposition rejected again; and if you will look at the matter in the right way, we believe every patriotic citizen will agree with this view.

Now for the question of a county farm demonstrator. This is another matter that takes high rank in importance to the people of the county. We believe that the only proper and effective solution for the many problems of our farmers is to have a county farm demonstration agent. And we all agree that there are many problems that must be solved properly or else our farmers are going to continue to suffer for the lack of proper advantages. The subject of marketing, for instance, is the biggest problem of our farmers. If that were solved in the right way, one of the greatest of loads would be lifted from the shoulders of farmers.

It is chiefly the business of the county farm demonstration agent to help the farmers solve their marketing problems. Therefore, we need such an agent in Chilton County the very worst sort.

Our county commissioners have said they will appropriate the money to hire a county farm demonstration agent if the people will tell them they want it. Now it is up to the people. The commissioners will go so far as to ask the people to vote on the question on June 14, at the same time they vote on the school tax.

What shall we do about it? The best thing we can do is to get the demonstration agent while we can. We will never regret it. And we will never have our farm problems of marketing properly solved until we can get a demonstration agent here to help us.

Let us as citizens not overlook the importance of June 14. We must not fail to take steps on that day which shall mean so much for the future progress and prosperity of our county.

DALLAS AND ARTHUR LITTLE ARRESTED LAST SUNDAY

Dallas and Arthur Little were arrested last Sunday in Clanton on charges of public drunkenness. They were put in jail and made bonds Sunday night.

ALL DAY SINGINGS SUNDAY

According to previous announcements, there will be all day singings next Sunday, May 15, at Collins Chapel, Corinth, and Pleasant Grove—Jemison. All the singers in the county ought to avail themselves of attending at one of these places.

THREE MEN CAUGHT MAKING WHISKEY LAST SUNDAY

Sheriff Collins and his deputies last Sunday made a raid on a wildcat still about four miles northeast of Clanton in which they arrested Sam Paul Mims, Joe Easterling, and Benjamin Easterling, who were operating the outfit when the officers got there.

The still was located on Walnut Creek, about a quarter of a mile from the home of Sam Paul Mims. The officers report that it was a crude affair composed of a 55-gallon steel drum, with a copper worm. They had three 60-gallon barrels of beer ready to run. About half a gallon of whiskey had run from the faucet when the officers took charge.

The three men were brought to jail. Preliminary trial was held Monday before Justice J. L. Wilson, and the three were bound over to the grand jury under $500 bonds each.

Recently a car load of half frozen live bullfrogs was shipped from Louisville, Texas, to San Francisco, for reshipment to a breeding farm in Japan.

W. T. BAKER NOW IN NEW LOCATION ON MAIN STREET

The store of Mr. W. T. Baker is now open for business in the building formerly occupied by Chilton Hardware Company on Main Street. Some time ago Mr. Baker promised his customers that he would show them one of the prettiest stores in town when he got to his new place; and from the way things are looking now it would seem that he is going to live up to his promise.

The new store will have much more space than was possible in the former location, allowing for a better display of goods and a larger stock. Many of the lines which Mr. Baker has been carrying will be enlarged, and other features added.

The one outstanding thing about the store of Mr. Baker is his policy of selling for strictly cash only. This is without a doubt the best plan upon which people can buy merchandise, for they will pay the merchant a smaller profit than where they buy on credit.

Since coming to Clanton last fall, Mr. Baker has impressed the people as being one of the livest merchants in our town. He looks at business from the right angle, and strictly practices the policy of giving full value for every dollar's worth of merchandise sold in his store. He invites you to come to see him and take a look at his new store.

NON-JURY CIRCUIT COURT WILL BE HELD MONDAY, MAY 16

The following cases will come up for disposition in the January non-jury (May) Term of the Circuit court which will be held May 16:

Joel Fulmer, violating prohibition law.

John Jones, violating prohibition law.

Isaiah Mims, violating prohibition law.

W. M. Baker, selling mortgaged property.

William H. Quarles, obtaining board fraudulently.

H. Andeen, driving an auto recklessly.

Arthur Smith, violating prohibition law.

Mose Williams, adultery.

William Bice, violating prohibition law.

J. M. Gore, failing to dip cattle.

J. D. Williams, public drunkenness.

DIED FROM INJURIES

Undertaker J. Mell Martin went to the St. Vincent's Hospital in Birmingham last Thursday and brought to Clanton to prepare for interment the body of Elijah Smitherman, who died early Thursday morning. The body was carried and buried in the Mullins cemetery Thursday afternoon, Rev. Tate of Verbena preaching the funeral.

Smitherman was 26 years old. He was crushed between two cars while working in a mine for the Schloss-Sheffield people in Bessie mine on Friday, April 29th. He was the son of the late Jess Smitherman, who died of cancer about a month ago. He was married about a year ago to the daughter of Mr. Jack Gentry of Cane Creek community. They had no children, but he is survived by his wife, mother, and several brothers and sisters.

WHAT ABOUT WEEKLY HOLIDAYS DURING THE COMING SUMMER MONTHS

It has been a custom in Clanton during past years to observe half holidays on Thursday aftersoon, at which times most of the stores would close up for half a day. This plan has always provoked some opposition and in some cases severe criticism. It has not been universally popular, to say the least.

Some have mentioned the proposition again for this summer. Whether it will be attempted again remains to be seen.

The stores of Mr. Sartor and Mr. Elmore have already announced their plans for the summer, which strikes us as a mighty good way to get around the proposition. They will close their stores at 6:00 p. m., every day except Saturdays, when they will not close until 9:00 p. m. Then, too, they will allow each one of their clerks one day off during the week. The stores will, under this plan, be open for business every day in the week.

WEST CHILTON

Had refreshing seasons last week. Died Saturday night at his home near Mars Hill, Mr. J. P. Gentry, one of the old citizens of this section. He was a useful citizen, a successful business man, a Baptist minister, a good neighbor, a man of kindness, mature judgment, and highly respected. He reared an interesting and intelligent family of children, all of whom were present at his burial except his daughter in Chicago. The burial was attended by an immense gathering of his friends. Beautiful floral offerings graced the casket. Funeral by Rev. Honeycutt. Burial at Mars Hill Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennet Hicks of Lawley came to the burial Sunday at Mars Hill.

Y. O. Freeman of Jemison was here last week.

Some of our people attended the singing at Pleasant Grove M. P. church May 1. It was a glorious session—great in attendance, great in song. We never can say enough in praise of the Pleasant Grove people; their kindness knew no bounds. They entertained the singing royally; we hope to visit them again. Sweet memories in the future will often cluster around that memorable singing convention. Our thanks also are tendered to the pastor, Rev. Limbrick, for his kindness and interest.

ANNUAL SINGING AT WALNUT CREEK

A large crowd gathered at 10:00 o'clock to begin singing. The house was called to order by T. L. Mims. After singing a few songs, prayer was offered by Rev. J. R. Helms, after which the class elected officers. The following were elected: T. L. Mims, chairman; program committee, I. D. Huett, J. J. Johnson, Dovard Cleckler. After singing a few songs each, the committee reported 5 leaders of 2 songs each: W. G. Culp, Dalton Bice, Dovard Cleckler, Russel Cleckler, I. D. Huett. Organists for the morning were Miss Katie Limbrick, W. G. Culp, and Ida Helms.

The pastor of the church, Rev. J. R. Helms, then took charge of the service. After making a short talk on Mothers Day, he introduced Rev. J. H. Limbrick of Chilton circuit, who preached a very forceful sermon on honoring mother. A special duet by Miss Katie Limbrick and I. D. Huett, was rendered. We were then dismissed for lunch; all enjoyed a big dinner, and then were ready to go back for singing.

We gathered at 1:20, and found the class composed of good singers, and everyone in the spirit to sing. The committee reported the following for 2 songs each: Jasper Robinson, G. C. Weldon; quartet arranged by L. T. Grant; Amie Boswell, O. L. Devaughn; quartet by United Singing Society's quartet; S. V. Miller, S. L. Baker, L. T. Grant, Jesse Baker; quartet arranged by L. T. Grant; quartet by United Singing Society's quartet; Willie Mims; 15 minutes recess.

Class called to order by the chairman. The following took part on the program after recess: Jean Wyatt, H. W. Lowery; quartet arranged by Jesse Baker; W. M. Devaughn, A. H. Glasscock; quartet arranged by L. T. Grant; E. L. Glasscock, Olen Williams, O. R. Robinson; closing song by W. M. Devaughn; dismissed with prayer by Rev. J. R. Helms.

We had a great day, and lots of good singing. One of the leargest crowds ever at Walnut Creek was in attendance. We hope to have as good a day in May, 1928.

Everyone is invited to come and be with us at Walnut Creek Sunday for Sunday school; and Sunday night, for Christian Endeavor, prayer service, and preaching.

A COTTON PLANT is like a COW

YOU know how easy it is for milk flow to drop off before spring pasturage picks up. And you know, too, how the right kind and quantity of food will keep up a heavy milk production.

You know that by feeding cotton plants liberally they are bound to make a heavy cotton production.

Alabama
A. L. Thomas, President of the First National Bank of Auburn, Ala., describing how the cotton growers of his county side-dress 150 lbs. of Nitrate of Soda to the acre, says they have learned "how to make a bale of cotton per acre, even under boll weevil conditions."

The feed you give those cotton plants must be right kind and right quantity. Best results seem to come from 150 to 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda applied as a side-dressing at chopping time.

This is especially needed if you have cottonseed meal or some other slow-acting source of ammonia under your plants. For cotton needs the strong, quick-acting "soda" in order to set its squares and make progress ahead of the boll weevil.

Your cotton plants, getting this food right when they need it most, will yield you many extra pounds of cotton, over and above the crops you can get off of fields that are not side-dressed.

After all, there is no proof for any man so strong as trying it for himself. If you feel that way, we suggest that you try side-dressing your cotton this year—right after chopping—with 150 to 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda.

Alabama
Milton Lewis, Sweetwater, Marengo County, Boys' Club winner says: "I used the Auburn Maximum home mixed fertilizer. I used Cook 307-6 cotton seed. The yield was 2345 pounds seed cotton on my acre."

And try side-dressing corn. It will pay well, too.

Just cut out this advertisement and write your name and address in the margin. Then mail it to us. We will send you, without one penny of cost, our little book "Side-Dressing Cotton and Corn." Our manager is a practical cotton grower and knows just what conditions call for here in "Bama," the Cotton State.

CONTROL OF SOIL EROSION AND REFORESTAION CAN HELP FLOOD PREVENTION

The greatest flood disaster this country has ever known is bringing a realization of the need for a well established policy of flood prevention, says the United States Department of Agrculture in calling attention to two important factors in the control of the rapid run-off of water—reforestation and the reduction of soil erosion. The importance of forests in this respect has long been emphasized, says the department, but until recently very little attention has been given to the effect of the continued destructive washing of the large areas of cultivated farm land and pasture lands. If proper attention were given to reforesting rough lands unsuited to agriculture, to the maintaining of good forest cover at the headwaters of rivers, and to the prevention of rapid run-off on all sloping farm lands, the department believes the problem of flood control would be less difficult.

"Reforestation and forest protection," says E. A. Sherman, associate forester of the Forest Service, "will unquestionably enter into any plan for the future control of the Mississippi. Claims that the present flood is due to forest destruction or claims that reforestation has no bearing on flood prevention are both exaggerations. Every acre of land in the immense catchment basin of the Mississippi system, contributes, in one form or another, at one time or another, to the flood problem. It is idle to say the scores of millions of acres of forest land within this basin have no relation to the flood problem. The plans for preventing a recurrence of a flood of this magnitude must, as one of their essential factors, include the reforestation of the headwaters of the Mississippi and its tributaries."

"Failure to hold the absorptive surface soil of fields and pastures from the denudation of erosion," says H. H. Bennett, of the Bureau of Soils, "has contributed to a much more rapid removal of the water that falls upon these eroded lands. The mellow top soil that is gone was far more retentive of moisture than the comparatively impervious sub - soil that sheet erosion has left behind." Mr. Bennett believes this wastage of the soil has much to do with the constantly increaing floods as all other factors. He says that many streams, navigable a generation ago, are now clogged with soil debris. He gives as examples of such clogged rivers the Coldwater and Tallahatchie of northern Mississippi.

"Failure to build terraces on sloping fields generally and to plant grass and trees on the steeper lands highly susceptible to rain wash," says Mr. Bennett, "accounts for much of the excess of water now sweeping down the Mississippi. If this kind of soil wastage on an enormous scale is not stopped, there is little likelihood that floods will be controlled. Practically nothing is being done about this phase of flood prevention. There are no hillside terraces north of the Arkansas River. Top soil 18 inches deep has been removed from the youthful fields in some parts of northeastern Kansas. The entire top soil is gone from hundreds of thousands of acres in western Virginia, western Pennsylvania, eastern Kentucky, and southeastern Ohio. From these lands rain water courses much faster to the Mississippi than formerly. Terraces and grass woodlots, forests, and other soil-binding and soil-building crops will vastly improve the flood situation; not only will they slow up the run-off of water, but they will save the most valuable part of the soil and will reduce the clogging of streams which cuts down their carrying capacity, and adds to the flood danger."

In continuing his statement on the forests as a flood factor, Mr. Sherman said: "Although excessive precipitation in the main basin of the Mississippi is a major cause of the present flood, many of its tributaries have contributed their own floods. Extensive deforestation on the head waters of innumerable feeder streams is partly responsible for rapid melting of snow and for the rapid run-off of snow water and rainfall. Deforestation, accompanied by repeated fires, has likewise encouraged erosion of the soil. These effects are particularly pronounced in hilly and mountainous country where cutover land is not extensively reclaimed for agriculture, and where repeated fires have progressively denuded the soil.

"In making comprehensive plans it will be necessary, in my opinion, to consider forests as affecting run-off, snow melting, surface erosion, channel cutting, and silting. Only extensive reforestation in the long run by retarding the run-off will supplement the artificial engineering work. Every dollar expended in reforesting denuded land will return with interest through the sale of forest products and water power ad stimulation of industry. Flood prevention will come as a by-product without actual cost.

"In at least one region the present flood has raised the question whether the reclamation of bottom lands has not gone too far. Efforts are now under way for a bond issue to purchase bottom lands along the Illinois River, a tributary of the Mississippi, in order that the overflow lands may be restored to their original function. Conservation agencies point out tht this land has a great additional value for timber growing and game breeding, which, with reduced flood control costs, would tend to offset the loss of agricultural value."

The particular flood prevention recommendations of the Department of Agriculture may be summed up very briefly as follows: The general reduction of soil erosion to prevent rapid run-off and the clogging of streams; largely increased efforts by the States and Federal Government and private owners for co-operation forest fire control; largely increased programs for public forests on tributary headwaters both by the Federal and State Governments; a much larger program of tree planting on denuded forest lands; encouragement of farmers and other land owners, through State and Federal aid, to plant trees on rough lands and along water courses; and a study of the possibilities of restoring some of the bottom lands to their original condition as carriers of flood waters and producers of forests and game.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

Taxes Are Reflected In Telephone Costs

ALTHOUGH taxes form a large part of the cost of producing telephone service, this company does not object to paying its just proportion of the taxes necessary for the support of the government, the schools and other public institutions.

We do believe that telephone subscribers who supply the money will be interested in knowing what part of the money they pay for telephone service goes for taxes in the States of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Our total tax bill in these States amounted to $4,432,018 during 1926, an increase of 355 per cent since 1916, while the taxable property of the company increased only 142 per cent during this same period.

The combined tax and wage bill for last year reached a total of $28,866,300.

Although the enormous increase in these two items has been reflected in the cost of producing service, the rates charged for the service have not increased in anything like the same proportion.

As early as 1895 it was proved by actual tests that Alabama pig iron could be placed on the Liverpool market at a lower cost than British pig iron, says the Encyclopedia Brittannica.

Leaving Alabama, May 6, a large delegation of editors and members of their families and friends are attending the annual convention of the Alabama Press Association in New York. The trip from Savannah to New York and return was made by steamer, "The City of Birmingham."

A state like Alabama that can produce cotton, corn, peanuts, hay crops, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, strawberries, apples, peaches, pears, pecans, grapes, watermelons, vegetable crops of all kinds, and also beef cattle, hogs, poultry, poultry products, and dairy products, should by every reason be a prosperous agricultural state.

The Oriental peach moth is now in Alabama. It has been here two or three years. If your peach trees show any apparently dead terminals, often with lumps of hard gum around them, the Oriental peach moth is making you a call. This insect bores into the growing shoots in the spring and summer causing the end to die and the shoots to branch.

An export tax of $12 per ton on nitrate of soda resulted in a very inefficient government in Chile. Foreigners were paying the bill. Recent strides by Germany and other nations in the production of air-fixed nitrogen has brought great pressure to bear on the Chilean government to remove this export tax. It is said that people younger than 40 years have been retired and pensioned in Chile in order to place others on the government payroll.

Much is heard from time to time about the necessity of securing the location of industries in Chilton County. All the while we are neglecting the greatest industry of all, and which we already have in our midst. We refer to our agricultural industry. The most valuable thing that could be done for Chilton County industrially is the proper development of our farm industry. The best thing that we could do to help bring about this development is to get a farm demonstration agent. What shall we say about it June 14?

Miami Democrats are inviting the Democratic national convention to meet there next year. Evidently it takes more than one storm to scare Miami.

If milk is not handled properly it will sour rapidly during hot weather.

Do the people of Chilton County want to push forward with progress, or do we prefer to stand still in idleness and do nothng to improve our conditions? This big question will be answered in the elections that are to be held June 14. The future development of our great farming possibilities is contingent upon securing a farm demonstration agent. We shall say by our votes on June 14 whether we want the commissioners to give us a farm agent or not.

A PERTINENT QUESTION

Do you know what "zig" means? No? It is just the opposite of "zag." To "zig" is to swing to the left and to "zag" is to swing to the right, in the event you do not make "zag" to the left and "zig" to the right, at the same time endeavoring to go straight ahead. Sort of like trying to go north by spasmodic dives east and west. The result is a greater distance negotiated east and west than in the desired northerly route.

A lot of Christians have their faces set toward "Higher Ground" but soon after the upward march is started said Christians "zig" into the world on the left or "zag" in on the right. When the "ziging" and "zaging" is over the "zigger and zagger" discovers that he has traveled considerable distance but withal is no nearer the "Higher Ground."

If guilty parties in this matter would follow God's word, "looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith," instead of pain, there would be peace, and instead of pebbles in the upward way there would be power for the climb.—Rev. E. L. Davis, in The Baptist Herald, Philadelphia, Miss.

MEETING OF RED MEN TUESDAY NIGHT, MAY 17

All former members of Waxahatchie Tribe No. 9, Improved Order of Red Men, are requested to attend a meeting which has been called to assemble at the former meeting place of the tribe in Clanton, on Tuesday night, May 17, at 8 o'clock.

Some representatives of the Great Council of Alabama will be present to discuss plans for the reorganization of the order of Red Men in these hunting grounds.

Rev. W. J. Armstrong, past Sachem of Waxahatchie Tribe, and past Great Sachem of the Great Council of Alabama, will deliver an address to this meeting. Every former member of Waxahatchie Tribe will surely want to hear what Mr. Armstrong has to say; and it is urged that as many as possible come to the meeting.

ALABAMA FARMERS USING A FAIR AMOUNT OF FERTILIZER

That Alabama farmers are using a reasonable amount of fertilizer per acre is shown by the sales of fertilizer to date, compared with previous years. In 1926, to date of April 30, Alabama farmers had bought 592,400 tons. Up to this same date this year sales have equalled 455,950 tons. This is a decrease of 136,450 tons over last year, or 22%. W. B. Griffin, chief clerk, who compiled the above figures from tag sales, says that Alabama will probably use 8 tons of fertilizer this year where it used 10 tons in 1926, and the total sale will be about 80% of last year.

Coupled with this decrease has been a decrease in average, but this cannot be estimated yet, although general estimates of decrease range from 8 to 15 to 20%. Indications are that farmers reduced fertilizer and acreage in somewhat the same proportion, although final figures may show a greater corresponding reduction in fertilizer applied per acre than in total acreage in Alabama.

Commissioser of Agriculture and Industries, S. M. Dunwoody, in discussing the fertilizer sales, said: "It is fortunate for the farmer that fertilizer is much cheaper than in 1926. Last year the price averaged at least $6 per ton higher than at present.

"In round numbers, Alabama used 20 million dollars worth of fertilizer in 1926; to date, we have used but 12 million dollars worth, and the fertilizer season is nearly through. Alabama farmers are trying i every way to raise a crop cheaply, but to make it a profitable crop. Western competition is so fierce that cotton must be produced at a low figure in Alabama, or there is no escape from poverty among cotton raisers, for it costs much more to produce a bale of cotton in Alabama than in the western half of the cotton belt."

"It is too early for anyone to make any predictions on the size of the growing cotton crop, although the stand is a little poor for this date. All indicitations point to another good year. One must remember that the South has had a number of good crops recently, and that this year may, or may not, be an exception to the past years. Those farmers who are raising plenty to eat and feed feel very safe. Their accounts are on the right side of the bank ledger."

"Bashful Mr. Bobbs," the Junior Class play, to be given May 18, promises to be a real treat. It is a farce-comedy in 3 acts; a scream from start to finish. The cast has been well chosen, the comedy element being handled by Gaston Robinson and Kathryn Johnson; the bashful Mr. Bobbs, the lead of the play, is portrayed by Leon Sanford, while Marston Bobbs, his cousin, is Arthur Burnett; the conversation of the henpecked husband and his very bossy wife add much to the life of the play—Newton Popwell and Mary Lee Pyron take these parts; the two girls that Marston finds himself engaged to are Delene Williams and Mildred Danforth. One is an heiress and the other a moving picture actress, who has a maid from Paris (Kentucky)—Myrtle Kelly is the maid and Annie Mae Foshee and Gladys Williams complete the cast as the other two girls after Mr. Bobbs.

We Sell for Cash Only

There are many reasons why this policy is best for the man who buys merchandise. When we sell for we can afford to take a smaller profit than if we sold on credit. Why? Because we put that money right back into stock and are ready to sell the article again. In that way we turn the money over several times a year. If we sold the goods on credit we would have to wait several months before we got the money, and while the money is idle the customer would have to pay enough profit to make up the amount we would realize by having that money to turn over several times during the period we are waiting for the bill to be paid. The man who wants to buy merchandise on a credit can get money for 8 per cent, which is much cheaper than he can get merchandise on a credit.

POOR ORIGINAL TORN

To Speak in County on Question of Progressive Farming and Dairying

From the wave-lapped sands of the Gulf Coast to the glistening waters of the Great Lakes; from the rock-bound shores of far away Maine to the flower decked slopes of the Pacific West, there is no more favored land than Chilton County, "The Heart of Alabama."

The forest-scented hills and fertile valleys of this county literally vibrate with countless opportunities for the man, woman, and child who will accept the challenge and cast their lot with the regrettedly few who are striving to secure the co-operation of a united citizenship, which will furnish this "Hub of Dixie" with the only lacking attribute that stands between it and a veritable bonanza.

A liberal God, Ruler and Giver of all good things has heaped upon us an over-abundance of natural conditions such as fertile soils, ideal climate, and life-giving streams, and He has guided the hands of nature to protect us from devastating floods, mighty storms and dreaded earthquakes. But it is up to us, every one of us, to link up these God-given blessings with an unselfish, progressive and united community, before we can be worthy of the name—"a citizen."

Some few months ago a few citizens brought into being the Chilton County Co-operative Association. In the face of wide spread indifference and in a few instances open opposition, the organization has continued to grow in a limited way. Its sole purpose is to promote the economic and social life of the county, to bring about, through united effort, the only possible way any community can grow, regardless of its natural advantages. In a small way, many things in that direction have been accomplished, but without spontaneous co-operation from the citizenship at large, those who have been fostering the organization have found themselves seriously handicapped.

Undaunted, the officers of this Association are going ahead and are now arranging a series of meetings to be held at Jemison, Clanton, and Isabella, beginning June 3rd, which promise to be one of the outstanding events of the year.

Beginning at the high school in Jemison the afternoon of June 3rd, which will be featured with an address by Mr. H. S. Mobley, of Arkansas, a speaker of national reputation. The series will continue for three days, closing with a big community rally at the Isabella Agricultural School Saturday night, June4th, at 8:00 o'clock.

Mr. Mobley will be the principal speaker at all three places, and will use as his subjects the following: at the court house in Clanton, "Communities are made of folks;" at Jemison High School, "The cow—the mother of prosperity;" and his concluding subject at Isabella will be "Diversified farming—let's feed ourselves and sell something every week."

Mr. Mobley is being secured for this important series of lectures by the Co-operative Association, through the courtesy of the International Harvester Company of America. He is a direct and convicing speaker and has the gift of holding his hearers' interest from beginning to end. Besides being one of the very few nationally recognized authorities on community development, Mr. Mobley is a farmer of the most practical as well as the most progressive type. He is, himself, practicing on his own Southern farms the things he advocates. He has made a scientific study of soil and crops and everything pertaining to farming, and has put this knowledge into actual practice. He is one man in this country best qualified to discuss these important matters with us because he has had years of experience as a successful farmer who is familiar with us because he has had years of experience as a successful farmer who is familiar with southern conditions and who sees the South's great opportunities.

These meetings are absolutely free and are being arranged for everybody in the county—merchants, business men, professional men, farmers, and their wives and children. Don't forget the places, dates, and time of these meetings. Let's everybody get behind these important matters, put our shoulders to the wheel and win for ourselves the perfect right to say that we live in the best county in the State, and that we are a citizen of this county because we have helped to make it the best.

SECOND LIBERTY LOAN BONDS TO BE PAID OR EXCHANGED

Washington, D. C., May 9.—Secretary Mellon has called for payment on November 15, 1927, all oustanding Second Liberty Loan bonds. Interest on these bonds will cease on November 15, 1927. Approximately $1,700,000,000 of these bonds are now outstanding.

While the bonds will be paid on November 15, 1927, it is quite probable that during the next six monhts the Treasury will extend to the holders of the Second Liberty Loan bonds an opportunity to exchange them for other Government securities. No announcement has as yet been made as to the type of security to be offered in exchange, or the date on which the exchange offer may be expected. The Treasury explains that the terms of the bonds require that a notice be given to the public six months in advance of the redemption date. The Secretary's announcement, therefore, does not mean that the bonds will be paid at the present time, but merely places the holders on notice that their bonds will be redeemed on November 15, and will cease to bear interest on that date.

If holders of Second Liberties desire to have their bonds redeemed, they should present them for payment on November 15, 1927, but if they desire other Government securities in place of their Seconds, they should watch for further announcement and notify their bank to keep them informed of any exchange offering that may later be made by the Treasury.

In 1917 and 1918, it will be recalled, when the Government was selling bonds of the several Liberty Loans, a nation-wide campaign was conducted, every available facility being used to reach the public and sell the bonds. The situation is now practically reversed, and the Government is preparing to redeem or exchange some of these bonds. While no such elaborate canvass is contemplated for the redemption notice as was undertaken in 1917, the Treasury nevertheless is making a special effort to inform the holders of Second Liberty Loan bonds that their bonds will cease to bear interest on November 15th. Banks and trust companies throughout the country will be asked to co-operate with the Government in spreading the news of this call for redemption, and in advising the holders of bonds that the Treasury will probably offer new securities in exchange. For the first time the radio will be used by the Government as a means of reaching millions of bondholders. An announcement will shortly be broadcast from the larger radio stations of the country.

The importance of acquainting the bondholders with the fact that their bonds have been called for payment is emphasized by the Treasury's records of previous calls for redemption or exchange. These records show that there are still outstanding at the present time, in the hands of the public, about $30,000,000 in Government securities upon which interest has ceased. Included in this amount are $3,600,000 in Victory notes that ceased to bear interest in 1922 and 1923. There are also outstanding $14,500,000 in temporary bonds of the several Liberty Loans, to which were attached only a limited number of interest coupons. The last coupon matured some 7 years ago. The holders of these temporary bonds have neglected to exchange them for permanent bonds, having the full number of interest coupons attached, and until such exchange is made they have no means of collecting the interest. In the face of these facts, the Treasury is especial'y anxious to have the present announcement reach as many Second Liberty Loan bondholders as it is possible to reach thru the press, radio, and the banks of the country.

The Second Liberty Loan, which was issued in November, 1917, was the second large loan floated by the government during the World War, and while this loan does not mature until 1942, the condition of the money market and of the Government's finances makes it possible and advisable to call the bonds for redemption in November.

Why Firestone GUM-DIPPED TIRES Wear Longer

WE recently were given the tremendous advantage of having the mammoth Firestone factories brought to us. In Tire Educational Meetings we were shown, by means of motion pictures, charts, tire samples and complete engineering data, the details of Firestone tire design and construction—and how Firestone and Oldfield tires and tubes are made in the world's most efficient and economical rubber factories.

Firestone pioneered the original low-pressure tire and made it practical by Gum-Dipping. The motion pictures showed us how the cords of the carcass are dipped in a rubber solution, thoroughly saturating and insulating every fiber of every cord with rubber. Simple demonstrations and tests illustrated the great advantage of this process, which supplies the extra strength to withstand the extra flexing strains of low-pressure construction—one of the reasons why Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires are establishing such unheard-of mileage records.

We learned why the Firestone Balloon Tread gives extra safety, comfort and long wear. We were shown why Firestone, from the very beginning, designed and continue to use the round Balloon Tread, minimizing "shoulder breaks", so destructive to tires. Excess rubber at the edges of a Balloon Tread is wasted—actually detrimental to tire mileage. In the Firestone Tread the small units and sharp projections are scientifically placed to permit easy flexing, resulting in extraordinary riding comfort.

Come in and let us put a set of these Gum-Dipped Tires on your car—you can forget about tire trouble. Quality is higher than ever before—prices are lowest in history. Buy now!

DUNCAN APPEALS FOR CO-OPERATIVE EFFORT

Auburn, Ala. May 11.—Special.—Declaring that agriculture is at an economic disadvatage and that the way to improve the situation is by co-operative effort, Prof L. N. Duncan, director, Extension Service, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, issued a public statement in which he appealed to business men, as well as farmers to work together in a cooperative way for the advancement of business and agriculture within the state. The appeal of Prof. Duncan came as a result of the Farm Bureau re-organization work which is reported to be making excellent progress in those counties where it is under way.

After demonstrating successfully for the last five years that the Farm Bureau co-operative plan is sound, right, and beneficial, Prof. Duncan declared that it is time now for all forces to work shoulder to shoulder and put the Farm Bureau over on a bigger scale than ever before.

"During these five years," said he, "the Farm Bureau has demonstrated that cooperative effort among farmers is essential to agricultural advancement. In this brief period of time the organization with its subsidiaries has become one of the large business concerns of the state; and it has rendered a service of inestimable value to the farmers. Likewise it has been of service to business interests because cooperation eliminates waste, improves quality and makes for efficiency."

The Extension Service, he explained, is interested in organization because county agents and other extension workers can render more efficient service by working with a business organization of farmers than by working with individuals.

CHEVROLET ANNOUNCES NEW MODEL—"IMPERIAL LANDAU"

Chevrolet today announces a new model, the Imperial Landau. It is a 5-passenger closed car of luxurious appointments and new design, listing at $780, f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

Heralded as the aristocrat of low priced cars, the new model is equipped with a specially designed Fisher body, marking a new creation by Fisher, that provides the low priced field with a smart, rakish Landau.

Contributing to the distinction of the Imperial Landau is the specially designed low-swung Fisher body with its many advancements in design from vaulted roof and oblong plate glass windows to smoking set. Hardware is of special design throughout, with garnish rails in polychrome and door seals of beaded maroon leather—in pleasing contrast with the deep-tufted taupe mohair upholstery.

Emphasizing the exterior beauty of the car is the lustrous satin black Duco finish with double bead stripes of Chasseur red. Window frames have a crimson trim on the outside and maroon within the car. The top rear quarter and the sun visor are of mouse gray textile leather. The Imperial Landau is fitted with a swing-out type windshield of one-piece design on nickeled brackets, while narrow front pillars provide for increased driving vision.

Like other Chevrolet models this year, the Imperial Landau is equipped with standard one-piece, full-crown fenders, balloon tires, bullet-type head lamps, oil filter, air cleaner, co-incidental steering wheel and ignition lock, remote control door handles, improved instrument panel, new gasoline gauge, disc wheels, new radiator, and running board.

A factory statement points out that only the economies resulting from great quantity production have enabled the company to produce the new model at the price listed.

Introduction of the Imperial provides the company with 8 models, 6 closed and 2 open cars, comprising the most complete line of automobiles ever offered by a manufacturer of low priced cars. In addition to the passenger models, the company is also building commercial vehicles in both ton and half-ton sizes.

Although the factories have been in production on the Imperial for several weeks, the formal showing of the new model throughout the country was withheld until today to permit dealers to obtain sufficient cars to cope with the expected initial demand.

The leading producer of rayon in Italy testifies that this company foresees a production of 35,000,000 pounds this year, or double that of 1925.

We Sell for Cash Only

There are many reasons why this policy is best for the man who buys merchandise. When we sell for cash we can afford to take a smaller profit than if we sold on credit. Why? Because we put that money right back into stock and are ready to sell the article again. In that way we turn the money over several times a year. If we sold the goods on credit we would have to wait several months before we got the money, and while the money is idle the customer would have to pay enough profit to make up the amount we would realize by having that money to turn over several times during the period we are waiting for the bill to be paid. The man who wants to buy merchandise on a credit can get money for 8 per cent, which is much cheaper than he can get merchandise on a credit.

JEMISON NEWS

Mrs. W. C. Erwin, Correspondent

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the farmers and business men of Jemison and community at the school auditorium next Saturday, May 14, for the purpose of establishing a shipping point at Jemison for strawberries and other truck crops. Mr. C. J. Hayden, horticulturist, of Athens, will be present and will speak on the growing and marketing of truck crops. All who are interested are urgently requested to attend this meeting.—Committee, J. A. Sims, C. C. Conway, Felix Eiland, H. H. Hays, J. P. Montgomery, W. H. Conway, W. C. Erwin.

The fifth annual commencement of the Jemison High School will begin May 20. The programs are arranged as follows: Friday, May 20, at 5:30 will be the May Day Festival. This promises to be an entertainment of unusual charm and beauty. It will interest the old as well as the young. This program is under the direction of Miss Catherine Coleman, the music teacher. Price of admission will be 25c and 35c. Maybe it will be interesting to know this will be an outdoor festival. Baccalaureate, Sunday, May 22; the preacher will be announced later. Monday, May 23, at 8 p. m., the Senior Class play, "Cranberry Corners," will be given. If you like good plays you will enjoy seeing this one, as it is filled with humor, pathos, and mystery. Admission 25c and 50c. Tuesday, May 24, at 8 p. m., will be given to Class Day exercises, followed by awarding of honor certificates by the County Superintendent of Education, and the presentation of diplomas by the principal. Everyone has a cordial invitation to attend these exercises.

The following are the little pupils of the first grade who have made an average of 95 and over during the entire year: Helen Hayes, Eujean Erwin, Chas. E. Robinson, Earnest Robinson, Jr., Clarence Smith, Hermon Elson, Stanley Campbell; those with an average of 90 are Wallace Glasscock, Johnnie Cofer, Woodie Rasberry, Margaret Robinson, Therman Childress, Lera Dee Conway, Lona Duke, Ruth Davis, Douglas Martin, Truman Glasscock. These little fellows have had Miss Mary Clements as their teacher, and she, too, should have special mention of the care and love she has had for these little children all during the school. With such a teacher as she, surely the love of school has been implanted in every little heart.

Last Saturday night the hand of God touched the life of the beloved Mr. J. P. Gentry and called him from this life to the brighter. Mr. Gentry had been in ill health for a long time, and his death was not entirely unexpected. However, his many friends had not become reconciled to the thought, and it was a saddening surprise. Should we grieve of the departure of our aged loved ones and friends? A life's race run with cares, toils, snares, and temptations, surely the vision of the blissful eternal shore is happiness for them with a precious promise left to all, "You, too, can share God's home." His remains were laid to rest in Mars Hill cemetery Sunday afternoon. We extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved wife, children, other relatives, and friends. "God giveth and taketh"—young and old. "His will must be done." We should be submissive.

A very sweet and impressive Mothers Day program was rendered at the Baptist church Sunday. Mother—the sweetest name on earth; do we think what it means every day?

Miss Otis Merchant of Birmingham spent the week end here with relatives.

Mrs. Ervin Mims is spending this week in Wetumpka.

Miss Ruby Gulley spent the week end in Tuscaloosa with her parents.

Miss Nell Wells of Montevallo College spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Miss Cruise returned Monday morning after spending the week end in Birmingham.

Farm Meeting Held At Jemison Last Saturday

DISCUSSION OF SHIPPING POINT FOR STRAWBERRIES AND OTHER TRUCK CROPS

A very enjoyable meeting was held here Saturday when about 100 interested farmers met for the discussion of establishing a shipping point at Jemion for strawberries and other truck crops. Mr. Hayden of the L. & N. Railroad Co., gave a very encouraging talk and told of the success of other truck crops which he is familiar with over the state.

Thorsby has a wide awake association which the farmers and business men in and around here appreciate and seem as though Thorsby has the more advantage of the opportunity to make its association a county wide affair with Thorsby as headquarters. To expand this organization and establish shipping points where needed means a much larger strawberry and truck production. Marshall County, Alabama, has one organization, one town as headquarters, where all products are sold, with shipping points over the county where needed and most convenient. As one point of advantage, this county's trawberries averaged $1 per crate more than any other county in north Alabama.

Everyone present showed much interest and seemed to prefer a county wide association, and the history of strawberry production shows that where shipping points are not established new associations always come up.

At the suggestion of Mr. Hayden a committee was appointed to meet with the Thorsby association, and to confer with other towns in the county for this discussion. We truly hope and feel the necessity of the County Wide Fruit and Truck Growers Association. Therefore, co-operation with and from you equals profit and success to us all. Let's go!

Mother's Day Program Held At East View

MRS. TAYLOR REPRESENTED BAPTIST HOSPITAL WITH TOUCHING APPEAL

Our Mothers Day program Sunday was splendid. Old and young alike enjoyed the occasion. We were glad to see so many at Sunday school. After Sunday school, the program began. Rev. Nelson gave us a splendid talk on what Mothers Day means. We thank Mrs. Billy Hand of Clanton for her splendid talk, and Mrs. Huff Burkhalter for her interesting talk and the help and encouragement she gave the boys and girls with the program. We thank Mrs. C. A. Taylor of Montgomery for her talk. She made a wonderful talk on "How you are cared for at the Baptist Hospital at Selma." Everyone enjoyed the talks made during the day. A number of beautiful songs were sung during the program, including a duet by Miss Lela Taylor and Mrs. Jim Williams. After the close of the program we were dismissed for dinner, by Rev. Nelson.

A bountiful dinner was spread inside the church, which everyone enjoyed.

We gathered again at 1:30, and found a class composed of good singers and everyone in the spirit to sing. After singing one song, prayer was offered by J. W. Castleberry. The directors were Messrs. Malburn Taylor, Jim Williams, Huff Burkhalter, Marshal Burkhalter, Raymond Brigance; Misses Elizabeth and Essie Griffin, Harvey Castleberry and J. W. Castleberry. Organists were Mrs. Jim Williams, Miss Lela Taylor, and Mrs. Bell Nelson. Several quartets were arranged by Prof. J. M. Williams, Malburn Taylor, Huff and Marshal Burkhalter. Only Three More Weeks And $100 in Prizes be Given Away by Banner

Several Contestants Holding Out Faithful, Determined to Win One of These Valuable Prizes

Thursday, June 9th, sees the closing chapter of the Union-Banner's missing word contest. This unique page of advertising by local merchants and business men began in this paper on March 17th and was to continue for thirteen consecutive weeks, and the close will come after three more publications after this week.

The contest manager of the Banner is pleased to state that this campaign to create more and better reading of our advertising has been very gratifying indeed. We have received these pages with missing words marked everywhere from New York to Key West, and we now have bushels of them to be graded after the game is finished.

We will commend each and everyone who have taken the interest they have in reading and marking these advertisements, because it will be a wonderful help even to those who do not get a prize. It will create in them the habit of noticing what they read and getting the meaning out of it. It is good for our subscribers to read what our merchants and business men have in store for them. If a merchant cares enough for his customers to invite them in his place of business by advertising in the papers, it shows that he has something worth while for them. People always profit by being guided by good sound adertising such as is always carried in the columns of The Union-Banner.

Salvation Army Service Held At the Methodist Church Last Sunday Night

A sweet little angel went over the sea,
With the emblem of God in her hand;
A sweet little angel,
Who brought there to me
The sweets of a war furrowed land.

The crown on her head was a ribbon of red,
The emblem of all that's divine;
Tho she called each a brother,
She's more like a mother—
Salvation lassie of mine.

Last Sunday night at the Methodist church this beautiful chorus reached the hearts of a large and sympathetic audience, as it was sung by Envoy Leonard Campbell of the Salvation Army, who was here, accompanied by Captain and Mrs. W. M. Preston, corps officers for this territory, from Montgomery.

This unusual service was arranged through the co-operation of the pastors of Clanton churches, and was opened with a few introductory remarks by Rev. Cox, pastor of the Methodist church, and the meeting was turned over to the officers of the Salvation Army, who brought to the large union congregation a vivid picture of the work of the Army thruout this section.

Envoy Campbell, who was the principal speaker, used as his subject, "Out of the trash heap, but pieces of silver still," basing his subject on a few verses from the 8th chapter of St. Luke, which had a telling effect upon his listeners. The speaker ably used his subject to impress his congregation with the fact that regardless of how deep humanity might sink into the dregs of sin and degradation, that through the power of Jesus Christ, they may be reclaimed.

Pointing out the many phases of the work of the Salvation Army, Envoy Campbell said that primarily, the work of the Salvation Army was to bring men and women to Christ, but to clothe the naked, feed the hungry, visit the sick and imprisoned, was a part of the work of the Salvation Army, because that was also a commandment from God.

At the close of the service and in response to an appeal for funds with which to carry on the activities of the organization in this territory the congregation made a cash contribution of $80.25 to the cause, and were graciously thanked by the officers for their liberal contributions.

The benediction was pronounced by Dr. S. J. Ezell, pastor of the Baptist Church.

PROGRAM CARRIED OUT AT THE CENTRAL ALABAMA HOSPITAL

Annual hospital day was observed at the Central Alabama Hospital in Clanton, when the public was extended an invitation to visit this institution. Many friends of the hospital, among whom were several of the former patients, were present to greet the hospital staff, and to show their interest in and appreciation of the Central Alabama Hospital as a very valuable community institution.

The student body and teachers of the Clanton Grammar School were present in a solid unit. They occupied seats on the grass in front of the building during the exercises.

The front porch of the hospital building was used as a stage. From there the visitors were entertained with addresses from Dr. V. J. Gragg, president of the Hospital, and Rev. Buford Lawrence, County Superintendent of Education of Chilton County. The remarks of these two distinguished persons were enjoyed very much indeed.

Rev. Lawrence spoke to the children, and he proved a master at the art of talking so a child can understand. He talked health and hospitals to them in a way that evidently impressed in their young minds some very valuable points.

This was the first attempt at observing hospital day in Clanton. Promise is given that next year much more effort will be given toward making the occasion one that shall appeal to every person in the county.

NEW PRODUCTION RECORD SET BY CHEVROLET

Spurred on by the greatest demand in its history, Chevrolet in April set up a production record with a total output for the month of 111,937 units. This exceeds by 4,037 units the best previous monthly performance in the history of the company and establishes an all-time record for the monthly production of gear-shift cars.

Equally as spectacular as the remarkable monthly production feat, and dividing the spotlight with it was the mark established April 29, when in the short space of a day's working hours, the factories built 5,347 Chevrolet cars and trucks. This was 272 units in excess of the best previous day's record.

It was particularly fitting that the record day happened to be the same one that Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., President of the General Motors Corporation, chose for a visit to the Flint plant. Mr. Sloan, with C. S. Mott, Vice President of the General Motors Corporation, arrived at the factory early in the day as guests of W. S. Knudsen, President, and C. F. Barth, Vice President of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Before Mr. Sloan had completed his inspection of the big Flint plant, where men and machinery were combining to build the eight types of Chevrolet cars now available, it was evident that a new production record was in sight.

Mr. Sloan waited for number 5,347 to come off the line, congratulated Mr. Knudsen on the remarkable showing being made by the Chevrolet Motor Company and its product, and rode off the line in the epoch-marking model which again happened to be a coach.

People Are Learning the Value of Occasional Use.

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A diuretic performs a similar function to the kidneys. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills, occasionally, to insure good elimination which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 grateful users have given Doan's signed recommendations. Scarcely a community but has its representation. Ask your neighbor!

"I have been using Nitrate of Soda for about twenty-five years with fine results. On cotton I have side-dressed with Nitrate of Soda immediately after chopping out at the rate of 50 to 100 lbs. per acre. Since the boll weevil came I have used Nitrate of Soda under my cotton to push it forward and make it early as possible. On corn, I put 75 to 100 lbs. around the crop when knee to waist high with good results. On oats I broadcast 100 lbs. per acre about March 1st."
J. W. Gaston,
Breeder of Gaston's Cleveland

St. Matthews, S. C.
"We have used Nitrate of Soda with splendid and profitable results since we began farming in 1908. Since the advent of the Boll Weevil, one half to two thirds of the ammonia used in our mixtures under the cotton has been derived from Nitrate of Soda. This fertilizer has been mixed to analyze 10-4-2. After first or second choppings, according to conditions and seasons, 100 to 150 pounds of Nitrate of Soda is applied as top-dressing.
In 1925, with only 500 lbs. per acre of the above named mixture and 100 lbs. of Nitrate of Soda, applied last week in May, we produced an average of 1800 lbs. of seed cotton per acre.
In attaining rapid and heavy fruiting, we have found Nitrate of Soda to be of inestimable value."
The Wannamaker Cleveland Seed Farms,
W. W. Wannamaker,
Chief Plant Breeder

HAVE you got a few hens around the place? You know how the right feed at the right time o' year will help to start them laying and keep them laying.

Same way with cotton. A little extra "feed" at chopping time does wonders with it.

Thousands of clear headed men just like you have proved that side-dressing with 150 to 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda gives them handsomely increased yields, over and above fields not side-dressed.

No matter what fertilizer you have under your cotton, side-dressing at chopping time helps it to set its squares and get a strong healthy growth right when it is most needed. That beats the boll weevil and makes bale-to-the-acre yields easily possible.

Side-dressing does great things for corn, too.

Do you want to make sure of a paying cotton crop? It is easy.

Just cut out this advertisement and write your name and address in the margin. Then mail it to us. We will send you, without one penny of cost, our little book "Side-Dressing Cotton and Corn." Our manager is a practical cotton grower and knows just what conditions call for here in "Bama," the Cotton State.

The Red Cross committee of Thorsby, consisting of Mr. C. S. Howard, chairman; Mr. J. P. Sorensen, Treasurer, and Mrs. Sereno E. Norton, Secretary, take this opportunity of making a report to the community of monies left in their charge in 1918. This money was left in the hands of above committee for local purposes. $25.00 has been spent in the past, as the discretion of the committee for local needs, the remainder has been in the bank on interest. When reports come to us of the terrible suffering in the Mississippi Valley, the committee consulted together and also with other members of the community and decided that as this was Red Cross money, a part of it at least ought to be sent for relief for the flood sufferers. On May 10, 1927 there was $124.12 to the credit of the committee in the bank. $50.00 of this was left in the bank for our future needs, leaving $74.12. Added to this was 88 cents, making $75.00 which has been given for flood relief.—Mrs. Sereno E. Norton, Sec.

The Senior Class of Thorsby Institute had a picnic party last week. It was held on Friday, the 13th day of the month. There were 19 members in the class, and they report it the best ever. Immediately after chool closed, the young people boarded a truck and went to Lock 12, a ride of about 45 minutes, Miss Lois Hawkes going with them as chaperone. On reaching the Lock, Mr. Lakeman escorted them through the plant and power house, in all of which the class were very much interested. After the inspection they went to the banks of Yellowleaf Creek and enjoyed a picnic supper; and a visit to the Lakeman home. Following are the members of the class: Ragnar Ekblad, President; Hudson Williams, Vice President; Jean Johnson, Treasurer; Onzell Eiland Treasurer; Dorothy Butler, Betty Lakeman, Olin Williams, Ronald Lucas, Dessie Robinson, Willie Littlejohn, Marcelle Wilder, Virginia Lindsay, Meryl Freeman.

NEW DRINKING FOUNT AT COURT HOUSE INSTALLED

Visitors to Clanton henceforth should have no worries about plenty of ice water to drink. There has been installed in the lobby of the court house an up-to-date sanitary drinking fountain which stays loaded with ice water all the time. All you have to do is turn on the faucet and open your mouth and the old thirst is gone.

There are two drinking places, one inside the lobby and one on the portico in front to the right of the main entrance.

THE UNITED SINGING SOCIETY'S BIG DAY

The United Singing Society has become popularly known all over Chilton County. For the past four or five years you have read of it in the county papers, you have heard people speak of it, and you have heard of its activities here and there. The society enjoys the support and cooperation of several of the progressive communities of north Chilton, and we dare say that such support and co-operation is not in vain, but that these communities are reaping untold benefits toward good from the efforts they are exerting toward this singing society.

Heretofore the United Singing Society has accomplished great things musically and have made themselves proud, but we feel safe in saying that they established a new landmark in their career last Sunday at Collins Chapel. Nothing save the Chilton County Singing Convention of eight years ago ever had a greater singing than was enjoyed at this place last Sunday. The class was there, the directors were there, the quartets were there, and what little space left in the house was taken up by anxious and attentive listeners.

The class singing both in the morning and afternoon was just as fine as could be, and the quartets brought out applause from the audience every time they took the floor. And the dinner was there in all its glory and bountiness. The people of Collins Chapel fed the folks and there was plenty left after all were filled.

There is nothing in the world that furnishes better food and sustenance for the soul than good sacred singing. Anything that helps to advance singing helps the cause of God on earth; hence, we are constrained to say, "Long live the United Singing Society."

OUTLOOK IS GOOD

In spite of the prophets of evil, who are always with us in some form, there is no reason, according to the best judgment of those in touch with the business situation of the country, to feel that the balance of the present year will be anything but prosperous, in the country at large.

Easter trade, it is said, was generally good where the weather conditions were at all favorable, the tire manufacturers have had a big year so far, and the cotton goods industry is decidedly on the up-grade. In addition, the building records for March show that it was the best March in a long time for construction. It is true that the Mississippi floods have created an adverse situation in certain sections of the country, but it is not thought that this will affect the national situation.

One significant statement given out by the National City Bank in its May resume of the business situation is to the effect that "clearly the difficulties from which industry is suffering are to a large extent the result of the intense and destructive competition which prevails within it."

The free traders have for years told us that a protective tariff destroys competition in the home market and promotes monopoly. Evidently this has not been the case with the present tariff law.

From the farming districts there comes, of course, some complaint, in certain sections of the Middle West. But, according to statistics gathered in Iowa in banking interests, the sale of farm land in that great corn state is on the increase and things are looking up.

Evidently this is no time for business pessimism so far as the United States is concerned. The principal thing we have to do is to refrain from rocking the boat.

Squire S. E. Waldrup of Jemison Route 1 was a visitor to Clanton Monday. Mr. Waldrup used to be county commissioner from the first district and came to see us quite often. But his visits now are few and far between, as he is getting old and does not go about as much as when he was younger and more active.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would heal, but now this has disappeared, and I am sure that it was S. S. S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

LOW RATES for time payments on these cars

ANY FAMILY entitled to credit may buy a General Motors car and pay for it while using it, under the GMAC Plan.

When time payments first became an accepted form of car purchase, General Motors organized its own finance company, the General Motors Acceptance Corporation, to make sure that the sale of its cars on time would be in the buyer's interest and that the finance charges would be fair.

GMAC rates have always been low; and the last reduction has saved General Motors' customers more than $12,000,000.

The General Motors line includes "a car for every purse and purpose"—a suitable model for every income. You can buy it out of income, paying no more than the cash delivered price, plus only the low GMAC financing charge. And the whole transaction is so conducted as to keep your goodwill and satisfaction.

Nitrogen Is Big Factor in Better Yields of Cotton

A number of tests conducted by Southern experiment stations clearly show the importance of nitrogen in fertilizing cotton. At the South Carolina and Alabama Stations, for example, experiments have shown that the increased yields of cotton obtained by increasing the amount of nitrogen in a fertilizer were much greater than where increased amounts of either phosphoric acid or potash were applied.

Nitrogen must be relied upon for increasing yields per acre, and when an insufficient amount is furnished in the fertilzer applied at planting it is obvious that side dressings must be made to insure the profitable production of the crop which is obtained through high yields per acre. Side dressings of nitrate of soda are important for furnishing this nitrogen because the average mixed fertilizer applied at planting is out of proportion as regards the percentage of nitrogen.

Home mixing of fertilizers is increasing in popularity. By buying his nitrate of soda, acid phosphate and potash and mixing his own fertilizer, the farmer is absolutely sure of the materials he is using, knows that he is getting the best and generally saves a nice sum of money. Where home mixing is followed it is often advisable to put only a part of the nitrate of soda under the crop and the remainder as a side dressing after chopping.

WE APPRECIATE YOUR PATRONAGE

We are indeed grateful for the splendid business given us during the past, and assure our customers, patrons and friends that we will do everything in our power to merit a continuance of same.

Realizing that today, people who have money to spend are ever on the look-out for the place where it will go the farthest, we keep a close watch over our overhead, which is the secret of our success in offering higher grade merchandise at even less prices than you are asked to pay for an inferior item at other places.

We do not employ expensive sales forces, buy high priced show cases, or put on a fancy front in appearance, as this is worthless to our customers. But instead, we maintain a full line of merchandise generally found in any dry goods store, and without the extra expenses referred to above, and are naturally in position to offer our customers STANDARD ARTICLES FOR LESS.

Our store is located less than a block from the high rent section of town, and we believe that you will agree with us when we say that the difference in rent alone is a big item in the way of saving, all of which allows us to mark our goods lower.

—WALK A BLOCK AND SEE THE DIFFERENCE—

We do not buy "blind folded" when something new comes out. Yet, you will generally find all the latest styles and designs at our store, and only buying what we can sell assures our customers that the merchandise is new and not out-of-date.

★This statement is based on facts. We picked at random 1500 motorists who were testing Michelin Tires opposite other brands on the same car. 84% said their Michelins lasted longer than the other makes they were using.

Here's Our Bid for your tire business

"No matter what tires you are now using, we promise you more mileage if you will buy MICHELIN TIRES of us!"

How can we make this sweeping promise? Well, just consider the facts:

FACT 1—Written reports have been secured from over 1500 motorists picked entirely at random except that all were testing various makes of tires opposite Michelins. 84% said they secured more mileage from their Michelins than from the other tires they were using.

FACT 2—In Detroit, the home of the automobile, in a vote taken among all of the 984 tire dealers, more dealers voted for Michelin as the best tire than for any other make.

FACT 3—During the past three years Michelin sales have grown three times as fast as the tire industry as a whole. Something more than words did that.

FACT 4—Records covering over a million miles show that, on an average, Michelins give 36% more mileage than other tires.

FACT 5—Back in 1895 Michelin was the world's first pneumatic auto tire. Today Michelin is still first, and over 25,000 tire builders are kept busy trying to supply the great world-wide demand for Michelins.

But in addition to quality there's another factor—Price. We sell Michelins at the price of standard tires. Think of that. Then ask yourself: "Don't I owe it to myself to give these fellows a chance?"

WETS ARE DIVIDED

Westerville, O., May 18.—"The Butler-Borah debate recently held in Boston on the question of prohibition clearly emphasizes the fact that the wets are hopelessly divided as to the method of procedure to get back their booze," says the current issue of the American Issue, the official publication of the Anti-Saloon League of America, published here.

"Dr. Butler urged the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. The Chicago Tribune, representing the opinion of many wets, urges nullification as the only possibility of success. However, President Butler has considerable following, and the fact remains that the wets are hopelessly divided. On the other hand, the drys are united. They are determined that the Eighteenth Amendment shall stand and shall be enforced."

OAK GROVE

We met at the water Sunday morning and baptized Bro. Olman Davis and wife, then gathered back at the church and had Sunday School. After this Judge Reynolds delivered a lecture that was enjoyed very much. We are always glad to have the judge because we know he will give good advice, and lives what he teaches after the lecture. The pastor, Rev. J. T. Tunnell, preached a fine sermon on "Thou shalt not kill," then we were dismissed for lunch.

It was a day of good feeling; large crowd were present from Calera, South Calera, Dry Valley, Providence, Jemison, J. B. Williams and family from Fairfield. There were special songs by Rev. Baxley, J. H. Woods, Ellis Martin, W. J. Northcutt, and Mrs. Splawn.

BLEED THROUGH

SINGING AT COLLINS CHAPEL LAST SUNDAY

Last Sunday was the occasion of an all day singing at Collins Chapel. And in spite of a 30-mile gale of wind and sand which caused the building to rock, shake, and tremble, women to hold their skirts, men to chase their hats, and children to wipe their eyes and sneeze, the United Singing Society combined with other singers from the counties of Autauga, Bibb, Chilton, Shelby, and Jefferson, and rendered one of the best musical programs ever listened to in this part of the county.

In the forenoon the following directors conducted lessons of 2 songs each: T. E. Wyatt, J. W. Cagle, J. L. Harris, A. O. Boswell, Akins Collins, O. L. Devaughn, Olen and Hudson Williams, with a quartet after each director, and two solos by Paul Oden, a blind boy.

What was pronounced by many as one of the most interesting features of the day was the splendid dinner that was spread at noon. We all did eat and were filled, and there were left many times twelve baskets full, which was taken up.

By the time this was done, the house was again filled to overflowing, and the singing began in earnest, as before, with J. L. Gore as first director, followed by J. R. Robinson, H. G. Carter, L. T Grant, C. H. Robinson, A. H. Glasscock, C. N. Riggins, R. M. Robinson, J. Z. Mims, R. T. Grant, Willie Mims, two songs each.

Organists for the day were Misses Genie Collins, Maud Cox, Williams, Grant, Messrs. C. H. Robinson, W. G. Culp, Hudson Williams, who, like the other singers, did their part well in making the occasion the great success that it was.

Several selections were beautifully rendered by Prof. L. T. Grant and daughters, also by a quartet arranged by Mr. Jesse Baker, and the United Singing Society's quartet singing brought forth many cheers and brought forth high notes of praise from all who heard them.

E. L. Glasscock acted as chairman for the day, ad made everybody feel welcome and perfectly at home. The whole day was pronounced a great success, and many of those who were made acquainted with the United Singing Society's method of entertaining visitors expressed themselves as being anxious to again hear the call to come back and be with us on another occasion of this kind.

Firestone Dealers
The Mark of Quality

Have Purchased 100% More GUM-DIPPED TIRES

[This Year Compared With Same Period Last Year]

THE demand from car owners for Gum-Dipped Tires has given Firestone Dealers a large increase in volume enabling them to sell these tires to you at the lowest prices in history.

On the cars of motorists everywhere, these wonderful tires are delivering unheard-of long mileage with greater safety and comfort.

The Firestone Balloon Tread, scientifically designed three years ago, and unchanged today, follows the contour of the tire carcass with no excess rubber at the edges to cause "shoulder breaks". Narrow rider strips permit the tread to yield to depressions and cling to the road, preventing skidding. This tough, pliable tread has the wear-resisting qualities for thousands of extra miles.

Such a tread must be placed on a carcass with the qualifications to withstand the terrific flexing that this design permits. The Firestone carcass is made of cords dipped in a rubber solution which not only saturates and insulates every fiber of every cord, but unifies sidewalls with carcass, avoiding separation under the extreme flexing.

Many Firestone Dealers are prepared to offer you a liberal allowance for your old tires, on a new set of Gum-Dipped Tires to start the motoring season.

To meet a demand for a low price tire and tube, Firestone designed and manufactures, for Firestone Dealers only, Oldfield Tires and Tubes, which carry the Standard Manufacturers' Guarantee.

MANNING REUNION

On Sunday, May 1, the children of Mrs. Beatrice Manning of Mulberry gathered together at her home to celebrate a home coming in honor of their mother.

The sun shone forth in all its glorious splendor, with not a cloud in the sky, lending to all hearts a ray of sunshine and joy and happiness as befitted such an occasion. The home was decorated with spring flowers and pot plants, which gave the home an air of cheery welcome. We found the mother, Mrs. Beatrice Manning, A. B. Manning, and Miss Lona Manning to welcome us. The members began arriving at an early hour, and at noon all of the nine living children except the youngest son, Edmund M., of Lakeland, Fla., were present. A large table was placed under the shade trees in front of the home, where a bountiful basket dinner was spread. The centerpiece was a large basket of the season's choice flowers and ferns. Forming a background for the table, in line with the trees, were two large pink Dorothy Perkins rose bushes in full bloom, lending to the beauty of the scene, as the guests assembled around the table and were led in prayer by the oldest son, D. O. Manning after which all enjoyed the dinner. Throughout the afternoon, cream, cake, fruits, and lemonade were served to all relatives, and a number of friends who came to enjoy the afternoon with them. The younger set enjoyed an automobile ride, chaperoned by Miss Lillie Burks. Music was enjoyed by all, the most appropriate selection being "Mother and Home," sung by Lona, Dorothy, and Oliver Manning, and Herman White, accompanied on the organ by Miss Avolene Webb.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning, Glois Manning, Oliver Manning, Dorothy Manning, Clifford Manning, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. White, Herman White, Quinton White, Mitchell White, Melvin White, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. M. Webb, Avolene Webb, Claud Conway, Miss Lillie Burks, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. LeCroy and family, Prof. Earl Thomas, Mrs. Beatrice Manning A. B. Manning and Lona Manning of Mulberry, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Manning, Clyde Manning, Clarence Manning of Pratt City, A. R. Manning of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. M. Manning of Verbena. Last, a colored slave of the mother's father, the last slave owned by her father, came to see that the reunion was a success, by lending his services. This old darky lives near Clanton, and is 107 years old; his name is Louis Lauderdale.

A nice box of choice cake was sent to Edmund M. Manning and family at Lakeland, Fla.

Late in the afternoon we parted, thanking the Heavenly Father for the reunion, but to meet again we know not where nor when.—One who was present.

PROHIBITION HAS HELPED, NOT HINDERED HOTEL BUSINESS

Westerville, O., May 18.—"Instead of hurting the hotel business, as the wets claimed, national prohibition has been a great boon to the hotel business in the United States," according to an announcement made here today by the national headquarters of the Anti-Saloon League.

"Statistics show that 840 hotels were erected last year in the United States, representing an investment of $400,000,000, and it is estimated an additional $300,000,000 will be spent this year on new hotel buildings. This sum does not include the cost of sites. Moreover, old hotels will spend $50,000,000 in rebuilding and new apartment hotels costing $800,000,000 are in prospect.

"This doesn't look as if prohibition had injured the hotel business. The wets will have to find a new argument."

Campaign for Farm Demonstrator to be Waged Countywide

Advocates of the proposition to employ a county farm demonstration aget in Chilton County have become aroused by the announcement that the question will be submitted to a vote of the people on June 14, and every effort is being made to make a campaign among the people to acquaint them with the advantages of having a farm agent so that there may be a favorable expression at the ballot boxes.

A meeting was held last Saturday afternoon at the court house where tentative plans were laid to tart the campaign. Mr. Jasper N. Dennis was elected chairman of the campaign. A central committee to help and advise with the chairman in furthering the campaign was selected as follows: H. G. Boyd, W. T. Bean, J. B. Atkinson, W. M. Wyatt, Dr. W. L. Parrish.

This committee held another meeting Monday night and went further into the plans of the campaign. While it was realized that the time is short between now and the election June 14, it was determined to make a supreme effort to have meetings at different places in every beat in the county at which speakers would appear to discuss the matter with the citizens and voters. A dozen or more local people will be sent out on the firing line to make speeches at these meetings, and it is practically assured that we shall have a number of speakers of state-wide prominence to help in the campaign.

The leaders in agricultural thought and progress in Chilton County have ever maintained that a county farm demonstration agent under the system now followed by the agricultural department in providing these men is one of the most needed things for our farmers. They still maintain this position; and it is their hope to so arouse the people on the question as to cause them to go to the polls on Tuesday, June 14, and cast a vote favorable to the employment of a county agent.

The commissioners court has said that they would appropriate the money for the employment of a county agent if the people want it done, and they have asked for a vote on the question. The date for this vote was set for June 14, at the same time we are to have the vote on the one-mill county tax for the support of the public schools.

The committee in charge of this campaign urges everyone in the county to put forth every possible effort to get the people out to the polls and express themselves. Every county in Alabama, except two, employs farm demonstration agents. It must surely be a good thing or some of the counties would find it out and stop it. If we employ an agent it will cost the county $1,650 a year, and if it proves dissatisfactory it can be discontinued at the end of a year.

In an agricultural sense, Chilton County is the best county in Alabama. Farming is essentially our greatest industry, and we should do more to make it profitable to those who are engaged in the work. We need to put more business into our farming. A farm demonstration agent of the kind we will get can do more to develop proper marketing facilities than any other means we can employ. We believe that every year an agent will be worth ten times what he would cost the county.

HOW MANY ACRES?

"'Tain't no use to grow no more cotton," says Weary Willie, who spends most of his time on a cracker box at the country store.

We can not agree with the country philosopher, but we do believe that every farmer should plant fewer cotton acres. But these acres should make the grower a profit even at present prices.

We know you can do it.

MARCUS SELMAN ARRESTED IN POSSESSION OF 3 GALLONS

Last Friday afternoon Sheriff Collins and Deputy Murrah went over in the Stanton neighborhood and arrested Marcus Selman on a charge of being in possession of three gallons of liquor. They located the jug in a stump hole near Selman's home and waited until he came to it. When Selman was aware of the presence of the officers he ran away, but by a little clever work he was later taken into custody and brought to jail. He was released under bond Sunday.

NIM HORTON AND SON CAUGHT OPERATING WILD CAT STILL LAST SATURDAY

Sheriff Dudley Collins and his deputies invaded Stumps Hills again last Saturday and came back with Nim Horton and his son, Noah Horton, under arrest for operating a wildcat still. The men were caught with the still in full operation. They were brought to jail. The elder Horton was later released on bond. The boy is still in jail at this writing.

UNCLE JIM MIMS ASKS TO BE ACQUITTED OF THE CHARGE

Uncle Jim Mims of Jemison has requested The Union-Banner to clear him of a charge wherein someone up near his home has said that he, Mr. Mims, had written a letter to The Union-Banner and denounced or criticized the practice of merchants closing their stores for a half holiday on Thursdays during the summer.

Uncle Jim is not guilty, fellows. You have got the wrong pig by the ear. You are thinking about a letter that was published on May 14, 1925, signed by nine farmers, who pledged themselves to "stick to" those merchants in Clanton who had refused to close their stores on Thursday afternoons during the summer. The name of one of the signers of that document was J. M. Mims, all right, but it was not J. M. Mims of Collins Chapel. It was J. M. Mims who lives east of Clanton near Temple Church.

Reynolds Calls Attention to Importance Of Voting for One-Mill School Tax Levy

To the Voters of Chilton County:

Will you please give me the opportunity to discuss briefly the election June 14, 1927, to decide whether or not Chilton County will levy a one-mill tax. In the first place, it appears to me that the question of the education of our boys and girls is one of the most important questions that we are called upon to consder, and we should not ignore our duty in this matter without a thorough consideration of the question. Personally, I have not favored a great many attempts to raise our taxes, on the other hand I have not opposed every movement increasing taxes, but I do feel that if there is any question that deserves due consideration from the hands of every voter, male and female, it should be the education of our children. We must keep in mind that our sister counties of the state no doubt will go forward in education and we must always give our children the essentials of education that will enable them to keep step with other boys and girls, who are given this opportunity. Our prosperity, our business, and our vocations must in the face of this question take a second place to the training of the youth of the country.

However, I might say that I am as much opposed to the waste and extravagance of the tax payers' money as any person in the county, but I believe we have a county board of education and a county superintendent of education who are doing their best for schools and will put every penny derived from this tax directly to the benefit of the school children. In fact they have stated that it will be used in this way and not for overhead expenses.

On the other hand, I do not believe that a voter should vote for this tax simply because it is for the schools until you as a voter, are convinced that your children and other children will be directly benefitted by this tax. Therefore, will you indulge with me in placing before you a few brief arguments; why I think no wise voter in Chilton County, however poor, can afford to vote against this one-mill tax. First, we have in Chilton County about $15,000,000 of taxable property, and of this the Alabama Power Company has about $7,000,000, the railroad companies and other foreign corporations have about $3,000,000. In other words, in simple figures, when $4.00 is paid in Chilton County for the education of your boys and girls, $3.00 of this $4.00 is paid by said corporations. The other $1.00 is paid by the patrons and tax payers of Chilton County. Does it not seem that if these corporations would pay $3.00 the patrons of the boys and girls will be willing to pay $1.00? In the next place a bill is before the Legislature to appropriate about $1,000,000 a year to equal the school term, bring all schools up to at least 7 months. This money is proposed to be raised by levying a tax on certain commodities which we use in this county as well as other counties, and we tax payers will help pay this tax whenever you buy these commodities, whether you vote for this one-mill tax or not. Now here is the main point at issue. If we do not vote this one-mill school tax the people of Chilton County will pay their pro rata share of this $1,000,000 appropriations, and the school will get no part of the same in return. But if we do vote for the one-mill tax the schools of Chilton County will get her pro rata part of the $1,000,000 appropriation for her schools and will be equalized and greatly benefitted thereby. In this instance, therefore, is there any escape from the course that the voters of Chilton County ought to pursue? On the other hand if we don't vote this one-mill tax we pay our part of this $1,000,000 appropriation and get nothing for the schools; on the other hand if we vote for this one-mill tax for schools we pay our part of this $1,000,000 appropriation, but materially aid the cause of education in our county. Not only that, but if we fail to vote this tax, our schools, especially the rural schools, will drag along with four or five months terms while other counties who do vote this tax will be getting seven months in every school.

The next fact to consider is that the average tax payer of Chilton County will pay about 50 cents additional tax if this tax is voted. I know the argument has been used before, and that it has been a raise here and a raise there, but that fact, my friends, should not be a cause of denying at this time our schools. This great aid they will get at the price we have to pay, and especially is this true when to a great extent it is for our child today and the men and women of tomorrow. The man who pays $5.00 tax will pay 50 cents additional if this one mill school tax is voted. And for 50 cents as average, if this man has two or three children, those children will have the benefit of attending a full seven months school term instead of possibly four or five.

I think if any voter will consider the return Chilton County will get for what Chilton County pays out, no doubt that he will go to the polls on June 14 and vote for this one mill tax. I do not think it necessary that I present a brief in favor of education, a it seems to me this is an accepted fact everywhere, and it is not necessary for the argument to be raised that if we have education we must pay for it as we must pay for everything else we get, and as stated, our county board of education and superintendent of education have demonstrated the fact that this additional tax will not go for teachers salaries or any overhead expenses, but will go directly to prolonging the school term of our schools, and also that our county board of education and superintendent have demonstrated on numerous occasions that the people of the county will always have a chance to express their wishes and their wishes will always be considered by the board.

If we have been prejudiced against any additional tax in the past, and if we have thought that some of the officials have used some of the money or that our tax has gone for overhead expenses, or that taxes were too heavy, let us forget all this and any prejudice we might have and study this question seriously, and forget any dissatisfaction, politics, personally or otherwise, and vote for the youth of our country. We must remember that our opportunity will be lost if this one-mill tax is voted down and we will be helping pay this $1,000,000 appropriation mentioned about for the next four years at least, and the other boys and girls of the tate will be drawing the part that rightly belongs to Chilton County.

I wish the electorate and patrons would discuss the matter and would ask questions and look at both sides of this question; I will be glad to answer any question that I am able, and if I do not know I will try to find out for you if you will drop me a letter.

Now in conclusion, remember that it takes a three-fifths of the voting electorate to carry this tax, and the day is June 14. Your business can not be too urgent to justify you in failing to do your part for the boys and girls of our county. Let us not forget on this day our children who are trodding along over the hill to the little red schoolhouse for four or five months in the year, which is inadequate. Let us vote to give them a full term in order that they may go forward well prepared with education to fight the great battles of life.

This cause is calling us as it has never before in Chilton County, and I sincerely hope that no voter will fail to respond in favor of the one-mill tax on June 14th.—L. H. Reynolds, Chairman of the Campaign Committee.

LINDBERGH CROSSED THE ATLANTIC

American genius, combined with supreme daring and iron nerve, triumphed again last week when Capt. Charles Lindbergh successfully accomplished his airplane flight alone from New York to Paris. The successful aviator is a comparative youth of 25 years, a German-American born in Detroit. He had been dubbed "the flying fool," but withal he was able to show some good tricks to many ambitious fliers, much older heads than himself. The trip was made in about thirty-six hours.

Lindbergh recently flew his plane from San Diego, California, to New York without a stop.

The eyes of the world are now upon the latest addition to America's long list of outstanding heroes and hardy pioneers.

FORMER CHILTON CITIZEN SERIOUSLY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT AT BIRMINGHAM

Birmingham, Ala., May 23.—His skull fractured when he was hit by a passing auto, W. C. Giles, age 57, of 330 Seventh st., n., lay at the point of death in St. Vincent's hospital Monday afternoon. He was hit near his home, as he was walking across Third Avenue at Seventh Street. The driver of the auto which struck Giles was going at a high rate of speed, and failed to stop after striking the man, witnesses said.

Giles was thrown several feet and sustained a compound fracture of the skull, it was found at the hospital where he was taken by Lige Loy. Motorcycle officers made a hasty search for the driver immediately after the accident, but no trace of him was found. Police were continuing their hunt for him. Officers Gibson and Murchison who were near the scene, investigated.

The party referred to above is better known in Clanton and Chilton County as Clemmon Giles, he having lived in Clanton up until some six or seven years ago, when he and his family moved to Birmingham.

A telephone message to Uncle John Giles at Clanton, uncle of the injured man, Tuesday night from the hospital, stated that he was resting fairly well, but was still unconscious.

J. H. MARTIN DON'T WANT TAX

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to say just a few words in regard to the one-mill tax election to be held on June 14, 1927.

I am sorry some of our leaders are so money thirsty. This one-mill tax has been voted down two times by the people of this county, and I can't see why they just keep on putting the county to this expense of holding elections when they know it will be defeated.

Anyone is crazy to vote tax on himself. If you will just wait till fall Bibb Graves and the Legislature will put more tax on you than you will feel like paying. I am looking for a 2-cent raise on gas, and also they are talking of putting a $5.00 license on each person who drives a car in the state, and you will have that to pay, or let your lizzie stand in the stall.

Mr. Graves has also asked the Legislature to raise taxes this fall to put $4,000,000 more in the state treasury. So you can easily see that your tax will be raised to the limit without you voting any on yourself.

This one-mill tax will not help your school to run one day longer. It will all be taken up like the state's money—go to new offices, and increase some few salaries.

If the bosses want to economize let them cut all the schools to seven months and cut the teachers salaries 20%, and make them teach school 8 hours each day. Your child is only allowed one grade each school year, and I say if it is properly taught it will make the grade in 7 months. We need schools, not frolics and ball games like is being carried on at the present. Just cut the school to 7 months and teach 8 hours each day and see what the results will be.

There will be money left in the treasury at the end of the school year under the present school system.

The teachers are no better to have their wages cut than the poor old farmer, and the farmer gets his cut on every hand. Then, why not cut the stiff collar man just a little? Let's leave off the one-mill tax and see if we can't make the farmer's burden lighter. Let's not heap coals on his back, for we cannot do without them.

So, on June 14, go to the polls and let's kill the one-mill tax for the third time.

As to the county demonstrator, we don't need him at all. Our county has gotten along better without him than it did with him.

So, remember June 14—go to the polls, and let's snow it all under!—J. H. Martin.

WORK BEGUN ON NEW SCHOOLHOUSE

Prof. J. L. Wilson informs us that work was begun on the new Thomas Schoolhouse, four miles south of Clanton, last Monday. Prof. Wilson authorized the following statement concerning the school:

"We have only four months in which to erect this building and get it ready for school work. We are going to push it forward with all possible haste. We lack some little bit of having our finances complete for the job, but we feel that we have a bunch of citizens and patrons whom we can depend on, and we have full confidence that the necessary money will come in time to get the building completed according to schedule. I can guarantee this one thing — we are going to have a school of which any community might well be proud."

Continuing his discussion of plans, Mr. Wilson closed his remarks by saying, "I want you to express for us our thanks and gratitude to everyone who has helped us in making our new school possible. The folks have been good to us, and we are truly thankful."

Conditions Point to Good Business for Nation it is Claimed

New York, May 22.—Although there continued to be a few restraining factors, the preponderance of evidence last week pointed to a satisfactory stability of business in America. The Mississippi flood was still a force to be considered, and the slowing up of steel production was an adverse development. Cecession in steel, however, was regarded as seasonal.

Remarks of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, before the annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute, created an optimistic attitude, when he declared that there was no evidence of any barriers to a continuation of good business. The business survey of the federal reserve board also gave indication of a fundamental soundness in American commerce.

Car loadings crossed the million mark for the fifth week of the year, again making up the losses which had been sustained a few weeks earlier because of the coal strike and the middle western floods. A substantial gain over the corresponding period of last year was recorded, largely in consequence of a sharp increase in miscellaneous freight shipments. The total fell off slightly, however, from the figure of the preceding week.

Improvements and additions to railroad property, in progress and in prospect, resulting in marked activity among railroad equipment manufacturers, gave impetus to one phase of business. Repairs necessitated by flood conditions will add numerous orders to those ordinarily given in the way of maintenance and current replacements.

The motor trade appeared to be in first class condition, with indications that production for the first half of the year will exceed that of the same period of 1926. Retail buying of automobiles, responsive to weather conditions, was reported highly satisfactory. The used car situation is understood to be sufficiently under control that it does not interfere seriously with the new car movement.

Signs of recovery in the building industry continued to be plentiful. Some cities have reported building activities 25% or so ahead of last year around this time. Oil production has not yielded to any great extent to the efforts of producers to correct the unsettlement of the industry.

Textiles displayed further irregularities, with retail distribution in many quarters held back by adverse weather conditions. Cotton goods were still active, and a more cheerful feeling was rising in the woolens trade. Wholesale buying on the whole was quieter.

Grain prices held up well, in view of a prospective shortage of crops resulting from floods and storms, although there was a falling off in export demand. Livestock, particularly heavyweight cattle, sold well during the week.

Money rates were slightly easier, with new arrivals of gold from abroad. Bank clearings gained over the preceding week, as well as over the corresponding period of last year. Material increases over the two comparative weeks also were recorded by bank debits.

CARL GORE UNDER ARREST FOR DISTURBING PUBLIC WORSHIP

Carl Gore was arrested and put under bond Monday morning on a charge of disturbing religious worship at Cane Creek last Saturday night. The charge was preferred by citizens who were present and taking part in the services at the time of the disturbance. Cane Creek citizens seem to be following the example of Providence, which, if done by people in every part of the county, would soon put a stop to much of the violence which is engaged in by thoughtless and disrespecting persons.

TOM WILLIAMS ARRESTED

Tom Williams, who lives on Swift Creek, was arrested by Sheriff Collins Monday on a warrant from the Probate Court charging him with desertion and non-support of his wife. He was placed under bond.

FIVE ARRESTED WITH LIQUOR AT PROVIDENCE

Five boys, Mason and Milstead Snider, Otis Glen, Kern Sanderlin, and Cornelius Lewis, were arrested by Sheriff Collins and Deputy Murrah, at Providence Beat 16 last Sunday on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

Regular services will be held at the Clanton Baptist Church next Sunday morning, but there will be no services Sunday night on account of the revival at the Methodist church.

BLEED THROUGH

DOES EDUCATION PAY THE FARMERS?

The value of an education to a farmer can be discussed in terms of dollars and cents. Analysis of surveys made in 12 widely separated states shows conclusively that the years spent in high school and college are well repaid by increased earning capacity when farm activities are undertaken, and that even a common school education is distinctly more advantageous financially than no education at all.

A compilation of data on the subject, assembled from several sources, has been issued in the form of a mimeographed circular, "Does Education Pay the Farmer?" by F. A. Merrill, of the Extension Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture. The surveys used in this compilation offer a very fair cross section of the country. To illustrate, it was found in Texas that every day spent by a child in school might be considered worth $9. This estimate was arrived at by taking $20,000 as the total earnings of an uneducated laborer over a per- of 40 years, and $40,000 as the total earnings of the high school graduate who had spent 12 school years of approximately 180 days each in acquiring training. The gain in wages, $20,000, due to these 2,160 days of school, represents a value of $9.25 a day while the instruction lasted. The annual net profits of Georgia farmers without any schooling were found to average $240, while those who had common school education earned $565.50, high school graduates earned $664.50, and those who completed an agricultural college course earned $1,254. Those who had taken only a short course earned $895.95, or almost three times as much as those with no education at all. In Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, and Kansas, the surveys showed again that the men receiving the best training made the largest incomes in both the owner and the tenant groups. In Missouri the better educated men own 4-5 of the land they operate, keep more livestock, handle more crops with each workman employed, and do about 1-5 more business. An interesting fact brought out by the Wisconsin survey was that the farmers with high school education acquired the ownership of their farms in about 7 years, while it took 10 years for those with only a common school education to acquire a clean title. In New York among those in any given capital group, the high school graduate at any age was making more than the common school farmer several years older with the same amount of invested capital. Without exception, every study shows that the man with the greater training enjoys the greater prosperity.

MEMORIAL DAY

The Memorial season is approaching. The day is at hand when the thoughtful people of the country will stop to pay homage to the departed heroes who fought in the various wars of the republic. The day will be made occasion for appropriate exercises, for the decoration of graves of the soldiers of the republic and of other dear ones who have departed from life.

The observance of Memorial Day at the end of May became general after the great Civil War. It has been the custom of America to hallow the graves of its soldiers. This is especially appropriate because our wars have been fought for the extension of human liberty and human rights.

The veterans of the Civil War rendered a double service to their country. They saved the nation from dismemberment, a dismemberment that would have been fatal to North and South alike. And then, through their organizations, when the war was over they consistently fought in the public area the battles of patriotism and national life.

The veterans of the Civil War are rapidly passing away, and within a few years there will be left of them only a hallowed memory. This is according to the natural law of the unverse, a law from which there is no appeal.

But the work of educating the youth of the land in the doctrine of Americanism must go on. The seed planted by the veterans of by-gone days has borne fruit. Today there are younger organizations filled with the spirit of patriotism, taking up the work of those who have gone from us. The great body of the American people is still soundly patriotic. Internationalism, pacifism, and communism are active but they cannot prevail so long as our people remember the lessons of the patriots who have gone on before us.

PAN-AM GASOLINE AND MOTOR OILS
TIRES AND TUBES

Today's high-speed motors put new demands on GAS and OIL!

Because it does not burn up or dilute rapidly, this tougher oil costs less in the end. Buy your lubrication by the mile.

YOU can't depend on fuel and lubrication that you "hope is all right" in modern automobile engines. Their higher speed develops terrific heat. Heat that soon breaks down many motor oils, leaving cylinder walls and bearings exposed to grinding friction.

To meet these new demands Pan-Am developed a tougher motor oil and a clean gasoline.

The improved Pan-Am motor oil holds its body even under intense heat. Tougher, it adheres to cylinder walls and bearings, protecting them against grinding friction effectively.

And the careful Pan-Am refining process assures you of clean gasoline. It not only removes clogging dirt and corrosives but also eliminates carbon-forming elements found in many gasolines. You also get smoother power—more miles per gallon. It will pay you to insist on this tougher oil and clean gasoline. They are sold under one name by reliable dealers.

ALABAMA EDUCATION WEEK

The Governor of Alabama has set apart the week of May 25-31 as Education Week. He urges all citizens of Alabama during this week to earnestly consider our present educational conditions, and our program for the next quadrennium.

The Alabama Education Association warmly sponsors the movement. It asks all civic clubs, chambers of commerce, fraternal organizations, farm bureaus, and churches during this week to devote one program to the subject of education. In spite of this over-emphasis put lately on special days and weeks for special purposes, the Association feels this Education Week deserves everybody's co-operation.

First, Education is any state's biggest business, its greatest expense, most serious and important responsibility, and the returns on the money expended constitute the state's greatest asset. Second, if figures mean anything they prove definitely that educatio does pay even in dollars and cents. It has been demonstrated that the earning capacity of the individuals in a state is in direct proportion to the money expended on education. Particularly will this return be significant in Alabama, a great but comparatively undeveloped state. Such a state must have an educated citizenry or allow itself to be exploited by the educated men of other sections of the country. The brain as well as the brawn of Alabamians should develop her wonderful resources if they wish to reap her rich rewards. Moreover, education is everybody's business, touches every man's home, and deserves every man's most serious attention.

For all these reasons, the Association bespeaks for this cause hearty active co-operation of all citizens. To that end the educational leaders of the counties and cities of Alabama will ask that during this week the needs of education be presented to the people, and the appropriations asked for in the bill now before the legislature be discussed both in the press and before civic bodies. The appropriations in the bulk seem large; divided by the number of children, they shrink to a very few cents per capita.

What the Governor intended and what the Education Association hopes for is that the people of Alabama may form an intelligent opinion of the needs of Education, and make this great investment. The dividends are sure and large.

WIDER ROADS FOR MORE CARS

The American Research Foundation finds that it is becoming a pressing necessity to widen the arterial highways, epecially near large cities. In a few years, it declares, we will have 30,000,000 cars; and its bulletin adds:

"It is estimated that good roads now save the highway users $750,000,000 a year. Motorists pay the bulk of road building expenses, but probably profit the least by it. Land values have been enormously increased by highways, the benefits extending to farmers in remote sections. With the growth of our cities more and wider highways in their vicinity are a vital necessity, not only for passenger traffic, but to facilitate the transportation of food and supplies into the population centers."

BACK SEAT DRIVING

One of the standing jokes of this nation is the "back seat driver." We appreciate the absurdity and folly of this form of mental attitude, hence treat it with derision and make it a target for our jests. Yet "back seat driving" is a more prevalent pastime than is usually suspected. It is not confined to motor travel; it figures in many other phases of life—in our government, in our industries, in our civic affairs, and in our schools.

Not infrequently we exercise our franchise to elect a public servant, seemingly on the strength of his fitness, only to find that some political leader dictates his position on public policies. Critics in the agricultural West charge the East with too much influence in our Federal affairs; complaints come from citizens of too much government in business; criticism is advanced as to expenditure of large sums by special interests to elect a favorite candidate for a specific purpose. All of which conditions, if practiced, imply "back seat driving."

There is evidence of "back seat driving" in our educational institutions. Business men and college alumni have been known to dictate the selection of an atheltic coach. Members of a Board of Education elected on the basis of their party affiliation furnish another instance of "back seat driving." A Board of Education, appointed by a Mayor yet subject to political changes of city administration, furnishes another.

Members of the Board of Education, as representatives of the people, are entrusted with the conduct of the schools. They, in turn, select the school executive, the "driver." He confers with his Board of Education, with his teaching force, with Parent-Teacher and similar co-operative agencies, as to the route, the speed of travel, the type of machine, and such, but he will do the driving.

In the conduct of the schools the greatet efficiency is to be expected of the driver. He it is who is in the best position to guide the schools on the road of service for the safety of the pupils and the community. Yet too often he is subjected to the distractions and hazards of "back seat driving" by self-seeking political and personal influences. These "back seat drivers" lack the highly specialized qualifications the educator must command. Their social viewpoint may be warped, their regard for public welfare may be blunted; yet they would dictate the direction the sensitive machine of education should travel.

The management of our schools must be in the hands of those who are in the front seat of educational activities; those who are best equipped to guide the schools aright and who have a concern for the character of the country's future citizenship.

In the interests of educational safety we should eliminate "back seat driving," when practiced, from our schools. We must insure safety for our pupil passengers.

IF WE NEED BETTER CONDITIONS WHY DON'T WE TRY TO GET THEM ?

Everybody you run across is ready to admit that we need better organization and better marketing facilities and lots of things that will bring better conditions to our farmers.

Most any man will tell you that he believes that Chilton County should have better schools and better facilities for education and training of our youths.

Well, may we ask, if you think we need improvement along these lines, and we certainly do, why don't we get together and do something to bring about those better conditions? Shall we stand back and hesitate because it will necessitate the spending of a little money? How shall we go about getting anything of value without paying for it?

Chilton County is amply able to appropriate $1,650 for the employment of a county farm demonstration agent. Money spent for that purpose would bring a bigger return than that same amount could bring from any other source.

Chilton County people are able to pay a one-mill tax in order to have the better schools which we surely need. Then what is the use to hesitate and pull back? There is no use. We must have schools that are capable of educating our boys and girls better in the future, in order that they may be able to take their places with the boys and girls of other counties of the state.

The greatest opportunity which Chilton County has had for a generation to make a master stroke toward permanent and effective progress will come on June 14, when we shall vote on the one-mill tax for our schools and the proposition to secure a county farm demonstration agent. Let us not falter in this wonderful opportunity.

CLANTON INDUSTRIALLY

The Twenty-Five Years Ago column of The Union-Banner this week reports a meeting of the citizens of Clanton regarding the building of a cotton factory here. This report was very encouraging, and judging from its tenor one would think that by this time Clanton would have been a rather noticeable industrial center.

This meeting referred to in The Banner of May 22, 1902, was not the last one—there have been other such jump-ups as this, but all have gone just like the first—as a pin stuck in a toy balloon.

Clanton is a fine place to live and make a living—and spend it—in fact, it is the best place we know of, but it might have been still better than it is. Twenty-five years ago, Sylacauga, our neighboring town, was practically unknown outside of Talladega County, but when B. B. Comer passed up Clanton and went over to Sylacauga to invest his money, that town took on real life, and it has been booming with lasting prosperity ever since. People there do not speak of hard times—in fact they scarcely know the difference. There is money in circulation there every week of the year, during dry years, wet years, cold years, and hot years. They have something to draw from regardless of the weather.

But what becomes of the people of Clanton and Chilton County when calamity hits the farmers? We just simply have to wear last year's clothes and make out on a meager ration.

We preach diversification to our farmers. Why not apply the same plan to the business men of the county? Why not provide some other means of income in case our crops fail to materialize as they should? If we had some good industrial concerns to depend on in case our income from the farms becomes thin, then we could eliminate lots of anxiety and even hungry stomachs. Business men should practice what they preach to the farmers—Diversification.

"Them Days Is Gone Forever—"

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

We hear it frequently remarked that the automobile, the rural telephone, and the radio are eliminating the difference between city and rural life in America; that the farmers, so to speak, are being moved into the city; but there is another phase of this modern development. The city is going out into the country. Our great cities are "spilling over" so to speak.

At a recent conference of experts, held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States it was held that "the real city today, because of the automobile, the telephone, and other distance diminishing agencies, extends not only beyond existing city boundaries, but of any area which might be annexed."

Because of this change, the report continued, certain authorities are now opposed to further annexations by the city proper, as bringing burdens too great to carry, and favor, as a relief, the creation of a new urban unit to be known as the "metropolitan region" which have charge of certain common duties, but would leave a certain self government to the smaller city units. In order to provide a basis for the 1930 census in showing real growth of the various cities, civic bodies are being urged to outline the real industrial areas of which their city is the center.

Here is a subject of interest. The city is really moving into the country. You have only to look over your nearest metropolis to become convinced of this. Good roads and automobiles are inducing the city dwellers to go out into the open spaces nearby. This brings about the springing up of new communities, outside the city proper, but still a part of its permanent industry and its social growth.

As a result of this, as the chamber of commerce report continues, "a city's business and industrial importance can no longer be circumscribed by the city limits. A more accurate picture is represented by the metropolitan region as a unit." The metropolitan unit, of course, includes all those persons who make the city a part of their every day life, but many of whom are not politically a part of it.

New York and Chicago naturally are the cities which have the greatest metropolitan areas outside their city limits. Boston is another example, and there are many more, especially among the cities which lie close to the boundaries of two states. The two greatest cities in the country are now planning to mark out their industrial limits, and the municipal experts say that all cities above 50,000 in population ought to do the same thing, so that they may be catalogued as to their real importance.

It is to be noted in passing, however, that the real desirability of a community, as a place in which to live and raise a family, cannot be measured by its population or its rapidity of growth. The standards of citizenship and of civic pride are even more important in this respect.

McADOO ON TARIFFS

Evidently Mr. William G. McAdoo is no longer an ardent free trader, if he ever was one. In a letter recently to the Manufacturers' Record, Mr. McAdoo is quoted as saying that a tariff on economic grounds is justifiable, whereas a tariff based upon a system of political rewards or for the purpose of political advantage cannot be justified.

Mr. McAdoo infers that tariffs are all right but that the kind of protective tariffs we have nowadays are political tariffs, and he continues:

"While I admit that certain economic advantages that ought to be secured in any tariff are embraced in the political tariff, yet if the political element were removed, the economic advantage would be greater."

Now in the present tariff law protection is afforded not only to the manufacturers in the so-called "tariff" states, which usually support the protective policy at the polls, but to the products of the so-called solid South, which is popularly known, at least, as the hot-bed of free trade. Surely the protectionists in enacting the law did not expect to get any political reward from the Carolina mill men, the planters of Louisiana, or from the fruit growers in Florida and other states in the South, to say nothing of the southern agriculturists who benefit from other special tariff schedules.

Any tariff which helps the producers of the country naturally will redound to the political advantage of the men who pass it. The only way to get away from this would be to pass a tariff which helped nobody, and there would be little economic advantage in that. But the fact that the present tariff benefits the growers and manufacturers of the South as well a the manufacturers of the North is certainly a complete answer to Mr. McAdoo's complaint about a tariff for "political reward" and "political adantages."

Assuredly the protectionists are not expecting any material political reward or advantage from the solid South as at present constituted. What they have really done is to enact a tariff law which would so far as humanly possible redound to the advantage of producers everywhere regardless of their location or political faith. That is the only way to build a real prosperity, nation-wide in scope.

NOTICE—ALL DAY SINGING

Sad End of "Wild Bill" Johnson

On Monday night about 10:30 William Johnson shot himself in the breast, the bullet passing through the body, and coming out under the shoulder blade. He lingered until 8 o'clock Tuesday morning and died. The tragedy occurred in the back yard of Mrs. McKenzie, where Bill boarded. He was 23 years old. The remains were buried at Mulberry.

"SHE MIGHT HAVE DID"

"Joan of Arc danced just as our maidens do today," were about the words used by the noted lecturer at the high school last Sunday night. History may say that the young French maiden danced, and very likely she did in her way, but we dare say he did not do the black bottom, Charleston, and some other of the late steps accomplished by the maidens of '27.

We believe that Joan of Arc would have shuddered had she seen a dance going on as they do today, and to say the least of it, if she had followed this all-night dancing and carousing parties such as are not uncommon nowadays, she would not have been able to don a soldier's uniform, mount a fast steed and lead a whole army against the seemingly invincible British.

Joan of Arc was made of different stuff from the ordinary maiden of the twentieth century.

Dr. David L. Moore has formed a partnership with his father in the dental business. Their office is in the Mullins Building.

Cutting Affray

On Sunday afternoon at an all-day singing at Highland schoolhouse on the Kincheon road, a difficulty occurred between Hall Tyus and Hugh Lockhart, and Tyus was badly cut. Lockhart surrendered to the Sheriff, and was bonded out at $250.

Mr. J. T. Frierson of the Clear Creek Lumber Company was in town Monday.

Editor Frank Crichton is attending the annual meeting of the Alabama Press Association in Mobile this week.

The third annual May singing was held at Salem last Sunday.

Don't be a Victim of "Spring Fever"

You Can Easily Avoid the Depressing Effects of the Changing Season.

In the Spring, many people find themselves losing appetite, are overcome by a lack of energy, and a run-down feeling takes possession of their whole body.

Spring is a great renovating season, when Nature throws off the accumulated impurities and prepares the system for the change it must undergo before merging into the coming Summer.

At this time, the energies relax, and an unspeakable languor pervades the entire system, giving that worn-out, good-for-nothing feeling, so commonly called "spring fever."

The important thing, therefore, is to put your system in tip-top condition, so as to be able to resist the common ailments so prevalent in Summer. You must build up the tissue and repair the wear that the system has undergone.

Now is the time to take S.S.S. It is unequalled for restoring strength, vitality and a keen appetite.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles; it improves the processes by which the body is nourished, and it is time-tried and reliable. S.S.S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

Get your S.S.S. at any good drug store. It is sold in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

This Week's 12 Best Jokes

Mind Reader

They were having a soda, when her straw broke. She said to the clerk:

"My sucker is broke."

"Gosh ding it!" said her escort, "how did you know it?"

He Would if he Did

"How is your husband, Mrs. Clancey?"

"Glory be, he has been enjoying poor health for the last month, but this morning he complained of feeling better."

Can't Do With or Without

She is so kind of flighty, that I can't bear to have her around the joint. But, after I watch her heels disappear around the corner at close of day, I feel sort of lapis lazuli until I catch sight of her toes rounding the bend in the morning.

It Pays to Advertise

Next week, we promise to put on a stupendous super-production of one of the latest New York successes, by somebody. We don't know the name of it yet, but we venture to guarantee that it will be well worth your while, and the small cost of admission—Long pants, 10 pins; Short pants, 5 pins; No pants. Free!

A Faster Way

Mother sent her little boy to take his smaller sister safely to kindergarten. When the boy came back in a surprisingly short time, she asked:

"Harry, did you treat Mary like a little lady, as I asked you to do?"

"No," said Harry, carelessly, "we canned that lady and gentleman stuff and I chased her most of the way."—Charleston News and Courier.

Sunk!

"But," said the cautious film star, who was about to perform an apparently dangerous feat, "suppose the rope should break?"

"By George!" cried the director. "That's a good idea."—Frolics and Flutters.

Maybe That's Right

The teacher in an eastside school sent one of her boys home with a note to his mother to give him a bath. She received the following reply:

"Mis' Smith, when I send Johnny to school, I send him to be lernt, and not to be smelt; he ain't no rose."

MASSEY BUSINESS COLLEGE PULLING STRONG FOR MONTGOMERY

The attention of the readers of The Union-Banner is directed to the advertisement of The Massey Business College, of Montgomery, which appears in another place in this paper.

Mr. G. M. Lyons, manager of the Massey College at Montgomery, is enlisted in a special campaign to draw attention of people of this section to the capital of the state while at the same time pushing forward in his endeavor to make the Montgomery college the outstanding unit of the great Massey system.

The name of Massey is well known as an institution for training young men and women for efficient and profitable business careers. There are many people now in business in Chilton County who received their initial business training under Mr. Lyons in Montgomery, all of whom are a shining testimonial to the success of the Massey system of training.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Not Serious

Fond Mother: "An' do ye think 'e looks like 'is father?"

Neighbor: "An' never ye mind thot, Mrs. McCarty, so long as 'e's healthy."

Liked the Method

Voice from the hall: "Gladys, doesn't that young man know how to say good-night?"

Gladys: "I'll say he does!"

Yep—Guess So

Teacher: "Where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"

Tommy: "At the bottom."

Ought to be Sorry

"I am sorry I married you," sobbed the bride.

"You ought to be," said the groom, "you kept some other girl out of a mighty fine husband."

Fond mother: "Ye-es, Genevieve is studying French and Algebra. Say 'good morning' for the lady in Algebra, Genevieve."

HAYS REUNION SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE

Uncle John Hays requests us to announce that he will have a family reunion at the home of his son, W. A. Hayes, a mile and a half northeast of Thorsby on the second Sunday in June.

Rev. C. D. Messer is expected to be there to deliver an address. Uncle John has an interesting family, and we hope all of them, sons, daughters, and grandchildren, will be able to be present. We will try to get a good story of the family gathering and family history after the reunion.

FARM PHONES TIME AND MONEY SAVERS

Out of 200,000 Pennsylvania farms 124,000, or 62%, have telephones.

The diversified farmer's time is worth something every day in the year; and the telephone is the cheapest, best time-saver ever invented, for much of the business of the farm.

The telephone is a hired man who eats nothing, who will not forget his orders, who will not flirt or elope with the hired girl, who will not set fire to the barn with his careless pipe or cigaret, who will not strike for higher wages just when the need is greatest. A farm phone is almost as necessary as land or house or barn.

POPLAR SPRINGS

Mr. J. J. McDowell is suffering with a broken shoulder.

Our Sunday school is fine at present.

Mrs. Ed Giles and Mrs. H. W. Devaughn spent Thursday with Mrs. J. J. McDowell.

Messrs. John and Sam Brown of Bessemer visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Giles Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Driver of South Bend, Ind., visited in this community Thursday.

CEDAR GROVE

In spite of the showery weather there was a good crowd at the singing Sunday afternoon. We were glad to have the listeners as well as the singers.

Both the president and vice president being abent, Mr. D. T. Melton acted as chairman. Those who took part in the directing were Messrs. D. T. Melton, Kermit Lowery, Harrison Hayes, Horace Williams, Houston Melton, and J. R. Helms. Organists were Mrs. Bonnie Rollins, Miss Luicle Price, Mrs. J. R. Helms, and Miss Leila Melton. Before the last song was sung, Bro. D. T. Melton made a beautiful talk, the subject being "That home over yonder." We were dismissed in prayer by Rev. Helms.

We were especially glad to have Mr. Horace Williams with us, and invite him back every time he can come; together with all other singers and lovers of music.—Leila Melton, Secretary.

CLANTON, ALABAMA

IN MEMORY

"Mr. Bob Roper is dead," was the sad news we heard on last Sunday morning, May 22. What a shock it was, and what an irreparable loss to his family and community. He was apparently in as good health as usual, ate a hearty breakfast Sunday morning, and helped with the chores. About 9 o'clock he and a friend went to the plum orchard to gather plums; he was stricken there, and only lived a few minutes.

His death was almost a transition; not a struggle, nor seemingly a pain; he was just transplanted from earth to Heaven, "in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye."

Mr. Roper will be missed. He held a place in Sardis community that will be hard to fill. He identified himself at all times with every movement launched for the progress and betterment of his community. He has been a lifelong resident of Chilton County, having lived the greater part of his married life near Sardis church, where he lived at the time of his death. He has been a consistent member of Mt. Nebo M. E. church for 40 years. He was born September 8, 1755; was married to Miss Sallie White of Mulberry community in 1875. To this union was born 9 children, 5 of whom survive him. He was laid to rest in Mt. Nebo cemetery Monday at 11 a. m. Bro. Gibson, a lifelong friend and pastor, conducted the funeral services.

The many friends that were present, and the beautiful floral offerings showed the love and respect in which he was held. The wife and children have the sympathy of the entire community.—A Friend.

Yes, Crisco has been priced higher than other fats, but look at the price today, 3 pounds, 70c; 6 pounds, $1.40, and it goes further than other shortenings. D. L. WARD, Thorsby, Ala.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

To help guarantee to every boy and girl a chance for a healthy, active, and interesting life, is the purpose of the Division of Physical Education of the State Department of Education. This it hopes to do thru the promotion of periodic physical inspections and examinations, thru personal community hygiene, thru hobbies, games, and sports, thru corrective gymnastics, exercises, efficiency tests, and athletics.

The World War gave a decided impetus to the teaching of physical education. The percentage of physical defects in both school children and young men drafted for military and naval forces so startled and shocked the country, that in 1918 national leaders in health and education met at Washington at the call of the United States Commissioner of Education to discuss educational and legislative methods for developing more adequate physical education of the country. As a result of this meeting a national committee on physical education was formed to carry out the recommendations of the larger group.

The need for physical education as part of our school system should be most apparent but unfortunately it is not. We seem to forget that 40% of the adults, men and women, have physical defects many of which could have been remedied with a proper physical education program. Over 75% of the school children have physical defects which can be wiped out through physical inspection, hygiene, exercise, and physical training. A physically fit person is more likely to be efficient, happy, and useful. A physically fit nation is better prepared to meet any emergency either from within or without.

A physical education program is health, personal and national vitality, and a better citizenship. Physical education is not merely building big muscles and bodily strength. It does this, and more. It is the training for bodily and mental health thru periodic physical examination, personal hygiene, and a rational program of active play and exercise. Health, cleanliness, poise, rhythm, vitality, and mental alertness are all objectives of the true physical educational program. Such a program includes physical tests that measure organic growth and development. It means poise as well as strength. It encourages competition so that all may enjoy the joys of active sport. It means periodic physical inspection and examinations to discover and correct remedial defects. It helps in posture and health service. It believes in recreational opportunities for the industrial workers. It promotes recreation for adults, and play for children.

Physical education is health education. It is recreation. It is hygiene. It is education in the truest sense. "Mens sana in corpore sano" is as true today as yesterday. Under the present industrial conditions of living and work, it is more necessary than in the past, that our children be guaranteed the opportunity for physical activity and exercise. The frontier has disappeared; we live in an age that deprives the average boy and girl and adult of the joys of the great out-of-doors. The old tasks and pastimes of the home and the shop have disappeared. Man must find means to develop his organic vitality and health outside on the playground, or in gymnasium. More and more because of our artifical specialized industrial urban life, we must provide means by which we can actively pursue those activities that will preserve our organized development essential to health and growth.

Physical education programs promote the real lessons of education. Such programs promote behavior and behavior is the end of education. Thru sports and games they develop good sportsmanship, and this means character building in a real sense. On the play field with the team, the boy and girl is stimulated to practice the lessons of control, poise, and good behavior. They learn to smile in defeat, to be generous in victory, to follow the leader; to hold the line with courage and not to give in, to fight hard—such are the lessons of life. They are more real than the geography lessons, and they carry over into life, for it is such qualities that are demanded of us all as we go thru life. Those lessons cannot be taught or preached; they must be put into active practice in the thick of the game. The game of life.

The World's Lowest Priced Cars with Supremely Beautiful FISHER BODIES!

Chevrolet is the only car in its priceclass offering bodies by Fisher—built as only Fisher can build, and styled as low-priced cars were never styled before!

Bodies by Fisher are everywhere acknowledged to represent the highest order of beauty, luxury, and safety—and never was the superiority of Fisher craftsmanship more evident than in the Most Beautiful Chevrolet.

Despite the lowness of Chevrolet prices, there is not the slightest compromise in design, construction or finish. All embody exactly the principles employed on the highest priced cars—a composite construction of selected hardwood and steel. All are finished in beautiful colors of lustrous, lasting Duco.

Enhancing the beauty of the bodies themselves are numerous features of distinction previously considered exclusive to the costliest cars—features typified by heavy full-crown, one-piece fenders and bullet-type headlamps.

Only the economies of Chevrolet's great volume production make possible such quality at Chevrolet prices—value so outstanding that comparisons cease to exist. Ask for a demonstration!

POULTRY MEN ARE NOW ORGANIZED

Auburn, Ala., May 24.—To increase and improve the production of poultry and poultry products in Alabama a state poultry association has been organized. The organization meeting was held in Montgomery, Thursday, May 19, with 100 poultrymen and agricultural workers from 30 counties in attendance. The new organization was named the Alabama Farm Bureau Poultry Association, being affiliated with the Farm Bureau in order to fit into the coordinated agricultural program for the state.

The new organization was formed after the poultry situation had been discussed fully and several leading poultrymen present spoke in favor of it. At the suggestion of Prof. John E. Ivey, head of the poultry department at Auburn, poultry disease prevention and control; marketing of poultry and poultry products; investigation, research, and extension; and fairs, shows, and tours will be leading projects. Disease prevention and control will be stressed at first.

Following the organization meeting the poultrymen called upon Governor Bibb Graves, advised him of what had been done, and asked for his cooperation. The Governor was very gracious in receiving the party and pledged his hearty co-operation.

Under the organization plan the president of the State Farm Bureau is ex-officio president of the state poultry association, and chairman of the board of directors. L. C. Pearce, of Mentone, DeKalb County, was elected first vice president, and Mrs. H. E. Miller, Loxley, Baldwin County, second vice president; Prof. John Ivey was elected secretary.

In addition to Mr. O'Neal, Mr. Pearce, and Mrs. Miller, the board of directors consists of W. P. Hofferbert, Florence; Tom M. Floyd, Birmingham; W. T. Pollard, Sylacauga; E. G. Bridges, Notasulga; J. E. Willard, Gallion; and Ben F. Marshall, Mobile.

CLOSE SPACING OF COTTON INCREASES YIELD

Five summers of experimental work at the Cotton Breeding Field Station at Greenville, Tex., by the United States Department of Agriculture have shown that closer spacing of cotton plants in the row tends to increase yields and reduce weevil damage.

Close spacing reduces the size of the plant and allows a greater number of stalks to be left in the row without injurious crowding. The fruiting branches on closely spaced plants are short, and the crop is produced on the first few nodes of the branches. Since the cotton plant fruits more rapidly vertically along the axis of the plant than horizontally along the fruiting branches, the setting of early bolls is promoted by leaving the plants close together.

These experiments showed a definite tendency toward greater yields from plants spaced less than 12 inches apart in the row, and the highest yields were obtained from rows that were not thinned or chopped, but left in the original stands with the plants averaging 2 to 4 inches apart.

Chopped rows compared with unthinned rows indicate that the yield is more likely to be reduced than increased by chopping, under the conditions at Greenville.

Closely spaced plants produce few vegetative branches, so that the lanes between the rows are left open and exposed to direct sunlight during the summer. The heat of the sun in the open row lane rapidly drie out the squares containing the boll weevil larvae, and materially reduces the number. By leaving the plants closely spaced in the rows, a practical and economical contribution toward weevil control is put into operation.

Copies of Department Bulletin 1473-D, in which the results of the study are discussed, may be obtained from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

FORESTRY AGENTS SUSPENDED DURING SUMMER MONTHS

Practically all of the local agents of the State Commission of Forestry have been placed on furlough for the summer. These men are not statutory appointees of the State, but are employed for forestry work pursuant to a contract with the Federal Government, and are paid largely from Federal funds.

The approximate period of service during the year and the rigid requirement that they be assigned solely to forestry work are features of the Federal budget upon which the allotment of Government funds is made to the State Commission of Forestry. Their work is inspected by Federal Inspectors as is the expenditure of Government funds in other public activities.

As a rule, the period of active duty of the local forestry representatives is from about September 1 to about the middle of December, and again from about February 1 until most of the rural schools have closed, the season for forest planting has gone by, the occasion and opportunity for special forestry activities have passed and there is sufficient green growth to prevent the spread of fires.

In some instances the period of duty may vary greatly according to special local conditions, and the forestry agent may be required to remain in active serice later or return to duty earlier in the season in some years than in others. They are not kept on duty during the summer months except under unusual circumstances.

Firestone GUM-DIPPED TIRES

Firestone Round Tread Balloon

MANY Firestone Dealers are prepared to take in your old tires, offering you a liberal allowance on a new set of Gum-Dipped Balloons.

Firestone Dealers are given the advantages of attending Tire Educational Meetings held throughout the country, where tire design and construction are discussed. The sections of used tires reproduced here are a part of this program. Study these two sections and you, too, will understand what Firestone means by tires built for service and tires made to sell.

Flat Tread Balloon

The Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloon with its scientifically designed tread permits free flexing, easier riding, extra comfort and safety.

The balloon tire with heavy, flat tread design is obviously stiffer and rides harder. The excess rubber, placed for appearance at the edges of the tread, is not only wasted but produces hinging action causing ply separation and "shoulder breaks."

Firestone designed and manufactures Oldfield Tires and Tubes, distributing them direct to Firestone Dealers only, through 148 Factory Warehouses. This efficient and economical distribution assures tire buyers everywhere, clean, fresh stocks of Firestone and Oldfield Tires in all types and sizes, and has helped to make possible today's remarkably low prices—the lowest in tire history. See the Firestone Dealer today.

CLANTON, ALABAMA

What FEED does for a MULE and COTTON

AFTER a hard day in the fields, Mr. Mule doesn't hold his ears very high. But give him a good feed—what a powerful difference that makes!

Same way with a cotton plant. Growing uses up its strength and energy. Just about chopping time every cotton plant in your fields needs a good feed.

Side-dress them with 150 to 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda. Watch those cotton plants of yours pick up, thrive, put on squares and get fruit ahead of the boll weevil. That assures a real crop.

Alabama
Joe Abbott, winning Boys' Club member, Easonville, made 2345 lbs. of seed cotton on his acre by the help of Nitrate of Soda and says, "It will make cotton.
"Dad made a bale of cotton to the acre on one hundred acres with it."

And consider this—an acre of cotton is just thousands of hungry plants. Feed them and they will pay you.

Cotton growers everywhere, practical farmers like yourself, have proved the value of side-dressing with Nitrate of Soda for producing hundreds of pounds of extra cotton over and above the yield they get off of fields not side-dressed.

Side-dressing does great things for corn, too. Do you want that profit paying cotton and corn? The way is easy.

Alabama
A. L. Thomas, Pres. First Nat. Bank of Auburn, Ala., describing how cotton growers of his county side-dress 150 lbs. of Nitrate of Soda to the acre, says they have learned "how to make a bale of cotton per acre, even under boll weevil conditions."

Just cut out this advertisement and write your name and address in the margin. Then mail it to us. We will send you, without one penny of cost, our little book "Side-Dressing Cotton and Corn." Our manager is a practical cotton grower and knows just what conditions call for here in "Bama," the Cotton State. A. 62

The Senior play, "Forest Acres," which was presented at Helen Jenkins hall Saturday evening, May 21, was very creditable to all who had any connection with it. Miss McGee had charge of rehearsals, and the cast of characters was as follows: Lemuel Crockett, a miserly farmer, Olin Williams; Mrs. Crockett, his wife, Willie Littlejohn; Elizabeth Crockett, his daughter, Onzell Eiland; Hepsibah Crockett, his daughter, Dorothy Butler; Hiram Crockett, his son, Hudson Williams; Franklyn Arthur, a business man, Ragnar Ekblad; Evilon Newcomb, bashful maid, Meryle Freeman; Miss Lucy Ruggles, a school teacher, Dessie Robinson; Andy Hobbs, a country boy; Ronald Lucas; Jeffery Brixley, New Yorker, Marcelle Wilder; Elsie Brixler, his wife, Jean Johnson; Constance Lorring, his niece, Betty Lakeman; their maid, Virginia Lindsay. The play was an interesting comedy and ran smoothly from beginning to end.

We want to correct an error which inadvertantly appeared in last week's issue of The Union-Banner, which made it appear that Mr. Jim Franklin was under treatment for rheumatism by Dr. Eiland, when Dr. Wood should have been named as the physician in charge of the case.

Mr. Roger Babson, whose name is known all over the country as one whom people consult about investing money, and who has written many articles for various magazines, has just promised Thorsby Institute the last $200 for auditorium chairs when the rest has been raised. This means that $300 must be raised. One chair costs $3.65. Will not Thorsby folks help the school pay for the chairs at once? Mr. Butler or Miss Jenkins will be glad to receive the money.

We, the undersigned merchants and business men of Thorsby, Alabama agree to close our business every Thursday afternoon, beginning Thursday, June 2, and to be in effect until August 27.—Bank of Thorsby, Thorsby Hardware Co., Inc., G. UNITY B. Y. P. U. CONVENTION

On last Sunday, May 22, the Unity B. Y. P. U. Conventon met at Corinth Baptist church. After Sunday school, the convention was called to order by the president, Miss Katie Myrtle Cobern, with song service and prayer, then special song by Corinth Intermediates. Miss Flora Jones led the morning devotional.

The topic, "What the B. Y. P. U. means to the church," was ably discussed by the president, and all who heard this was made to see that the B. Y. P. U. is an essential organization of the church. The Verbena Seniors then sang a song. There were short talks from the leaders and a number of B. Y. P. U. members on "What the B. Y. P. U. has meant to me," from which it was clearly seen what the B. Y. P. U. is doing for our young people. We also had a number of expressions from young people in sentence prayers.

After another special song by the Verbena Juniors, came the address by Rev. Arthur Deloach of Verbena on "The church, the B. Y. P. U., and its relation to the church and each individual," emphasizing the B. Y. P. U. pledge. This was a great inspiration to all present.

At noon dinner was served on the ground. Afternoon song service and business in which the president brought out some things the Association needs to do, one of which is electing an Associational pastor. Rev. Arthur Deloach was unanimously elected pastor for the B. Y. P. U. Association.

The afternoon devotional was led by Miss Icy Bell Cobern of Mt. Creek and then Rev. Deloach told us what Mentone really means to young people. He made everyone want to go to Mentone, whether they go or not.

Mr. Rushing of Howard College conducted a conference in which some problems confronting B. Y. P. U. leaders and presidents were cleared up. He also made a good talk on "What the college B. Y. P. U. may or may not mean to the home church" which was enjoyed by all. The closing song, "Give of your best to the Master," was sung by Rev. Deloach.

MAY SINGING AT PROVIDENCE ENJOYED BY MANY PEOPLE

The annual May singing organized at old Salem twenty-eight years ago and which has been held every year at Providence since Salem was disbanded, always serves not only as a coming together of the best music talent of the county, but also as a reuniting of old friends and relatives who once knew each other around Salem and Providence. The singing held at Providence last Sunday was no exception to this custom. The singers were there who enjoyed the mingling of voices in praise to Almighty God, and the old-timers were there shaking hands with those whom they had not seen for years.

The service was opened by the chairman, R. Robinson, by singing "Nearer My God to Thee," which was followed with prayer by Rev. M. J. Parrish. A program committee was appointed consisting of G. C. Powell, T. L. Robinson, and Johnnie Miner. Before recess the following directed: C. H. Robinson, T. L. Robinson, J. W. Clackler, E. L. Powell, A. L. Robinson. Following a recess of 15 minutes, the following directed: J. E. Miner, O. L. Devaughn, R. T. Grant, quartet by Providence band, J. W. Cleckler, G. C. Powell, Dovard Cleckler. The singing held up an hour and a half for dinner.

In the afternoon the following directed: W. H. Robinson, S. L. Baker, J. R. Robinson, J. Z. Mims, T. E. Wyatt, R. M. Robinson. After a recess of 15 minutes, the directors were: M. Lockhart, W. G. Culp, E. F. Taylor, Jesse Baker.

Organists for the day were: Messrs. C. H. Robinson, Richard McKinney, Mrs. Lillian Alford, Mrs. Alice Baker.

Everybody seemed to have a good time in singing praise to God. The closing song was sung by the chairman and prayer was offered by Rev. W. W. Robinson. The service was dismissed to meet again the fourth Sunday in May, 1928.—R. Robinson, Chairman; J. W. Cleckler, Secretary.

REPRESENTATIVE PITTS WRITES ON TAXATION

To the Voters of Chilton County:

As your Representative in the Legislature and also being vitally interested in the education of your boys and girls, I desire to call your attention to the grave necessity of each one of us going to the polls on Tuesday, June 14, and especially cast your votes for the one-mill school tax which will amount to ten cents on each $100 worth of taxable property.

I believe the greatest achievement of the recent meeting of the Legislature was accomplishd when we passed the School Equalization Bill, which gave each school in the State at least a seven months term, for the present year, instead of an average of five months. However, this $600,000 Equalization Bill was only for temporary relief for this year and there is now pending for passage a permanent bill. In this bill there will be collected $1,000,000 from special tax on articles that the public in general use, and we will have our part of this to pay. If we fail to vote for it on June 14, and levy the one-mill tax, we will not receive any part of the special tax, and will have approximately a five months instead of a seven months term, while our adjoining counties are taking advantage of the opportunity.

Also when you realize what a small increase in taxes this will be, and that the corporations will pay about three-fourths of our taxes in Chilton County, I feel like it would be doing our youth an injustice for us to deprive them of that which they are justly entitled to. Especially in view of the fact that our citizens are to pay their share of the proposed special tax, regardless of whether we falter at the polls or not—and fail to receive our county's share of proceeds.

Let us not go backward in education in our great county, and all go to the polls on Tuesday, June 14, together with our friends, and vote for the interest—of no candidate—but for the boys and girls of our county, that they may have an equal chance with those in other counties.—Percy M. Pitts.

"WE NEED BOTH THE TAX AND THE DEMONSTRATOR"—SAYS T. J. DORMINEY

Editor Union-Banner:

Please give me space to say a few words to the voters of Chilton County. First, I want the voters of this county to go to the polls on June 14, and vote for both the one-mill tax and the farm demonstrator. As I see it, we need them both badly. I am sorry Mr. Martin differs so widely. There is no question as to the farmers needing more education. We know the children need all schooling and training they can get. I don't thing. It is the cause of so many for farmers or children need any comment—only too simple. I know any voter in the county can lose the time to vote on two questions as important as these.

Ignorance is giving more trouble in Chilton County than any other one thing. It is the cause of o many criminals in the county. Education puts our boys and girls on a higher plane in morality. Education is our nation's only hope. Farmers have lost millions of dollars through ignorance. We need teachers for the farmers as well as for the children.

I see automobiles full of people going fishing on the Sabbath Day. All for the lack of the right kind of training. I am surprised that the laws of our county allow such to go on. We talk about Mexico's lawlessness—we are just about as bad. Make liquor, bootleg liquor, drink liquor, go fishing on the Sabbath. Give us more good Sunday school teachers to teach us not to do such things. Give us more education to keep us from such degrading things. And—give us a farm demonstrator to show us how to farm scientifically. I have given these matters prayerful consideration, and I advise every voter to go to the polls on the 14th and vote for the one-mill school tax and the farm demonstrator, and if it is no good, we can repeal the act. I want better churches, better Sunday schools, better prayer meetings, better schools, and better farming, and more economy put in practice in this county. The whole world has gone wild for the lack of the right kind of education, so give us more schools! Longer schools and better schools! We will never know the difference in what taxes we pay—but the benefits will be four-fold. Mr. Martin will get by somehow.—T. J. Dorminey.

CARL GORE ASKS US TO SAY WHICH ONE

The news article in last week's Union-Banner concerning the arrest of Carl Gore for disturbing public worship at Cane Creek, has brought us to realize that there are two people by that name, and we are requested to state which one it was placed under bond.

The boy who was charged with the offense, we understand, was the son of Mr. John Gore, who lives near Clanton. The other Carl Gore is the son of Mr. Will Gore, of Collins Chapel.

CHILTON GIRL TO FINISH AT EMORY UNIVERSITY

Miss Emma W. Rawlinson of Clanton will be among the 184 students receiving degrees from Emory University at its 87th annual commencement on Tuesday, June 7. She will receive a certificate in Library Science.

The Emory commencement program will begin at 11 a. m., Sunday, June 5, with the baccalaureate sermon by Bishop W. A. Cardler. On Monday, Alumni Day, all classes of years ending in 2 and 7 will hold reunions. President Harvey W. Cox will entertain Monday night in honor of the trustees, alumni, and the graduating classes. The baccalaureate address will be delivered on Tuesday morning at 10:30 by Dr. Stewart R. Roberts, of Atlanta, and the degrees will then be conferred.

DIDN'T SEE HIS NAME

"I have been to Clanton three times in the last two weeks and my name hasn't come out in the dear old Banner yet." Well, old fellow, you can't say that now, because the readers of the dear old Banner are going to know that you've been here.

The above paragraph is about none other than Mr. Clyde J. Davis of Montgomery, who has made two or three trips to Clanton lately in the interest of his employers, Bradstreet's. Mr. Davis has a host of close friends in Clanton and Chilton County, all of whom were glad to see his smiling face again.

Clyde wouldn't feel like he had been to Clanton if he did not come to the Banner office and get a whiff of news ink and type lice, as he spent the best part of two decades sticking type for Frank Crichton in this office during the paper's earlier days.

We were indeed glad to see Mr. Davis and have him make us a call, and we assure him that we will be greatly offended if he should ever come to Clanton without coming to see The Banner.

A GOOD CHRISTIAN WOMAN HAS GONE TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Rachel Ella Wyatt died at the home of her son, Emmett Wyatt, near Oak Hill, out from Jemison, last Thursday night, May 26, about 10 o'clock. She was apparently in usual health until early Thursday evening, when she was stricken with paralysis. It took only a few hours for the malady to take her life away.

She was nearly 73 years old; was the wife of John M. Wyatt. These two were the parents of eight children, all of whom, as well as her aged husband, survive her. The children are—Thomas E. Wyatt of Clanton, Joseph E. Wyatt of near Jemison, Walter A. Wyatt of Bessemer, Mrs. Eulia Hull of Titus, W. B. Wyatt, Charlie Wyatt of Clanton, and L. C. Wyatt of Toledo, Ohio.

The deceased, the daughter of E. P. Varner, was born in Coosa County in 1854. She lived in Coosa up until 1920, when she and her husband moved to Chilton County. She joined the church when only a girl, and has been a faithful member ever since.

The remains were carried back to Coosa County Saturday and laid to rest in Providence cemetery, the old home church of the good old lady. Elder J. A. Raines of Mt. Creek conducted the funeral services, assisted by Rev. W. S. Cox. The burial was arranged by Martin, undertaker, of Clanton. All of the children of the deceased were present at the burial with the exception of L. C. Wyatt, who is in Toledo, Ohio. Several close friends of the family from Chilton County accompanied the body to its final resting place.

Besides all her children and husband, Mrs. Wyatt is survived by one brother, E. B. Varner of Titus; and five half-sisters—Mrs. W. A. Hilyer, of Tallassee; Mrs. J. W. Hull, of Titus; Mrs. M. Ward of Titus, Mrs. T. W. Harris of Titus; and Mrss. J. V. Harris of Clanton.

To say that she was a Christian woman is expressing feebly the noble character of this good lady. As expressed by those friends and relatives who knew her best, "Her spirit is now resting with her Lord in Heaven, just as surely as, there is a Heaven and immortal glory." If she fell short in her efforts to reach the Golden Gate, then it is useless for us who are left behind her to attempt to stem the tide.

THE VERBENA SINGING

Last Sunday was a big day for Verbena. An all-day singing was held at the high school building, and the day was enjoyed by one of the largest crowds ever gathered in the county for such occasions. Singers and attentive listeners were there from all over the county and even from Montgomery and Birmingham.

And besides having the privilege of hearing lots of excellent singing, the visitors were permitted to give close observation to the elegant high school building of which Verbena is the proud possessor. Not many people outside of Verbena realized just what a nice school building this is until the gathering there Sunday.

This is a structure of which Verbena might be (and we dare say is) justly proud.

Some Things a County Farm Agent Will Help us Do in Chilton County

1. Co-operate and know each other better. Create better understanding among our people. Grow our own food.
2. Produce the feed that our stock consume.
3. Maintain our soil fertility.
4. Grow most of our high priced nitrogen thru legumes.
5. Save thousands of dollars in buying and using the right fertilizers for each crop grown.
6. Help us to co-operate, to standardize our crops, to properly grade and market the things we produce.
7. By co-operation and working together enable us to find markets for the things we produce above our needs.
8. Show us how to produce feeds at the smallest cost possible and how to sell them at the very best price obtainable by converting them into poultry products, dairy products, beef, pork, mutton, wool, etc., retaining the most of the fertility on our own farms, enabling us to save in the purchase of fertilizers necessary to maintain soil fertility above that necessary where cotton is made our main money crop.
9. Helping us to get the market price for such surplus feeds as we may have after feeding what poultry, work stock and other livestock we may have to their capacity.
10. By proper diversification use more of our acres in the production of food and feed crops, pastures, etc., enabling us to put fewer acres in cotton and at the same time produce our cotton at a smaller cost per bale, thereby giving us a greater margin of profit than we now get. The less we owe the more we have left when we sell our cotton even when the price is low.
11. Help us to find the best way of combating the enemies of our crops, whether insects, disease, or otherwise.
12. Help us introduce such new crops as have been proven good under our conditions.
13. Help us profit by the use of such new methods as have proven good in the cultivation, utilization and marketing of our several crops.

MISS ORR'S KINDERGARTEN GIVES PROGRAM

Among the interesting school entertainments of the past week was the program presented by the pupils of Miss Madelyn Orr's kindergarten, at the Exchange Hotel Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The parlors of the hotel were attractively decorated in crimson poppies, snapdragons, sweet peas, and potted plants. The walls, covered with an exhibit of the year's work, made a fitting background for the dainty little children who took part in the program. The children clad in costumes representing various flowers, entered in a butterfly dance, and opened the program with a group of songs: "One, Two, Three," "Just a Little Daisy," and "The Choo Choo Train." Next, Nell Rockett entered dressed as a pink rose, and gave a clever reading. She was followed by Lillian Smith (3 years old) who recited "There was a little girl who had a little curl." The entire school then marched in, led by Nell Rockett, who carried an American flag. When they reached their places, they stood marking time until Nell came forward with the flag upraised. Saluting the flag they repeated "We pledge allegiance to our flag," and sang, "Father, we thank Thee." Following that, Theda Wyatt, representing a pansy, and Ray Miller, a daisy, recited charming little verses. After them came four little girls who took part in a pretty little folk dance, "Coming through the rye." Next, J. Lee Smith, dressed as a petunia, read "Bob White," and he was followed by Mae Anice Polk, dressed as a johnquil, who recited "The Blessing." The school then entered in a "Tick Tock" step, and sang "A School Room Clock." Billy Holladaye, a sunflower, next recited "The Wind." Peggy Page, representing an American Beauty rose, and J. Lee Smith entered, carrying a bucket and read "Jack and Jill." The school did their physical exercises, or Daily Dozen. The famous poem, "Trees," by Joyce Kilmer, was pantomimed, and recited by the boys and girls, who carried branches of trees. They sang another group of songs, "Sister Rain and Brother Wind," "The Moon," "Six little pigs," and "Little Jack Horner." After a brief talk on "The health of the child, and a balanced diet," by Miss Orr, the class entered carrying placards on which were printed the words "sweet milk," "green vegetables," fresh fruits," "oatmeal," etc. Each child told of the value of the food he represented, and combined, they made a complete health lecture. The last number on the program was something not taught in the kindergarten, but nevertheless enjoyed by those present. Dainty little Theda Wyatt, Nell Rockett, and J. Lee Smith danced the Charleston, with a perfection that surprised the spectators. Miss Sunset Polk was the accompanist. About 45 guests, invited by the pupils of the school, pronounced the program a great success.

LET'S GRASP THE HAND OF OPPORTUNITY

Ask any well informed agency as to what are the two greatest agricultural problems confronting the farmers of Chilton County, and the answer will be co-operative work in marketing and diversification, together with soil fertility.

On June 14, we have the best chance we have had in many a day to really accomplish something toward the achievement of these needs. By going to the polls and casting our ballots in favor of our commissioners employing an efficient county agent, we are going a long way toward solving these, our greatest problems.

In securing an agent interested and trained in marketing, farm management, and in practicable soil building and soil science, we will also have the support of the complete and competent staff of our Agricultural College and Experiment Station at Auburn, and the Department of Agriculture at Montgomery, as well as of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., together with the help of the trained experts maintained by three railroads crossing our county, by the Alabama Power Company, our banks, and the best business men in the county.

Then, by giving such agent our willing and hearty co-operation and helpful co-operation and helpful encouragement we will put new life in our county and make it truly a place in which "to live and work and play."

Give us a county agent as described above, with farmers and business men such as we have, and all our assisting agencies as suggested working together, and our soils will grow richer and our people more prosperous and contented.

Dear citizen, if this is what you want, I appeal to each of you to go to the polls on June 14 and cast your vote for a County Agent, and it will mean a bigger and better Chilton County, and we will truly make Chilton County "the heart of Alabama." —J. N. Dennis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Wyatt and little daughter, Eugenia Inez, and Mrs. J. W. Cagle went to Montgomery last Saturday.

OLD CHILTONIAN BACK HOME

The Union-Banner had the pleasure Tuesday of a call by Uncle Aiken Mims, who, as W. J. Armstrong puts, got things started off at Collins Chapel over a quarter of a century ago. Mr. Mims is well known among the older residents of Chilton County, and not many men hold a higher respect among his fellow men than does this good old man. He is the oldest brother of Uncle Jimmie Mims, former county commissioner.

Mr. Mims moved away from Chilton County some twenty-five years ago and is now residing near Chunchula in Mobile County. He will remain in this vicinity visiting friends for about a month.

WE SHOULD WEIGH THESE QUESTIONS WITH CARE

Those who would assume to express opinions about the questions of a school tax and a farm demonstration agent for Chilton County should weigh their words well. These are great questions that mean much to the future of our county.

We could certainly discover no question that would amount to more than the future of our boys and girls who are today, in the words of Judge Reynolds, "plodding along the roads over the hills to our little red schoolhouses." Their education and training in the days of youth is as the tempering fires that shall put the mettle in their minds and qualify them for either success or failure in later life. If our county shall properly educate and train them they stand ready for a successful future. If we fail to give them the proper education and training they shall come to certain failure. A big question indeed; and one that should be safeguarded with the greatest care.

As for our farmers who are the backbone of our economical and business life today, their immediate success is very vital. If we can devise anything within reason that will help them to better success, it is certainly well worth our while to do so. If we shall stand in their way and obstruct their success we should bear a very serious blame.

We urge our citizens to think seriously about these big questions in order that we may be prepared to vote intelligently on June 14, when these things shall come up for our suffrage.

FIRST WOMAN ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL IN TUSCALOOSA ON MONDAY

Among the district attorneys of the state who heard the address of Mrs. Willimont Monday night in Morgan Hall, Tuscaloosa, was Grady Reynolds, of Clanton.

Mrs. Mable W. Willimont of California, the first woman assistant attorney general of the United States, was introduced by Mrs. Bibb Graves, who pronounced her one of the outstanding and foremost women of the age. Mrs. Willimont gave an interesting address on "Standards of Citizenship." She paid high tribute to the Crimson Tide, which went into her native state for the last two years and fought and conquered the sons of the west on the football field.

The two other district attorneys of the state, Alex Birch of Mobile, and Kimbrough of Birmingham, were also present.

Previous to the exercises in Morgan Hall, Mr. Reynolds, a former graduate of the University of Alabama, attended the alumni banquet in Tutwiler Hall, where other brilliant speakers were heard.

11 YEAR OLD BOY DEAD

James Earl Traywick, age 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. (Tab) Traywick of Poplar Springs, died about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning. The remains were buried at Poplar Springs cemetery by Martin Tuesday afternoon. The funeral was conducted by Rev. M. J. Parrish.

100 PER CENT FOR SCHOOL TAX

On last Saturday night Mr. J. N. Dennis and Mr. B. Lawrence went to Pleasant Grove and met with a number of people to discuss the need of a county farm demonstrator and the one-mill school tax. There were several present at the meeting, and after the speaking a vote was taken on the two matters. 100% of those present voted for the demonstrator and 97% voted for the tax.

ABOUT THE ELECTION, JUNE 14

In order that we may do all that we can to get the voters of the county to understand just how much is involved in the election to be held on June 14, I am giving the following statement of fact:

The Legislature is setting aside $1,000,000 to be known as an Equalization Fund. This money is to be used in these counties that are willing to help themselves as far as they can. The million dollars will be paid by the people of this county and every other county in the State.

Section 15, Article 1 of this bill provides that in order for a county to share in the apportionment of the Equalization Fund, it shall vote the one-mill county school tax. Otherwise, we will help pay the million dollars, and receive nothing from it.

Article 2 provides that the county shall as nearly as practicable be provided the same length of term in all schools.

We were able to get seven months this time from the $600,000 emergency appropriation. This was a temporary arrangement to give the Counties a chance to qualify for aid as provided for in the general bill; we will have but five months next term if we fail to qualify because we will get none of the million dollars, although we will be paying our part of it.

On the other hand if we qualify by voting the tax we will be able to push forward in an educational way in this county and give the boys and girls a chance equal to those in other counties. I am told that nearly every county—all but two or three—have already qualified. This means they will have at least seven months term, and in a way we will be furnishing it from the taxes you and I and every other tax payer in this county helped pay, and we will be getting none of it unless we vote the one-mill tax.

Now these are facts we must face as we go to the polls on June 14th. If you will come to the office I will be glad for you to read the bill and make a study of it yourself. As your school official, I feel it my duty to give you the facts as they are; I have done so, and I am asking you to consider them, and if you wish, verify them. — B. Lawrence, County Supt. of Education.

NEWS BUYS AGE-HERALD

The Birmingham News has purchased the entire capital stock of The Birmingham Age-Herald, and all issues of the morning paper will be printed in and delivered from the plant of The News, beginning with The Age-Herald of June 2nd. E. D. DeWitt, of New York, acting as the agent of The News, and with the full knowledge and consent of the majority ownership of The Age-Herald, Messrs. B. B. Comer, Donald Comer, and F. I. Thompson, purchased the property on March 7 and in accordance with the agreement made at that time has turned it over to The News.

The News has the great advantage now of the full twenty-four hour service of The Associated Press, the world's greatest and most reliable news-gathering agency. The morning paper, under the name of The Age-Herald, will continue to be issued six days a week. The two Sunday papers will be merged and issued under the name of The News. All of the best features in both Sunday papers will be retained, including the gravure section, the world's twelve most popular comics in colors, twelve-page magazine section in colors and the cream of the rest of the news and features in both papers.

Many economies will be affected by the joint operation, and The News has arranged to pass these along to its readers and advertisers in the form of very low combination rates. The evening and Sunday News will be delivered, as in the past, in towns where carrier delivery is maintained at 20 cents per week. The morning Age-Herald and Sunday News will be delivered in similar territory for twenty cents per week. The thirteen issues morning, evening and Sunday, will be delivered for 32 cents per week, a saving of eight cents per week to those subscribers who have been taking both papers.

The mail rates of the morning and Sunday, or the evening and Sunday will remain at $8 per year, or the combined morning, evening and Sunday will be sent by mail for one year for $13. Rural route boxholders are urged to write for special mail rates on very attractive terms. 1t-ch.

TIRE DEALERS VOTE THEIR PREFERENCE IN INNER TUBES

The Michelin Tire Company reports the results of an interesting survey about inner tubes which has just been completed among the 5,000 best rated tire dealers in the country. These dealers were asked to vote for the make of tube which they thought was best. The tube that received the most votes was the Michelin ring-shaped Tube, made on a round mandrel in the exact size and shape of the inside of the casing.

Tire dealers report that ring-shaped tubes are becoming more and more important as balloon tires come into more general use. For a long time most tubes were made on straight mandrels or poles, and then bent into circular shape by cementing the ends together. This method of manufacture was likely to produce wrinkles on the inner circumference of the tube, because the inner and outer circumferences of the tube were built to the same length, while the inner edge of the space into which the tube was placed, inside the tire, was considerably shorter than the outer edge.

This difficulty became worse with the coming of balloon tires. For instance, if you were to measure the air space in a 29 x 4.40 balloon tire, used on Ford cars, you would find that along the rim of the wheel the space is about two feet shorter than along the side nearest the road. This difference is built into ring-shaped tubes, and thus wrinkles in the tube are avoided.

CLUB GIRLS ARE IN BIG SHORT COURSE

Auburn, Ala., June 1.—The one big annual event for farm girls is now in progress at Auburn. It is the annual state short course for prize-winning club girls from each county having a home demonstration agent. It began Saturday, May 28, and will continue until June 4, with 80 girls from 32 counties in attendance.

These girls are housed in student dormitories which are vacant during the period between the close of the regular college session and the opening of the summer school. They have their meals together in the student dining hall.

After arriving at Auburn, Saturday, they spent Sunday going to church, getting acquainted, in seeing the campus and buildings of the college, and in a vesper service late in the afternoon.

Monday they began their regular course which includes instruction in making clothes, in preparing foods, and in other subjects included in home demonstration work. Contests are being staged and near the close of the week two girls will be selected to represent Alabama at the national short course for club boys and girls in Washington, in June, 1928.

Mobley Speaks Here Tomorrow Evening

Final arrangements have been completed for the big community meeting at the County Courthouse tomorrow night (Friday, June 3rd) at 8 o'clock and every indication points to a large attendance.

The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Chilton County Cooperative Association and every man, woman and child in the county is invited. Visiting delegations from the schools, churches, Parent-Teachers Associations etc., will be heartily welcomed.

Dr. V. J. Gragg, widely known physician and former mayor of Clanton will act as chairman of the meeting and will introduce Mr. H. S. Mobley, who will be the principal speaker.

Mr. Mobley is a very able speaker aand is widely known in agricultural circles throughout the United States. More important to this community is the fact that Mr. Mobley has for many years successfully conducted large farms right here in the South. He is not theoretical. He is practical. The information he imparts, he has learned by experience. He is connected with the agricultural Extension Department of the International Harvester Company of America, which concern is sending him here at the invitation of the Cooperative Association for the sole purpose of helping this community to get in line with the other sections of the Southern States in the movements which promise to make the South the greatest and most prosperous section of the country.

Mr. Mobley has been in the South several weeks, speaking at similar meetings and press reports show he is being heard by large crowds.

The Walton, Georgia Times says "Mr. Mobley does not attempt to 'show' the farmers how to run their own farms, but to tell them what is being done in other communities that can be successfully applied to farm work here and gives a new viewpoint that will offer incentive to renewed and more progressive effort.

C. E. Marcus, secretary of the Cooperative Association announces that a 50 pound sack of sugar, a $2.50 merchandise order, a pair of ladies silk hose and a pretty neck tie will be given to the parties holding the lucky numbers, which will be given out at the Courthouse Friday night.

Everyone is invited to come, business men, professional men, farmers

Besides the big county wide meeting at the Courthouse Friday night, Mr. Mobley will speak Friday afternoon at the Jemison High School at 2:30 P. M. aand at Isabella High School Saturday night, June 4th at 8 o'clock.

Everybody is also invited to attend these meetings.

ALABAMA ESCAPES BIG FOREST FIRES

While not escaping serious damage, Alabama thus far has been spared such losses as those inflicted by the destructive forest fires now raging in the Everglades of Florida, points out a statement issued by the Commission of Forestry. Reports indicate that a single fire has covered about 180 square miles of the Everglades, destroying valuable muck soil down to the solid rock.

Heavy investments have been made to drain large portions of the Everglades and render the rich muck land available for agriculture. Apparently, however, the necessity of protecting such investments through forest fire prevention has been overlooked. Ground fires always constitute a serious menace to rich soils.

Fires of this kind are difficult to check except through the use of scientific methods applied by experts in forest fire protection. While the underground rate of spread is not great, nevertheless the surface combustion proceeds quite rapidly, igniting the humus as it goes, which then starts burning downward and these different foci of combustion spread until the subsurface fires merge together. The entire process is repeated along the progress of the surface burning until huge areas of muck land are almost entirely destroyed for useful purposes.

"Where Service is a Pleasure"

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The annual community dinner, under the auspices of the Ladies Guild of Thorsby will be held at noon on Thursday, June 2 in connection with commencement day exercises of the Thorsby Institute. This will be, as usual, a basket dinner on the campus in which the whole community is invited to participate, without any special invitation. Bring the whole family and a well filled basket, box, or trunk. The ladies will have ice cream for sale.

The music recital given by pupils of the music department of Thorsby Institute, under direction of their teacher, Miss Giula Williams, was very creditable to both teacher and pupils, and of unusual interest to the audience. There was a notable absence of machine playing, each one seemed to have some idea of musical qualities of a piano, and showed, in more or less efficiency, ability to produce it. We are pleased to state that it is expected that after Miss Williams takes a summer course at Chicago Conservatory of Music she will return as head of Thorsby Institute music department for the next school year.

Miss Jenkins entertained the senior class and their home room teacher, Miss Hawkes, Miss Robinson, and the Misses Catherin Thom and Dovie Atwell at a porch party at the Campus Cottage last Friday night. Various games were played, ending in making bags, dolls, etc., out of different colored crepe paper. Each one presented his neighbor with what he or she had made. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, punch, and candy were served.

At the baccalaureate service at the Institute Sunday, the collection was $33.18, which is to go toward paying for auditorium chairs. It is hoped that some who have not given towards the chairs will do so now that we may be able to claim the $200 promised when the rest is raised. About $200 more is needed.

Wednesday night at 7:30 in the auditorium, Class Night of Thorsby Instittute will take place. Everyone is invited.

Misses Lois Primm and Olene Mims left Tuesday morning to attend summer school at Jacksonville Normal.

Thorsby people were surprised to learn of the marriage in Birmingham last week of Roy Raybon and Ethel Peterson, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raybon, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Peterson, reside in Thorsby. It was well known that these young people have for some time been greatly interested in each other, but no one thought they would soon be married.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Petersen enjoyed a visit last Sunday from Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Self and Mrs. D. Thrasher, all of Birmingham; and Leroy and Richard had as their guests Arthur and Teddy Thrasher, their nephews.

The Congregational Ladies Aid Society have sponsored the decoration of the dining room at the parsonage, much to the joy of Mrs. Each.

Miss Lorena Primm is spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Primm, in Thorsby before taking up her work as a student voluntcer, in the parishes under the pastoral care of Rev. N. A. Long, centering at Hackelburg.

Mr. Clyde Sims is doing well after an operation at Central Alabama hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Sims are visiting her parents a few days before returning to Tifton, Ga.

Mr. Frank Robinson of Genoa, Texas, arrived at the home of A. T. Robinson Monday afternoon, surprising the family with a visit. Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Maddox of Birmingham were also unexpected visitors at the Robinson home Monday; these visitors and friends made up a fishing party early Tuesday morning for Lock 12.

Miss Mary Tyndall of Billingsley was a guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Davenport, and Mr. and Mrs. Willis.

Mrs. Frank McCain visited at the home of Mrs. Lessley Sunday.

Mrs. A. T. Robinson, who has been on the sick list the past week, is improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robinson were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Robinson last Sunday. Mr. Oscar Campbell was another guest at the Robinson home.

Mrs. L. M. Davenport and son are visiting her sister, Mrs. McCary, at Randolph.

Invitations have been received for the wedding of Farris Sylvester Robinson, and Miss Mattie Eunice Reed of Birmingham, at 8 o'clock p. m., June 9.

Mr. Horace Franklin, a student at the University of Alabama, is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Franklin.

Miss Maggie Franklin of Montgomery is visiting Miss Lena Franklin.

Those attending summer school at Clanton from Thorsby are William Each, Kendall Franklin, Robert Ward, and Frank Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Cleckler and family have been visiting for several days friends near Robertsdale, in Baldwin County. On their way home Monday they had an auto accident on a long hill near the home of Alfred Childress. After starting down the hill, Mr. Davis, who was driving, noticed flames coming through the floor of the car. He stopped for the family to get out, which they did without ceremony, when he let the car go alone down the hill, still in flames. Then looking about he missed little Jeff, their 3-year-old boy. Surmising that the boy had not come out with the rest, he rushed after the car, which by this time was on its side in the ditch, reaching the spot, he opened the door and pulled the boy out, badly scared but not much hurt; then he put the fire out with sand from the road. The car was not injured beyond repair.

Mr. Pete Franklin went to Wetumpka to work Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Franklin, Mrs. S. C. Wood, Miss Lena Franklin, and Mr. Higdon went to Lock 12 on a fishing trip last Monday. On their way home they stopped at Robinson's Pond for a swim.

Mrs. Parnell and Mr. Eugene Parnell, and Mr. Clyde Robinson of Birmingham spent the week end with the families of Dr. Wood and Pete Franklin.

Miss Agnes Leary spent Monday in Birmingham.

Mr. Lawrence Lefstead and family of Birmingham, Waldemar Lefstead, a recent graduate from a theological seminary at Salisbury, N. C., and Palmer Lefstead, a student at Birmingham-Southern College, three sons of Mrs. Johanna Lefstead, and all graduates of Thorsby Institute, are spending a few days with their mother in Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Primm had a very pleasant family reunion in Thorsby last Sunday, when 14 of their relatives and friends, some of them from Birmingham, assembled for "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. Robert Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Carlson, who has been employed in Chicago for the past two years, is visiting his parents in Thorsby.

Mr. Clyde Robinson was a visitor in Thorsby last Sunday.

Mr. Arnold Soberg is spending his vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Soberg, in Thorsby.

On Thursday morning at 10:30 in the auditorium, graduating exercises will be held, followed by a community basket dinner, sponsored by the Ladies Guild. Ice cream will be sold on the campus.

Friends of Terry Rees will be sorry to learn that he is very ill at the home of his parents in Georgia. He was stricken with typhoid fever while en route from Perrine, Fla., to Thorsby.

Mr. Arthur Atherton of Bessemer was a week end visitor at the home of R. W. Littlejohn in Thorsby.

Miss Addie Primm was winner of the prize for reading the most missionary books, in a contest among members of the Christian Endeavor Society, she having read more than all others put together. The prize was a unique doll made by Chinese girls in one of the mission schools in China.

Last Wednesday morning while eating his breakfast, Mr. A. M. Johnson was stricken with a paralytic troke which affects his entire right side from head to foot, and seriously interferes with his speech. He is in helpless condition, but for a man of his active temperament, is bearing it with fortitude. On Tuesday morning when we called he seemed more at ease and brighter than at any time since he was afflicted. Mrs. Tagg, his sister-in-law, who has charge of him and his home affairs, says she thinks Thorsby people are wonderful in their sympathy and kindly interest. Arrangements have been made by which he receives constant care day and night, and both Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Tagg are more content than if he were taken to a hosptal.

The Lucas and Each families enjoyed an outing, and picnic supper at Gore's Pond Monday evening. Mr. Lucas discovered a greased pole as one of the accessories of the ground, which so fired his sporting blood that he challenged his son, Ronald Lucas, and William Each to ascend it at $1 each. Both surprised him by doing the trick. All the party except Mr. Lucas took to the water before coming home.

Baccalaureate services at Helen Jenkins Hall last Sunday drew a large audience, the services were very interesting, the singing was good, and Bro. E. W. Butler gave an inspiring address, "Jesus as a friend." We noted many in the audience from outside Thorsby. Clarence Butler and family, Mrs. A. K. Horn, and George Hughes, all of Montgomery, and others from a distance, as well as a large contingent of Thorsby people, were present.

What we would like to know is what happens when a girl gets a runner in her silk stocking and moistens it with the tip of her finger.

A farm demonstration agent will cost Chilton County $1,650 a year, which will be paid out of the general fund of the county and will not cost any farmer one penny more than he is already paying in taxes. The right kind of a man on the job can easily be worth ten times that much to our farmers every year.

Scientists in Wisconsin have compiled records on 45,000 cows showing that the average return in net figures from a cow producing 200-lbs of butterfat a year was about $8. The return from a cow producing 300 pounds of butterfat a year was about $40.

There are two counties in Alabama that do not employ a county farm demonstration agent. Chilton is one of those two. Let us put our county up with the other progressive counties of Alabama. Vote for the farm demonstrator on June 14.

If a county farm demonstration agent under the present system were not a good thing for the farmers, why would you suppose that every county in Alabama, except two, is employing an agent every year? If it were not worth while and profitable it looks like some of those counties would find it out and quit.

There is no grounds upon which a citizen of Chilton County might argue that a farm demontrator is not worth while, becaue we have not tried one under the present system governing farm demonstrators. Vote for the proposition on June 14, and let us have one to try for a year. Then we will be in a position to pass competent judgment.

OUR BALANCED SYSTEM

Owen Howard Owen, an Englishman writing recently in the London Spectator, as a former resident of the United States, mentioned the common habit of making comparisons of trade conditions and other economic problems in the two countries. Mr. Owen declared that there is really no analagy between the two countries in these respects, and explains the difference as follows:

"The United States of America is a vast continent (self supporting) with a comparatively small population, while 'industrialism' is not paramount as is the case in Great Britain, where out of a population of 44,000,000 in an area smaller than New York State, only about 1,250,000 are engaged in agriculture. The United States also possesses a vast home market, plus a foreign market which at present absorbs all surplus products, and is enjoying the prosperity Great Britain experienced between 1840 and 1890 when manufacturing for the rest of the world.

"Great Britain's existing depression is due to the rise of other nations (notably the United States and Japan) who compete with her in neutral markets, while neglect of 'agriculture' while concentrating on 'industrialism' has led to a serious depopulation in the rural areas and consequent congestion in the urban districts."

There is some interesting truth in what Mr. Owen has to say. American prosperity is due in a great measure to the fact that this is a vast self-supporting country. We farm, we manufacture, and we carry on trade. Consistent efforts have always been made to build up our manufacturing and agriculture on the sound theory that to remain a prosperous, independent nation we must have both. The correctness of this theory is abundantly demonstrated in the present situation of the country. It has been this theory which has actuated the protectionists in encouraging our industry. In the early days it was deemed advisable that we have factories so that we could build our own means of defense. Later when the country grew rapidly it was deemed wise to keep the great home market for our own producers both in the mill and on the farm.

And our American idea has worked well. The American market is the greatest in the world. The workmen get the highest wages and so provide the greatest agricultural market in the world. And the assurance of the great home market has made it possible for us to compete in the world market, although the home market is of course many times more important to us.

England neglected agriculture and went in for manufacture and trade. Now she has lost out in farming and finds herself closely pressed in her specialty — manufacture and world trade. British ingenuity will doubtles solve this problem for England just as it has solved worse problems, but it is safe to say our theory has proved best—for America at least.

In recent years our agriculture has not kept stride with our manufacturing, but there are indications that the tide is turning. America needs a sound farming as well as a sound manufacturing industry, and this will be maintained.

The operators now want to regulate the output of crude oil, and we know a lot of small boys who won't object if they include castor oil in the program.

It's just our luck when the price of gasoline gets so cheap to have a couple of blow-outs.

If Chilton County should put on a farm demonstration agent it would be for only one year at a time. Then in case it were found that the venture is not profitable to the farmers it could be discontinued by the county commissioners at the end of any year. It is well to have it tried in this county. Vote for it on June 14 and let us see if the farm agent can do for Chilton farmers what they are doing for other counties in Alabama.

INVESTING IN OUR CHILDREN

The average parents live for their children. In order that the children may have food, clothing and toys, or medical attention when ill, parents will deny themselves the necessities of life, or will toil a little harder than they would otherwise do. It has been demonstrated in every age. It is a law of nature. Parents want to maintain their children well among children of their own time, but a more important question, they know, is to fit their children to live well among their fellows when they become citizens tomorrow.

What should be the nature of our investments in our children? They are having far better opportunities than we did when we were their age. Are we doing enough for them? Are we in danger of doing too much for them — of weakening their moral stamina by over-indulging them? These are questions of paramount interest to every parent. The man or the woman worthy of being a parent will face these questions and attempt to answer them. Do our children need so much better advantages than we received? The thoughtful man is becoming still more thoughtful over this question. One thing at least, is certain. The citizen of tomorrow must face a more complex society than we have had to do. The citizen of tomorrow will earn his place in society against more highly trained competitors than we have had to do. Our children must be educated to meet this competition or they will be crowded to a lower level of society than we ourselves have held. We, as parents, do not want them to face that possibility.

Alabama has vast undeveloped natural resources. Knowledge of these resources is attracting and will continue to attract many people, with their children, from other states. The indications are that the population of Alabama is to become much greater and that a greater per cent of the wage earners of tomorrow will be men and women who were educated in other states than is the case now. Many children, being educated in other states today, will be competitors of our children when they take their place in the world's work. Will our children be fitted to compete with them?

Various studies based on authentic statistics show that most of the states are spending much more money on the education of each child than is Alabama. A majority of them maintain longer school terms. Nearly all of them spend more to train their teachers, and then pay the teachers better than Alabama does. Alabama has not been spending enough on the training of her children to give them a fair chance in the competition that they must needs face when they become wage earners and attempt to become business and professional leaders.

This is not a theme that occasions loud hurrahs. It is a theme, however, that we must face. Men whose opinion is worthy of our consideration believe that education is investment. Statistics show that states which invested most heavily in the education of their children 20 years ago are usually among the states having the highest paid wage earners today. The last federal census showed the Alabama wage earners to be the lowest paid in the United States. Let's invest in the education of our children.—C. B. Collier, State Normal School, Florence, Ala.

Nature ain't so grand. She gives nice children to lots of people who haven't sense enough to raise them right.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Kansas City judge holds that there is no moral turpitude in home brew. Maybe not, but there is apt to be a lot of moral turpentine in it.

VOTING SCHOOL TAXES

Numerous municipalities and counties in Alabama are to hold elections in June to vote or reject a proposed levy of taxes for support of the public schools. In all elections held so far this year the tax has been voted by a substantial majority, evidencing the purpose of the people of Alabama to press forward in the important matter of education until the state shall take its proper place with other states of the Union.

Chilton County is to vote on June 14 on the proposal to levy a one-mill school tax. The chairman of the county campaign committee is Probate Judge L. H. Reynolds, of Clanton, who has issued a strong appeal to the voters stating why they should support the educational program outlined by the County Board of Education. Aside from the duty of parents to properly provide for the education of their children, it is pointed out by Judge Reynolds that the taxpayers themselves will have only about one-fourth of the increased taxes to pay, the corporations paying the other three-fourths. For example, he shows that the taxable wealth of Chilton County is approximately $15,000,000, and of this amount the Alabama Power Company owns about $7,000,000, and the railroads and other foreign corporations about $3,500,000. In other words, says Judge Reynolds, when $4 is paid in Chilton County for the education of boys and girls, $3 of the sum is paid by corporations, leaving only $1 to be paid by school patrons and taxpayers of Chilton County.

Judge Reynolds also impresses upon voters the opportunity afforded by the proposed appropriation by the state to bring all rural public schools up to at least a term of seven months. Voters are reminded that it requires three-fifths of the voting electorate to carry the one-mill tax, and he makes an eloquent plea that no business should be too urgent or cause so important that it would justify parents failing to do their part for the boys and girls of Chilton County who are now "treading along over the hills to the little red school house" for only four or five months, but who are entitled to full school terms in order to properly equip them to fight the battles of life.

There seems to be little doubt that Chilton County and other counties which are yet to vote on the proposed school tax levy will register substantial majorities for it. To do otherwise would be a backward step which the counties could not afford to take. Education in Alabama must go forward if the state itself goes forward. —Birmingham Age-Herald.

FACTS
about used car allowances

Most new car sales now involve the trading-in of a buyer's used car. More and more people are asking: "Why should my used car seem to have several values?.... Why should dealers in different makes of cars offer me allowances differing materially?.... Does the largest allowance offered mean the best deal for me?"

Here are basic facts:

1 Your used car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.

2 Your used car has only one fundamental basis of value: what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.

3 The largest trade-in allowance which is offered on your used car is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; but sometimes it is not.

4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

5 Judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your used car.

WHEN YOU are ready to trade-in your present car, remember that after all you are making a purchase and not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply applying your present car as a credit toward the purchase price of a new car.

Pimples, Boils, Skin Eruptions

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S. You owe it to yourself to try S. S. S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S. S. S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S. S. S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S. S. S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Bettering A Brilliant Record

The gigantic task of transporting more than a million cars in one week was accomplished for the first time in the current year during the week ending March 12th., a total of 1,005,715 cars having been moved by the steam transportation lines of the country between March 5th. and 12th.

Million-car weeks did not occur last year until late in May; and in 1925, not until July. This bettering of previous records is very tangible evidence of the efficiency of operation, and the constant striving on the part of the railroads to improve their service to the shipping and traveling public. Such continued co-operation by the shippers, as made the above record possible, will enable the carriers to handle their peak loads with less delay and greater general satisfaction.

The real place for a man who can convince his wife that lodge meets twice a week is in the diplomatic corps.

One nice thing about this fickle spring weather is that if you don't like it, all you have to do is to wait a few minutes and get something else.

It's a wonder some chemist doesn't put out a lipstick with a rum flavor.

The popular song writers are now busy trying to find out how many words there are which rhyme with Lindbergh.

Atmore claims the distinction of being the largest Irish potato hipping point in Alabama.

Generally speaking, farm crops have made satiafactory progress so far this year, although they are a little late.

"Have a heart" is a good slogan for all those who han'le livestock, especially work stock during hot weather.

Two-horse cultivators are becoming more popular in Alabama and incidentally they are reducing production costs.

A garden is too valuable to be used only during the spring and early summer. Make it pay by keeping it busy throughout the year.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Each year, as the supply of lumber becomes scarcer, we are showing increasing interest in our trees. Arbor Day was observed more generally this year, perhaps, than in any previous year in the history of the country. At least it received more attention in the newspapers. We are gradually coming to realize that we must do something about our dwindling lumber supply. The cutting down of our forests is not good for the country, either financially or mentally. For there is something divine and restful about the contemplation of a great tree. And even the great floods that occasionally devastate certain sections of the country, are blamed in part, on the disappearance of our forests.

Of course, the question is, what are we going to do about it? All sorts of plans have been offered. It is generally admitted that the problem is too big for individual solution, and must be handled by the national or the state governments, perhaps through the co-operation of state and nation.

One plan has been suggested by our present plan of road building. In this road plan the states and the federal government match dollar for dollar in the construction of omportant highways. Why, it is asked with some reason, would it not be possible for the federal and state governments to co-operate in the growing of trees, matching dollar for dollar? The plan is certanily sound, financially, and many experts declare that it is perfectly feasible in other respects.

In our important tree growing states there are thousands of acres of poorly productive lands which would be ideal for the growing of trees. These could be used for the growing of forests by the state and nation acting together. Yellow pine in the South becomes marketable after 30 to 40 years' growth. It requires for northern pine and some of the hard wools to reach maturity. But it is to be remembered that in many of the lumber states there are now great numbers of trees from 1 to 30 or 40 years old which, under proper protection by state and national government, would begin almost at once.

Therefore, when a reforestation plan were put in operation, there would soon be a continuous supply of lumber, as trees would be constantly maturing. And it is to be remembered that when land is taken over for government forests, it is held permanently, and the matured lumber is sold under strict regulation which will protect the younger growth.

Of course this program would cost money at first, but it would be a sound investment. The state and nation match dollar for dollar for roads and when the roads wear out the investment is at an end. But with forestry the situation is different. The older the forests get the more valuable they are.

Another thing may be noted in passing. We have a farm problem now. By the taking over of land for forests by the state and nation, thousands of acres of possible tillable land would be removed permanently from any chance of competition with the more productive lands. This would sooner or later have a favorable reaction on the rural real estate market.

MAKING TIME WITH A JOHNSON

Mr. Tom McGough, the Hudson-Essex dealer in Montgomery, was at Norman's Camp on Lake Mitchell a few Sundays ago. He had a Boyd-Martin Hydroplane 12 feet long and 50 inches wide, fitted out with a big six Johnson motor tuned up for racing. He drove this outfit from Norman's to Mitchell Dam, a distance of 2 1-2 miles, and back to Norman's in nine minutes. We undertand Mr. McGough went back to Montgomery and wired Johnson for two more big sixes.

Mesdames Arthur Johnson, Eric Hart, J. Watts Moore, Grady Broadhead, and Arthur Johnson, Jr., motored to Birmingham Saturday and spent the day shopping.

CITIZENS OF BEAT 15 CONDEMN LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow us, the undersigned citizens of Beat 15, Chilton County, space in your paper to call attention to the wildcat liquor men of our beat.

We are not going to stand for liquor any longer. It has destroyed the peace and happiness of almost every home in this county. Our aim and object in this movement is to try to make honest, honorable, truthful, law-abiding citizens of them, and to try to save their souls from a devil's hell. We have heard it whispered around that if they catch us in the woods they are going to shoot us and burn our houses. We are glad to say to them that we don't fear their noise, and if that's their game, we say "Go your route, we believe we are as near ready to die as you are," and we will guarantee them, that when they shoot any of us or burn any of our houses that the woods will catch on fire down here, and it would not be long about it. We believe that would stop their liquor business quicker than anything else we could do. We have nothing to fear—we have both God and the law on our side.

In conclusion we say to them to read this notice carefully, and let it be a warning to you. We do not wish you any harm, but we just ask you, as people who love you and wish you well, to cut it out and be men. That is all we ask of you, and if you don't do it we will look after you.

We realize there are a lot more good men in the beat who have their hearts in the right place, and stand for the right thing. We have not the time to go over the beat and hunt them up, however, but anyone wishing to add his name to this list just notify the editors of the county papers to add their names to the list, or notify J. R. Short, Maplesville, Route 2, and he will look after it for you.—(Signed) J. D. Deason, J. R. Short, W. W. Klinner, G. W. Sansom, D. E. Sansom, C. W. White, W. O. Smith, J. C. Crane, L. Smith, Ed Hayes, T. J. Deason, Wesley Ratliff, Jim Smith, Allen Smith, J. J. Owen, J. R. Scott.

SAMARIA SUNDAY SCHOOL HAD FINE PICNIC ON TUESDAY

The members of the Sunday school of Samaria went in a body last Tuesday to a convenient spot near Plier's Pond on Yellow Leaf Creek, where they enjoyed a splendid picnic. A truck load of drinks and refreshments was carried along, which added much to the pleasure and convenience of the outing.

At noon time a wonderful picnic dinner was spread on a shaded hillside. The baskets which were carried full of good things from home were supplemented with a dozen barbecued chickens and a big pot of camp stew, all together making a very plentiful and bounteous repast for close to a hundred hungry mouths.

The writer had the pleasure of participating in this event through the eating of the dinner, and it is our verdict that it was indeed a very fine day for the boys and girls as well as the older ones who were there.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF SPEAKERS

Mr. W. T. Bean and Mr. Percy Pitts will speak at the following places at the time indicated. Everybody urged to be present. There will very likely be a string band to play at this time:

Thursday, June 9, 8:00 p. m., Oak Grove.

Saturday, June 11, 8:00 p. m., Mineral Springs.

Monday, June 13, 8:00 p. m., at Pletcher.

Revival In Progress At Methodist Church in Clanton This Week

Rev. Jere Glenn, D. D., and wife, of Young Harris, Ga., are holding revival services at Clanton Methodist Church The meeting will continue until June 12.

Dr. Glenn is a fine preacher and a most successful revivalist. He is a man of deep spirituality and his meetings have been noted for spiritual results. The meeting is moving off nicely and there is every indication of a genuine revival for Clanton.

Mrs. Glenn is doing special work among the young people. For several years she traveled through the Southeastern states as standing secretary of the Y. W. C. A. She is remarkably well qualified for this special work.

For five years she was a Missionary in China and has a very clear understanding of conditions there at this time. The Baptist pastor and people are giving earnest support to the meeting, which is greatly appreciated by the Methodist.

Some Revival Specials

The services on Friday night will be of unusual interest. The young people of Clanton and surrounding country will be the guests of honor and Dr. Glenn will deliver his powerful appeal to youth, 'A Great Renunciation and a Great Reward." Reserved seats will be provided for the guests of honor and all young people are cordially invited to occupy them and join the special chorus by the young people. The youth of Clanton and surrounding country in all of its glory will be there and of course their elders will be present to do them honor.

At 10:45 Saturday morning there will be a great Children's service. Speaking of this Dr. Glenn said: "They are my joy and I am always delighted to preach to them. Indeed, I feel that I am at my best when preaching to children." All parents and teachers who can be present will thoroughly enjoy the sermon.

Sunday will be a great day in the meeting. At the morning and evening hour, the evangelist will use as his theme "Clanton's Greatest Institution" This is a stirring appeal to the church, and the pastor earnestly requests the presence of every member at these two services.

At 3:30 p. m. on Sunday there will be two special services of unusual interest. At the Methodist Church Dr. Glenn will deliver his timely message, "Sowing and Reaping" to MEN and BOYS ONLY. At the Baptist Church at the same hour Mrs. Glenn will give her winning address to the women and girls only, on "American Womanhood and the Future". These messages have had the highest endorsement of educators, the pulpit and the press wherever they have been given. Fathers are urged to bring their boys. When Mrs. Glenn spoke recently before a large body of women and girls in Kentucky at the conclusion of her address, the State President of the W. C. T. U. arose and gave a ringing endorsement of her message. An overflowing house will doubtless greet the speaker as she gives this message Sunday afternoon in Clanton. Every woman in and around Clanton is most cordially invited, and girls from twelve years up will be most cordially welcome

Special Young People's Services

The young people of Clanton and surrounding country are especially invited to the services held each evening in the basement of the Methodist Church, from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, just before the preaching services. They will enjoy this half hour of fellowship. Mrs. Glenn, who has charge of the young peoples work during the meeting, was for several years a Student Young Womans Christian Association Secretary for the Southeastern states, and a Missionary in China for five years. She relates many interesting incidents of her work and the young people are thoroughly enjoying these half hours with her.

The story of a Chinese Wedding will be told the young people Friday afternoon at four o'clock in the Methodist Church, and all young people are cordially invited to be present. All who hear it will appreciate more than ever before the fact they are to be married in America instead of in China, and will come to a new realization of what Christianity has done for womanhood and our home life.

The meeting will continue through the coming week, every day at 10:45 a. m. and each evening at 8. The pastor, Rev. Cox, extends a most brotherly invitation to the public generally to be present and share the benefits and blessings of the occasion.

TIME—PROGRESS

Twenty years ago the average housekeeper gave very little thought to the kind of shortening she used. Today the thinking housewife uses purely vegetable shortening—Crisco is the name; 3 pounds, 70c; 6 pounds, $1.40. D. L. WARD, Thorsby, Ala.

Wilcox County farmers and poultrymen sold 10,000 pounds of poultry and bought 11 pure bred bulls this month.—C. G. Neal, agent.

HOW A FARM COMMUNITY WAS REBUILT AGAIN

Glass factories and coal mines had kept the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker and the banker busy the year round in Point Marion Pennsylvania. Hired men left the farms followed by the farm owners to get their share of the attractive wages.

Suddenly labor saving machinery was brought in to the old hand method window glass factories. The coal business took a drop and hundreds of people had to find new employment. Savings accounts dwindled. Deposits of the two banks dropped off almost a million dollars.

"Bring in more industries," was being sung at luncheon clubs all over the land, every town seemed to be advertising unlimited water supply, cheap fuel and free factory sites. Competition was keen and the reward doubtful.

The question came, "Why not stimulate the argricultural pursuits of the community which have lain dormant so long." Farm income might be increased and production costs lowered in many instances

The first move of one of the banks was the purchase of healthy chicks These were furnished by the bank at wholesale to interested farmers payment to be made by note payable in six months The bank followed through by aiding in the dissemination of culling and feeding knowledge and by helping to market the cockerels which in most instances paid the initial cost of all the chicks

In Escambia, farmers have been assisted in the purchase of seed for hay crops, and a market has been provided at home for the hay.—H. H. Williamson, agent.

At the big co-operative lamb sale at Montgomery on the 18th day of last month, Alabama farmers sold 1,515 lambs for $13,000, tops bringing 15 1-2c live weight.—From The Birmingham News, May 29, 1927.

In Coosa and Tallapoosa Counties, County Agent, S. M. Day, has enrolled 140 club boys to date. Also 25 farmers in the 5-acre corn club.

Dale County farmers held 10 hog sales from November to April, with 6,064 hogs bringing $98,483.00.—G. W. Ray, County Agent.

In Randolph County 11,300 white Leghorn chicks hae been placed on the farms and are all being fed and housed according to plans worked out at Auburn.—R. Y. Bailey, agent.

In Coffee County the bankers have aided the farmers in buying 27 registered Jersey cows and the cream sales have reached $2,500 per month. Thetotal co-operative business done in the county during the past year amounted to $375,000.—R. G. Arnold, agent.

The printed guarantee on the can means that you must be satisfied with Crisco, and we know you will; that's why we guarantee it, too. 3 pounds, 70c; 6 pounds, $1.40. D. L. WARD, Thorsby, Ala.

On last Saturday night Mr. J. N. Dennis and B. Lawrence went to Pleasant Grove and met with a number of the people of that community to discuss with them the need of a county farm demonstrator, and the one-mill school tax. There were several present at this meeting. After the speaking a vote was taken on the two matters; 100% of those present voted for the demonstrator, and 97% for the tax.

Mr. and Mrs. Heard Hosts to Night Bridge Club—

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Heard entertained the Night Bridge Club Friday evening at her home on Tenth St. An artistic arrangement of dahlias, gladiolus, and snapdragons were used throughout the rooms. A unique idea was introduced in the tally cards. Each guest was presented with a card bearing the picture of a popular character from the comic sections. It was amusing, in the course of the games, to discover Mrs. Jiggs with Mutt as her partner, and Andy Gump as a partner to Toots. At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. Gerald and Mr. C. Fenn Jones held high scores. Mrs. Gerald was presented a vase, and Mr. Jones a tie. The hostess served a delicious salad course with iced tea. Each guest received a favor in keeping with the character he represented—Mrs. Jiggs received a rolling pin, Jiggs a miniature bucket labeled corned beef and cabbage, Mutt a little brick from Jeff, Toots a miniature hat in a hat box marked C. O. D., and Polly a lip stick.

Those enjoying this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. J. Hance Alred, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Downs, Mr. and Mrs. C. Fenn Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Johnson, Miss Ivilyn Ingram, Messrs. H. F. Chandler, and Herbert Neighbors.

Sunset Sewing Club Entertained—

Members of the Sunset Sewing Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Luther Foshee on Thursday afternoon at her home on west Second Avenue. Crystal baskets of sweet peas, and bowls and wall vases of nasturtiums and roses added to the attractiveness of the rooms. The afternoon was spent doing various kinds of fancy work.

Mrs. Foshee served a tempting ice course to the following club members: Mesdames Grady Taylor, Milton Smith, Flem Higgins, Hubert Jones, and Paul Ousley.

Mrs. Browder Hostess to Wednesday Bridge Club—

On Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, Mrs. John Browder entertained the members of her bridge club at her attractive home on Lock 12 road. A profusion of summer flowers were artistically arranged in vases bowls, and baskets throughout the rooms. After a series of games, Mrs. Frank Callen, holding high score, was presented a novelty set of score cards. Miss Alee Stewart assisted the hostess in serving a delicious salad course with iced tea.

Those enjoying Mrs. Browder's hospitality were Mesdames Victor Heard, J. Hance Alred, Frank Callen, N. S. Johnson, Arthur Johnson Oscar Jones, Lawrence Gerald, J. Watts Moore, and Grady Reynolds.

The invited guests were Mesdames Glenn Boyd, T. C. McSwain, and Bowen.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor Give Outing—

On last Thursday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor were hosts to the employees of the Chicago Sales Co., and several other friends, at Taylor' camp on the Coosa River. The party motored to the camp early in the afternoon and spent the time boat riding and fishing. At eight o'clock a delicious dinner was served to the following guests: Misses Etta Baker, Grace Foshee, Delene Williams, Annie May Foshee, Mrs. Anna Jones, Messrs. Tom Littlejohn, Jimmy Taylor, Reedie Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Downs.

Mrs. Glenn Lectures on China—

On Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock Mrs. Glenn gave a lecture before the ladies of the Methodist Missionary Society in the main auditorium of the Methodist church. The subject of her lecture was "China,—Its customs, and its missionary work." Mrs. Glenn has spent some time in China and her message, based on experience with the work there, made a strong appeal to those present. One of the most impressive thoughts brought out was the fact that Chinese give freely to the Christian work, with no thought of self. Mrs. Glenn, wife of the evangelist who is holding a meeting at the Methodist church, is doing a great work with the young people of Clanton. Her untiring efforts in their behalf has endeared her in the hearts of the people.

Missionary Society Meets—

The Baptist Woman's Missionary Society will meet in the basement of the church Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in a regular monthly business meeting. All members are requested to be present.

M. E. Junior Department Given Weiner Roast—

On Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock Mrs. W. W. Fox gave the children of the Junior Department a weiner roast at Fox's Pond. About 30 children, ranging from 8 to 12 years of age were carried on a big truck to the pond. After a number of games the children gathered around a fire and toasted marshamllows and popped corn. Then the most fun of all came, when the weiner roast began. The children enjoyed the unusual pleasure of roasting their own weiners. After a splendid feast the kiddies had an enjoyable ride back to town, reaching their homes about dark. Assisting Mrs. Fox were Mrs. Eric Hart, Mrs. Hosea Downs, and Mrs. Maggie Wilson.

Mrs. Broadhead Entertains.—

On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock Mrs. Grady Broadhead entertained at two tables of bridge. Summer bowers effectively brightened the interior. After a series of games Miss Bettie Mullins was presented a hand embroidered guest towel for the high score prize. Mrs. Mack Wyatt assisted Mrs. Broadhead in serving a delicious salad course to the following guests: Mesdames Omar Reynolds, Frank Callen, John C. Page, Arthur Johnson, Misses Louise Orr, Bessie Thomas, and Bettie Mullins.

Miss Jones Honoree At Linen Shower—

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was on Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Oscar Jones was hostess at a linen shower at her home on First Avenue, honoring Miss Hattie Jones, whose wedding will be an event of June. In the living room a rainbow color motif was introduced with quantities of gladiolus, sweet peas, and nasturtiums. The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Jim Jones. In the receiving line was the hostess, the honoree, and Mrs. Jones, the mother of the bride elect. Mrs. John Browder directed the guests to the bride's book, where Mesdames J. E. Gowan and Glenn Boyd presided. The color motif was repeated in the sun parlor, where crystal baskets and wall vases held varicolored dahlias. Mrs. Hosea Downs, Mrs. Lawrence Gerald, and Mrs. Eric Hart served punch and sandwiches from a beautifully appointed table. The bowl was banked with masses of California fern, sweet peas, and nasturtiums. Miss Jones was the recipient of many useful and lovely gifts. During the afternoon about 100 guests called.

Special B. Y. P. U. Program For Sunday Evening—

The B. Y. P. U. will render a special missionary program at the Baptist church Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock. Mr. Luther Culpepper is captain of Group No. 1, and Miss Gladys Williams is captain of Group No. 4. These groups will have charge of the services. The following are the topics for discussion: "Baptists believe in Bible teaching upon salvation, baptism, living, giving." We are strong on the two first—what about the two last? Sunday night we brush up on "Missions and Giving," the big question. Come to hear it. Be prompt!

Methodist Missionary Society To Meet—

Next Monday at 4 o'clock Mrs. W. W. Fox will entertain the ladies of the Methodist Missionary Society in the parlors of the church. It will be an important business meeting; all members are requested to be present.

Underwood and Norman Boosting Playground In Chilton Lake Region

Messrs. Oscar Norman and K. W. Underwood, of Montgomery, dropped in at The Union-Banner office last Thursday. They had been spending the day on Coosa River looking over some property in the famous lake region of east Chilton. Mr. Norman has a development one mile north of Mitchell Dam on Blue Creek, while Mr. Underwood is the developer of the Mount Manning property below Mitchell Dam. From talking with these gentlemen we were impressed with their intense iterest in this section of Chilton County, and we may expect them to continue pushing their properties on the river until they attain the culmination of some ideas that will make one of the most popular resorts in Alabama.

Underwood and Norman are about the most enthusiastic boosters of Chilton County's playground that it has been our pleasure to run into. Heretofore we have published some of the statements of Mr. Underwood regarding his impressions of Chilton County. An interview with him now would reveal that he thinks more of our lake region every day as he learns more about it and its future possibilities.

Mr. Norman had the following to say, when he was in Clanton last Thursday:

"Year before last I began coming to Lake Mitchell on camping trips. On several occasions I was accompanied by my wife and family. My first impressions of the place seemed to be lasting, and when we were back home in Montgomery during the winter we kept up our dreams of the ideal places and the beautiful pastime which we had enjoyed up here the previous summer.

"We longed for the time to come again when the bloom of the flowers and the songs of birds would call us back to Lake Mitchell. When we came back last summer we brought with us Mr. and Mrs. Cauley on a picnic. We made up our minds that we would buy a small tract of land somewhere on the lake and build a permanent camp where we could have our week end outings all during the summer.

"Upon investigation I found that I could not get water frontage on any small tract, so I wound up by buying 189 acres from Mr. Gulledge. After I had selected my own camp site, the size of the tract which I had bought forced me into a development to utilize that portion of the land and water frontage which I did not need for myself, and for which I had no use personally. Consequently I began selling small tracts until today I have left only 13 lots, the total of which is not over seven acres. I have spent practically every week end on my property at the lake during the past year, and I like it better now than ever.

"We have some splendid cabins, camp sites and country homes in our little colony, which makes it very delightful out there. Mr. Whitfield and Dr. George Dennis of Montgomery each have a delightful summer home there where they and their families and friends spend a large part of the time. Mr. Sam Burge will complete his cottage in the next week.

"I must not neglect to say something for the roads of Chilton County. When we began to visit the lake region it was a wilderness through which travel was difficult. Automobiles could not be carried to our place at all. Now, by the goodness and foresight of Judge Reynolds and the Commissioners Court, there are fine roads leading everywhere into this great playground, and one may go where he pleases with his automobile without the slightest trouble. The future of this section is indeed great. We are just beginning to scratch the surface in its development."

"IT'S just too beautiful for words and doesn't seem possible that you really finished it yourself. Tell us the name of this product that turns old furniture into new."

WOOD-VAR color varnish is made expresly for floors, woodwork and furniture. It is a supreme quality varnish stain, both staining and varnishing in one operation.

Polk Brothers Report Big Increase In Sales

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc., local Chevrolet dealers have enjoyed the biggest month in the history of their business, according to Geo. C. Polk, Secretary and Treasurer.

During the month of May they delivered 23 new Chevrolet cars trucks and used cars. This only lacks 3 cars of being a new car delivery for each working day.

For the first five months of this year they have delivered a total of 77 new Chevrolet cars and trucks and 53 used cars, against 53 new and 38 used cars for the same period last year. This shows an increase of 45% for new car sales and 39% for used car sales.

This increase in new car sales, according to Geo. C. Polk, is due to the fact that Chevrolet is now offering more real value for the money invested than ever before thought possible, and the used car sales increase is due to the fact that they are now thoroughly reconditioning their used cars and selling them with a 30 day guarantee.

CRAWFORD EASTERLING AND HUBERT WILSON ARRESTED

Last Thursday some whiskey was located near Refuge Church east of Clanton. The officers went there and stayed all night with the booze to see if they could find out the owners. The next morning about eight o'clock came Crawford Easterling and Hubert Wilson, who began to act familial about the place where the fifteen gallons was reposed. A little later Lennie Rhodes came in his car and Easterling and Wilson began to make preparations to load up the liquor.

Deputy Murrah, who was close by, halted them, and when he spoke, Easterling and Wilson threw the kegs down and were gone in the twinkling of an eye. They were later arrested and put under bond.

Voters Are Asked To Support One-Mill School Tax June 14

To the Voters of Chilton County:

The State of Alabama is raising one million dollars by taxation to give every school in Alabama at least a seven months term. In order that any county may get its share of this million dollar fund, the County must vote for and levy the one-mill tax. The Court of County Commisioners has called an election to provide for the collection of this one-mill tax for June 14th, 1927.

Chilton County has complied with every condition to enable it to share in the million dollar fund except collecting the one-mill tax. Unless this tax carries on June 14th, citizens must pay their share of the million dollar fund but get no part of it in return.

By voting this one-mill tax, the State of Alabama insures every school in the County at least a seven months term.

Therefore, believing it to be to the best interet of the boys and girls of our County, we, the undersigned citizens endorse the one-mill tax and urge every qualified voter of the County to vote for it on June 14th:

New Junior High School Is To Be Built In Baker School District This Summer

An interesting item of news is brought to us by Prof. Walter E. Martin from the Baker School District, revealing plans which are already launched and well under way for the erection this summer of a new and modern Junior high school building. The plans will be followed making the building similiar to the one at Collins Chapel. Work will be started immediately, and it is expected that the building will be completed in time for the beginning of the session of school next Fall.

The new building will occupy the present site of the old Baker Schoolhouse, which is in a beautiful locaton about four miles west of Clanton on the Maplesville Highway. The new school will take in the old Baker District, together with Highland and possibly some other districts.

A meeting was held last Friday night in which the citizens of the community came together and formulated some definite plans looking toward the erection of the new building. A building committee was elected at this meeting, the members of which are Ed Littlejohn, C. C. Ward and John Jackson. This Committee will right soon complete all details concerning the erection of the new building.

Prof. Walter E. Martin has been chosen Principal of the school. One assistant, Miss Gertie Baker, has been selected. There will be a total of four or possibly five teachers in the new school. The people of the communities affected by this school are to be congratulated for their efforts toward advancement of education It is just another instance where our people have awakened to the fact that their old school facilities are not sufficiennt for the needs of their children and they have determined to push forward to better things. We are glad that Baker School has caught the vision. This is one of the best communities in our county, and they are only doing their duty when they step into the march of progress and take their place among those communities which are marked out by their high ideals for better education, which means better citizens and better homes, and better farms, and a better future in every way.

We further congratulate Baker Junior High School in securing Prof. Martin as their Principal. We regret that he is to leave Clanton Grammar School. He has put in four years here as Principal and has made a fine record. He will carry with him to Baker School a wealth of experience and ability which will give to the people there a school of which they may be justly proud.

MISSING WORD CONTEST OVER AFTER THIS WEEK

This issue of The Union-Banner closes the missing word contest in which The Banner gives away $100 worth of valuable prizes. We are not annoucing the winners this week, neither will we be able to announce them next week because the contest box will not close until Wednesday night of next week, June 15, so that all contestants will have ample time to get in their last missing word sheet. Following publuication on June 16, the papers will be graded and the announcement of winners made in the Union- Banner date of June 23. Winners will then apply at the Banner office in person and they will be given the prize which they shall have won.

The missing word contest has been a right interesting little game—although it has been different from what some expected. It hasn't been so hard, yet those who win the prizes will be the ones who have been the most diligent and patient in filling out and sendng in the papers.

If this contest has created a better interest among our subscribers in reading the advertisements appearing in this paper, then it will have served the purpose for which it was intended.

So, we will ask the contestants to be patient until the paper comes out on June 23, then you will know who is who.

Reynolds Urges Support Of One-Mill School Tax

Dear Friend:

The campaign for the one mill tax has about closed. I feel like I have done the best I could as chairman of the campaign committee, to help the people understand what the tax means to the county.

As I see it this is about what it means to us. We received last year from a special $600,000.00 fund in this county, $11,049.21, which was used to bring all the schools up to 7 months. A bill is before the legislature that has been agreed on by the committee to raise four million dollars in four years, one million a year to be used as a special fund to bring all the schools up to seven months. It is reasonable to suppose that if we received $11,000 from the $600,000, that we will receive at least $15,000 from the one million, and the one mill tax will bring us about $15,000. So if the one mill tax is paid the schools will receive in this county about $30,000 from the two sources.

Now, I always try to figure up the cost in any enterprise I go into. So, let us take time to see what we, as citizens of this county will have to pay to get this $30,000. Corporations in our county will pay about $11,000 of the $15,000. So we, as tax payers of this County will pay about $4,000 and will get about $26,000 given to us to go with it. Would anyone say this was not a good trade?

Keep in mind, that if the bill passes to raise the million a year, we will have to pay our part anyway, but unless we vote the one mill tax we will not get a penny of it back.

I was appointed chairman of this com mittee at a meeting of the School Board and the trustees and would not have accepted had I not felt like I would be doing something to benefit the rural boys and girls.

The election was called as provided for by law, by a petition with two hundred qualified voters' names on it, being filed with the commissioner's court, requesting this election and when a petition of this kind is filed with the court it has no discretion but must call the election.

I hope every voter will vote according to the dictates of their conscience and strictly according to the merits of the case and not let some little prejudice they may have govern their vote. I hear all kind of complaint about what has been done in the past. Will voting against and defeating the one mill tax correct the evils spoken of? It will not. It will have nothing to do with the future management of the schools.

We are confronted with but one issue in this election. Do we want our boys and girls to have an equal chance with other boys and girls? Do you want your county to take a stand with other counties for education? If you do, vote for this tax, and then, where evils exist, correct them.

We have only this one chance to pay a small amount and get four or five dollars in return.

You may differ with me. People have always differed and always will, but let's be fair in our criticism; let's concede to those we differ with the same honesty of purpose that we have.

I feel the importance of this election. I know the country boys and girls of our county are as good as any on earth and they should be given an equal chance at an education.

It is now up to you to decide this question; the responsibility is on you voters of the county. Do your duty on June 14th, 1927.

Sincerely yours,
L. H. REYNOLDS.
Chairman, Campaign Committee.

Favors School Tax And County Demonstrator

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to say a few words in behalf of the proposed one-mill school tax and a farm demonstration agent for Chilton county, both of which I heartily favor. And if one might ask why I favor these measures, will say that it is because I believe they will be to the best interest of the most people of our county, both from a business standpoint as well as from an educational standpoint.

As I see it, the only salvation for the farming class of people is cooperation. And we need someone who knows co-operation to stir up our minds and encourage us along this line. Some say that we do not need anyone to tell us how to make any more stuff, that we make more now than we can sell profitably. That is exactly why we need a farm demonstration agent—to show us how to make the same amount or more stuff at less cost, and to enable us to sell it for a better price.

So, of course, anyone seeing these conditions existing and wanting the benefits to be derived from the aid of a demonstrator, will come out to the polls on the 14th and vote for same.—R. M. SORRELL.

SAM GARNER AND DYER SCHURTER ARRESTED SATURDAY

Sheriff Collins and Deputy Murrah went over into the western part of the county last Saturday to serve some papers. In their rounds they encountered Sam Garner and Dyer Schurter who appeared to be in a state of intoxication. They were in a truck on their way to Cahaba River for a fishing trip. When the officers examined the truck they found a quart of whiskey in the tool box. The two men were arrested and put under bond.

CLANTON GROTTO CLUB IS ENTERTAINED AT BANQUET

The Clanton Grotto Club, recently organized here, held a banquet at the Masonic Hall Monday night, May 30th. Many prominent speakers of the Kam Ram Grotto of Birmingham were heard on this occasion, the principal one being Sim R. Holley, Monarch of the Kam Ram Grotto. The entertainers with their music and stunts added much to the enjoyment of the evening. The ladies of the Eastern Star served delicious plates to about sixty guests.

Mobley's Address Was Mighty Fine Doctrine

The addres of Mr. H. S. Mobley of Fayetteville, Arkansas, which was delivered at the court house last Friday night was what we consider a very valuable thing for the people of this county. The only regret is that there were not more of us there to hear what was aid.

Mr. Mobley is a very entertaining lecturer. He is southern field director of agricultural extension work for the International Harvester Company in which capacity he has to do with a number of demonstration farms that are operated for no other purpose than to prove to the farmers of the south the adantages of diversified farming over the old one-crop system.

The subject of Mr. Mobley's address was "Communities are made of Folks" and while it was in the main a lecture for the encouragement and edification of farmers, yet his words were very good alvice for everybody, placing great stress upon the importance of co-operation and understanding and mutual interests of folks in the towns and villages with folks on the farms.

While in this county Mr. Mobley also lectured at Jemison and Isabella. He was brought here under auspices of the Chilton County Co-operative Association.

THORSBY LADY URGES SUPPORT OF SCHOOL TAX ELECTION, 14

Dear Friends:—

I wish toi say a few words regarding the one-mill tax which is to be voted upon June 14. There is no need of saying anything about the need of education for our young people. I am sure we are all agreed about that; we know that the very best we can do for our children is none too good.

The opportunty is now before us whereby with just a little self-sacrifice we will receive much help. You know that the schools in the different counties of the state do not have the same advantages. Governor Graves and the Legislature are tryiing to equalize them. It would never do to take money away from any school and give it to another as none have any too much as it is. Therefore, money must be raised in some way to bring the lower ones up to a higher level. There are several bills before this present Legislature providing means of raising the necessary money. Some of them will surely be made law. They will be in the form of special taxes on articles Most of us will use one or more of these things and thereby help provide the money. Well, that is all right. Why shouldn't we do our share?

But we will not receive any of this extra money from the state unless we as a county are doing for ourselves to the limit of the law. And why not? Doesn't God help those who help themselves? Thanks to our County Board of Education; our county is eligible in every respect that it was in their power to do. There is only one thing lacking and that it is up to us voters to make good. We lack paying a one-mill school tax. Shall we do our share? Surely we will, especially when we will receive so much in return for doing so little. All of us put together will pay only one-fourth of the amount that the one-mill tax will bring in, while the big corporations will pay three-fourths of it. They will not receive any direct help from it while we get it all, and the extra help from the State besides.

Can't we forget our prejudices and suspicion of unfairness and vote this one-mill tax? It means only 10 cents on each hundred dollars worth assessment. How many dimes do we spend foolishly during the year for things that even do us harm sometimes. It has been said that people get what they want the most. Do we want longer and better schools? Of course; then let us each do our bit. We will likely pay our share of the money the State will raise anyway. Some other counties will meet the requirements and reap the benefits, while if we vote this one-mill tax down, we will plod along behind. There is no reason why our schools should not be among the best in the State for we live in a wonderful county. Did you know it ranks third in taxable valuation in the State? This is because of the dams and long railroad mileage we have. Why should we not take advantage of this wealth especially since they don't raise any objections? Why don't they kick about high taxes? Because it is small compared to what they pay in some other States.

Let me add a word about the use of this money. Because we don't know the inside particulars about the business of the County Board of Education we are apt to misjudge and mistrust them. (I hope they will see fit to keep us posted by monthly reports in the county papers about the receipts and expense of our county schools. Our superintendent is a very busy man but I think he would take time for making these reports if he thought we cared to have them.)

Personally I think the Board has tried to do the right thing by everybody. There were many things I did not understand until I visited his office a few days ago. I wish I had space to tell you of them but I fear that the editor will throw this letter in the waste basket if I make it much longer. Though I must remind you that the county board does not do everything according to their own personal judgment, but are governed by State laws in many things. I feel confident they are doing and will continue to do the best they can for every school in the county. We have elected them to the offices they hold; then let us trust their ability and see to it that they have everything possible to work with.

Yours for Chilton schools,
MRS. CHAS. S. HOWARD.

FORESTRY LETTER

Montgomery, Ala., June 6—The third annual report of the Alabama Commisson of forestry is now ready for distribution, says the commission. The report is somewhat different than customarily used in documents of this character. Instead of being a mere compilation of official statements and figures, the report contaiins much information on forestry of interest to the general reader.

Among the important subjects treated iis the place of forest along with minerals, soil and water as one of the 4 mainstays of the materiial prosperity of the commonwealth. It reviews briefly the beginning of forestry by citzens of the state up to the time when public recognition was accorded this vast field of economic production by the Alabama forestry act. The state's activities in advancing forestry as the basis for numerous industries and incidental benefits, beginning in 1923 and extending to the present time, are briefly outlined. Progress is noted in developing state wide interest in the problems of the lumber, naval stores and wood using industries, the establishment of a state forestry nursery, the starting of forest plantng by numerous farmers, reduction of forest fire losses from a prevailing average of about thirty-six per cent to less than six per-cent, the restoration to more normal timber production of approximately twelve million acres of non-agricultural land, the establishment of a number of state forests, inclusion of additonal acreage in auxiliary state forest and the preparation of forest working plans for the guidance of a large number of citizens in the management of their timber properties.

The report is written in readable style and is well illustrated with numerous photographs. Copies may be obtained by writing the State Forester at Montgomery.

JACKSON OPPOSED TO STATE EDUCATION BILL AND TAX

Dear old Farmers and Tax Payers:

Are you paying enough tax and revenue? I. not, go to the polls on June 14th and vote for the one-mill tax and a farm demonstrator.

Mr. Percy Pitts and Mr. B. Lawrence, our representative and county superintendent of education, tell us that there is a bill now pending for passage in the legislature—a permanent bill in which will be collected a million dollars from special tax on articles that the public in general use; and we will have our part of this to pay. Article 15 of this bill provides that in order for a county to share in the apportionment of the equalization fund it shall vote the one-mill county school tax, otherwise, we will help pay the million dollars and receive nothing from it. In other words just vote the one-mill tax down and we will take your part of the million dollars and give it to the children of another county who did vote for the tax, says the State.

Does such a law show real honest statesmanship? I say, No. I believe in educating the youth of our land but I think we should have honest laws to be governed by, and not make laws that will take money from the children of one county and give it to the children of another county just because we did not vote as our lawmakers thought we ought to. For this reason, I shall vote against the tax and think all honest voters should do the same.

I have given eleven children a grammar school education and some of them a high school education. I have been teaching for 35 years without license and without an education. When my children came from school it was "daddy, help me with my lessons; the teacher told me if I did not know my lessons tomorrow she would make me stay in or whip me," just as the case might be.

I say, let our teachers get down to real business and make our school funds reach a little further in the way of educating our children, and then we would be more encouraged to add a little more to the funds.

Respectfully,
A. A. JACKSON.

$25,000,000 School Bond Issue Asked

Budget Body Reccommends Appropriatoins For New Buildings In State

Montgomery, Ala., June 3.—Recommendations that a constitutional amendment be proposed authorizing a bond issue of $25,000,000, through which funds will be provided for meeting educational building needs in Alabama at present and in the immediate future, is contained in the report of the State Budget Commission. This report has been filed with the recess legislative committee on ways and means, and is now being printed for the Legislature.

Divide Among Counties

Out of the proposed bond issue, each county would recieve for construction of school buildings, the sum of $200,000, this amounnt to be matched as released, by funds raised by the respective counties. The remainder would go to other educational institutions, including the higher schools of learning, to be expended for buildings.

The bonds proposed would be provided by setting aside one mill out of each dollar of General taxes, both by the state and by the respective counties.

Report of the Budget Coommission shows that 72.4 per cent of the total of increases recommended over present appropriations, would go to the common schools, the high schools and the normal schools of the State. The higher institutions of learning would receive 3.9 per cent of the increase. Education would receive 86.5 per cent of the total increase in present appropriations recommended.

Of the total proposed increase, the State health department would get 3.9 per cent; elementary and corrective institutions, 2.5 per cent; the child welfare department, 1.3 per cent, and the judiciary, including the supreme and appellate courts, 2.1 per cent.

Salary For Cent Small

Increases proposed in salaries of state employes, it is shown would amount to only seven tenths of one per cent. In connection with administration of special state funds, the increase would be 3.1 per cent.

An increased appropriation for pensions has been provided by the Legislature.

The total increase recommended over present appropriations, amount to less than $4,000,000, exclusive of the proposed educational building funds which would amount to about $1,400,000 a year.

PEOPLE WILL BE BENEFITTED BY 3-MILL TAX SAYS L. A. GORE

Clanton, Ala., June 6, 1927.
Editor Union-Banner:

As a citizen of the county and one who is deeply interested in its welfare and the education of our boys and girls, I am writing this letter in behalf of the one-mill tax.

It is my understanding that a million dollars is set aside to be appropriated to those counties meeting certain conditions. Our county has met every condition except the voting of the one-mill tax. Furthermore, I understand that we will get no part of the million dollar appropriation unless we vote the one-mil tax and at the same time we will be paying into the State treasury our part of the million dollars.

Furthermore, it is stated in the Bill that our schools must be operated 7 months or more. It seems to be that this time above all others, is the time that country people should vote for the tax because they are the ones who will be benefitted most by it.

In conclusion, let me urge that for the sake of our rural boys and girls, let us go out and vote for this tax on June 14th.

Yours very truly,
L. A. GORE.

REUNION OF OLD FAMILIES AT HOME OF SHERIFF COLLINS SATURDAY

A reunion of old and young members of the Mims and Collins families was held at the home of Sheriff Dudley Collins last Saturday, which occasion was the coming together of a number of people who once all lived close together in the community of Collins Chapel, but who are now more or less scattered over different parts of Chilton County and Alabama.

We might say perhaps that the inspiration of the occasion was Uncle Akin Mims, who twenty-five years ago, as somebody said was "the bell sheep of Collins Chapel," but who has been living in Mobile County for the last several years. Mr. Mims has been back here for several days on a visit to the scenes of his younger years and spending days and nights with those who used to be his neighbors.

His brothers, Uncle Jim Mims, Uncle George, and John Mims together with his sisters, Mrs. Margaret Fuller of Opp, Mrs. Murrah and Mrs. J. E. Dorminey, and Mr. and Mrs. William Dorminey and daughter Mrs. John Harrison Collins and their families and children and grand children formed the party which gathered on this occasion.

The complete list of those present was as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Akin Mims of Mobile County, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mims of Jemison, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mims of Thorsby, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dorminey of Union Grove, Mr. and Mrs. William Dorminey ad dapghter of Union Grove, Mrs. Fuller of Opp, Mr. and Mrs. John Mims of Thorsby, Mr. and Mrs. John Harrision Collins of Thorsby, Mrs. Murrah of Collins Chapel, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pate and children of Thorsby, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Merchant and one child from Pensacola, Mr. Jim Nix of Clanton Route 4, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Dennis and children of Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hubbard and children of Collins Chapel, Miss Genie Collins of Thorsby, Mrs. Lucile Franklin of Thorsby, Mrs. Spurgeon Calloway of Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Murrah and children of Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. James Gillespie and children of Clanton, Uncle Tom Littlefield, Mrs. Wilder and two children, Doctor Robinson, Rev. M. J. Parrish, Judge L.H. Reynolds, Mrs. Lissie Marcus, Mr. Akins Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Gore, Miss Mildred Gore, these together with the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins.

All those who came brought a big basket or box of good things to eat. At noon the dinner was spread on a long table around which was gathered a collection of warm friends who had not been together before perin a quarter of a century. Mr. Akin Mims invoked divine blessing upon the assembly, after which the feast was thouroughly enjoyed by everyone.

Throughout the afternoon the members of the party talked with each other and recited many stories and rehearsed many incidents that brought happy recollections of other days. It was a particular pleasure to the older members of the family to meet and get acquainted with the younger ones who have grown up since the days when they were all neighbors together at Collins Chapel.

The crowd gathered at one tme in the afternoon on the front porch of the Collins home and had a picture made.

A VALUABLE SERMON FOR MEN AND BOYS

Dr. Glenn, evangelist, held a special meeting for men and boys at the Methodist church last Sunday afternoon. Although the meeting had been announced and advertised extensively, there were not very many present to hear him; which fact does not speak well for the men and boys of Clanton.

The things which Dr. Glenn said were of immense value. They were truths which hould be planted in the life of every boy and young man, and which should be upheld and scattered abroad by very elderly man in this town.

We are sorry there were not more men and boys there to hear the lecture. We are ashamed to have it said as Dr. Glenn truthfully asserted on the occasion, that such a sparse attendance shows that most of the men and boys of Clanton are careless and unconcerned about the most important question of their temporal and spiritual welfare.

NEW FIXTURES IN THE PROBATE JUDGE'S OFFICE

The office of Probate Judge L. H. Reynolds has taken on a very much improved appearance in the last week by the installment of some new steel furniture. Ever since the new court house was built following the fire in 1918, the main office of Judge Reynolds has been fitted out with some old fixtures that used to be in the old Clanton Bank. The new furniture is deserved at this tiime, and it makes the office much more attractive as well as more convenient for the public and the clerks.

DOESN'T WANT SCHOOL TAX NOR DEMONSTRATION AGENT

To the Legal Voters of Chilton Co.—

I want to say that I indorse what J. H. Martin had to say about the one mill school tax and the farm demonstration agent. As I see it, the people have enough taxes, and if we endorse everything that comes up before us, there will be no end to it.

They say that the corporations pay a big part of this tax, but the consumer pays it in the long run. If you do not own anythiing, still it will be against you to vote for more taxes, for if you cramp the landlord, he will go up on the rent, and so there it is.

So it is up to us to do some thinking along this line. And as for the farm agent, we do not need him, for I never knew a man who had always farmed who payed him any attention at all. There is no one who can farm according to his plans. The people would get more benefit from the money if given to the schools instead of some one to sit around the court house and smoke.

So, go to the polls on the 14th and vote according to your own mind.

Respectfully,
J. A. SAMPLE.

Taxes Are Reflected In Telephone Costs

ALTHOUGH taxes form a large part of the cost of producing telephone service, this company does not object to paying its just proportion of the taxes necessary for the support of the government, the schools and other public institutions.

We do believe that telephone subscribers who supply the money will be interested in knowing what part of the money they pay for telephone service goes for taxes in the States of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Our total tax bill in these States amounted to $4,432,018 during 1926, an increase of 355 per cent since 1916, while the taxable property of the company increased only 142 per cent during this same period.

The combined tax and wage bill for last year reached a total of $28,866,300.

Although the enormous increase in these two items has been reflected in the cost of producing service, the rates charged for the service have not increased in anything like the same proportion.

So far as Uncle Sam is concerned, Soviet Russia seems to be getting more unrecognizable every day.

EXTRA SESSION NOT NEEDED

No special session of Congress is required to deal with the emergency created by the flood, and President Coolidge is well advised in ignoring the partisan demand which is being voiced for the calling of such session. Secretary Hoover's report confirms the wisdom of the course followed by the President. The funds raised for the Red Cross, now totaling more than $10,000,000, are sufficient to take care of the immediate needs. The government of the States affected by the flood have appointed commissioners to be in charge of reconstruction. Emergency credit corporations are being formed to assist sufferers from the flood and the Federal Farm Loan Board is to cooperate with an agricultural credit company which is being organized and which will place credit to the amount of $4,000,000 at the disposal of needy farmers. An extra session of congress could not do anything to facilitate these steps, and, under the feeling that it must do something to justify its meeting, it might take action which would result in more harm than good. Any program of good prevention at this time would be premature. Nothing of this sort ought to be undertaken until we have engineers' reports, not hastily drafted to meet an impending crisis but carefully worked out.—New York Post.

HOW ABOUT THIS FOR GROWING SOME?

Twenty-five years ago, according to a statement given to the Banner by Mr. A. C. Mims, then Tax Assessor of Chilton County, the total assessed valuation of property in Chilton County was just a little but over two and one-half million dollars.

According to Mr. S. M. Pate, present Tax Assessor, our total assessed valuation now is in round numbers fourteen and one-half million dollars.

A pretty good record of growth for Chilton County in a quarter of a century, it seems to us. Chilton stands today as one among a dozen of the wealthiest counties in Alabama.

With the increased wealth of our county we have oportunities for progress and development which are increased in proportion to the increase of our wealth. We stand in line to become the best rural county in Alabama if we will take advantage of our opportunities and make the best of them.

THE COLOR DOESN'T MATTER JUST SO IT IS RED

We notice the frame building on Third Avenue, occupied by the James Sign Shop, has donned a brand new green coat, while the blacksmith shop adjoining has stuck to the old saying, "Any color will do me just so it's red." We are glad to see these buildings painted, and here's hoping a few more will follow suit.

Mr. James tells us that he is at the time of this writing completing the largest single order of road signs for one firm that Clanton has ever before known, (apologies to Upchurch). This order consists of about five hundred signs for the Hagan Drug Co., of Sylacauga. Hagan is one of the live wires who knows that when business is dull is the time to increase one's appropriation for advertising. And this drug store advertises in his home town papers too.

Did you ever hear of a firm going in bankruptcy that advertised all the time—in the newspapers and signs?

An associated press dispatch today from Leningrad says: "Alarmed over a rumor that their gods were angry and there would be no summer, the Samoyedes and Osiaks of Northeern Siberia has slain scores of precious reindeer as sascrifices, according to returned Soviet Government census officials. They describe practically the whole membership of the tribes as being panic-stricken over the prospect of an entire year of Polar darkness."

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

The lines in the Democratic party are now sufficiently drawn to indicate that the Democracy will be truly fortunate if it is to avoid a long and bitter struggle in its 1928 national convention, a struggle recalling the one of the four years previous. Many eastern Democratic leaders seem to be determined to make Governor Smith the issue and the candidate. This determination is being opposed by other leaders in the West and the South and by many women leaders of the party on the alleged ground that Governor Smith represents the anti-prohibitionist wing of the party.

The first struggle between the Smith and anti-Smith forces is apt to develop over the proposal to abolish the two-thirds rule in the national convenion. As a general thing the Smith forces advocate the repeal of the rule, believing as they do that Governor Smith will have a majority in the convention. George W. Olvaney, Tammany leader, recently said: "Tammany is against the two-thirds rule and the unit rule both. Majority rule is a sound and time-honored Democratic principle." The unit rule, of course, is that which permits a state to cast its vote as a unit, despite the fact that there may be a minority in the delegation opposed to the candidate for whom the vote is cast. With the unit rule abolished Governor Smith's friends feel that he would pick up at least a few delegates in the western and southern states.

But a great many Democratic leaders are opposed to the abolition of the two-thirds rule, not only because the Smith men favor the repeal but because the rule is a time-honored one. It was adopted in 1832 in the first regular Democratic national convention in which nominations were made by delegates. History tells us that the rule was conceived by Martin Van Buren, at the behest of his close friend, President Andrew Jackson, and that its purpose was to get rid of the Calhoun influence in the convention and bring about the selection of Van Buren himself as the candidate for vice-president. Be that as it may, Van Buren was nominated and elected. Then fate played him an ironical trick. Twelve years later when Van Buren was seeking a second term as president and thought he would win the nomination, the two-thirds rule of which he was the father, was used to defeat him in the convention.

The anti-Smith men are handicapped just now through failure in having a definite candidate around whom they can rally. For this reason the Smith forces are getting most of the publicity. They base their reason for Smith's nomination on the contention that he is the only Democrat who can carry New York state, and they assert that without New York it will be impossible for the Democrats to win in 1928. New York has 45 electoral votes, more than the combined votes of many western states. Since 1892 the Democrats have carried New York but once—in 1912, when the Republican party was split. Wilson won in 1916 without New York, but he did it by a surprising and unexpected clean sweep in the West. Next year Democrats do not expect any such sweep in the West, so that it would seem that there is some foundation to their claim that they cannot win without New York.

The Republicans do not concede that the Democrats can carry New York even with Smith as a candidate. They claim that Smith running for president would be a different thing than Smith running for goveror. But they continue, even if Smith runs and carries New York and a few other eastern states, the Republicans can win by carrying one or two of the dry border states, like Kentucky, Tennessee and Oklahoma

It would seem that the Democratic leaders are in for a perilous year—unless they can settle their factional differences in advance of the convention—no matter whether Smith or anti-Smith forces win. Of course the convention is still a year in the future and many things can happen before that time. By the beginnig of 1928 things may be entirely different. But for the present at least it would seem that the leaders of the great Jeffersonian party will be confronted with a problem which will tax all of their diplomatic skill if serious trouble is to be avoided.

Profits in Lint Rest upon Amount Raised per Acre

Profits in farming are governed by the rate of production. High yields per acre mean a low cost of producing a bushel of corn or a pound of cotton. And the lower the cost of making this bushel of corn or pound of cotton, the greater the profit. Increase the yield per acre and the cost will decrease.

Proper fertilization is the key to large yields per acre. The three elements of a fertilizer are nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. Most Southern soils are deficient in nitrogen and most crops, particularly cotton and corn, remove from the soil more nitrogen than either of the two other elements. Therefore, to secure the largest and most profitable yields a large supply of nitrogen must be furnished the crop.

Farmers who have not applied any fertilizer under their crop or who have used a fertilizer which is low in nitrogen will secure large returns from side dressing with nitrate of soda. Side applications of nitrate of soda for cotton should be made at the first or second cultivation at the rate of 150 to 200 pounds per acre. The same amount may be applied on corn when the crop is about knee high.

Hogs need a sleeping place which is dry but free from dust.

CITIZENS IN BEAT FIFTEEN CONDEMN LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow us, the undersigned citizens of Beat 15, Chilton County, space in your paper to call attention to the wild cat liquor men of our Beat.

We are not going to stand for liquor any longer. It has destroyed the peace and happiness of almost every home in this county. Our aim and object in this movement is to try to make honest, honorable, truthful, law-abiding citizens of them, and to try to save their souls from a devil's hell. We have heard it whispered around that if they catch us in the woods they are going to shoot us and burn our houses. We are glad to say to them that we don't fear their noise, and if that's their game, we say, "Go your route; we believe we are as near ready to die as you are," and we will guarantee them that when they shoot any of us or burn any of our houses that the woods will catch on fire down here, and it would not be long about it. We believe this would stop their liquor business quicker than anything else we could do. We have nothing to fear—we have both God and the law on our side.

In conclusion, we say to them to read this notice carefully, and let it be a warning to you. We do not wish you any harm, but we just ask you as people who love you and wish you well, to cut it out and be men. That is all we ask of you, and if you don't do it we will look after you.

We realize there are a lot more good men in the Beat who have their hearts in the right place and stand for the right thing. We have not the time to go all over the Beat and hunt them up; however, anyone wishing to add his name to this list just notify the editors of the county papers to add their names to the list, or notify J. R. Short, Maplesville, Route 2 and he will look after it for you.—(Signed) J. D. Deason, J. R. Short, W. W. Klinner,, G. W. Sansom, D. E Sansom, C. W. White, W. O. Smith, J. C. Crane, L. AN UNBIASED LETTER

Editor Union-Banner:

Kindly allow me space in your paper to express my opinion relative to the one-mill tax to be voted upon on June 14th. I am in favor of the one-mill tax and feel that the people in the rural districts should be more so, because the rural schools will derive more benefit than the schools in the villages. The village schools, or a majority of them, already have from eight to nine months terms while the rural schools only have five months. If the one-mill tax carries, the schools in the rural districts will be lengthened to seven months.

It has been said by some that the rural chools have been very much neglected, to which I agree, but now they have a chance to be placed on a basis with some of the better schools.

Now, just a word in regard to the farm demonstrator, which is also a question to be voted on at the election June 14th. The farmer now has a chance to get help just by the asking for it. I think that the majority of the farmers are sick financially and they can secure the services of a physician by merely applying for him at the polls on June 14th.

If anybody needs help, it is the farmer—the man who tills the soil—the greatest occupation that supplies the food and clothing for the nation.

Let us all think over this question seriously and go to the polls June 14 and vote for the welfare of our farmers and schools and county at large.

Respectfully,
C. C. CONWAY.

Why Not Enjoy Life?

New Orleans, La.—"For one year I could not stand on my feet five minutes nor do any kind of work. I suffered with sick stomach, headache, backache and pains in my sides. I went to several doctors and the only thing they could see was an operation, but I could not make up my mind to have it. My sister told me of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I felt better with the first bottle, so I kept on taking it. I only weighed 89 pounds when I started and now I weigh 141. I don't know what it is to have a pain or a cramp any more."—Mrs. Pauline Daniel, 3136 Constance St. Fluid or tablets. Any dealer.

BUILDING THE GAPS IN CONCRETE HIGHWAY

We note with pleasure that a detachment of the forces of the State Highway Department is at work now building the gaps that were left in the concrete paving on the Birmingham - Montgomery Highway through Chilton County.

They began about a week ago at the county line south and are coming north as fast as they can. The camp of the workmen has been pitched at Verbena for their convenience in completing the work on the south end. The gaps that were left are scattered all the way through Chilton County where green fills had not settled and it was thought that time should elapse before the concrete was put down.

We understand that the gaps are being paved one side at a time in order that it may not be necessary to divert traffic by the detour route.

THE NEW MENACE

Hitch-hiking its way towards the nation's corncrib, the European corn borer is threatening to destroy crops to the value of billions of dollars and chase skyward the cost of production. If it worms its way into the Wabash and Mississippi Valleys, it can readily float downstream, spread out and become more difficult to control. Proper cooperation of all concerned will, no doubt, enable us to continue to grow corn profitably.—Agricultural Bulletin, American Bankers Association.

A corn and apple show is to be an annual feature at a bank in Baltimore County, Maryland. Another banker has been able to get his county to "thinking corn," over 500 farmers planting improved corn. Many other bankers in the state are giving moral support and funds to this work.

HELLO BUDDY!

Who do you reckon I am?

BLEED THROUGH

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building up so that your system throws off the causes.

From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it where a tonic is indicated.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

County Agents Help In Marion County

In Marion County the idea prevailed that the only source of livelihood lay in growing cotton and corn, but it appears from a large article in the Sunday's Birmingham Age-Herald that the above idea had been largely overcome.

With the co-operation secured from the bankers and business men working with their County agent the idea of raising only cotton and corn to that of including the raising of hogs, chickens and cows and depending on them as a source of revenue is making much headway.

Banks have helped by advancing money to buy cows and separators permitting repayment with cream checks with the understanding that the farmer grow his own feed and prepare the neccessary pastures. One bank loaned a farmer $235 to buy 2 cows and the cream recipts alone paid the debt in seven months. There are a number of similia cases in which the cost of cows and a separator were paid for in from six to twelve months.

One farmer has for the last several months been receiving an average of sixty dollars a month for cream from four cows, fed on home grown feed Another from September to June recieved for cream, $365 shipped from three cows. He also realized $181 selling pigs fed on skimmed milk from these cows and $117 from beef and pork, making a total of $613 with only $39 spent for feed not grown on his farm. The fertilizer saved on this farm was worth one bale of cotton.

Another farmer received cream checks as follows: for November $30.98, December $31.46, January $26.24 and for February $25.40 or $114.08 in four months. He further fed the skimmed milk to pigs that sold for $96. Still another farmer received $100 for cream from two cows from November through February.

Never before in the history of the county has there been such co-operation between banks, merchants and farmers. All seem to have caught a new vision and are doing their best to help the farms keep pace with the progress being made in county roads, schools and industries.

On June 14, let's vote for a county agent for Chilton County, grasping the hand of opportunity now and we too will progress and find other ways of paying our bills without keeping our children out of school and working our wives in cotton patches.

"No, my dear, this is not new furniture. I have simply refinished the old with KOLOR-BRITE decorative enamel. You are not the first who thought it was new! Oh, yes, it comes in fourteen delightfully dainty shades, also white and black. Anyone can apply it, and in a few hours it is dry!"

KOLOR-BRITE imparts a porcelain-like high gloss, durable and washable finish on wood, metal or plaster, and is especially recommended for use on breakfast room, bedroom, sun parlor and kitchen furniture, toys, brackets, etc.

Ask for a color card and be sure to ask about the new KOLOR-BRITE decorative furniture transfers—very artistic.

ANOTHER CAR LOAD OF SUGAR AT HILL GROCERY COMPANY

Just about a month ago Hill Grocery Company got in a car load of sugar, and lots of folks wondered what "Mac" was going to do with it. He has sold it, Doc, sold it. And now he is stacking sacks of sugar as high as the roof again.

A car load of sugar a month for a retail grocery store in Clanton is some sweetening. But Hill's is selling sugar just like they are selling everything else in the grocery line.

TIMES TOO DULL FOR MORE TAX SAYS CITIZEN AT JEMISON, ALA.

Editor Union-Banner:

I want to say just a few words in regard to the one-mill tax. I believe this is the wrong time to try to get the people to vote more tax on themselves. You remember the people all over the country were hit hard on account of low prices; the farmers' cotton was cut from 20c to 10c and his corn was cut from $1.25 a bushel to 60c. His strawberries were cut from $5.50 to $2.50 a crate. Now, just think what this means. Fifty per cent of the farmers failed to pay out of debt last year. I lost around two thousand dollars in my business and most every other man lost according to his capacity along the same line.

I can't see for my life what Judge Reynolds and Bro. Lawrence and others who advocate the tax mean trying to put this over the people of this county. They have shown by their actions twice that they did not want this one-mill tax put on them and I want to say to the voters that we are facing the worst panic for 1928 that this country has ever known. Look at the slump in business all over the country. The cotton mills are cutting labor almost half. The Buck Creek mill has cut off all the night crew and part of the day hands; lumber is at the bottom and all the little saw mills in the country are on starvation. Some can't pay their hands now; and does not common sense teach us that it will not do to put more taxes on the poor farmers?

These blatherskite preachers and cheapjohn teachers will come around with an awful nice tale and try to show you what you need, better than you know yourself. Just look and see who he is and what interest he has. Just look the man over who comes to you. He will tell you this thing and that thing, and what the Alabama Power Company and the railroads and the Western Union cable and the Bell Telephone Company do. Now, I say it doesn't matter what they tell you about these companys—the poor farmers will pay the bill.

They can tax anything on earth they want to and the tax comes out of the poor man who tills the soil for his bread and water. There is not a chance on earth for a reasonable man to get around this.

The Judge's slogan has always been lower taxes and no bond issue, and he has sailed a high flag under this, but what is he telling us now? He has torn down what he has lived a lifetime to build up. I am sorry that these conditions exist, but Mr. Voter, lay off the one-mill tax for we don't need it in these panic-stricken times. We have got to go to work to make our loads lighter and not pile up burdens on ourselves and our neighbors for they will pile up soon enough. You have to judge the future by the past—that is all the way we have to judge, and you see, the more money you put in your schools the sorrier they get. If our leaders would cut the schools to six months and have them taught 8 hours per day, there is not a child in the county that can't make its grades, and by doing this you will be able to pay your teachers more money and that is all they want.

Nine months of school is too long; farmers need their children to help on the farm. Some have large families and can't get by without working them in the field—yes 90% have to work them. Then why not arrange to help the farmer when he is in a tight and needs his children the worst?

A 6-months school properly taught 8 hours a day will beat a 12-months school under the present system of about 3 hours a day and sometimes not that much. We don't need more money to run our schools on—we just need to use good common sense and judgment with what we have got. I have a horror against the one-mill tax and I can't help it. I would like to see it defeated 100% on June 14.

The people do not care for paying this tax if they could receive one penny in return. With all the help we have given, our schools have just grown shorter and sorrier. Remember what Mr. Will Bean told the people of this county 12 years ago. "Give us the three-mill tax and we will guarantee 7 to 9 months free schools all over the county." We did it, and what have we got? I am actually ashamed of the conditions.

Now, in conclusion, Mr. Voter, remember if you vote this one-mill tax on yourself, it will have to be paid this fall, and the farmer is going to pay the entire bill regardless of what they tell you. This tax don't affect the big corporations—they add it on and John pays the bill.

The blatherskites are asking for the one-mill tax to be voted on for 10 years. Now, if we defeat it, we want to defeat it for 10 years and this will save the county lots of money to pay teachers, because elections every year are expensive.

I believe in good schools and stand for education, but in a practical way.

What I have said has been in good faith and with a good spirit and with no ill feelings toward the ones who want the one-mill tax. I am only asking my farmer friends and voters to go to the polls on June 14 and help me kill the one-mill tax for the next ten years. I thank you all.—Lucius H. Bean, Jemison, Ala., P.O. Box 123.

POOR ORIGINAL TORN

TEN DEMONSTRATION FARMS TO BE ESTABLISHED IN ALA.

The legislative recess committee on agriculture, after a tour of the state and numerous hearings at the capitol, has recommenden the passage of laws creating four experiment statiions in different soil areas; two to be established next year and two the following year. The demand for such research work in the black belt, Tennessee valley, Wiregrass region and Gulf coast country was general thruout the state and not a single voice has been raised against the plan, which would place these stations under the direction of the central station at Auburn.

Another important measure approved by the committee is the establishment of demonstration farms at the ten secondary agricultural schools, so that methods and practices proven at the research stations may be worked out in actual practice for the benefit of students and farmers within reach of these schools, which are well scattered over the state. The proposed legislation has been approved by both the education and the agriculture committees, following a joint hearing on this subject. The proposed laws provide that each of these units for research and demonstration shall be cast on a large scale and made complete and efficient. The committee reached the conclusion that demonstraton patches are not effective or convincing, and that such stations should be operated under the directon of both practical and scientific farmers.

A state wide stock law has been drafted and submitted by the committee, in accordance with the demands of progressive farmers, land owners and business men in all parts of the state. As drawn, the bill provides sufficient penalties to prevent the wilful violations of the law and applies to the ntire State at all seasons of the year. It was shown that the practice of permitting stock to run at large in winter prevents the planting of vetch for nitrogen and other cover crops, and also interferes with the improvement of stock by breeding.

Many of the reccommendations of the recess committee are embodied in the new agricuutural code drafted by Commissioner Harwell G. Davis. Legislation requested by the citrus growers on the Gulf Coast f 1 other horticulturalists, to improve inspection of orchard and nur ery stock and for the eradication of orchard pests and diseases; better marketing laws and strengthening of the sections relating to fraudulent weights and measures are among the subjects embodied in the Davis code, which has been approved by the agriculture committee and will be introduced early in the post recess session which convened Tuesday.

CULTIVATOR MEN DO DOUBLE WORK

One Man with Cultivator and Team Cultvates 48 to 70 Acres

Luvurne, Ala., June 6—By using two-horse cultivators instead of single plows for cultivating crops one hundred farmers in Crenshaw County are now doubling their own efficiency according to W. T. Cheney, county agent. This is the number of cultivators bought by farmers in the county during the last few years, and Mr. Cheney says that they have been so successful as to convince him that the sale of cultivators is just beginning.

Although practically all of the land is rolling, two-horse cultivators are easily operated and those farmers who are using them are cultivating 48 to 70 acres per man. One farmer who has three cultivators is working 210 acres with 6 mules, 3 cultivators, and 3 men and 170 of the 210 acres is in cotton. He has kept his crop in first class condition.

With one mule and a single plow, Mr. Cheney has found that a man cultivates only half as many acres as he cultivates with a two-horse cultivator and two mules. W. N. King, the first farmer who bought a cultivator in the county four years ago did so to replace a hired man who quit him. He found that he alone could cultivate the sam acreage with a two-horse cultivator. His cultvator saved him the salary of a man.

"Each farmer in the county who is using these cultivators is making money farming," Mr. Cheney declared. This is not true of all other farmers."

By using these cultivators and taking advantage of known facts about varieties, fertilizers,and methods, Mr. Cheney thinks that farmers in this county can compete successfully with Texas farmers in producing cotton.

ALABAMA POWER CO. PLANS NEW PROJECT AT LOCK 17

Montgomery, June 2.,— The Alabama Power Company has filed a petition asking authority to construct a power plant on Warrior River at Lock 17, together with a transmission line to Tuscaloosa, the Alabama public service commission announced today. The project is simiiliar to one for which authority was asked for years ago. At that time other sites on the Warrior River were desired. The project this time, it was said, had its origin among citizens of Tuscaloosa.

Class Night.—

Wednesday night was senior class night. The reading of the class will, history, poem and prophecy is always a feature. Willie Littlejohn wrote the will, Dorthy Butler was the historian, Hudson Williams, poet, and Meryle Freeman, prophet. These papers were unusually original and well written. The class fancied itself at a class reunion many years in the future, at this reunion the class papers, miraculously preserved, were produced and read. The acting of the senior was realistic.

Another feature of the program was the alumni stunt or "Come-Back" on the seniors. At first the audience saw the "Williams Brothers Singing School" in session. A second part was the reception of the body alumni into the alumni association.

The commencement day base ball game between the Alumni and the school (Thorsby Institute) was a close game but won by the school.

J. N. Scott Is Against One-Mill School Tax

Editor The Union-Banner:

Please allow me space to have a say on the one-mill school tax. I want to say that what some of the advocates of the tax have stated is misleading. Let us thoroughly examine what they say.

Judge Reynolds says we have a county superintendent and board of education who want to do what the people want done. I can't believe this is true, as they know that last year we voted down this same proposition and asked that they quit spending money in holding such elections.

The Judge says this is an important question and that the money is badly needed, but he hasn't yet said in what way it was needed or for what it is to be spent. Let us see what he has to say about it. He says the state is going to levy a million dollars on the people of the state and that it is for the bringing the schools up to seven months next year where they only had six this year, and it is to be known as the extension funds and used for that purpose. Then, if the state is providing this fund, I want to ask why it should it be so necessary for us to vote a one-mill tax on ourselves for the next ten years and we do not know whether we will be able to pay the tax or not.

The Judge says if we do not vote in the one-mill tax we will not get any of the million dollars provided for the purpose of extending the schools. This statement I believe to be untrue and the intention misleading and the purpose to drive people into doing something that they have refused to to do on two occasions. Why do I say so? Because I do not believe the officers of this state intend to take our money and not give something in return for it.

Of course, our county officers did that twelve years ago. They told us to vote three-mill tax and they would give us seven months free schools a year. You know what happened. They gave us more school teachers and heavier supplements and shorter schools. This lasted for ten years and the people have'nt forgotten it. We have voted it down two different times and the schools have gone along just the same. Now they are asking us the third time for us to give them the one-mill tax.

If they would have saved all the money they have spent for stamps, envelopes and expense of holding the elections and the campaign expenses, they would thereby have saved thousands of dollars.

I believe Judge Reynolds misleads again when he says that there were 200 citizens got up or signed a petition for the calling of the election before the school board knew anything about it, and that they did not have a thing to do with it. How many of you believe this is true? But, granting that it is true, let us look and see who it is that is running around over the county talking for the one-mill tax. Is it the citizens, or is it the officers of our county?

I want to say that those who advocate this tax are those who have been living out of our pocketbooks for years.

I think the Judge misleads again when he says the corporations pay $3 tax to our $1. I want to say to the farmers that you and the wage workers pay the whole thing. Yes sir, you pay for the Judge's lights and mine and all other business men. Don't think that you are getting something given to you, for you are not; but you are giving to the other fellow. You may not see it this way, but it's true.

Where did the Judge stand heretofore on these tax questions? Against them, of course. But he is now trying to raise the old Lawrence tax boat that was sunk last year, and wants to get a big name for doing the job. But I want to say if she is ever raised, the voters of this county are the ones to do it.

Shall we do it? I say no; but we will sink the Reynolds ship also. I want to say that just as long as we let these money sharks dictate to us and drive us into voting for everything they want, that long we will be harnessed about. It is not that they care so much for your boys and girls but it is for the money that is in it.

Why don't they donate some to the poor old farmer when he gets hit like he did last year and can't pay his debts? No sir, they have no mercy on him.

Now, I will say in conclusion, let us go to the polls on June 14 and vote this tax down again, and let the bosses go down with it.—J. N. Scott, Jemison, Ala.

Statement from County Board of Education

In view of the fact many people are complaining because teachers are not rendering the very best service they should in the communities by not putting in the required time and since we recognize SOME of this criticism is justified, in that SOME are not putting in their time, we, the County Board of Education, promise to lend our efforts to correct this.

Furthermore, in view of the fact that teachers are employed by the local trustees we ask for their co-operation in obtaining the very best service from teachers possible and giving to the children the services they are justly entitled to.

Believing in local, self-government, we hereby pledge ourselves to co-operate in every way possible with the local trustees in the selection of their teachers and the management of their schools, looking forward to better schools, longer terms and better teachers.

Impressive Program In Interest Of School Tax

SCHOOL CHILDREN STAGE PARADE SHOWING DIFFERENT STAGES OF OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL WORK

One of the most picturesque scenes witnessed by the people of Chilton County in many years was the parade which took place in Clanton Saturday at 3 o'clock in behalf of the one-mill school tax drive.

The first float, a beautiful creation done in red, white and blue, held Miss America, who stood poised on a high pedestal towering above the crowds. On her head she wore a gold coronet; in her right hand she held a huge American flag, and in her left the shield of the U. S. A. Her long flowing white robe was bound to her Grecian style by a gold cord. From the pedestal upon which she stood, festoons of red, white and blue flowers reached to the sides of her throne. Red, white and blue bunting was draped around the edges where large white stars were placed at intervals.

The next float also was decorated in the national colors and represented the modern school made possible by the school tax. The class was composed of children from the third grade. Next came the old-fashioned school. About thirty children of all ages dressed in old fashioned clothes walked just as they did years ago in order to obtain an education. The rear was brought up by automobiles bearing the committees for the one-mill tax drive.

Immediately after the parade an interesting program was held at the court house. Mrs. Ezell, the teacher of the old school of fifty years ago, gave a demanstration of the old methods of teaching school. It brought to mind the pathetic neglect of the children of yesterday. Miss Lurline Harper taught the modern school and it was interesting to note the progress made since the children were given a chance.

A number of speeches were made in behalf of the one-mill tax and the children of Chilton County by men as well as ladies from all over the county.

Mr. Greenwell, the new manager of the Wadesonian Theatre, supervised the decoration of the floats.

Mobile Bay Bridge Is Now Open To Traffic

GOVERNORS OF FLORIDA AND ALABAMA TAKE PART IN DEDICATION PROGRAM

Mobile, June 14—With elaborate ceremonies in which prominent men of four states participated, Cochrane bridge across Mobile Bay was formally opened to traffic this morning.

In the presence of thousands, Governor Martin of Florida and Governor Graves met half-way of the huge lift span over the bay channel and slashed the barrier of flowers which barred the passage.

Delegates from Florida, Alabama, Misissippi and Louisana gathered here for the ceremonies. These included practically all members of the Alabama State Legislature.

Mrs. Bibb Graves, wife of the Governor, christened the bridge when monies the official party will gather Immediately following the cere- at lunch at a local hotel where they she broke a bottle of satsuma orange juice over the huge steel draw. were guests of civic clubs of Mobile. Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi was one of the principal speakers.

During the afternoon the state docks will be inspected.

Opening of the new bridge which is 10½ miles long, will eliminate a 15 mile ferry trip. The bridge cost $2,000,000 and eliminates the last ferry on the trail between St. Augustine, Fla., and New Orleans, except that across Lake Pontchartrain, where a bridge is being built.

LINDBERGH MAKES FLIGHT ON GOODRICH BALLOONS

Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, who in a little over 33 hours wrote in the sky acrosss the Atlantic Ocean the most amazing accomplishment in aviation history, was the first transoceanic flier to carry pneumatic-tired landing gear to the end of his journey.

This is the gist of a bulletin just recieved by Geo. C. Polk, local Goodrich Silvertown dealer, from the Goodrich factories at Akron. Captain Lindburgh had his famous plane equipped with Silvertown Airplane Cords at the hanger in San Diego, California, several weeks before he hopped off on the first leg of his epochal 6,100 mile flight to Paris.

According to Mr. Polk, these tires which were 30 x 5 inch stock Silvertowns, were not tested in any way, but were merely picked out of the tire racks at the factory of the Ryan Airplane Company by Lindbergh and applied to the wheels by himself and a helper.

Although Lindbergh's plane carried normal loads when it hopped off at San Diego and St. Louis, where it stopped on its way to New York, its load for the Paris hop was considerably above its normal. 5,150 pounds hammered and battered the monoplane's Silvertown equipment on the quarter-mile of runway before it lifted clear and sailed off for Paris. Had one of these tires collapsed under this weight, amplified as the plane bouced on the ground, a serious accident might easily have resulted and the intrepid Lindbergh and his plane would not have left the ground.

"The first thousand feet and the last thousand feet of an airplane's journey are distances of grave stress on the aviator's landing gear and its tires. A blowout in New York would have spelled the end of Lindbergh's magnificent venture. A blowout in Paris might have brought a tragic end to such a glorious accomplishment.

"But Silvertowns held. Their fine strength, their sturdy cushioning stood the stress and strain that had doomed a thousand flights. Captain Charles Lindbergh soared away safe and landed safe, setting a new record to glorify the history of American aviation."

One-Mill School Tax Defeated; Farm Demonstrator Carried

The Required Three-Fifths Majority for School One-Milll Tax Fails to Carry by Small Margin of Forty-Five Votes.

Such figures as were possible to obtain on Wednesday morning indicated that the one-mill school tax was defeated in Tuesday's election in Chilton County; while it was at the same time indicated by unofficial figures that the farm demonstration agent received a majority vote.

A majority of the votes cast were for the school tax, but under the law, the tax can be declared adopted only when a three-fifths majority is voted favorable to it. The failure of the tax in Tuesday's result will be in the fact that the majority is not enough to reach the required three-fifths.

Figures could not be obtained on Wednesday morning from all voting places in the county; and the returns from all the places are unofficial, but can be relied upon as fairly accurate.

Following is the vote on the one-mill tax, as reported unofficially by returning officers who came to the court house to bring the ballot boxes:

FATHER AND THREE CHILDREN KILLED BY TRAIN AT IRONDALE

John Harvey Easterwood, age 48, a farmer living near Irondale, and three children, Edna 8, Vera 4 and Leroy 3, were instantly killed Tuesday morning when the car in which they were riding collided with a fast Southern passenger train, at a railroad crossing near Irondale. A. D. Johnston, Easterwood's brother in law, was driving the car; he was seriously but not fatally hurt.

Reports say that Mrs. Easterwood was standing on her potch looking at the car when it collided with the train, and saw her husband and children hurled into the air and to their death. She was holding her baby in her arms when the tragedy happened.

LEAVES ON EXTENDED BUSINESS TRIP YESTERDAY

Mr. Roland W. Taylor of the Downs Grocery Company, left Wednesday for a two-weeks business trip through the north and east. While away he expects to go through Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia. Mr. Taylor is making the trip alone, and says that he expects to visit Washington and New York before returning home.

President Coolidge Now Taking Summer Vacation

Washington, June 13 — President and Mrs. Coolidge leave Washington tonight for a far away corner in western South Dokato to spend their summer vacation in the state game lodge of the Black Hills.

It is the first time the President has planned such an extended trip in so comparatively a remote section of the country and in consequence the preparations for the journey inorderately taxed the energies of the White House staff.

The presidential train will make its first scheduled stop after leaving Washtigton at Hammond, Ind., where Tuesday Mr. Coolidge will dedicate the Wicker Memorial Park to the World War veterians. No other formal stops are planned except at Pierre, South Dakota, where the president will be welcomed to the State of his summer residence by Governor Bulow and other officials.

In view of the busy week-end which caused Mr. Coolidge to forsake his office in order to participate in the celebration for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, the last day in Washington found many matters awaiting attention. In addition to clearing his desk of pending matters, the president was to make a brief address at the 1st International Congress of Soil Science. Mrs. Coolidge was meanwhile busy with last minute preparations which included the supervision of the large amount of baggage which must be taken and several pieces of household goods which will be needed in their two months stay in the West.

Except for the usual large party of White House officials and Newspaper men and photographers, the prisident will have no special guest on his special train. Postmaster General New, a former senator from Indiana has been invited to accompany the prisident to Hammond.

The White House staff for the trip includes Everett Sanders, Secretary of Mr. Coolidge; Edward T. Clark, the president's personal secretary; and Mrs. Clark; Colonel Blanton Winship, Military aide to the president; and Major James F. Coupal, White House Physician.

DEAD GIRL SHIPPED HERE FROM RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

On Wednesday of this week arrived in Clanton the body of little Pauline Jones, age 9 years, who died in a hospital in Richmond, Va., Sunday night. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jones, who lived in Clanton eight years ago. The body will be buried at Samaria today (Thursday) at 11 o'clock.

It is reported that the child had whooping cough which became complicated and developed into pneumonia. Clanton friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jones extend to them their sympathy.

EGGS PECULIARLY MARKED

What? Another freak! Yes, and this time it comes right out of the middle of Chilton's metropolis. The subject under discussion was a nest of eggs reported by Mr. Leonard Eubanks, who lives on Sixth Street. Mr. Eubanks displayed three of the eggs in town Friday of last week, and they possessed peculiar markings. The marks were not arranged on any of the eggs to look like any particular thing, but the marks were very clear and distinct. They looked just like they were put there with a lead pencil, but upon close examination it was found that such was not the case. The marks could not be rubbed off or scraped off. Leonard said that he broke one of the marked eggs and found the marks on the inside of the shells just as plain as on the outside. One of the eggs is now on display at The Union-Banner office.

DEMONSTRATE MOTOPOWER GASOLINE NEXT SATURDAY

Mr. Claud Jones, manager of distribution for products of the Brown Oil Company in this county, announces a demonstration to be held next Saturday at the Clanton Service Station, in which the merits of "Motopower" gasoline will be brought to the attention of automobile owners in this locality.

"Motopower" is being retailed at the Clanton Service Station and they declare that it has proven a great success with automobile owners. The public us urged to come next Saturday and see the demonstrations. Mr. Jones says "Come and bring us your car, and we will show you that Motopower is the greatest thing that has ever been found for motor fuel. We will have a demonstrator here from Kansas City. Our demonstration includes the cleaning of every bit of carbon our of your motor, and it is free. We will take out the carbon and show you how to keep it out."

ANOTHER ALABAMA BOY

Jack Hayes, Sophomore shortstop of the University of Alabama nine, has been signed by the Barons and is now on the voluntary retired list. Hayes joined the club at Chattanooga and finished out the trip. He was a fine prospect at Alabama, but suffered a sprained ankle about midseason—that kept him out of the game for a long time. Hayes was impressive in his fielding when the Barons played the Crimson Tide two games. His batting also has been up to snuff, triples seeming to have been his specialty this Spring.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

CITIZENS OF BEAT FIFTEEN CONDEMN LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Please allow us, the undersigned citizens of Beat 15, Chilton County, space in your paper to call attention to the wild cat liquor men of our Beat.

We are not going to stand for liquor any longer. It has destroyed the peace and happiness of almost every home in this county. Our aim and object in this movement is to try to make honest, honorable, truthful, law-abiding citizens of them, and to try to save their souls from a devil's hell. We have heard it whispered around that if they catch us in the woods they are going to shoot us and burn our houses. We are glad to say to them that we don't fear their noise, and if that's their game, we say, "Go your route; we believe we are as near ready to die as you are," and we will guarantee them that when they shoot any of us or burn any of our houses that the woods will catch on fire down here, and it would not be long about it. We believe this would stop their liquor business quicker than anything else we could do. We have nothing to fear—we have both God and the law on our side.

In conclusion, we say to them to read this notice carefully, and let it be a warning to you. We do not wish you any harm, but we just ask you as people who love you and wish you well, to cut it out and be men. That is all we ask of you, and if you don't do it we will look after you.

We realize there are a lot more good men in the Beat who have their hearts in the right place and stand for the right thing. We have not the time to go all over the Beat and hunt them up; however, anyone wishing to add his name to this list just notify the editors of the county papers to add their names to the list, or notify J. R. Short, Maplesville, Route 2 and he will look after it for you.—(Signed) J. D. Deason, J. R. Short, W. W. Klinner,, G. W. Sansom, D. E Sansom, C. W. White, W. O. Smith, J. C. Crane, L. Work Begun On New Shackleford Building

FUTURE HOME OF FORD BUSINESS HERE TO BE MODERN IN EVERY RESPECT

Work was begun Monday morning of this week on the construction of the new Shackleford Building on the corner of the Highway and Third Avenue, which will be occupied by Clanton Motor Car Company, and will be the future home of the Ford business in Clanton. The new place will be modern and up-todate in every respect. It will front 112½ feet on the highwty and extend 140 feet deep along Third Avenue.

Construction will be of steel, brick and concrete, one story high, with concrete floors throughout, and a handsome plate glass front all along the highway. The show rooms for display of automobiles and Ford products will present a very attractive appearance from the highway.

Every convenience will be provided for users of automobiles. The equipment for repair work and Ford service will be second to none. A modern drive-in filling station will be conducted at the new place, which will be arranged very neatly at the southwest corner of the building, and accessible from both the highway and Third Avenue.

In discussing the plans for the new building, Mr. Bowen, local manager of the Clanton Motor Car Company stated: "We have found it absolutely necessary to have larger space in which to take care of the ever increasing popularity and demand for Ford products in Clanton. Therefore we concluded to erect on our property here a building that will not only take care of our needs, but will be a reflection of the progressive spirit of our town and county. According to announcement already made from Mr. Ford, we shall have in a short time an entirely new Ford automobile to offer the public, and we have every reason to believe that it will cause the greatest demand that has even been realized by a Ford product."

Mr. Leon H. Watson, a contractor and builder, from Miami, Fla., is here and has supervision of construction work on the building. It is expected that the new place will be completed within sixty days.

Hays Family Reunion Held On Last Sunday

PROMINENT FAMILY GATHERED AT HOME OF BILL HAYES NEAR THORSBY

On last Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hayes and children, grand children and a host of relatives and friends gathered in the grove at the home of Mr. Bill Hayes near Thorsby for the purpose of a real old-time reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes have 14 children, 40 grand children and 3 great grand children, all of whom were present. The day was thoroughly enjoyed and never to be forgotten. Mr. Hayes and family sung some beautiful old songs in the old books, which everyone enjoyed. At noontime a bountiful dinner was spread on the table which had been prepared for the occasion. This hour was a very busy one, which, it is needless to say, was the most enjoyable hour of the day. Ice cream and cold drinks were plentiful throughout the day, free for all.

Much of the afternoon was spent in talking and laughing among the grown-ups, enjoying a real good time together, while the young ones and little tots were busily egaged in swinging and romping about the shady grounds. Several good old songs were enjoyed during the afternoon. Some time was spent in picture-making for the Hayes family, made in several different groups.

An interesting talk was enjoyed from Mr. Akins Mims of Mobile County; he is an old friend of the Hayes family. We were glad to have him with us.

The day was very much enjoyed by all; however, many hearts were made sad when Mr. Hayes and children began to sing "God be with You till we meet Again," and say good bye to depart for their homes in Atlanta, Birmingham, Mobile and other parts of the State.

We hope Mr. Hayes and family many more happy reunions like this. —Miss Roberta Collins.

BLEED THROUGH

WHEN TO HARVEST TREES

Montgomery—When a tree should be cut to yield the greatest profit can usually be determined by noting the width of the annual rings of growth, says a statement issued by the Alabama Commission of Forestry. The outer rings can easily be counted in a small chip next to the bark removed from the base of the tree or from a cross section of one of the lower branches. Foresters use a special hollow auger with which to bore into the tree, removing a small core which shows the layers of growth very plainly.

Under good growing conditions, the annual rings average of considerable width, varying from one-sixteenth of an inch to one inch, according to the species and the conditions under which the particular tree exists. Irregularities are often found. These are due to temporary variations in growing conditions such as difference in rainfall, the removal of competing trees, occurrence of fires or insect attacks, changes in subsurface drainage, etc. Moreover, as the tree grows larger the rings become narrower. It is to be borne in mind, however, that although the ring is narrower it is also of greater circumference, and therefore the amount of wood that it comprises is not less in exact proportion.

In the life of every tree, however, there comes a time when the amount of wood added each year is not sufficient to warrant holding for further growth. This time is evidenced by increasingly narrow rings under circumstances which preclude their being the result of anything other than age. It is then better to cut the timber to make way for reforestation with view to another crop.

No doubt Mr. Lindbergh will be glad to get home before he has acute indigestion.

ATTENTION! SWEET POTATO GROWERS

In order to sell sweet potato plants in Alabama, it will be necessary to have three separate inspections, by officials of the Department of Agriculture, to secure compliance with the State laws and protect buyer and seller from disease and plant pests.

Without these three separate and distinct inspections for disease and pests, potato plants cannot be sold in Alabama nor shipped outside the State.

To sell plants in other States, it is necessary for the Alabama grower to sell certified plants.

The first inspection is made in the field when the plants are growing and this must be made during the summer.

The second inspection will be made when the potatoes are in storage to insure freedom from sweet potato weevil and other forms of disease.

The third inspection is completed in the early spring when the plants are partly grown in the bed and nearly ready to be shipped.

After the third inspection, if the plants have been found to be apparently free from dangerous diseases or pests during the three inspections—a certificate will be issued the grower, entitling him to sell plants anywhere he can find a buyer.

In order to qualify and sell potato plants, three separate inspections are required, as named above, by State law. The purpose of this law is to insure plants free from disease, to prevent the spread of pests and disease from regions under quarantine, to give Alabama potato plants a standing in the markets of the world, with regard to freedom from disease and pests and to increase the growing of sweet potatoes.

The inspections work a hardship on no one, in any way whatever. Inspection is free without cost to grower. Simply ask the State Department of Agriculture to send an expert to make the examinations, is all that is required. He is not allowed to charge for his services. No plants can be sold without an accompanying certificate.

WHEN TO LAY-BY IS TOLD BY FUNCHESS

Killing Weeds is Chief Object of Cultivation; Explains When to Stop Plows

Auburn, Ala., June 13. Special.—The chief purpose of cultivating cotton, corn, and other crops is to kill weeds, and prevent them from competing with crops and robbing these crops of moisture. That type of cultivation which kills weeds best and disturbs least the roots of crops is ideal cultivation.

The above summary of the "why" of cultivating is by Prof. M. J. Funchess, director, experiment station, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn. In giving it out he said that it is not an argument against cultivation but an argument for cultivation of the right kind.

Annually at this season many inquiries are received about when to "lay-by." Rather than naming a date or the size corn or cotton should be at the time of the last cultivation, Prof. Funchess says that the real reason for cultivation should answer the question. When it is no longer necessary to kill weeds it is not necessary to cultivate. Cultivating should be done with those implements and by those methods resulting in the least injury to roots of crops but killing weeds effectively. It is possible for a cultivation to do more harm than good by breaking many roots of crops and killing few weeds.

Prof. Funchess said that the water requirements of plants is great. Corn, for example, requires about 300 pounds of water for each pound of dry matter produced. The average stalk of corn in Alabama will weigh when mature and dry with ear attached 1 1-2 pounds, which means that it used during growth around 450 pounds of water. The water requirement of some weeds is three times as great as corn per pound of dry matter produced. Hence, the importance of killing weeds.

PRACTICAL FARMER MAKES NET PROFIT OF $6,275 IN YEAR

Loxley, Ala.,—H. T. Childress of Loxley, and formerly of Thorsby, Alabama, reports that he sold 320 sacks of irish potatoes, averaging $3.75 per sack, and totaling $3,075 from ten acres of land, and cleared $1,050 from four acres of cucumbers, and sold $150 worth of strawberries from three-fourths of an acre. He conservatively estimated a profit of at least $2000 from thirteen acres of sweet potatoes not yet harvested, and has ten acres in corn, all from a piece of land which he purchased two years ago for $4,500. A profit of $6,275 from 27 and 3-4 acres, with ten acres of corn not harvested out of this $4,500 investment is a fact that should bring South Alabama to the front. The records of many other farmers could be cited with results as gratifying as this one to be marveled at that so many people are awakening to the many possibilities of the American Rivieria section of the country, and Southern Alabama in particular.—Baldwin Times, Bay Minette, Ala.

Those to whom war in itself is a horror must recognize that civil strife is usually more destructive of life and property and more demoralizing in a spiritual and ethical sense than is international war. For that reason the political thought which tends to incite civil war is to be combated no less sternly than is the form of international politics that engenders conflict. A warless world requires the abandonment of bullet and bomb within quite as much as between nations.—Buffalo News.

CHEVROLET ASSEMBLY CONTEST PULLED OFF

Eight members of the Washington section of Automotive Engineers demonstrated the advantages of standard automotive parts recently by assembling a half-ton Chevrolet chassis in the record time of six and one-half minutes, in competition with six other teams similarly engaged. The stunt was a feature of the Society's annual summer meeting at French Lick, Indiana.

While the assembled delegates derived much amusement from watching the seven teams vie for a record in a line of work with which they were unfamiliar, except in theory, the performance also carried its lesson to many of the watchers. But for the perfectly fitting parts, the assembly might have required hours instead of minutes. The elapsed time was strikingly short, in view of the fact that none of the assemblers were connected with Chevrolet nor familiar with its mechanical details. Three of the winning teams were engineers of the United States Bureau of Standards.

The slowest team required only a few minutes longer than the fastest, and its hurry added amusement to the contest. As a test of each team's work, each car had to be run five times around a loop in the nearby driveway before the resul's were certified.

The seven trucks were shipped to French Lick from the Chevrolet factory at Flint, Michigan. Such parts as the distributor assembly, the wiring system, gasoline tank, carburetor a front and rear wheel, and various other units, together with a miscellany of bolts, nuts and screws, were then removed and tossed into boxes in the pits adjacent to the assembly space. Equipped only with two sets of tools such as are furnished with each Chevrolet truck, each team had then to select the parts and put them in their proper place.

"The quick assembly job performed at French Lick offers a hint as to the reason for the Chevrolet truck's popularity," said George C. Polk. "Trucks are business vehicles, and the owner loses whenever they are laid up for repairs. The seven teams at the S. A. E. meeting demonstrated that the owner himself can make the needed replacements, in most cases, with no equipment except that furnished with his truck, and thus keep his Chevrolet making money for him with a minimum of interruption and expense."

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

The whole world has been thrilled by the exploits of Lindbergh, of Chamberlain and Levine. Thousands of columns of news concerning these American heroes have been flashed over the wires and displayed in the newspapers of the universe, and thousands of editorials have been written concerning their exploits, and concerning American enterprise and efficiency in general.

Cols. Lindberg and Chamberlain gambled with their lives to achieve their goal and the whole world admires and honors them. But unfortunately we have too many so-called statesmen who will not risk defeat for another term of office to stand up for that which they know is sound but unpopular.

Here is a question for the philosophers to ponder over. Why do we have so much courage in America against actual personal danger, and so little courage against possible political danger? Why is political defeat for a righteous cause harder to face than personal danger?

It would seem therefore that there is some fundamental difference between military courage, and aviator courage on the one hand and political courage on the other. Why is it that men who would risk their lives in defense of their country cannot stand in the political arena against a popular delusion, when the worst that could happen would be temporory political eclipse with an inevitable reward when the clouds of mistaken opinion have rolled by?

We like to think of all Americans as courageous, and most of them are when it comes to the task of defending their country, of subduing nature, or protecting the weak and the helpless. There is one sort of courage, however, which is almost rare enough to stand out like a good deed in a wicked world—and that kind of courage is political courage.

How many politicians and statesmen do we have who, possessing plenty of personal courage are deficient in the political kind? It would be unwise perhaps to inquire too closely into the number. For there are far too many of the barometric statesmen who fail to have the courage of their convictions when confronted with a public question which has a sound but temporarily unpopular side. It is so much easier to go with the mob, to advocate that which, though popular, is economically or politically unsound; to avoid that which is proper but unpopular; to run with the pack in denouncing those who are unpopular but unjustly accused, rather than stand up and be counted with those who will battle for their convictions just as Lindbergh, and Chamberlain and Levine battled with the elements for their lives.

Of course every American is proud of what these men have accomplished. They have displayed real qualities of American manhood. And the one outstanding quality which they have exhibited, the quality which induced them to embark on the hazardous venture and carry it on to a glorious conclusion is—courage.

A good windmill properly installed will last twenty years, and a little oil or grease is about the only upkeep expense. With the exception of a hydraulic ram it is the cheapest way to pump water.

Term In Prison Advocated For Makers of Home Brew

PASTORS CONDEMN ANY LAWS TENDING TO NULLIFY THE VOLSTEAD LAW

Condemning any legislation that will weaken prohibition enforcement and stamping whole approval on the Bonner Bill which proposes a penitentiary term for those caught with home brew, the Methodist ministers of Birmingham and Bessemer at their regular meeting Monday scored in resolution from "the bold and strong efforts," of some legislators to "nullify the Volstead Act."

The resolution which was signed and offered by Dr. J. C. Persinger, pastor of Methodist churches at Boyles and Irondale, also a member of the Alabama Anti-Saloon League; Dr. L. D. Patterson, pastor Avondale Methodist church and Dr. W. E. Morris, presiding elder of the Birmingham district, follows:

Whereas, in the present Legislature there will be pending certain measures which will vitally affect the enforcement of prohibition in this state, notably among them are:

First, a measure to abolish or decrease the state law enforcement department.

Second, a measure to limit the power of the attorey general in the detection of crime and prosecution of criminals.

Third, a bill which will be introduced by Senator J. Miller Bonner to break up the home brew evil, and,

Whereas the passage of the first two measures and the defeat of the last mesure will be a cause of comfort to the liquor interests and the lawless element of this state and nation.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Methodist preachers meeting of Birmingham and Bessemer, Ala., this 13th day of June, 1927, that we are opposed to the passage of any bill which will in any way hinder the enforcement of the laws of this State, and

Be it further resolved that we commend Senator Bonner for his efforts in trying to check the home brew evil and we urge our senators and representatives to vote for this measure and any other measures which will make prohibition more effective, and vote against any measure which will hinder prohibition in any way, and

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be spread upon our minutes, given to the press and sent to our senators and representatives.

Dr. Persinger, in presenting the resolution, said that there never was a time when prohibitionists need to be more on their guard, the speaker claiming that bold and strong efforts were being made to nullify the present prohibition laws.

Dr. Read Speaks.

Dr. George W. Read, pastor of the Woodlawn Methodist church, delivered the principal address at the conference on "Ministerial Ethics." He said that soon after entering the North Alabama Conference he found to his surprise that ministers talked too freely of each other, and were too careless about statistics to suit him, and that he determined then to adopt a code of ethics for himself that would cause him to have a proper respect for himself. Mr. Read said, "When I leave a charge, I leave it; I do not believe in returning to charges I have served, except at the invitation of my successor. I do not believe in visiting among the flocks of other denominations unless at the invitation of their own pastors."

The Rev. I. K. Waller, pastor of the Fortieth Street Methodist Church, presided at the meeting and Harry Denman, secretary of the First Methodist church, acted as secretary.

DIDN'T GET FIRST PAGE

The Union-Banner received through the mail this week a communication mailed at Jemison and signed by J. E. Martin. Evidently the first page of the letter was not mailed, as the writing started off seemingly in the middle of a topic. We could not tell what community the letter was from, and neither did we know any of the peoples' names mentioned in same; so we could not to any advantage publish the letter. In several places the letter referred to things happening "at this place," but we had no way to figure where "this place" is. We will say to the writer that if he will write the letter over next week and send us all of it, we will be only too glad to carry it for him.

W. M. Wyatt made a hurried business trip to Vero Beach, Fla., the latter part of last week.

Mr. Vernie Teel, formerly of Rockford, Coosa County, is now working with The Union-Banner.

THORSBY SECTION

(R. E. NORTON, Manager).

Mr. Nels Nelson, a student at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute for the last four years, left for Port Arthur, Texas, where he has secured position as one of the assistant chemists for the Gulf Refining Company.

Mr. Olaf Schieve wants to thank the good people of Thorsby who assisted in saving his shop from fire at the time Goodgame's garage was burned.

It seems to us that our town authorities should provide themselves with some means of fighting fire and not depend entirely on the efforts of volunteer aid with buckets to protect the property of citizens, which may or may not be successful, according to conditions prevailing at the time.

Last Monday morning a serious auto accident occurred on the highway near Jemison, when Lester Pate, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pate of Thorsby, who met a man driving north on the wrong side of the highway. Pate supposed that the man would give him the right of way and did not turn out until he saw it was not the intention of the man to turn, he made an attempt to get off the highway on his side of the road. The other man made no effort to get on his side; the result was a collision that wrecked both cars, threw Lester out badly lascerating his arm on a broken windshield, and so badly injured the other man that he was taken to a hospital in Clanton by Mr. Shaw of Jemison. The other man was found to be a Mr. Griffin of Montgomery on his way to Birmingham.

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Each went to Montgomery Tuesday expecting to spend two days at the state Sunday School convention in session there. Rev. E. W. Butler and Dorothy, with Miss Ruth Jones, went down Wednesday morning to attend the convention.

Last Thursday Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison Collins with Mrs. Collins and their daughters, Jean and Hilma and Miss Lola Mae Hayes and Mr. Aiken Mims, went to Tuscaloosa to visit the family of James Higginbotham. They returned Saturday.

Rachel Petersen is spending her vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Petersen.

The office of Thorsby Institute will be closed from June 18 to July 11. Anyone wishing information concering registration will see Mr. Butler during that time.

Miss Murray is visiting relatives in Eufala. From there she will go to her home in Wadena, Minn. Miss Leech has gone to her home in Minneapolis. Miss Jenkins left Saturday for Demorest, Ga. After a few days she will go to Hartford, Conn. Miss McGee has gone to her home in Waynoka, Oklahoma. She will spend the summer at home. Miss Fairbank has gone to her home in Jacksonville, Ill. She plans to attend University of Wisconsin during the summer term. Miss Robinson is with her sister in Birmingham. Poor Fertliziers May Be Corrected By Side Dressing

Under the uncertain conditions prevailing at the beginning of this cotton growing season, many farmers may have varied their usual fertilizer practice. True economy is always desirable, but buying low-grade fertilizer never is. It is a case of being "penny wise and pound foolish." Poor fertilizer means a poor crop.

Fortunately, there still remains a remedy this season for the farmer whose cotton got off to a poor start as a result of using insufficient or improper fertilizer at planting time. If cotton plants appear poor and undernourished they are probably hungry for nitrogen. The surest and quickest way to feed this nitrogen to the cotton is by applying a readily available plant food like nitrate of soda. The application should be from 150 to 200 pounds of soda per acre, put on one side of the row four or six inches from the cotton with a distributor or by hand. This is the method approved by leading agricultural experiment stations.

Applications made immediately after chopping will generally be found most satisfactory. Late side dressings do not ordinarily pay as well as the earlier ones.

BLEED THROUGH

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

Confidence that the Everglades of Florida will be turned into productive use is expressed by the American Review of Reviews. Sugar cane and rubber probably will be leading crops.

During April the average hen in 83 demonstration flocks in Alabama produced eggs worth at market prices 23 cents above the cost of feed, according to the poultry department at Auburn.

IN MEMORY OF J. MARVIN MIMS

On June 2nd the Lord saw fit to call J. Marvin Mims to that celestial home on high to forever live with Jesus. He had been in ill health for several years and bore his suffering with patience. Everything was done that loving hands and physicians could do for him, but the Lord needs him in his kingdom.

He leaves a good testimony, "I am ready to go; there's nothing in my way." This should be comforting to the living, and encourage them to live for Jesus and meet Him in that heavenly home.

Marvin leaves a wife and two daughters, Mrs. Dewey Driver and Velma Mims; father, mother, one sister, Mrs. John Payton, and seven brothers, Isaiah, Archie, Ocie, Washie, Charlie, Evan, Josah, and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

Weep not, dear one., for our loss is heaven's gain. — From one who Loved Him.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the physicians and all of our friends for their help and kindness shown us during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. May God bless you all is our prayer.—Mrs. J. Marvin Mims, Mrs. Dewey Driver, Velma Mims.

Women, to Look Well, You Must be Well!

Gilbertown, Ala.—For eighteen years I suffered, I believe, with every ailment a woman could have. I was rundown, had palpitation, stomach was in bad condition, had a roaring noise in my head, was very easily frightened at the least little thing, couldn't wash, cook, work, and was in a bad fix, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery', 'Pleasant Pellets', and 'Anuric Tablets,' and using the Lotion Tablets and Suppositories, I work, eat anything I wish, walk two miles and am the picture of health. Am doing things I had not been able to do in 18 years." — Mrs. Carrie Carlisle, Route 2. All dealers.

IN MEMORY

On Monday morning May 23 the death angel visited the home of Rev. T. J. Deramus of near Plantersville and bore away the spirit of his dear wife. For some time she had been in bad health, but was confined to her bed only three weeks before her death. All was done that faithful friends and loving hands could do, but our maker knew best and took her home to a mansion of rest.

Our grandmother is gone, but not forgotten from this world of sin and sorrow to a home above where all is joy, peace, happiness and love. A place is vacant in our homes which never can be filled, but we all hope to meet her again where parting comes no more. So let's weep not for, our loss is heaven's gain.

The deceased is survived by her husband and three daughters, Mrs. W. R. Ledbetter, Mrs. J. P. Williams and Mrs. E. A. McLean. She is also survived by four sons, E. E. and C. P. Deramus of Maplesville J.-L. Deramus of Benton and H. G. Deramus of Plantersville and a host of relatives and friends. The remains were laid away in Pilgrim Rest cemetery the next day. Rev. F. A. Gibson officiated. We wish to thank each and every one who lent a helping hand. May God bless you all is our prayer.—Her Grandhaughter, Bessie Williams.

There is just one right way to keep the skin clear and smooth

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Old Time Singing At Wilton Last Sunday

ATTENDED BY PROMINENT MEN FROM CHILTON, BIBB AND SHELBY COUNTIES

Last Sunday was a day that will be long remembered by many, that being the time of the singing at Wilton. At an early hour the singers began to gather from Chilton, Bibb and Shelby. Prof. Lawley opened the service. The attendance was large.

The program committee was composed of J. W. Hays and J. H. Martin of Chilton and Mr. Deason of Bibb County. Directors for the day were: Prof. Lawley of Shelby, Rev. J. N. Scott, Prof. J. R. Scott, J. W. Hayes, W. L. Sanders, A. A. Jackson, J. H. Martin, W. B. Cooper, J. D. Hodges, and little Willie Pearl Cooper of Chilton, and Prof. Thompson, the Deason brothers, Stewart, Herrin, MuCullough, and several young ladies of Bibb.

The people were in a spirit to sing, eager and ready. The directors all seemed at their best—no dullness about them, but all anxious to lead the class in the realm of Divine art. Oh, how such singers as Herrin, Jackson, Deason Brothers, Sanders and others did move them. No time lost or wasted, but continually from an early hour until 3:30 one round of sacred song. How the people did enjoy it—it was a time of sweet meeting of old friends and relatives long absent.

Noted people were there, viz: Hon. B. L. Cobb, J. P. Barrett, A. A. Jackson and others. We had the pleasure of again meeting our esteemed young friend of former days—Mr. C. L. Burnett, besides an esteemed relative of Ensley, Mrs. Rice. Prof. Lawley, the prime mover in the singing, was filled with gladness, and the service will remain a verdant spot to him through life.

It was a great day,—great in song, in attendance, in good will, in happy greetings,—typical of that Beautiful Day to come.—Z. J. Jones.

DR. JOHNSON AND MR. CALLEN RETURN FROM TRIP TO WEST

Never before have we heard of so many Clanton people taking distant trips as during this summer. It seems that the whole United States is being toured by our citizens. They have gone east, west, north and south.

One of the most interesting of these trips is reported by Dr. "Nip" Johnson and Frank Callen, who left here by railway on May 18th for a trip through the West. They returned Tuesday of this week after having visited San Antonio, Texas, El Paso, Texas, Juarez, Mexico, San Diego, California, where they were guest of Dr. and Mrs. Sam Johnson, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Victoria, B. C. They returned by way of St. Louis.

They report that they saw some wonderful country in the West, and enjoyed the trip very much; but somehow they had a feeling that Clanton is the best place after all when they got back here.

MOTOPOWER SUCCESS SHOWN ON SATURDAY

SEVERAL HUNDRED CARS GET TREATMENT FOR REMOVAL OF CARBON

The demonstration of Motopower Gasoline at Clanton Service Station last Saturday was pronounced a wonderful success by the management of Brown Oil Company of Birmingham, who are wholesalers of this popular product in Clanton territory. According to Mr. Claud Jones, local manager for this district, there were several hundred cars treated by the special carbon removing process with Motopower gasoline, and every customer was well satisfied with the results.

"A lot of the boys have already come back," says Mr. G. M. Wyatt, proprietor of the Clanton Service Station, "and stated that their cars run like new ones after receiving this treatment here last Saturday."

The company claims that gasoline treated with Motopower is the same principle as steam cylinder oil is with steam in an engine. They challenge any person anywhere to prove that Motopower contains any acids or chemicals that will injure even the finest motor or carburetor. Motopower softens carbon and seals compression under rings and pistons after the carbon is softened. A larger portion is expelled through the exhaust and exhaust pipe.

Mr. Claud Jones, local agent for the Brown Oil Company, says that more demonstrations will be had from time to time. Mr. Wyatt, manager of Clanton Service Station, claims that his business has already picked up over fifty per cent. Motopower is winning many new friends every day.

UNITED SOCIETY MEETS WITH NEW SALEM SINGERS SUNDAY

The singing society met Sunday afternoon—had a good crowd and some fine singing. Directors for the afternoon were: E. L. Glasscock, J. E. Lowery, Kermit Lowery, Harris Williams, A. L. Glasscock. Pianists were Misses Genie Collins and Emma Connell.

We were glad to have so many visitors, and invite them back again. Watch for our announcements in the papers. The society will meet here one Sunday in each month.

Everybody is invited to Oak Hill next Sunday afternoon, as the society meets there.—Mrs. E. C. Cox.

FOR FOURTH OF JULY

The ladies of the Methodist church of Clanton are now busy with details of arrangements for a grand time for everybody in Clanton on Monday, July 4th. It is the annual affair which these ladies have put over with success for several years past.

They state that they will provide a nice barbecue, along with various other eatables and refreshments in quantity sufficient to accommodate the big crowd that is expected.

There will be two ball games, band music, and public speaking, as well as various other attractions for entertainment.

The ladies invite everybody in Chilton County to begin now to make preparations to spend the Fourth in Clanton. The center of operations will be at the grounds of the Chilton County High School, where there are many spreading oak trees that make it a very delightful place.

Next week the ladies promise to publish a more detailed program of events for the day.

UNION GROVE

Please admit me into your columns for a few words. Health in our community good at present. Crops are good considering the dry weather, although they are small. We are glad to see our farmers around here turn their attention more and more each year to the idea of diversified farming. Gentlemen, this is right. We want to get out of that old rut of cotton and corn so much and grow more food stuff for man and beast.

We are all glad to see the south side of Unon Grove settlement that has heretofore been out land develop into good farms and farm houses and good roads. Go your way boys. A good effort that is right is supported by the Lord. This has been my experience.

We are glad to say that on the second Saturday in July we expect to start our revival meeting at this place and I feel like we are going to have one of the best meetings we have ever had at Union Grove.

The Sunday School is doing a great work here. I am only a weak member, but brethren, I feel that when the Sunday School is carried on as it should be that it is the real church at work. Brethen we ought to lay more stress on our Sunday School than we really do, because it is a real good place to train our boys and girls to love and obey God. It is so far ahead of the dance hall and swimming pool. Brethen one of these days we will see the great danger that just such institutions set up for our boys and girls. I thank God that instead of a swimming pool we people have chosen an evergreen Sunday School for the young nd old. Instead of a dance hall we have an evergreen prayer meeting every Sunday night. We specially invite everybody that can come and help us in this great work. You will find our doors open and a hearty welcome.

On last Sunday Rev. M. J. Parrish filled his regular appointment here and he brought us a wonderful message of God's truth. We invite everybody out next Saturday and Sunday because we feel that you will get some good wholesome food for your soul at these services.

Well, Mr. Editor, I will ring off for this time hoping to read some good letters from the pages of the good old Union-Banner next week.

NEWS OF VERBENA

Miss Mary Pinton of Montgomery is spending this week with Miss Lena Williams of Verbena.

Miss Jean Gardner is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. R. G. Walker of Birmingham.

Mr. Arthur Colley spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Colley at Mt. Creek.

Miss Lucile Colley of Mt. Creek spent the week end with Miss Ophelia of Verbena.

Our revival closed last Thursday evening, being the most successful one Verbena has ever had. Rev. D. F. Ellisor returned to Montgomery Saturday, after a hard week of laboring.

John Tate, who led the singing in Verbena's revival, is leading the singing for a revival being held at Jemison Methodist church this week.

Our league is rapidly progressing. Miss Francis Gulledge led the most wonderful program last Sunday evening,—that should mean something to everyone who heard it.

Now, to those who were fortunate enough to win these prizes we give our congratulations. You turned in good papers, and from the marking of missing words, we are made to believe that you put some time on the matter, giving careful attention to the meaning of the advertisements. Dykes Won Distinction In His College Work

REV. B. F. DYKES

I think that the people of Chilton County need to know that another one of their sons has recently won a distinguished mark in college by having won a loving cup for the best grade made in Greek at Howard college. This son is Rev. B. F. Dykes who recently graduated at Howard.

Mr. Dykes was one of those boys who at first believed that he could preach just as well without an education as he could with it. I remember talking, with others to him soon after he was ordained to preach. We were trying to persuade him to enter school but he had the audacity to tell us he could preach without going to school but he finally made up his mind to enter Thorsby Institute.

Mr. Dykes attended the Thorsby Institute for two years in which time he made enough credits to enter Howard College as a special student. Within four years time he made up the conditions for entering the college department and took his A. B. degree in May of this year. In the meantime he did full time work and underwent a severe operation.

There is a Greek Society in Birmingham that offers a loving cup to the students making the highest in Greek each year. For 2 years Mr. Dykes made an average of A in Greek which was the highest grade made by any other student in college and won the loving cup.

You might be interested also to know that about a year ago he accepted a call to Boyles Baptist church which is full time work. During this time the membership of the church has been practically doubled.

I think that Chilton County may be proud of such a man as he. It is just another instance of the Lord taking a backwoods, barefooted boy and showing the world what he can do with him. Furthermore I feel that we should make it a point to use Mr. Dykes all we can in our Summer campaigns so that he may have an opportunity to serve the people among whom he was born and reared.

I fully Congratulate Chilton County for having claim to such a man and Mr. Dykes for havig made the splendid mark.—B. Lawrence.

Sheriff Collins Says Crops Are Good All Over Chilton County

According to reports from a man who always observes the crops and their prospects in passing around, we have the authority to say that crops generally over the county are fairly good.

Sheriff Collins was in our office Monday evening and said: "You may tell the people that I have traveled almost all over the county within the past few weeks, and can report fairly good average crop conditions. The best crops I have seen are between Clanton and Providence, along the Higgins Ferry Road. The best individual crop is that of Rufus Powell and Uncle Tom Powell, adjoining Concord Schoolhouse.

"However, I would impress on the farmers that they still could wonderfully improve the appearance of their farms by cleaning off the hedges. These make farms unsightly which otherwise would be beautiful to look at."

OFFICIAL COUNT OF VOTES IN ELECTION ON JUNE 14TH

The official count of votes cast in the election of June 14 on the one-mill school tax and the farm demonstrator revealed the following official figures:

For school tax, 950 votes; against school tax, 704 votes. According to these figures the school tax lacked 43 votes of securing a three-fifths majority which was necessary to declare its adoption.

For farm demonstration agent, 978 votes were cast; and against farm demonstrator 608 votes were cast.

ICE CREAM SUPPER

There will be an ice cream supper at the home of W. E. Adams Saturday night, June 25th. Everybody is invited to come.

PREACHING AND SINGING AT FRIENDSHIP NEXT SUNDAY

Next Sunday is the regular preaching day at Friendship church, just north of Clanton. Rev W. P. Lowery will preach at 11 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. Sunday School as usual at 10 o'clock.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the singing society meets in regular monthly session. All who enjoy singing or hearing sacred music have a special invitation to come and help out. Bring your 1927 Stamps and Showalter books, as both will be used. Visitors from other communities are always welcome at any of our services.

MORE IGNORANCE DROPS FROM DOCTOR SCOTT

Editor Union-Banner:

As I had a piece in the paper opposing the one mill tax before the election, I want you to grant me a space now to say to the voters who were with me on the proposition that I thank you for your good judgement and your votes.

Yes, we have voted the proposition down the third time, just as I told Judge Reynolds we would do. But it was the most one-sided proposition I ever saw. The officers and speakers of the county were against us, but we sank the old one-mill tax ship just the same.

The Judge had very easy sailing heretofore and has always been successful in landing his ship; but he had the help of us old ignorant voters then. As you all know, I have burnt the midnight oil in the years past writing articles to the paper in the way of helping him and encouraging his cause. At that time he was with us and was going over the county telling us he was against bonds and high taxation, and he gave good reasons for it.

But in this last effort he turned his back on the old farmers and working men whom he used to say were being imposed upon. He has advocated bond issues and higher taxes right along in recent months.

Boys, save your copy of the paper that had that list of names in it.

They, everyone, according to the headlines above, stood for higher taxes. That copy might be a help to you next year. In the future just look that list over and see who they are and what they stand for. That is the greatest line of distinction drawn between the wealthy and the poor that I have ever seen.

Of course we won the fight this year but I guess they will come again next year. So keep your hand on the throttle and your eyes on the rail. I stand for good schools and I claim there must be some changes before we get them. I don't like the idea of paying out money for books to be studied by our boys and girls, which books deny the divine creation of man and teach that monkeys are our ancestors, and so on.

The storm is past, the Lawrence and Reynolds tax ship is sunk, and I will close by saying, Hurrah for the voters. Don't let them drive you into anything. Yours for success.—J. N. Scott, Jemison, Ala.

A MEETING AT THE CHURCH OF CHRIST AT CLANTON

There will be an ice cream supper at Union Grove church on Saturday night, June 25th. Everybody invited to come and enjoy a night with us. Proceeds will go for benefit of the church at this place.—Secretary.

Mr. Osce Bird of Birmingham was a business visitor to Clanton Monday. Mr. Bird is remembered by many friends here with whom he became acquainted back in 1914 when he was for a short time manager of the Union-Banner.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Boyd motored to Montgomery Sunday where they spent the day with their sister, Mrs. Fuller.

Lawrence Thanks Supporters of School Tax

SAYS FAILURE OF TAX MEANS LOSS OF $30,000 TO SCHOOLS OF CHILTON COUNTY

I feel that it is only right that I should express through the columns of the paper my appreciation for the support given the one mill tax election. Especially to Judge Reynolds, Mr. W. T. Bean, Mr. J. N. Dennis, Mr. J. C. Page, and Mr. H. G. Boyd for giving of their time to make speeches in behalf of it and to Mrs. Gertrude Calloway for her efficient services in writing letters and canvassing for it and to every one who had an active part in it.

Although the election failed to carry it shows clearly that a majority of the people in the county are in favor of such a levy. The official count shows that 950 voted for it and 704 against it which is 42 votes less the necessary three fifths majority.

The failure of this tax means a loss of something around $30,000 to the county and it is all the more tragic when it is known that less than $4,000 would have been paid by the people who live in the county. We must go on the best that we can wih our school program but let all of us realize that we can do only in so far as we have funds with which to do.

I recieved the nicknsme "Blatherskite" during the campaign. I do not know what it means but if that is the name of one who works for an equal educational opportunity for all the children in all the county I gladly accept it.

With best personal wishes for everyone in the county and assuring you of my best efforts as your County Superendent, I am, B. Lawrence.

SINGING HELD AT HOME OF S. J. POWELL NEAR REFUGE

On Wednesday night of last week came the birthday of Bro. S. J. Powell's youngest son, Reedie, which was celebrated and enjoyed by a goodly number of friends and relatives. It was estimated that there were over one hundred people present—men, women ad children. The celebration proved to be the best singing and cake cutting that the writer has ever witnessed. It reminded us of the occasion which happened among the Jerusalem members, when they went from house to house and had all things common.

We were impressed with another wonderful occasion in regard to the number present, as to who would be called upon to do without cake; as when Jesus told His disciples that one of them would betray Him, and they wondered among themselves, "Is it I?" But at the conclusion of about two hours singing everybody was invited to the table, and when everyone had eaten to their heart's desire, seeing still cake left, we called to mind another occasion of Jesus feeding the five thousand with five loaves and two fishes and had twelve baskets full left.

There were thirteen cakes on the table. The young man, in whose honor the birthday party was given, was thirteen years of age.

ICE CREAM SUPPER

YOUNG GIRL KILLED IN AN AUTO WRECK

WAS ON WAY TO GOODWATER WITH SWEETHEART TO GET MARRIED

The report of a rather sad accident was received in Clanton Monday.

It is said that T. C. Griffin, better known here as Tuck Griffin, and his sweetheart, Miss Lucy Jones, age 17, of Elmore County, were going from near Wetumpka to Goodwater to be married Sunday night when the automobile in which they were riding turned over several times, killing the bride-to-be and seriously injuring Mr. Griffin.

The accident occured near Alexander City. Griffin was carried to a hospital in Alex City, where it was reported that he had sustained a broken collar bone, as well as cuts and bruises about the face and body. Miss Jones' skull was crushed. Passers-by found the young lady's body lying in a ditch by the roadside. Griffin lay near her.

The body of Miss Jones was taken to Wetumpka where it was prepared for burial by McMorris. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Jones of Holtville Route 3.

Tuck Griffin, who was living between Wetumpka and Alexander City is the son of Mr. Jeff Griffin of Verbena Route 1. He is the brother of John Griffin.

BLEED THROUGH

Large Crop of Boll Weevils Is Reported

Numerous in South Alabama, But Fewer in North Alabama

Auburn, Ala., June 20—In cotton fields in central Alabama and South Alabama boll weevils have appeared in exceptionally large numbers. A survey of the situation made by W. A. Ruffin, extension entomologist, Auburn, with county agents and teachers of vocational agriculture, reveals that in south Alabama they are present in much larger numbers than they were a year ago. Some reports say they are more numerous the middle of June than they had been on the same date since 1916. They were fewer in north Alabama.

Seeing the situation, farmers in south Alabamma are poisoning, using calcium arsenate in dust form. Where ten per cent of the squares are punctured Mr. Ruffin says that the first application of calcium arsenate should be applied immediately and two other applications should be made at intervals of four days. With cotton plants small it requires about six pounds of calcium to dust an acre one time, or 18 pounds for 3 applications. Later applications should be made when twenty per cent of the squares are punctured. Calcium arsenate should then be applied as necessary to control weevils.

The survey revealed very little calcium arsenate in the different counties. A report from the State Farm Bureau, Montgomery, says that the supply should be all that farmers will require, although the army worm outbreak last fall consumed most of that then in storage. That going on the market this season is new. County agents are keeping in close touch with the situation.

SAFETY MEN AT BARBECUE

Delegates are guests of Power Company at Mitchell Dam

Southern safety men thoroly enjoyed the barbecue and outing at Mitchell Dam Thursday given by the Alabama Power Co., in honor of the delegates to the Southern Safety Conference.

The outing included the two day conference in which safety in many phases was discussed.

Dr. S. R. Benedict, chief surgeon of the Alabama Power Co., one of the speakers Thursday morning emphasized the importantance of not giving up hope when reviving a victim of electric shock. He declared that life has been saved by artifical respiration two and three hours after the shock. He showed lantern slides explaining this first aid method.

A Holstein cow in California recently produced in one week 567 pounds of milk containing 40 pounds of butterfat, equivalent to 50 pounds of butter. This is a record of a little over 7 pounds of butter per day, said to be the highest ever made.

Chevrolet Will Pass The Million Mark

Detroit, June 20—Indications that Chevrolet production will reach, if not pass the million mark this year were seen here today, following the announcement by the Chevrolet Motor Company that the production for the first five months totalled 494,953 units. This is a 60 per cent increase over the corresponding period of last year and testifies to the phenomenal demand that has kept Chevrolet factories constantly at capacity, since early in the year.

Since January Chevrolet bowled over productions records each month, reaching a new all time monthly mark in May with an output of 115,623, units as compared with the record 74,617 units in May last year.

In an effort to keep pace with the demand Chevrolet factories are now averaging more than 5,000 a day, working on the heaviest schedule ever undertaken by a manufacturer of gear shift cars.

Chevrolet's productions achievements so far this year make certain that a new mark for the production of gear shift cars will be set this year. The present record now held by Chevrolet, stands at 728,697 units. This was established in 1926 and was a 40 per cent increase over the previous high mark, also set by Chevrolet.

Production of one million Chevrolets this year would shatter the present record again by 40 per cent. The June schedule call for the building of 112,965 units, which would bring the total for the first 6 months to 607,918.

Evidence of the remarkable gains made by Chevrolet since the introduction of the "most beautiful Chevrolet" in January is seen in monthly production figures for the year so far as follows: January 73,676; February 85,817; March 107,900; April 111,937 and May 115,623.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION BY METHODIST LADIES

A FEW WORDS ABOUT OUR PRESENT SCHOOL SYSTEM

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space to say a few words about our present school system. Let us first ask our selves what are our children being taught in our school today? Are They being taught the three "R's," or just style and fad? Just look around a little and see your little boys and girls with their faces painted, looking like painted dolls. It is not only the girls that spoil their faces, but the boys also. Did we teach our children this, or did they learn it from the little flapper that we have entrusted their future with?

Fathers and Mothers, let me beg you to take more interest in whom you shall entrust with the future of your children. Were we taught such things in our young days? No: and why not? Because we had real men and women teachers, and not little girls hardly out of their 'teens. Why should we vote more tax when we already pay our teachers from $1 to $3 an hour to teach our schools? They don't teach over three or four hours a day, and get from $85 to $100 for 20 days. Let us look at it and see if it is fair for the patrons to pay it all and get nothing in return.

Under the present system it takes ten years for your child to finish school, and over half of his average life is spent in fitting him to take his place in any vocation he may choose.

I say let's have less tax, shorter school terms, more hours a day and better teachers, and we will see our boys and girls ready to launch out in their vocations at an earlier age than they possibly can with the present system.—Yours for better schools, A. P. McCullough, Plantersville, Ala.

The moth lava does but one thing and does it well—it eats and eats and eats. Carpets, rugs, upholstery, clothing, woolens and furs are ridled with holes to satisfy the enormous appetite of the moth larva. Fly-Tox kills the moth, the eggs and the larva.

Statistics presented at the Tobacco Trade Congress at London recently showed that Americans now smoke 14 cigarettes to each cigar. In England the ratio is 400 to 1; and in France 40 to 1. In ten years the consumption of cigars in the United States dropped from 8,000,000,000 to less than 7,000,000,000 per annum.

During the fiscal year ending June 30 a reduction of more than $1,000,000,000 in thte public debt of the United States was made by the Treasury Department.

No Need to Suffer From Kidney Pains

Immediate Relief Or Your Money Refunded

The kidneys play a far more important part in the human structure than the average layman has any idea. The functions of these organs summed up in a few words, are to purify the blood and seperate the waste matter that is later to pass off in the urine. It is hardly necessary to call the attention to the necessity of proper elimination.

Alois Hochholzier, East Lake, Birmingham, Ala., had suffered for some time with kidney disorders and was unable to get relief. His family druggist recommended Vego the wonder medicine that is performing many miracles in these disorders. After using two bottles he states that Vego has helped him more than any of all other medicines he has ever taken, and considers Vego the greatest kidney remedy on the market. Vego is sold by Upchurch Drug Company, Clanton, Alabama under a money back guarantee if it does not give satisfaction.—adv.

Power Company Doctors Meet At Mitchell Dam

Eleventh Anual Convention Was Held At Mitchell Clubhouse June 21-22

The association of Alabama Power Company Surgeons held its eleventh annual convention at Mitchell Dam Clubhouse June 21 and 22. Reservations made by more than 100 members and guests. Dr. S. R. Benedict, chief surgeon for the Power Company, said that at least 125 people were at Mitchell Dam for the two day session.

Dr. George E. Blue, of Montgomery, president of the association, presided. Other officers are H. L. Castleman, of Sylacauga, vice-president; M. H. Greer, of Sheffield, secretary-treasurer; Lucie M. Bouchelle, of Birmingham, assistant sec-treasurer; Samuel R. Benedict, of Birmingham, chief surgeon.

There were addresses on subjects of interest to surgeons having charge of corporation and industrial plant practice. They were made by guests as well as several members. General discussion followed the addresses.

Among the talks was one by Dr. James S. Thomas, director of the extension division, University of Alabama. He had as his subject "Facts Break Up Arguments," and dealt with ecnomic and farming situations in Alabama, the causes of conditions now existing and best methods for bettering those conditions.

The business routine of the association was completed at the last session prior to adjournment Wednesday afternoon, when the officers were elected.

The total amount of taxes collected by federal, state, and local governments in the United States in the fiscal year 1925 amounted to $8,499,000,000, the highest figure since 1921 when the tax reciepts reflected the peak of post-war inflation.

Recoginized

The play went on. From the very beginning the author sat in his box—tense worried and anxious. Suddenly, just before the curtain fell on the last act, he started from his seat excitedly.

"There it is!" he exclaimed triumphantly.

"What?" inquired the bewildered friend.

"Why, the line of mine that they left in!"

The Next Thirteen Years In Alabama?

GREATER progress will be made in Alabama in the next thirteen years than in the past four hundred.

In these thirteen years industry will be decentralized and plants scattered broadcast through the State. Demands for power will increase fourfold.

These are neither vague guesses nor wild prophecies.

They are the confident forecasts of our statistical department, reached only after careful study and analysis of countless factors which are speeding Alabama's progress.

Within the past thirteen years—the hydro power period in Alabama—payrolls have increased approxmately $75,000,000.

With a predicted demand for four and a half billion kilowatt hours of electricity in 1940 as against one and a quarter billion in 1926—a quarter billion dollar payroll in Alabama is forecast within the thirteen years ahead.

These plants will come not only to the larger centers, but to smaller towns of Alabama where hydro-power is available, where labor is plentiful and living cheap.

Prosperity inevitably follows in the wake of industry. Each new plant brings employment to many — creates new business enterprises, new markets for the farmer, and benefits each individual where it locates.

Power made available from Alabama rivers is the life-blood of industry. It must course ahead of industrial development. Throughout the past thirteen years, the service of Alabama Power Company has been one of the greatest stimulating forces to progress.

In the great epoch of prosperity which lies before us in the next thirteen years, Alabama Power Company will do its part—and more—for statewide progress, meeting growth with power, and lifting the burden of drudgery from men and women to the tireless shoulders of the electric dynamo.

Inland water ways are all right if they don't try to take in too much territory.

Lindbergh gets 500,000 air letters of congratulation, and he hasn't even a secretary.

The Turkish president has prepared a speech which is two days long. Wait till Tom Helfin hears about this.

Berlin restaurants have put on the bill of fare "Roast Beef a la Chamberlain." One ought to be able to go along way on that diet.

Anyhow, it's a lot more satisfactory to see the name Lindbergh and Chamberlain in the headlines than it was Gray and Snyder.

Now that the Lindberghs have covered themselves with fame and glory, we are wondering what young woman is going to become the Gertrude Ederle of the air.

It may also be noted that William Hale Thompson has been Mayor of Chicago for several weeks now and despite predictions there have been no earthquakes in that vicinity.

Will Rogers suggests that Lindbergh would make an ideal Democratic candidate. Probably on the theory that he is used to being up in the air.

We are expecting some enthusiastic statesman to introduce a bill into the n xt congress to make it unlawful for the Mississippi to overflow its banks.

A Brithish General says that they would have won the war without us, but our recollection is that along in 1917 they were asking Uncle Sam to hurry a little.

That nickname Lindy must have been a Godsend to those song writers who were having a hard time to find enough words to rhyme with Lindbergh.

According to the American who were there, Captain Lindbergh did not make a single mistake while in Paris. Nor did he make any while he was enroute to Paris.

The Reds blame Great Britain for the assassination of their diplomat at Warsaw. This is the first calamity to happen in a long time that hasn't been directly or indirectly blamed on Uncle Sam.

With a six hundred million dollar surplus in sight for the end of the fiscal year June 30, Uncle Sam is so well off he could even afford to buy a few things on the installment plan if he wanted to.

The Democratic women have adopted for their slogan something about giving main street a chance. Evidently they are still against Al Smith as no New Yorker would admit that the Bowery was anything like main street.

This seems to be a bad year for the Reds. The Cincinnati Reds are in the cellar in the National League; the Boston Red Sox are in the cellar in the American League; and the Russian Reds have been kicked out of the cellar in Great Britain.

The soviet ambassador who was slain in Warsaw is said to have been the soviet official who signed the warrant for murdering the czar and his family. Again exemplifying the truth of the Biblical statement about the fellow who lives by the sword.

Scientists claim that crops can be increased twenty per cent by a system of stimulation by atmospheric electricity. It would be just about the farmers luck to have this came along when he is trying to curtail production.

An excited columnist writes:
"A hostile European nation could send a thousand or two bomb dropping air machines westward across the Atlantic today, and within forty-eight hours New York, Boston and Washington could be wiped out." This seems to be anticipating a bit. No European has yet made just such a trip, and no airplane as yet built could carry a load of bombs across the Atlantic; besides no European or other country has a thousand bomb dropping planes. And by the time the machines, the bombs and the flyers are ready to start they might face a little bombing from as many airplanes arising on this side of the Atlantic.

REPRESENTATIVE PITTS EXPLAINS PROPOSED LICENSE

On account of a misunderstanding that has arisen in the minds of many people in Chilton County concerning the proposed bill in the legislature regulating license on motor trucks, Mr. Percy M. Pitts, our representative, makes a statement that will clear up all such misunderstanding.

It has been stated by some that the legislature is preparing to levy heavy taxes on motor trucks which will make it impossible for people to operate them. This is a wrong conception of the purposes of the proposed bill. The legislature contemplates a reasonable tag tax on trucks that use gasoline bought in the state of Alabama. The heavy tax proposed will apply to the trucks that use gasoline bought outside of the State. Consequently there would be no objection from operators of trucks in Chilton County if they understood the proposed bill.

The following is the statement of Mr. Pitts concerning the proposed bill:

"As your representative, I desire to state to those who are interested in motor truck license according to section 17 of the revenue bill partially adopted by the legislature last week that the license tax on motor trucks will be as follows:

"Trucks using exclusively motor fuel on which the excise tax imposed by this State has been paid (or will be paid under the gasoline tax) will pay a license as follows: Trucks less one ton $15; trucks of one ton and less than two tons $22.50. Of course trucks of a larger capacity will pay a larger tax.

" The following is also included in the bill, which can affect only citizens who reside on the state boundary lines, and obviously will not affect us in Chilton County:

"For motor trucks using fuel on which the state gasoline tax has not or will not be paid under the Alabama gasoline tax law, the following license tax shall be paid: Trucks of one ton or less, $265; trucks of one ton and not less than two tons $277.50, etc.

"In other words, the proposed law does not raise the license on your Ford or Chevrolet truck, as has been reported, unless you buy your gasoline outside the state of Alabama.

The reason for the provision that raises the high tax on some trucks is this: In some of the adjoining states there is no tax on gasoline. Let us take for instance, the country around Columbus, Ga., and Girard, Alabama. There is no gasoline tax in Georgia. Suppose a truck owner goes across the river in Columbus and buys his gasoline with which to operate his truck in Alabama. He would get his gasoline four cents a gallon cheaper than he gets it in Alabama, and would not be paying any gasoline tax toward the upkeep of the roads in Alabama where he is operating the truck. In that case this particular truck owner would have to pay a truck license of $265 or $277.50 as the case might be, depending on the size of his truck. While if he stays on this side of the river and buys his gasoline and pays his gasoline tax as is levied by Alabama, then his truck license woud be $15 or $22.50 according to the size of his truck.

"In this connection I will say to the people of Chilton County that I will do all in my power and vote against any measure to further burden the automobile and truck owner in the payment of excessive taxes. I am glad to inform you that on last Friday, by a small majority, in the House we refused to adopt that part of the revenue bill which would have placed a four cent tax on each gallon of motor oil used by automobiles and trucks in Alabama. My reason for voting against this proposed tax is that I believe our flivvers are now paying enough of the freight, and that if we must have revenue, we should look elsewhere for some of it.

Up until August 1st, I will be in Montgomery except on Friday afternoons, and Saturdays and Mondays, and at that time I will be glad to see any and all citizens at my office regarding any proposed legislation. Remember, I am your representative, and am always glad to know your desires regarding any proposed legislation, and I will be glad to discuss with you relative to same."

NOAH'S ARK PARTY GIVEN PLEASANT VALLEY B.Y.P.U.

The Noah's Ark party given at the home of Mr. C. L. Pierce Friday night was enjoyed by a large number of B. Y. P. U. members and others. Tax Collector T. J. Hubbard went to Montgomery Tuesday to settle with the State Auditor.

There was a goodly crowd at the residence of Mr. H. Touro on Monday morning to witness the rite of circumcision, the ancient Jewish custom of spiritual purification. While we could not understand the words uttered by the rabbi there were other parts of the ceremony we could fully appreciate. After the infant had been circumcised refheshments were served in fine style and all were highly pleased with the entertainment extended by Mr. Touro.

PERCY PITTS OF CHILTON STANDS UP FOR PRINCIPLES

Mr. Atticus Mullen, a staff writer of the Montgomery Advertiser, took a slant at Mr. Percy Pitts, representative of Chilton County in the Legislature of Alabama one day last week. The results was a very interesting little bit of opinion as to the status of our "lonesome Republican" on Goat Hill.

Following are the words used by Mr. Mullen, and printed in his column in the Advertiser:

This column has had occasion more than one time to say something about Representative Percy Pitts of Chilton County. Mr. Pitts is a Republican and in this state he is very lonesome in the house, having only two other representatives of like faith to "caucus" with. But Mr. Pitts is taking a strong part in legislative affairs at the present session as he did at the first session.

During the grinding legislative battles in the house caucus Thursday, Mr. Pitts stood loyally to his guns and cemented the friendship of the men who are leading the battle in the house for measures which are calculated to make for the progress of Alabama. And these house leaders appreciate the stand of Representative Pitts.

There is another thing about Mr. Pitts that is interesting. That is the fact that he was a college mate of a number of members of the house, and he has their friendship and regard no matter if he does represent a political party which is distinctly in the minority in Alabama.

The people in Chilton County according to the leaders of the Alabama house, are to be congratulated on their acumen in selecting Mr. Pitts as their reprenentative, if they just had to have a Republicn to represent them.

Look at the last paragraph again. Quite right, Atticus. While you are congratulating us upon sending Percy Pitts down there to represent us, we are also congratulating ourselves.

ALL DAY SINGING HELD AT REFUGE ON LAST SUNDAY

The all day singing held at Refuge last Sunday proved to be the best ever held at this place in every respect. At 10 o'clock the house was called to order by O. R. Robinson, chairman. Those directing were W. H. Robinson, J. W. Cleckler, S. V. Miller, Jasper Oaks, J. E. Miner, G. C. Powell, Russell Cleckler, O. L. Devaughn; quarret by R. M. Robinson, Miss Clara Parrish, Pauline Parrish and Irene Robinson; recess for one hour and a half for dinner.

One of the most bountiful dinners was spread that has ever been at this place. Everybody seemed to eat to their own satisfaction. Several baskets full were left. Friends and relatives seemed to enjoy themselves shaking hands and talking together.

Directors for the afternoon were, M. Lockhart, E. L. Powell, S. L. Baker, C. H. Robinson, W. G. Culp, R. E. Powell; recess 15 minutes; W. M. Devaughn; another quartet arranged by R. M. Robinson; Dovard Cleckler, Melvin Mims, J. Z. Mims, J. R. Robinson, Jesse Baker.

Pianists for the day were: C. H. Robinson, Miss Lilie Mae Wedon, Mrs. J. Z. Mims, Mrs. Lillian Alford, Miss Lillie Belle Golden, Miss Martha Jane Mims.

We are indeed thankful for the good order, and we are also thankful for the work of Sheriff Collins and his helpers on the outside of the house while we were singing praises to God on the inside. Let's join with Beat 15 and eradicate this liquor business. The boys in Refuge community had just as well give it up, or else take the consequences, for we have put up with it long enough. So, boys, read this and accept it to your own good and you will come out winner.

Now, let us look forward to the 3rd Sunday in June, 1928 and come back again and sing praise to God if it is His will.—O. R. Robinson, chairman; M. Lockhart, Secretary.

Enjoy your food—

as it nourishes your body

If your appetite is not keen you owe it to yourself to take S.S.S. regularly before each meal. It will give you a good appetite.

In these days of fast competition, only full-blooded, robust, healthy people can keep to the front, and success comes to those who have the snap, vigor and magnetism that go with a wholesome, healthy life.

Don't despair because others forge ahead of you. Start right now to regain the health which will help you progress. A hearty appetite will restore your energy, build you up and give you "pep."

Thousands have benefited themselves and kept their bodies in good repair by occasionally taking a course of S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles and it improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

S.S.S. is time tried and reliable. It is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

There will be singing at Pleasant Grove, 5 miles west of Jemison, next Sunday afternoon beginning at two o'clock strictly. The above church, together with other churches has organized a singing class, for which we are justifiably very proud.

Next Sunday we are going to organize one or two quartet classes. Now, we extend an invitation to all our friends in song service to come and be with us, as we are looking forward to a good singing. We would be glad to have all the help we can get. Come and encourage the movement with your presence.

We will announce through the Union-Banner, perhaps next week, and if not next week then later, the date of all our singings, and will extend to the public an invitation to be at all our singings and help us. Yours in song.—E. H. FOSHEE.

Twenty-five Years of Successful Business in Clanton

Mr. C. Fenn Jones Has Completed a Quarter of a Century in the Hardware Business In Clanton.

Mr. C. Fenn Jones, proprietor of the Jones Hardware Company has been in business in Clanton for 25 years. Last month he rounded out his quarter of a century here.

To say that Mr. Jones has been here in business for 25 years is merely stating a fact which many people know already. But when we attempt to review that quarter of a century in more minute detail we run across many things that carry us here and yonder with interesting reccollections.

There are only a few business establishments in Clanton that have been here for a quarter of a century. You could perhaps number them on the fingers of one hand. The Union-Banner being one of that number, we have concluded that we might exercise the privilege of a newspaper to "talk about our neighbors" and hatch up a little story around Mr. Jones and his quarter of a centtury in business here, which would prove of some interest.

Twenty-five years ago Mr. Warren Spigener, who had been conducting a mercantile business in Goodwater, Coosa County for some years, made up his mind that he would move to another town and go into business.

A young man, Mr. C. Fenn Jones, who was "clerking" for Mr. Spigener, said he had a notion that he might go along with his boss and see if he could find greener pastures. They selected Clanton as the abode of their future, and came here to start out in business together. Spigener & Jones hardware store was the first of its kind ever put up in Chilton county.

The hardware store then was a curiosity, just as was also other new business institutions that were springing up. A bank had just been started here, and people looked upon it as something new and wonderful. They wondered what a hardware store would look like as compared to the stores they had been accustomed to here, and operated by Jean Evans and Joe Foshee. Folks wanted to know what a hardware store was going to sell.

When Mr. Jones came to Clanton he made the trip through the hilly country between here and Goodwater with a horse and buggy. When he got here he found a sordid collection of rickety old wooden buildings and muddy roads which was called Clanton. What a powerful vision it would have required then to look through a quarter of a century and picture our city of 1927.

We do not know whether Mr. Jones was able to see through those years or not. Perhaps he wasn't; but he came here and pitched his tent and began to dig his foundation for a future which he believed would be a sufficient reward for his ideals of life and his plans for conducting an honest business. He had faith in himself and confidence in Clanton.

Those of us who have been here for 25 years will find an interesting contrast in the picture of Mr. Jones's first hardware store in the old wooden shanty next to Joe Foshee's located about where the Leader is today—that compared with the splendid brick building and well appointed store that stands today on the corner of Sixth-Street and Second Avenue.

What is it about a man and business that will make it possible to start from nothing and within twenty-five years reach a place in the life of a community comparable to that occupied by the Jones Hardware Co., of Clanton?

Beginning in May, 1902 the hardware store in Clanton grew from the start. People began coming to the store to see what it had in it. Some predicted success, and some said it would be a failure. Some expressed a friendly attitude, and some looked like it would have pleased them just as well if Spigener and Jones had stayed on the other side of the Coosa River.

Any business that can live and prosper and grow in a town or community for 25 years, is certainly backed by something that is worthy of note and recognition. Such a something was found by Mr. Jones early in his life. He held on to it and brought it here with him. He put it to work in his business, and it has proven to be the most valuable asset in his capital. What was that something?

It was Mr. Jones's own ideals of honesty, integrity, conservatism, and safety applied to the process of dealing with his fellowmen. It was his determination to sell goods in his store that would give full value to the man who bought the goods, while at the same time making for himself a fair profit. Such policies as have been practiced by Mr. Jones will last not only for 25 years, but even for centuries and centuries. And while such principles make successful business men individually, they also make successful towns and communities.

Listen to what Mr. Jones has to say on the subject:

"I have been here in business for a quarter of a century. I have conducted myself and my business in a way which I believed to be right. I am thankful that I can say that I have succeeded fairly well, and I believe that the foundation upon which I have builded is good for another 25 years at least.

"I have sold honest merchandise at a reasonable profit to myself, which has made my business able to stand, while others came and stayed for a while and passed on.

"I cannot refrain from saying here that the people with whom I have done business have been good to me, and I appreciate them out of the fullness of my heart. I have always found here that the people have been ready to stand by me in the practice of fair dealing and right principles of business, and my quarter of a century in business in Clanton has made many friendships that shall edure in my heart and soul forever.

"I am glad that it has been my privilege to be a citizen of Clanton and Chilton County, as well as to do business here. During the past 25 years we have seen Chilton County and Clanton grow into one of the most promising and desirable sections of our great state.

"I am glad I came to Clanton and that I have had a part in the progress of our wonderful community.

"Our future is doubtless great, and the next quarter of a century should carry us much further along the march of progress than the past 25 years has done."

National Affairs

The fiscal affairs of the United States continue to be well managed by the firm of Coolidge, Mellon and Company, according to all latest reports. Secretary Mellon tells us that the budget surplue at the end of the fiscal year will reach $600,000,000 and may total $650,000,000, which is certainly a surprising and satisfactory figure. At the same time Ogden Mills, under secretary of the treasury informs the country that during the fiscal year there will be a cut of a billion dollars in Uucle Sam's national debt. These figures are staggering to the layman, but they spell not only economy and efficiency in adminstration of the government but a general prosperity. For unless business were good there could be no such surplus and no such reduction in the national debt.

As Mr. Mills states, the policy followed by the adminstration in the matter of debt reduction is the time honored American policy, the one which has been adhered to since it was adopted by President Washington and his great secretary of the Treasury, Alexander Hamilton. That it is a sound policy is proved by the history of the United States and the present high credit of Uncle Sam the world over. The steady reduction of the present indebtedness has been helped by the unexpected surpluses which have been found at the end of each fiscal year and these surpluses have of course been due to effective economy in the government and general business prosperity. It is significant too, to note that this debt reduction and the increase in the surplus has come during an era of tax reduction, proving that secretary Mellon was right when he declared that lessening the burden of taxation on business would increase productive enterprise and the general amount of taxes collected.

During the last fiscal year the Treasury Department retired $873,000,000 of the public debt and the fact that the debt reduced during the present fiscal year will total a billion is a matter for national congratulation and business encouragement. For as the Under-Secretary well says, this means fewer government securities for the investor but it spells an enormous saving in interest charges and consequent relief to the taxpayer. And Mr. Mills continues: "How great the relief is, is strikingly illustrated by the fact that interest payments next year will be less by $63,000,000 than they are during the current fiscal year, due entirely to debt reduction and refunding operations."

The saving of $63,000,000 in this way is quite an achievement in itself. There were some people who thought that Congress should have reduced taxes in a greater degree and so have eliminated the surplus. But it can now be pointed out that this surplus, in the application to the national debt has saved this great amount of interest which would have been necessarily furnished by the taxpayers. In short surpluses now, applied to the national debt, rapidly reduce the national debt, and mean greater reduction in interest charges and consequently less taxes in the future. This is certainly sound business judgement.

There are some who maintain that a great part of this debt should be left for the next generation will benefit equally with us in whatever advantage we got out of the World War. This seems a trifle far-fetched, to the average thinker, and it would be a little difficult to estimate in dollars and cents, right now just how much benefit the next generation will derive from the great war. It would seem that the logical thing to do is to reduce the public debt as fast as is practicable and so reduce the interest charges which the taxpayers have to meet. This is sound busisess judgement.

Too much rain is not good for cotton and it is also good for boll weevils.

Tariff Will Not Be A Big Political Issue

Some of our free trade newspapers are already declaring that the campaign of 1928 is to be fought on the "iniquitous protective tariff" now on the statute books. Of course it is a little early to predict what is going to be the paramount issue in 1928, but one thing is fairly certain, and that is that such issue will not not be the protective tariff.. The free traders told us early in 1926 that the tariff would be the issue in the congressional campaign but it was not made the issue.

And the reason that it was not made the issue is easy to find. The tariff is no longer a partisian matter and no longer a popular issue from the free traders standpoint. Prominent American who formerly were committed to the free trade idea have in recent years been veering around to the point where they are at least negatively supporters of the protective tariff idea. And the American people are not sectional on the tariff.

It used to be that it was only New England and the great manufacturing centers of the Middle Atlantic states which favored the protective tariff. But now all that is changed. The West wants protection for it's manufactories, and for its agricultural products and the same is true in the South. No where has the protective tariff sentiment grown so rapidly in the past ten years as in the solid South.

The free traders base their expectation of a tariff fight next year on the so-called plight of the farmers. They believe that the western farmer will still be dissatisfied and that he can be induced to take it out on the industrial East. But the farmers of the country are not such boobs as the free traders would have us believe. They realize that many agricultural products are now benefitting from protection and that the tariff framers have done all that they can to help the farmer not only by putting a tariff on his products by exempting from the tariff practically everything used exclusively by the farmer. And the farmer knows too that the tariff helps him indirectly by giving him a big home market of city workers steadily employed at high wages. On this point Secretary of Agriculture Jardine recently said:

"It would be in the highest degree unwise for farmers at this time to launch an attack on the tariff without carefully considering the possibility that in the near future they may need it more than any other economic group in the country. I am obliged to dissent strongly from the doctrine that the tariff is of no benefit to the farmer at the present time; and I am still more strongly convinced that the relative advantage of tariff protection will swing definitely to the side of agriculture, as the dependence of our farmers on foreign markets grows less and that of our industrialists becomes greater.

"What we should seek in dealing with the tariff on agricultural products is to insure the home market, so far as possible, to the American farmer. He should have effective protection against foreign competition. Among the chief reasons why the United States is better off than foreign countries are that labor is paid well here and that there is little unemployment. This is of direct benefit to agriculture. Even a very little reduction in food consumption per capita, which would come from lowered wages, or unemployment, would speedily pile up bigger surpluses of farm products than have oppressed agriculture in recent years."

New Development By Goodrich Rubber Co.

"The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company comes to the front with another rubber development of outstanding character," according to Mr. Geo. C. Polk, local Goodrich dealer, who has just recieved a report of this development from the Akron factory. A short time ago an announcement was released by Goodrich telling of tthe discovery and development of Vulcalock, a cement like mixture which causes rubber to stick to metal or wood. And now Goodrich research engineers are converting rubber into lumber.

"This new product, which has been called Aeroboard, has been used experimentally in the construction of a few speed boats, pontoon and airplane fuselages. In all such tests Goodrich engineers' reports indicate it has hown results surpassing wood; that the new material can be worked practically the same as wood and in many cases can be worked into difficult rounded or curved shapes much easier than wood. It can be attached to frames with nails or screws without danger of splitting.

"In the report of the Goodrich engineers is found evidence of the new material's strength. Tests conducted showed that the rubber lumber withstood strains of great force. In practically all cases the resistance to breakage force was equal to wood of the same thickness and under some conditions the rubber lumber showed itself to be from two to five times stronger than wood.

Too Much Marriage

Prince Leopold of Belgium and Princess Asstrid of Sweden have to be married three times to make it stick. Two church ceremonies and a civil ceremony will go to the wedding, and if they are not married by then few are.

That means if they will ever try to get divorced they will have to take three strikes on that. Prying them apart will be harder than opening the bottom drawer of an antique dresser. They will be so thoroughly married that even shoot-in one of the parties will not dissolve it . They would have to shoot both.

Marriage of course is an excellent thing, but taking three shots at it all for one wedding seems over-doing it. Unless the Parsons need the fees.

Present indications are that poultry and egg prices will be lower next winter than last, while feed prices will be higher. Poultrymen say that all the inferior birds should be culled out and that economy should be practised in every department in order to hold returns up to normal.

At a recent convention of 10,000 delegates of the National Electric Light Association, L. A. Hawkins, research engineer of the General Electric Company, said that "synthetic food by no means is an impossibility of the future. Indeed the likelihood is that food factories may supersede the farm."

(S. L. NORTON, Manager).

AT THORSBY BAPTIST CHURCH

We are very glad to say that everything is going along so well at the Thorsby Baptist church. At preaching service, there is always a house full, both day and night, for which we are very thankful, and ask all who will to come.

We have a wonderful Sunday School, and are glad to have Mr. Billingsley as superintendent. He is as good as can be found anywhere. He shows his love of the work by promptness every Sunday. The attendance is one thing we are glad to say, we can boast about—the attendance is usually 100 and above.

We now have three B. Y. P. U. groups, and all are doing extra good work. The membership is about 75; the leaders are all good ones. Mrs. G. F. Harper is leader of the Juniors and Mrs. R. R. Franklin is leader of the intermediates. Miss Lena Franklin has been elected assembly leader. We are glad to have Miss Fraklin as leader, and feel that she is as good as can be found anywhere. If you wish to hear some good talks by the young people, come to B. Y. P. U. All visitors have a hearty welcome.

Next Sunday is preaching day at the Baptist church. Sundy school at 9:45; preaching at 11; B. Y. P. U. at 6:45 and preaching at 8:00. If you want to hear real good singing, come and hear the young people. We have both a Junior and Senior choir, and they take a great interest in the church work.

At the Baptist church Wednesday night, there will be prayer meeting at 7:30 o'clock, and after prayer service, there will be choir practice. Be sure and come.—J. H. Roberts, Pastor.

Last Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Carl C. Peterson entertained Mrs. Soberg, Mrs. J. O. Johnson and Mrs. Each.

Next Sunday, 10:45 a.m., services will be conducted in Swedish by the Rev. K. J. Pell, residing here. At 7:30 p.m., services will be conducted in English by Rev. Th. M. Bakke, subject, "Some objections to Evolution."

Our S. S. Picnic will be on July 4, in Carlson's Grove.

The many friends of Mr. J. H. Goddard will be glad to know of the great improvement in his physical condition. For several weeks he has been taking special treatment under the care of Dr. S. C. Wood. From being confined to his home, suffering greatly and almost helpless, he is now in condition to enjoy life as he did when a younger man, getting about with ease and comfort. Last week he went to a picinc at Lock 12, and on Sunday we found him among the young folks at childrens day services.

Mr. A. M. Johnson is slowly gaining in strength and feelings, but we have not heard of him challenging any of his friends to run a foot race.

Mrs. S. E. Norton is so far improved in health that she is up and about the house, but is not yet in shape to return the calls she has received from her many good friends during her illness.

We were interested to learn this week that Thorsby ice plant is doing a fine business, running day and night at full capacity and employing three trucks to distribute their product.

Thorsby now has a full fledged base ball team headed by Charles S. Howard as captain and the following active members: C. C. Driskill Wernis Bice, Roy Connaster, Alton Connaster, Arnold Littleton, Ernie Littleton, Jerome Wilson, P. Glass, Clemmons and J.C. Jones. Last week they went to Siluria where they beat their team 13 to 2. This week, Monday, Siluria came back on them at Thorsby field and beat them 9 to 2. Captain Howard tells us they are open for engagements, Thursday and Saturday afternoons, save June 30 when they play Bethsalem at Thorsby and Saturday July 2 when they play a return game at Bethsalem.

Miss Ruth Jones, who has been assigned to Thorsby, Union and Stony Point churches under the pastorate of Rev. J. E. Each, has spent a week in Thorsby where she helped prepare the children for children's day last Sunday, she also led Christian Endeavor Sunday night. Miss Jones is a student at Piedmont college at Demorest, Ga. She is the daughter of Rev. H. H. Jones of Barnesville, Ga., who successfully led a series of special meetings at Thorsby Congregational church last Spring. Miss Jones is one of the many college students who put in several weeks of their vacation in summer, doing religious work among rural churches. On Monday of this week she went to Union church, 7 miles east of Mountain Creek, where she will spend several days and then go to Stony Point near Deatsville.

The children's day exercises at Congregational church last Sunday were greeted with a full house and the program, most of it by the little folks was varied and pleasing. The collection taken was for Congregational Sunday school exetension work, and amounted upward of $6.00.

After a good Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday night, the congregation enjoyed one of the occasional singing services.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society under the leadership of Miss Frances Wilson, enjoyed a picnic last Tuesday afternoon. There was plenty of play and eats.

Tuesday night the young men's and young ladies classes of the Congregational Sunday school, accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Each went to Gore's pond, where they had a picnic supper and spent the evening playing games.

Mrs. W. H. Watkins, sister of Mrs. Bice, has gone to Reynold's pond adjoining the highway south of Thorsby where she will be in charge of the place and manage the resturant.

One of the happy events of the week was a birthday party given in honor of Mary Louise Bates on her 13th. birthday anniversary. At noon a bountiful lunch was served, and later the company resolved itself into a swimming party. The guests were: Wilma and Yerlon Goodgame, Bessie Eiland, Lois Thompson, Mary Sou and Hattie Lee Porter, Frieda Collins, Euell Pate, Beatrice, Margie, and Shara Price, Catherine Bates, Thelma Lowery, Ula Fay Bean Frank Porter, Charles and Ervin Gentry, Russel and James Bean, and Joe Price.

Mr. E. N. Dyrhovd has as his guest Mr. Martin Dyrhood, his nephew, with his wife and two children who arrived a few days ago in a covored truck from their home in Iowa, having been a week en-route. They will make an extended visit.

Miss Elizabeth Whitly of Birmingham is a guest in the home of Mrs. T. W. Robinson.

Miss Mary Sue Robinson has returned after a visit in Helena, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Billingsley, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Littleton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Davenport all motored to Bessemer Sunday and was met there by Miss Bertha Littleton and Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Farrington and family, Mrs. William Bean and Mr. and Mrs. Burber Bean, then they went to the home of Mr. J. B. Littleton and had a picnic. At noon hour a bountiful dinner was enjoyed. 29 were present and all report a nice time.

BAD WRECK LAST SATURDAY NIGHT

FIVE AUTOMOBILES SMASHED UP AND ONE MAN SENT TO HOSPITAL AS RESULT

One Flint, one Essex, one Willys-Knight and two Fords were the participants in a quintet automobile smash-up which happened a short distance north of Reynolds Swimming Pool on the highway last Saturday night.

About 9:30 o'clock a Flint and a Ford had a head-in collision, blocking passage on the highway at the above place. Cars began stacking up along the highway above and below the two wrecked cars, and the north-bound bus came up. Before the bus got through it had to stop and push the Flint car to one side. The bus got through all right, and in the meantime Akins Collins and Gresham Lowery of Thorsby, with two girls—Ila Mae Davis and Lerline Miner—headed south in an Essex coach, parked a few feet north of the wreck, the boys getting out and walking on down to view the smash-up. The two girls remained in the car. While the boys were away from their car they heard a terrible slamming and jamming back above them, and returning they found that their Essex had been struck from the rear by a fast-moving south bound Willys-Knight, which knocked the Essex off in a ditch, breaking the glass back, the doors and the wind shield, and almost demolishing the rear and whole left side of the Essex. The Willys-Knight went on by the Essex and slammed into a Ford driven by some negroes, which also was parked on the side of the road. A man from the Willys-Knight was thrown from his car and his head struck the glass in the rear of the Essex; the glass was broken all to pieces, and the man was bruised and scratched up considerably. He was carried to the Central Alabama Hospital at Clanton. The two girls in the Essex were slightly but not seriously injured. Traffic was completely blocked for some time, and by the time thewreckage was cleared cars were parked for several yards up and down the highway.

The first wreck occured about 9:30 o'clock, and it was about 1 o'clock Sunday morning before the last wrecked car had been carried away by the wrecker to Thorsby.

CANNING FACTORY SOLD

Mr. Ira E. Tranter, special representative of the Decatur Canning Co., from Decatur came to Clanton last week to load for shipment the canning machinery formerly owned by the now "Famous" Clanton Canning factory.

This machinery was sent to Decatur where it will be operated, this year by the Decatur Canning Co. Mr. Tranter who is an experienced canning factory operator said that the prospects for a large and profitable pack of tomatoes is looked for this season in the Tennesee valley and from present indications he said that the crop in the northern and eastern states will be short this year, due to the flood and unseasonable rains now being experienced in the large tomato growing areas.

The sale of the canning factory machinery was negotiated through the Central Alabama Development Co., real estate dealers, in the Upchurch building, of which C. E. Marcus is manager.

Dam At Speigner Reported Washed Away

HEAVY DAMAGES BY FLOOD OVER A LARGE AREA BELOW THE DAM

Reports received in Clanton Wednesday morning stated that the hydro electric dam and power plant at the State Convict department at Speigner had been washed away about 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, doing sonsiderale damage to the country below the plant along Mortar Creek to the Alabama River.

It was stated that about a mile of track of the L. & N. Railroad had been washed away and that the bridge over Mortar Creek below the town of Elmore was destroyed. No trains had come from the south Wednesday.

We were unable to gather any definite information as to the extent of damages to the country flooded by the waters released from the big lake An unofficial statement said that the water was several feet deep along the road and streets of the town of Elmore, which is some four or five miles below the dam.

The Speigner power plant was constructed on Mortar Creek some years ago by the State of Alabama for generating electric power for use in the prison at Speigner. Reports say that the heavy rains of the past week in that section has taxed the capacity of the dam to hold the water. It is supposed that in some way the water began to eat through the sandy earth at the dam and created a break strong enough to cause the destruction of the plant.

GROVER JONES BRINGS IN LOAD OF FINE PEACHES

Mr. Grover Jones, who lives near the County Farm, was in Clanton Saturday morning with some very nice Georgia Belle peaches. He sold them around here and left a fine sample with the Union-Banner.

Mr. Jones says that he has a dozen of these Georgia Belle trees and also 70 Elberta trees, which will ripen in about two weeks. He also has on his farm one acre of strawberries, from which he sold 130 crates this Spring.

PROVIDENCE, BEAT 13

Everything up here is moving along nicely; with the good rains, crops look fine.

The Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. are going to Shelby Springs next Saturday to have a picnic.

On the second Sunday in July there will be an all day singing at this place, seven miles north of Jemison, one-half mile off the highway. Prof. Grant and daughters will be with us to furnish some good quartets; also Mr. Collins and probably the United Singing Society. So you see, we will have plenty of good singing and will try to furnish plenty of dinner for the singers; but everybody else bring your dinner. We also will have with us Prof. Martin of Louisville. Come, lets spend a joyful day in singing the gospel songs in the new books.—J. E. Martin.

Mr. Jackson Discusses Subject of More Laws And Increased Taxes in Alabama

Editor Union-Banner:—

As there is much being said thru the public press at present in regard to more laws and more taxes, I believe the time is here when the people should give the question of making more laws and heaping more taxes upon the people who are now burdened down with laws and taxes, a serious cosideration.

We are told through the press by a Chicago lawyer that the United States Constitution has been amended and construed until it looks like an old Egyptian mummy in a china doll factory, and that a close analysis of the situation discloses that the American people are getting away from the ideals which stimulated the statesmen of those early days. To solve the problems that the people might be free in speech and that all government come from the people. But on the contrary now the statesmen have a notion that the people are mere subjects to do the will of any notion they choose to write up on the statute books and they write plenty of them into laws, and everybody is presumed to know the law.

That stands very well as a legal presumption, but practically, if every one was to know the law he would have to read continuously for six hundred years and then remember all he read. A lawyer is considered very capable if he is able to interpret it.

According to the above statement from a smart lawyer should not the people call a halt at once on law making, taxes, and revenue. The people are presumed to keep all the law and abide by it as their rule of conduct and keep out of trouble. Our legislators seem to have no mercy, but each time they meet they deem it their obligation to the people who elected them to office to return the compliment by passing hundreds of new laws, rules and regulations to guide the people; and then if the people fail to live up to the letter of the law in every particular that they be punished all the way from one dollar to life imprisonment, the noose or the electric chair.

I may be considered a radical, but I am opposed to any more new laws or taxes, and will not support any one who favors more laws and taxes. We need less laws and better enforcement. —Respectfully, A. A Jackson.

WE SHOULD HAVE THE FARM AGENT RIGHT NOW

Many farmers of Chilton County are hoping that the county farm demonstration agent can be put on here at once. It is pointed out that the work that could be done by an agent during the late summer and early fall is very valuable in view of the next crop year.

A farmer who expects to make a success of his farm wants to know by the first of October what he is going to undertake on his farm next year. There is the problem of winter crops, acreage, pastures, seeds, and many other things that are very necessary, and which must be determined far in advance of the time to plant and cultivate the next crop.

A county agent should be here and ready to begin work among our farmers not later than the first of August. We hope the Commissioners Court will take the necessary steps to have him employed and started to work as soon as possible.

WILBUR PRICE CAUGHT WITH LIQUOR AT JEMISON

Deputy Loss Robinson caught Wilbur Price with some liquor at Jemison last Thursday and arrested him and brought his to jail. Price made bond Wednesday morning and was released.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Scene—On the streets of Clanton
Time—June 24th, 1927.

Pedestrian 1.—"Hello there old farmer; how is everything?"

Pedestrian 2.—"Why, I'm as fine as a fiddle; and why shouldn't I be—had a fine ripe watermelon yesterday."

Pedestrian 1.—"Well, where was it shipped from?"

Pedestrian 2.—"To be sure, it wasn't shipped at all; I pulledt it off my own vine in my own patch."

Pedestrian 1, to passer-by.—"Do you think this man is talking through his hat or not?"

Passer-by.—"I have known him for years and used to live by him; I think he is absolutely dependable."

Pedestrian 1.—"Well, I'll have to let it go at that."

The above conversation took place between the Banner man and Mr. D. M. Apperson last Friday morning. So you can see what it means. Mr. Apperson said he actually ate a Parnell watermelon from his own patch on June 22nd. This is the earliest we have heard of for several years.

HOUSE COMMITTEE POSTPONED BILL

HOT FIGHT STAGED BETWEEN WARRING POLITICAL FACTIONS OF CHILTON CO.

The bill to abolish the Commissioners Court of Chilton County was given hearing before the Committee on Local Legislation in the Alabama House of Representatives last Thursday afternoon. Delegations of Chilton County citizens both for and against the bill were present at the capitol and made appeals before the committee.

Supporters of the bill were led by ex-Senator S. M. Adams and Mr. Lawrence F. Gerald. Representative Pitts, who opposed the passage of the bill, directed the efforts of those citizens who appeared before the committee against the measure.

At the close of the hearing the House Committee on Local Legislation voted to postpone the matter indefinitely. The bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator L. H. Ellis of Shelby some days ago, where it was passed in rapid fire order.

The pudpose of the bill is to abolish the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton Couty, and set up instead a voard of revenue. Provision is also made for redistricting the county, which opponents assert has been done in such a way as to insure the election of a majority of Democrats on the board.

OAK HILL

The singing was good Sunday afternoon, notwithstanding the small attendance. The society will meet with Thorsby Sunday afternoon. All are invited.—E. L. Glasscock.

AT MENTONE

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mullins and son have just left here from a week end visit to Mentone Springs Hotel. Their daughter, Marzelle, will be a guest at this hotel for several days.—Alletha Davis, Hostess.

A NEW WRINKLE IN CONCRETE

Ed Edwards, specialist in the art of concrete work, has made a lawn swing, the only one ever known to be made of cement. The swing is erected at the home of Mr. Edwards in the Gowan Addition and has been observed by a number of interested visitors.

Mr. Edwards devotes his entire time to concrete work, of which he has much to do far people all over this part of the county. He specializes in artistic patterns in concrete, such as ornamental designs for cemeteries, homes, etc.

He makes a very handy concrete watering trough which is very useful. It has been bought by half a hundred farmers in this locality for use in barn yards.

Ala. Editors Will Go To Cuba On Next Outing

PRESS ASSOCIATION ACCEPTS INVITATION FROM HAVANA FOR ITS 1928 MEETING

Montgomery, Ala., June 24.—For their annual convention in 1928, members of the Alabama Press Association will go to Havana and other points in Cuba. In session here Friday, the executive committee of the association accepted an invitation from Cuba to visit that country next year and the trip will be a convention tour similar to that taken recently when Alabama editors went on an ocean cruise to New York.

The date for the trip will not be named for some time but it was understood that it will be taken during May or June. The editors will go in a group from Alabama and probably sail from Miami, Florida. R. B. Vail, president, and Jack M. Pratt, secretary of the association, together with Horace Hall, Dothan, and F. W. Stanley, Greenville, are making arrangements.

The committee voted also to compile data about Alabama as a whole and also about each county together with facts about each newspaper in Alabama to be used in educational work and for advertising purposes. Cody Hall, editor, Alexander City Outlook, is chairman of a committee which has this work in charge.

Those attending the meeting were President R. B. Vail, Bay Minette; Secretary Pratt, Carrolton; A. B. Beal, Birmingham News; Grover Hall, Montgomery Advertiser; H. S. Doster, Prattville; F. W. Stanley, Greenville; Forney Stevens, Oneonta; P. O. Davis, Auburn; Cody Hall, Alexander City; J. C. McLendon, Luverne; N. C. Cady, Birmingham; Mark Tucker, Montgomery; H. C. Smith, State Department of Agriculture.

BLEED THROUGH

PLEASANT VALLEY

There will be an ice cream supper at the home of J. E. Lett next Friday night, July 1, for the benefit of the Pleasant Valley Church. Everybody is cordially invited. Come and bring someone with you.

Boll weevils continue very active throughout south Alabama, which means that a contest between weevils, weather and poison will continue until the end of the season. All indications at the last of June favor the liberal use of calcium arsenate this year.

Pulling fodder, says Prof. M. J. Funchess, Auburn, is a slow, laborious, and expensive way to gather a cheap roughage and the farmer who does it puts very little value on his own labor. Raising hay and saving it with machinery is a much easier and less expensive way to gather a far better roughage.

Chevrolet Car Runs 46,-150 Miles in 4 Months

A romance of the General Motors Proving Ground at Milford, Michigan, comes to light today with the announcement that Chevrolet test car number 112 has been retired from the Proving Ground service after withstanding the withering strain of 46,150 miles in four and one half months over various types of roads and a wide range of driving conditions.

Number 112 had a standard light delivery panel body on the standard commercial car chassis and had been taken out of regular production at the Flint plant. When, in the course of the usual routine, it was replaced at the Proving Groud by another Chevrolet, it still had in it many miles of unused transportation, engineers declared, despite the gruelling experience of so many miles of terrific test driving.

Forty miles out of Detroit in the hills and vales of Livingston County, where the great outdoor automobile laboratory is located, this Chevrolet, like others there, underwest supreme tests in the cause of improved automotive transportation. In the course of these tests, the car was called upon to go through all the types of service an automobile may be heir to—and more.

It was kept on test for 135 days, "working" on an average of 341.8 miles a day. There were days when it was driven more than 500 miles in order to try its stamina. In addition to the test work at the Proving Ground, the car carried mail to Detroit and returs each day, permitting of a study and check of the car under actual road conditions.

Engineers and technical men who drove and checked the car at the Proving Ground had in mind the many difficulties an automobile has to contend with in its lifetime. They thought of the driver who speeds his car over rough, rutted roads; they considered the motorist who rides his clutch; they had in mind the man who habitually tramps on his brakes, another who races a cold motor. another who asks his car to pull out of a mud hole in high, and so on.

Although they realized at the same time that only a very small minority of drivers do these things today, they wanted to study the ability of the Chevrolet to withstand these abuses and to be constantly on the watch for developments that might further improve the product.

Although the Proving Ground boasts some fine stretches af pavement, number 112 during the four and one half months it was on test there, never left the gravel and dirt roads, except on its trips out of the grounds as a mail car.

Asked why, a Chevrolet engineer replied: "Concrete makes it too easy!"

CONSIDER THE PEANUT

The peanut, once the merest side line, has become one of the substantial cash crops of the South. It has achieved industrial as well as agricultural importance, for the manufacture of peanut confections and allied products is increasing by leaps and bounds, and the peanut shelling plant promises to be as familiar as the cotton gin in all regions where this crop can be grown.

There is a large and growing demand for peanuts and peanut products, and in response to this situation there is a gratifying increase in the peanut acreage of the Southeast, while the number of shelling plants rapidly multiplies. The progressive town finde that it is a very short-sighted policy to permit the peanuts grown in its immediate trade territory to be carried, for shelling, to some other town that has been enterprising enough to install a plant, for the town that shells the peanuts is quite liable to get the farmer's trade. So—a shelling plant in that town, forthwith

It is a fact that the peanut growing regions are sections of marked prosperity, the case of Suffolk, Virginia, which is recognized as a typical peanut town, being a shining illustration. This town, with less than 10,000 population has the distinction of being the home of the Farmers Bank of Nansemond.

This bank, prior to March, 1919, when it increased its capital stock from $20,000 to $500,000 was the "First Honor" bank, in that it had a large surplus and undivided profits in comparison to its capital stock than any other bank in the United States. The capital stock was $20,000 and its surplus and undivided profits $1,185,000.

The statement of this bank, issued March 23, 1927, shows the follow- Capital stock paid in $20,000; earned $480,000; total, $500,000. Surplus earned, $500,000. Undivided profits, $567,121.78; deposits, $3,285,209.04.

Suffolk has seven peanut shelling plants, five factories manufacturing peanut confectioneries, and sixteen large peanut commission warehouses. The Suffolk peanut industries do an annual business of approximately $25,000,000.

The peanut has come to stay as a commercial cash crop of growing importance and value each year.—Columbus (Ga.) Industrial Index.

THE LEGISLATURE

The "lie" was passed in a hectic session of the house committee on local legislation Thursday afternoon during consideration of a senate bill which would have the effect of rearranging the system of choosing members of the county board of Chilton county. The committee indefinitely postponed the bill.

C. R. Mullins, of Clanton, a member of a delegation of democrats who came from Chilton to oppose the bill, hurled the lie at Lawrence Gerald, of Clanton, a member of a delegation of democrats which favored the bill.

Mr. Gerald in discussing the presence of twenty democrats from Chilton opposing the bill made the statement that "democrats in the main who are here today opposing this bill are always at the beck and call of Judge Reynolds." Judge Reynolds is the republican probate judge of Chilton.

"You're a liar," shouted Mr. Mullins from his seat on the right side of the legislative chamber. Friends of Mr. Mullins jumped up and urged him to be quiet. Mr. Gerald continued his address without making mention of the remark of Mr. Mullins.

Democrats who oppose the bill which would provide for the election of the board in the future by districts instead of from the county at large as at present, told tne sesate committee that the present system in Chilton county, which is composed of a board of four men elected from the county at large and with the probate judge as chairman, is working well, that the county has a fine road and school system and that the affairs of the county are well managed. They said 75 per cent of the democrats of Chilton iounty oppose any change and petitions were presented which were said to contain the names of 90 per cent of the democrats of the county opposing the change.

Senator Ellis, of Shelby county, who also represents Chilton in the Senate, opened the argument for the bill. "Republicans are not entitled to any courtesy at the hands of a democratic committee," said Senator Ellis in his opening remark. He was later taken to task for his remark by J. O. Middleton, who told the committee that Percy Pitts, member of the house from Chilton, is entitled to courtesy and told of Mr. Pitts' brilliant record as a American soldier in France while "some people were sliding along on their bellies trying to dodge the draft."

Former State Senator Sam Adams, who admitted that he was a former populite, made a speech in favor of the bill. Later during the proceedings one speaker said he had heard Mr. Adams say many times on the stump "I would burn my right arm off before I would ever vote the democratic ticket." However, Mr. Adams later came into the democratic fold and he denied that he had ever voted a republican ticket.

Percy Pitts, who handled the opposition to the bill, introduced a number of democrats who opposed any change in the present system in Chilton, saying the people are getting service. Among these democrats were H. J. Foshee, C. R. Mullins, Colonel H. B. Oliver, Dr. Dubose, A. C. Parnell. Judge Louis Reynolds opposed the passage of the bill as did J. O. Middleton.

F. A. Gulledge, Mayor Atkinson, of Clanton, W. R. Dumas and Lawrence Gerald spoke in favor of the bill. All are democrats and Mr. Dumas said the bill has the endorsement —Montgomery Advertiser.

THE PRIMARY

"What," asks a paragrapher in one of our exchanges, "has become of the old fashioned politician who seemed to care something for political principle?"

The old fashioned politician who put principle above personality is not extinct. His number is still legion, but he is temporarily "in a corner," so to speak. And the country has suffered from the fact that he has been compelled to take to his corner.

The time was, not so many years ago, when political principles were the guiding star of nearly every man who ran for office. But that was in the day when there was party responsibility. The shift from the delegate convention to the primary system has brought about the changed condition —personality has taken the place of principle in far too many elections. The ambitious candidate, responsible not to his party, but to the minority of the powers who nominated him in a light primary, and that minority perhaps made up in part of the voters of the opposition party, is in reality responsible to nothing but his own conscience, if any, or his own personal ambition

The temptation therefore to disregard party principles and to play to what he regards as the will of the organized minority which supports him, is often too great to be overcome. As a result of this, party lines become disorganized and constructive programs of party government are made very difficult to accomplish.

And the far-seeing citizen, politician or not, sits in the corner realizing what has happened but unable to do anything about it. And until we greatly modify or get rid of our primary system entirely there will be little chance for improvement.

So valuable was the Mexican cacao bean up to fifty years ago that the entire populace of Mexico used it as money. One bean passed for a cent.

THE LEAGUE FAILS AGAIN

The council of the League of Nations has met and adjourned again. There were two real problems before the council, neither of which could be settled. These problems were Russia and Albania. In the Albanian affair nothing definite could be done because of the fear of offending Mussolini, who is now one of the disturbing elements of Europe. Mussolini is backing the present government of Albania and the league is loath to tackle him.

In the Russian affair there was a similar failure to accomplish anything. As the delegates assembled at Geneva we heard loud threats of what the league was going to do in the matter of isolating the Soviets and showing them their proper place in the general scheme of mundane affairs. But sothing happened. It developed that Poland, supposedly under the protection of the League and particularly of France did not want harsh measures taken for fear of Russian attack. Germany too was interested in seeing that nothing was done which might lead to an outbreak of hostilities. Because of her situation in the center of Eorope between France and Rossia, Germany is in a delicate position and would be in a still more embarrassing state should trouble with Russia arise.

In the Locarno pact, Germany got an agreement from the other powers that in case of trouble with Russia, Germany would remain neutral and allied troops could not cross her soil to attack Russia. This Locarno understanding it develops, is not in harmony with the articles of the league. For how can Russia be punished unless the troops go through Germany? So the threat of league action against Russia turned out to be a threat and nothing more. In addition to all this, the German delegates left the league meeting dissatisfied, and there is every indication that they will attempt to make an issue of disarmanent at the September meeting of the league. The claim will then be made that unless the other powers disarm Germany will no longer be bound to remain in a disarmed condition. There are even rumors that Germany may withdraw from the league unless something is done about disarmanent. The French and Poles naturally do not want disarmanent, as they fear Russia in the immediate future and Germany in the more distant future. And Mussolini is talking about an efficient Italian army of five million men.

Russia remains unchastised simply because the league has no way of making itself effective. By postponing decisions the council prepared itself for an emberrassing session in September. But postpone was the only thing it could do. In the meantime Uncle Sam very fortunately is still on the outside looking in. Americans are well wishers of the league as a European institution, but there is little so far to idicate that it is successfully covering even that much territory.

Pies, pastries and frankfurters have been banished from New York school lunches in an effort to encourage more balanced meals.

When Austen Chamberlain was installed as Lord Rector of Glasgow University, 2,000 of the students wore monocles in his honor.

A few weeks ago some observers of political matters in Chilton County pointed out that "much discord looms in local G. O. P. ranks" over the fight for the one-mill school tax. We wonder if they have observed much discord looming in local Democratic circles over the fight against the county board of revenue bill in the legislature.

PERPETUAL PEACE

Everyone is in favor of making war impossible between France and America, if it can be done. Everyone is likewise in favor of making war impossible between every other nation and America if this can be done too.

Proposals have recently been forwarded for a treaty of perpetual peace between Uncle Sam and the French people. Both nations are of course willing to have eternal peace but there is still some question as to how the matter can be satisfactorily and effectively worked out. From our standpoint there are some little things which will have to be taken care of—the Monroe Doctrine, for instance. And the French have their commitments, too. For example, the French nation is a member of the League of Nations. And as the Washington Post recently pointed out, France is therefore "honor bound by treaty to join other nations in making war on the United States whenever the United States refuses to do what they tell it to do.

Of course there is no apparent danger now that Uncle Sam will run afoul of the league or its court and come in for a general chastisement. But if the league, at the suggestion of certain members should ever take us to task about the Monroe Doctrine, or the immigration question or one of a half dozen other things, just what would France, as a loyal member of the league, do about it, if she were at the same time treaty bound never to use force against the United Staes?

It can of course be said that these are purely hypothetical problems, but hypothetical problems have a habit of becomig real ones now and then, and it is always best to have an understanding in advance.

COMMISSIONERS COURT BILL

Again Chilton County has crowded Aimee McPherson and "Lucky" Lindy off the front pages of the daily newspapers. The democrats of the county did it this time by trotting down to the Legislature with a bill to abolish the commisioners court and have a board of revenue put in its stead. The measure was opposed by some of the Democrats and practically the entire Republican party of the county. A bitter debate ensued—and almost a fist fight in the presence of the Legislative Local Committee. Front page articles came out in the papers next day telling the world how small the calibre of some of Chilton's politicians is. The matter was laid aside by the legislative committee, and here's hoping that it stays laid aside.

BOXING BILL NEEDED

"That's the reason I wanted my boxing bill passed," said George Frey of Jefferson, Thursday afternoon when a fist fight between two democrats of Chilton county was narrowly averted. One was speaking in favor of the redistricting bill which would give the democrats representation on the Chilton board of revenue and had charged that some democrats were always subject to the call of the republican probate judge. Another who had spoken against the bill resented the statement and used the short and ugly word that made Theodore Roosevelt famous. "If my boxing bill, which has passed the house, were a law this issue could be settled in short order," said Mr. Frey.

The fellow who sponsored the boxing bill in the legislature states that his main idea in supporting the measure was to provide a means whereby local political scraps of Chilton County democrats could be settled with recognized legal process.

Judge Adams has had his hair cut. Nothing wonderful about that, you say. Well, don't be in a hurry and I'll explain it to you. The Judge no longer sports a beard, although he sticks to his mustache. He looks fifteen years younger and spoiling for a fight. But he is still the same old judge.

At the 1 o'clock service Sunday the pastor was asked by the leader of the R. A.'s to meet with them at six o'clock, which he did, and a soul-winning effort was put forth, the result of which three boys gave their hearts and lives to Christ and united with the church. Sister William Billingsley is a great leader and has the interest of the work at heart.

We are glad to say that we have a bunch of splendid leaders in our church. Come and see.

A series of birthdays which occurred among the familes in the eastern part of Thorsby the first three days if this week furnished an excuse for a neighborhood party at the home of C. A. Peterson on Monday night. Mrs. Peterson, who furnished the Sunday birthday was surprised when her neighbors dropped in with the eats and to spend the eveninig. The other birthdays were furnished by Mr. Butler and Mr. Lewis Howard. Their families and those of Mrs. Lefstead, Mr. Ernie Hanson and Mr. Fred Howard comprised the company.

Mr. Lee O. Vickers has returned from an interesting visit to his boyhood home in Tallapoosa County, in the vicinity of Cherokee Bluffs where the Alabama Power Company is now building a new unit of their statewide power system. He speaks of the changes which have been made in the locality. Dadeville, the county seat, which formerly was approached by roads in all directions is now cut off by the lake that is rapidly being made by the water backing up for miles, until but one road is left open. Ten more feet will be added to the depth of the water. Thousands of acres of farm lands along the river are being submerged permanently, and their occupants have taken what they got for their homes and located elsewhere. Others are taking advantage of the opportunity offered to cut up their holdings in the vicinity of the new lake into small tracts which they are selling at prices never before heard of, for summer homes for people in Birmingham, Montgomery and other cities where they can spend week ends or more in country environment.

Early Monday morning Charley Hicks and J. C. Goodson, negroes, went to the railroad track near Dr. Wood's farm intending to catch a freight train for Birmingham where they both work. While waiting for the train they lay down with their heads on the ties and went to sleep. The whistle of the train and the glare of the headlight roused Goodson who jumped up and grabbed his mate by the leg, but the cow catcher hit Hicks' head and broke his skull. Mr. Collins picked him up and hurried him to the hospital in Clanton where he died about two o'clock Monday afternoon.

Mr. Martin Petersen met with an accident Monday when a horse he was unhitching from a wagon at his home became frightened at something, and dragging the wagon after him, knocked Mr. Petersen down and the wagon ran over him. Mr. Petersen was not seriously injured but considerably cut and bruised. The wagon was demolished.

Last Monday morning Rev. N. A. Long of Hackleburg, well known in Thorsby, accompanied by his wife and six children in a Ford car, stopped for a brief visit with Rev. Each and family. Mr. Long and party were on their way to Midland City, where they will spend their vacation at the home of Mr. Long's parents. They report that Miss Lorena Primm who is doing religious work among the churches in charge of Mr. Long, is making good and doing a lot of things that are helpful to the people.

Rev. and Mrs. Each attended services at East View Congregational church near Coopers last Sunday night, where Rev. Each was invited to preach. A Mr. Nelson, a farmer in that neighborhood, has been very successful as their minister for some time past. They hold services once every two weeks with a thriving Endeavor society of 48 members. There is but one Sunday school in the community which is a union school meeting at the Baptist church. Then all the young people attend C. E. in the eveing at the Congregational church which is always filled to capacity. It is a problem with the East View church now to accommodate all who want to attend their services.

Rev. and Mrs. Each with their daughters, Lucile and Mary Marie went to Union church, 7 miles east of Mt. Creek, on Monday to visit Miss Ruth Jones, who is stationed there for an indefinite time as a religious worker in the commuity. They found that she is doing many things that are of interest and help to the community and especially the young people.

Next Sunday at 1 o'clock there will be preaching service and communion at the Cogregational church, also preaching in the evening, after Christian Endeavor meeting.

Miss Gladys Parnell and Miss Doris Freeman have gone to Demorest, Ga.. where they will remain for two weeks as guests of Mrs. Ethel Wright Loveland, formerly of Thorsby and Thorsby Institute.

Miss Effie Lou Nugent has returned home after a week's visit with friends in Verbena and White City.

The Lutheran church people will hold their annual picnic in Carlson's grove Monday, July 4th.

Misses Odie Lee Arthur and Ruth Gerald left Montgomery Sunday a.m. for Blue Ridge, N. C., to attend the Young Peoples Conference. On their way home they expect to spend the week end at Demorest, Ga., visiting with Miss Ruth's brother, Mr. I. S. Gerald, and with other friends.

Messrs. E. F. Meade and C. A. Meade and families, Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald and Miss Pauline Bean motored to Selma last Friday and spent the day with M. J. Barrett's family. They found Mr. Barrett launching out in the chicken business. The Barretts are comfortably located in a nice little home on the outskirts of Selma.

SINGING SCHOOL AT LOMAX

There will be a singing school at the Tabernacle at Lomax, beginning Tuesday, July 5th, with Prof. Dovard Cleckler as teacher. Everybody in reach who is interested in music in any way is requested to attend.

PROF. W. M. DEVAUGHN WILL TEACH TWO MUSIC SCHOOLS

The Union-Banner is in receipt of a communication from Prof. W. M. Devaughn, asking The Banner to tell the world that he is going to begin a singing school at Concord School house on July 11th, and will continue for three weeks or eighteen days. On Monday, August 1st, he will begin a four weeks or 24-days school at Mulberry church.

We can truthfully say that Prof. Devaughn is one of the best singers in Chilton County, and he is also one of the best teachers and writers of sacred music. Most everybody who knows anything about sacred music knows more or less about Prof. Devaughn, and they know him to be hard to beat in this line.

The above two rommunities are indeed fortunate to get the service of Prof. Devaughn in their singing and music schools. He is not only a good teacher, but he is a good Christian man, with whom no one need fear to leave the care of their boys and girls. If you live in these communities or in reach of either of these schools, you will never regret it if you will avail yourself of attending.

Southern Telephone Heroes are Honored

OSCAR T. KOON, West Palm Beach, Fla., section lineman of the Long Lines Department of the Bell Telephone System, has been awarded the Theodore N. Vail gold medal with a cash award of $500 for courage and initiative in his effort to maintain the lines of communication during the Florida hurricane of September, 1926.

Clyde Grover McDonald, of Charleston, S. C., line and station installer of the Southern Bell Company, and Samuel Frank Bowsher, of Versailles, Ky., combination man of the Fayette Home Telephone Company, were awarded bronze medals for courageous action in saving the lives of others at the risk of personal injury.

Honorable mention in connection with the Theodore N. Vail awards for the year 1926 was given to twenty-four other Bell Telephone employes in the South for conspicuous and noteworthy service in the performance of their daily work.

The Vail Medal Awards are made annually, and under the terms of the Vail Memorial Fund bronze, silver and gold medals are awarded to members of the Bell Telephone organization throughout the United States for acts of service which conspicuously illustrate Mr. Vail's ideas of public service.

The gold medal awarded to Oscar Koon, of West Palm Beach, is the highest possible award and was won when he made his way alone between Miami and West Palm Beach during the Florida hurricane and gave a prompt and detailed report which greatly expedited the work of restoration and made it possible for the telephone company to provide facilities for its own service, as well as for that of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The restoration of communication, which was due largely to his courage, played an important part in mobilizing the relief forces who were sent to the aid of the thousands of people who had been rendered homeless by the disaster.

Clyde Grover McDonald received the bronze medal for rendering first aid which saved the life of a man who had been seriously injured by an electric shock, while Samuel Frank Bowsher won the award by breaking the fall of a fellow workman who had been rendered unconscious while working at the top of a pole.

Among the telephone employes of the South who were given honorable mention for conspicuous acts of loyalty to the service were the following:

Mrs. Lela Horton, operating agent, Zebulon, N. C.; Lila Horton, daughter of Mrs. Horton; A. Bascom Cline, bridgeman, Miami, Fla.; George Harshburger, lineman, Miami, Fla.; R. C. Elson, lineman, Miami, Fla.; Drew Kent, central office repairman, Pensacola, Fla.; W. L. National Affairs

In a recent editorial on the tariff and the farmer the St. Louis Times points out some of the benefits the farmer is receiving directly from the present protective tariff law and some of the danger spots in which he is apt to need additional help along this line during the next few years. The citrus fruits of California and Florida are receiving a fair amount of protection at this time but the cherry growers of the northern Pacific coast are now feeling the effect of foreign competition, and are going to ask for some assistance.

Florida and Southern California, as the Times points out, are, facing increasing competition from Cuba and Mexico in the marketing of tomatoes and early garden truck, while in Texas where the turkey industry is the major one, the growers of this great American bird are in danger of a deluge of turkeys from South America. In fact, it is said that prices have already declined and the cold storage plants are reporting a surplus. The northern sections of the country where dairying is a great industry now have protection but there are indications, in the face of increasing imports, that even more help from the tariff is to be needed if our dairying states are to continue prosperous. Of course, the deadly foreign competition is due to the cheaper labor abroad.

Hert are some instances where the farmer is vitally interested in the tariff and there are many others. Surely these facts are enough to cause any farmer who has become enamored of the free trade argument about world markets, to study the present economic situation and the trend of the times very carefully.

If the farmer loses or destroys the great home market, in which he now sells nine tenths of his products, the situation he will face then undoubtedly will be a great deal more serious than the crisis which he has gone through since the close of the World War.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that the duties on imports into the United States made a new high record in the year 1926. The total amount of revenue which the government received from imports was $605,626,000 which is the greatest in the history of the government. The total imports for 1926 were valued at $4,430,890,000. This total of imports has only been exceeded once in the history of the country and that was in 1920. And 1920 was an exceptional year for the reason that we then imported 8,000,000,000 pounds of sugar at thirteen cents a pound. The heavy import trade of 1925 was exceeded in 1926 by more than four per cent. The figures are taken from a report recently issued by the United States Chamber of Commerce

The greatest increases in the importations were in rubber, coffee, newsprint, wood pulp, copper, tin, and petroleum. In fact the imports in raw materials and semi-finished products broke all records, and it is a noteworthy fact that in these great groups most of the imports came from continents other than Europe. A big percentage of our imports were from South America, showing that foreign trade is a world-wide game.

THE ANTIOCH SINGING AND CHILDRENS DAY PROGRAM

Editor Union-Banner:

Please give me space in the paper to say a few words about the Childrens day program and singing which was given at Antioch Sunday, June 26th.

The house was called to order at 10 o'clock by the Sunday School superintendent, Brother J. J. Owen. The devotional exercises were conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Lembrick, after which the program by the children was rendered. Every child did its part real well.

After the program was over Rev. J. H. Limbrick preached a very striking sermon on the Transfiguration. At noon a bountiful table was spread—it reminded the writer of the feedinb of the five thousand. Everyone present enjoyed the day until shortly after noon a slight rain and wind storm came up. After the storm was over the house was again called to order for singing by Prof. George Anderson. After prayer by Rev. T. J. Deramus, the following directors were asked to sing three songs each. They were Mr. Henry Klinner, Mrs. Era Carter and Mrs. W. H. Walker. The organists for the afternoon were Mr. George Anderson and Mr. Clayton McGee. There were singers present from Maplesville and other places in the county.

We wish to thank everyone who did his part to make the day a success, and cordially invite you to come and be with us again. — George Anderson, Secretary.

POOR ORIGINAL TORN

It is great to have a clear skin

A clear skin means everything to the popularity of men and women. You cannot get it with external applications. If you are unfortunate enough to have pimples or skin blemishes, in justice to your friends and yourself, you should treat the source of the trouble. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

Thousands have been enabled to free themselves of unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.
